CUPID'S DART BROUGHT BLAZE OF SPLENDOR

Thousand Society People at Wedding of Miss Edith Hyde and Everett Colby.

BRIDE A LOVELY PICTURE

SON OF JOHN D. ROCKFELLER WAS AMONG THOSE WHO USHERED.

Crescent Avenue Church the Scene—Reception at House Followed—Superb Decorations and Music—Wedding Trip Abroad.

It is not often that a man and a girl enter upon the venture of matrimony in such a blaze of splendor as attended the wedding yesterday afternoon of Miss Edith Hyde, daughter of Mrs. Charles Hyde, of East Front street, and Everett Colby, of Oldstead Hall, Llewellyn Park, Orange. All that wealth could buy, in the way of adding beauty to the ceremony and reception, all that society could lend of brilliancy and impressiveness, was there to make the event memorable. Plainfield has seldom witnessed a society wedding of more distinctive interest graced by the presence of so many distinguished people.

The bridal procession formed in the church at 4:30 o'clock. A choir of nineteen boys from Grace Church, of New York, sweetly singing Barnaby's "O, Perfect Love," met the bride at the door. The organ, played by James M. Helfenstein, of Grace Church, from the tender music of Barnaby passed into the more stirring strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, and then the choir still singing preceded the bride up the aisle. Following the choir boys came the eight ushers and the maid-of-honor with the two little flower girls strewing the bride's pathway with beautiful spring blossoms. The bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Charles Livingstone Hyde, who gave her away. The groom and his best man, Howard A. Colby, his brother, met the bride at the altar.

Rev. William R. Richards, D.D., of the Brick Presbyterian Church, formerly of the Crescent Avenue Church, read the Episcopal service, following which the bridal party passed out to the music of Mendelssohn.

The bridal gown was superb, consisting of a white liberty satin gown with a long square court train. The corsage was trimmed with duchesse lace, the skirt being without trimmings. The veil was of applique lace. Miss Hyde carried a silver mounted prayer book with long book marks and a spray of orange blossoms. Her hands were covered with lace mits, and in her hair she wore a large diamond tiara, the gift of her mother. A string of pearls about her neck was the gift of the groom.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Edith Hoadley Smalley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Palmer Smith, of Netherwood, was gowned in white and pale green chiffon, with duchesse lace trimmings. She wore a large picture hat and carried a bouquet of cardinias. The flower girls, nieces of the bride, were Miss Dorothy Hyde, daughter of Charlse W. Hyde, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., and Miss Helen Hyde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kepler Hyde, of Titusville, Pa. They were dressed in white mousseline, trimmed with Valencennes lace, with large picture hats and white plumes.

The ushers were John D. Rockfellow, Jr., Robert G. Mead, John Kenny, Sherman Day and Dr. Parker Syms, all of New York; Girard P. Herrick, of Philadelphia; F. deL. Hyde, of Plainfield, and Stanley Mc Cormick.

A color scheme of green and white was beautifully carried out at the church. In the background at the altar were immense palms, blooming hydrangeas and bunches of phlox. On either aisle were gladioli stocks, white chryanthemums and bride roses. The standards were wound with clusters of white fleur-de-lis, tied with white satin ribbons. In the windows were huge clusters of hydrangeas in bloom surrounded by tropical foliage. The glass screens were garlanded with smilax, spring blossoms and mountain laurel. Lilies scattered among the flowers added their fresh beauties, and at the entrance were oak leaves. Red roses, at the entrance to the aisles formed the only bit of color outside of the green and white.

The reception at the home of the brides' mother, 605 East Front street, filled in the hours from 5 o'clock to 7. The newly wedded couple, assisted by

LAWN FAIR FOR CHARITY

CHILDREN AID THE NETHERWOOD FRESH AIR HOME.

Four Little Girls Have Charge of Affair—Sales Beneath a Tent.

Through the earnest efforts of four young girls, Helen Ryder, Helen Woolley, Helen Smith and Ethel Rogers, a successful lawn fair was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Helen Ryder in Central avenue, for the benefit of the Netherwood Fresh Air Home. A goodly sum was realized as a profit.

A large tent was erected on the lawn and beneath it was sold fancy articles, cake, candy and ice cream. A grab-bag was a source of much profit. "Teddy" Ryder, a sturdy little chap, had charge of a pin wheel table, and he sold his entire stock at a good profit. Miss Mary Moffett had charge of a swing. Miss Edna Burr acted as cashier.

Assisting the four young girls who had the affair in charge were Ethel Webster, Ethel VanWinkle, Alice Drake, Alice VanHorn, Edna Moher, Fred Smith and Ethel Vail. The young folks received help from a few older persons, among whom were Mrs. E. B. Ryder, Mrs. Nelson VanWinkle, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Woolley, E. B. Ryder and Miss Moffett.

CAREER OF HONOR AND USEFULNESS

Sketch of Rev. John S. Zelie the New Pastor of the Crescent Ave. Church.

MUCH TRAVELLED MAN

GRADUATED FROM WILLIAMS COLLEGE AND YALE DIVINITY SCHOOL.

Has Contributed to Religious Periodicals—Strengthened Several Churches—Comes Here From Schenectady, N. Y.

Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, who will succeed to the pastorate of the Crescent Avenue Church next September, has had a thirteen-years experience in the ministry, during which his labors have been attended by unvarying success. As a pulpit orator his power is exceptional, and he has also won distinction as a writer. He will assume his new duties early in September the exact date being still undecided. He succeeds Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, now pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church of New York.

Rev. Mr. Zelie was born in Princeton, Mass., where his father was minister of the Congregational Church. At his father's death when he was three months old, he moved to his mother's home in Bangor, Maine, where he received his early training. He is a graduate of Williams College, where he took the first prize at the moonlight prize speaking and was president of the class in his senior year, graduating in 1887. Mr. Zelie attended the Union Theological Seminary for one year, studying during the two following years at Yale Divinity School where he graduated in 1890.

Mr. Zelie's first settlement was over the Congregational Church in Plymouth, Conn., in Litchfield county, where he was minister for four years. In 1891 he married Miss Henrietta S. Campbell, of Cherryfield, Maine. Three years later, he was called to be associate minister of the Old Stone Presbyterian Church in Cleveland, Ohio under Dr. Hiram C. Hayden and in charge of Bolton Avenue Presbyterian Church. A few months prior to his coming, this church had been divided by a dissension in which the pastor and about two-thirds of the members withdrew, establishing a Congregational Church on the same lot. A fine new building then in process of erection was thus left with only some ninety remaining members. Mr. Zelie took charge in July 1894, preaching the first sermon in the new and nearly empty building. Gradually conditions improved after a long struggle, until in 1900 when Mr. Zelie left, the church had reached a membership of 400, was united, strong and prosperous, indicating the power of the pastor's influence.

When in Cleveland Mr. Zelie had much to do with the College Chapels, officiating there regularly. In December of 1900 he accepted a call to the historic First Reformed Church of Schenectady, one of the oldest foundations in the country, with a beautiful church building of which Edward T. Potter, brother of Bishop Potter was the architect. Schenectady has grown in the past fifteen years from 13,000 to 53,000 owing to the General Electric Works which employ nearly 11,000 men, of which it is said that nearly 500 are college graduates, making a pleasant field for work. During this pastorate a fine parish building costing $30,000 was erected.

Outside his regular duties as a divine, Mr. Zelie has done much writing during the last ten years. In that time he has contributed regularly to the long editorial column on the front page of the Sunday School Times, being one of the four who wrote for that column. Other sketches, articles and reviews from his pen have appeared here and there in the Congregationalist, the Critic, and other magazines and papers.

In 1895 together with Rev. Carroll Perry, rector of St. Philips, Garrison, New York, a brother of Bliss Perry, editor of the Atlantic, Mr. Zelie wrote a little book published by the Merrymount Press in Boston, called "Bill Pratt, the Saw-Buck Philosopher," a biography of one of the interesting characters for fifty years well known to the students of William College.

He traveled in Europe in 1899 and again in 1901 when he made Genova, Switzerland, his headquarters, his object being to gain material concern-

JOSEPH O. OSGOOD GUEST OF ENGINEERS

Prominent Men Give Dinner in Honor of Distinguished Boroughite.

AFTER-DINNER TALKS

FORMER MAYOR WILLIAM L. SAUNDERS ACTS AS TOASTMASTER.

"Who's Who and What" About the Festive Board—Remarks Made by Whose Who Thoughts Centre on Science.

Nearly two score residents of Plainfield and North Plainfield, all men of technical education, gathered around the board at the Park Avenue Hotel last evening, to do honor to their fellow townsman, Joseph O. Osgood, chief engineer of the Jersey Central Railroad and one of the ablest engineers in the country. It was a testimonial dinner, informally arranged, but of most delightful nature. From this meeting, the first gathering of engineers who claim this city as their home, may result the formation of a regular organization with similar dinners once or twice a year.

It was quite a distinguished party that sat down to partake of the excellent repast prepared by Mrs. Wagstaff, manager of the hotel. The details had been arranged by P. V. R. VanWyck. These were the invited guests:

Former Mayor W. L. Saunders, vice president of the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Company; Chas. Warren Hunt, secretary of the American Society of Civil Engineers; William G. Besler, vice president and general manager of the Jersey Central Railroad; Col. Mason W. Tyler, lawyer; F. W. Iredell, mining engineer of the C. & G. Cooper Company; Jas. H. Jowett, of the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill Company; Stephen Haff, designer; Joseph E. Morse, chief engineer of the Tide Water Oil Company; Frank H. Ball, general manager of the American Engine Company; Henry D. Hibbard, of the Manganese Steel Safe Company; Dr. Leonard Waldo, consulting engineer; Councilman W. A. Garrigues, of the Levering & Garrigues Iron Company; Stephen R. Krom, manufacturer of stone crushing machinery; George H. Frost, editor of the Engineering News; Benjamin S. Church, former chief engineer of the New York water works; Robert A. Meeker, State Supervisor of Roads; Emil Woltmann, engineer and contractor; Street Commissioner Andrew J. Gavett; M. A. Zook, A. E. Owen and James L. Brownlee, of the engineering department of the Jersey Central Railroad; Harry L. McGee, of the Electric Vehicle Company; F. A. Dunham, civil engineer; A. L. Bowman, mechanical engineer; John H. VanHorne, civil engineer; Frank W. Roller, electrical engineer; L. W. Serrell, electrical contractor; Willard M. Miner, electrical engineer; LeRoy Clark, mechanical engineer; P. V. R. VanWyck, electrical engineer of the New York Telephone Company; H. C. VanEmburgh, borough engineer, and C. C. Upham, mechanical engineer.

Former Mayor W. L. Saunders acted as toastmaster and made the first speech of the evening. He said incidently:

"I was asked the other day, 'What is the purpose of this dinner?' I trust that our guest will restrain his native modesty when I give you my answer. This dinner, I said, is like every other dinner, the first purpose is to have plenty of good things to eat and drink and the second purpose is to rejuvenate a lot of steel crusted and iron rusted old engineers and have a good time at Mr. Osgood's expense. I don't mean his financial expense, of course, but you know there is a saying that money is not everything in this world. I told my questioner that there would be a third and rather extraordinary purpose at this dinner and that was to protect human digestion by sitting down on after-dinner speeches. There would be none of any consequence. I would talk a little, of course, that couldn't be helped and it was only natural inebriation from an exuberance of compressed air.

"Our guest has been asked to dine with us tonight because we are proud to call ourselves his friends and because he is the leading representative of our profession residing in this vicinity. Mr. Osgood is a distinguished member of the American Society of Civil Engineers with a record of experience in the West and South that has brought to him 'golden opinions' from business men of New York. DANTES GETS DIPLOMA.

Action of Brooklyn College of Pharmacy Causes Resignation of Faculty Members.

Because Edmund Dantes, a former Plainfielder has been awarded a diploma in the Brooklyn College of Pharmacy, two professors in that institution have resigned. Professors E. H. Bartley and Albert H. Brundage charge that Dantes has twice served terms in prison for theft and forgery.

Dantes was employed by Charles H. Hall, of Watchung avenue, four years ago as a drug clerk, and, it is said, while Mr. Hall was away on his vacation he stole his diploma and some money, changing the wording of the diploma in order to use it to his own advantage. The New York College of Pharmacy took the matter up and, it is alleged, had the man sent to Blackwell's Island. It is claimed that Dantes has served in the navy but was a deserter.

MISS FLORENCE REID A CHARMING BRIDE

Plainfield Girl Marries Alfred Hoyt Bill, of Faribault, Minnesota.

THE WEDDING AT HOUSE

HANDSOME DECORATIONS AND BEAUTIFUL GOWNS CONSPICUOUS.

Rev. Charles E. Herring, Assisted by Rev. Jerome Gardner, Officiates—Couple to Travel Abroad—Some of the Presents.

The marriage of Miss Florence Dorothy Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reid, of 933 West Seventh street to Alfred Hoyt Bill, of Faribault, Minn., took place yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

Sweet peas in great profusion formed the principal decorations. There the walls were hidden behind screens of the flowers with white ribbons holding them in place. In the library, where the ceremony was performed daisies arranged in a solid bank circular in shape formed a miniature pulpit for the minister and the walls were almost entirely invisible behind the network of wild flowers. The dining room decorated in red roses, formed a marked contrast to the color scheme and decorative features of the reception rooms. The halls were lined with potted palms and ferns giving the entire lower floor the appearance of being a veritable flower garden.

At the appointed time VanBarr's orchestra from New York, played Mendelsohn's wedding march and the bridal party started from an upstairs room down the ribbon entwined staircase to the parlors.

She was attired in white satin crepe de chine. The gown was trimmed with Duchesse lace. A tulle veil was caught up by a cluster of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. The maid-of-honor, Miss Anna Reid, a sister of the bride, wore a gown of dotted Swiss trimmed with old lace.

The bridesmaids were Miss Bertha Reid, sister of the bride; Miss Latalie Bill, sister of the groom, and Miss Edna Toffey, of Jersey City.

They all wore white dotted Swiss with large blue sashes and white picture hats. They carried bouquets of lillies of the valley and forget-me-nots. The best man was Irwin Calmer, of Joliet, Ill. The ushers were: Edwin Thompson, of Louisville, Ky.; James Reynolds Waite, of Auburn, N. Y.; and Willard Reid, of Savannah, Ga., a brother of the bride.

Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Jersey City and Rev. Jerome Gardner, of Rochester, N. Y., were the officiating ministers. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Following the marriage ceremony a reception was held and a wedding supper was served, when the newly married couple started on their honeymoon late in the evening.

For two years they will travel abroad and upon their return, it is said that Mr. and Mrs. Bill will make their home in Minnesotta.

The bride's present from the groom was a collar of pearls and diamonds. The bride's gifts to the bridesmaids were pearl cuff pins. To the maid of honor she gave a gold spangled bracelet. The groom gave his ushers opal scarf pins.

Guests were present from New York, Jersey City, Joliet, Ill.; Faribaut, Minn.; Plainfield, N. J., and Louisville, Ky.

Fruit jars and jelly glasses. There may be nothing particularly poetic about these words but they should appeal to housekeepers, who are taking advantage of these days to do their annual preserving. The best place to buy them is J. W. Gavet's on West Front street.

John P. Powers, proprietor of the Somerset Pharmacy, has in stock a large assortment of Fourth of July novelties in candy. Huyler's candy is sold there and a neat present for the Fourth is a box of sweets in one of those unique boxes. A specialty is being made of violet and rose talcom powder and fine stationery.

Splendid Trip.

Everyone just now is making plans for some kind of an outing on the Fourth of July. Too often in the past has the day been followed by vain wishes that it had been spent in some other way than the one selected, but no such regrets ever attend the trip to Mauch Chunk. Many people travel half over Europe without viewing more romantic scenery than in this, the so-called "Switzerland of America." Rugged mountain peaks are in awe-inspiring contrast to deep chasms and gorges while there is hardly a spot in this section where the artist does not long to plant his easel or the amateur photograher to expose a plate. And the beauty of it is that the jaunt may be made at very moderate expense and within the limit of a day's outing. The New Jersey Central announces an excursion on July 4th to Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the Switchback, the round-trip costing only $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. It is alone worth making the trip to have experienced the novel ride of 14 miles over the gravity road known as the Switchback. There is nothing quite like it anywhere in the country. While it is exciting, the most timid have nothing to fear for the trip is quite safe. A fast special express train will leave Plainfield at 9:22 a. m., and arriving at Mauch Chunk about noon. There is ample opportunity to see and enjoy everything as the return train does not leave until 5:40. The nearest ticket agent will supply circulars giving full details. People who decide to make this excursion will have something to remember all their lives and much to tell their friends.

—Some of the new sprinkling carts recently purchased by the city, were used yesterday for the first time. They worked satisfactory.

Just About Bedtime

take a Little Early Riser—it will cure constipation, billiousness and liver troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are different from other pills. They do not gripe and break down the mucous membranes of the stomach, liver and bowels, but cure by gently arousing the secretions and giving strength to these organs. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

Mr. McGinnis was working on a small drill-press, his arm slipped and caught in the twist drill and pulled him into the machine. A Surgical Operation is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them: I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies, but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve Two boxes of this salve cured me eighteen months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since.—H. A. Tisdale, Summerton, S. C. For Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles no remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

A Blow in the Back.

An overcoat is a necessary nuisance and the tendency to take it off on warmish days in late autumn and winter is as strong as it is unwise. A treacherous wind hits you in the back and the next morning you have lumbago. Rub well and often with Perry Davis' Painkiller and you will be astonished to find how quickly all soreness is banished. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'.

SHOT COMPTROLLER

W. G. Hill Kills Love Because of Fancied Wrongs.

SHOT HIMSELF FATALLY IN SCUFFLE

Assassin Was Quiet and of Good Habits, but Supposed to Be Insane From Long Brooding Over His Discharge.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 1.—Frenzied by supposed wrongs, W. G. Hill, an ex-attache of the state comptroller's office, entered the private office of State Comptroller R. M. Love and killed him by means of two well directed bullets from a large caliber revolver. As Hill turned to flee he was intercepted by Chief Clerk Stevens of the department and in the scuffle which followed Hill's revolver was accidentally exploded. The bullet entered Hill's abdomen, causing a wound from which he died three hours after the death of the man whose life he sought.

As to what caused the shooting none can explain, other than that it was the act of a madman. Hill had been an employee of the comptroller's office for ten years preceding Mr. Love's term of office. He was discharged by Mr. Love when the latter took charge, and it is presumed that this fact preyed on his mind until he went insane. He went to the capitol, entered Mr. Love's private office, spoke to him cheerfully, shook hands and, handing him a letter to read, sat down at the invitation of the comptroller.

No sooner had Mr. Love begun to read the letter than Hill sprang to his feet and fired two shots into the body of Mr. Love, one taking effect just above and the other immediately below the heart. Mr. Love screamed, dropped the letter and sprang forward toward his assassin, then gasped and fell forward.

Love was given all medical attention possible, but died within an hour after the shooting.

Mr. Hill was a quiet, gentlemanly man and never was known to be addicted to any bad habits. At the time of the shooting he was holding a good position here in the city, so that dire want could not have prompted the shooting. It is the general opinion that he was insane. Immediately after the shooting and while Hill was still lying in the corridor a bottle of laudanum was taken from his pocket, and, reaching for it, he said, "Let me take that and die easy."

This has led many persons to believe that he contemplated suicide following his shooting of the comptroller. Both men leave families.

MAD MOLLAH DEFEATED.

Surprise and Slaughter of Spearmen Near Jeyd.

LONDON, July 1.—The war office has received a dispatch from Colonel Rochfort, one of the British officers serving with the Abyssinian force in Somaliland, which says the Abyssinians after a series of forced marches struck the Mad Mollah's forces near Jeyd, surprising them at dawn and killing 1,000 spearmen and capturing almost all their cattle and sheep and 1,000 camels.

Colonel Rochfort adds that the Abyssinians have effectually closed to the mollah all the watering places south of the Gerlogubi-Galadi line, and he hopes they will soon be in contact with the British forces and thus be able to cooperate in the pursuit of the mollah, who is delayed in his movements by the fact that he is crossing a waterless part of the country.

To Convert Adirondack Natives.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., July 1.—An experiment which has for its purpose the evangelization of the people of the Adirondacks has been started by the American Baptist Publication society and the New York state Baptist convention. The work is to be carried on by a traveling evangelist, a student from the Rochester Theological school named Thordman, who goes about in a gospel wagon. The equipment consists of a stock of Bibles, religious literature, song books and an organ. Outdoor meetings will be held in isolated places. During the winter the work will be done principally in the lumber camps.

German Officers Honored.

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 1.—Count von Oriola and officers of the German cruiser Gazelle, now at this port, were entertained at an elaborate banquet by the German Freundschaftsbund of Charleston. This society is similar to the Liederkranz of New York and was organized in 1832. It is composed of prominent Germans of Charleston, is a distinctively social organization and has a national reputation. Its president, E. H. Johns, wears the German iron cross for services in the Franco-Prussian war.

Bulgaria Calls Out 3,000 Troops.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, July 1.—Owing to the increasing Turkish persecution of the Bulgarian population in the Turkish frontier provinces the Bulgarian government has called out 3,000 additional reserves who will be brigaded among the frontier guards with a view to checking the movements of revolutionary bands along the border.

Music Teachers' Convention.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 1.—The National Music Teachers' association convention has begun here. Five hundred delegates from all parts of the United States are in attendance.

Negroes "Legally" Hanged.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., July 1.—Charles S. Strickland and Solomon Glassco, both negroes, were legally hanged here. Both were convicted of murder.

Plainfield, N. J., July 1, 1903.

Lightning is held responsible for throwing a brick in a Pennsylvania town. Wonder if this is the New Jersey brand.

A rattlesnake is missing from a drug store window in Newark. If any Plainfield woman finds it she will confer a favor on the owner by carrying it to him.

Down South Jersey Judge Parker, of New York, was cheered yesterday as "the next President." Probably "cheered" in this case is synonimous with "jollied."

It seems singular that no baseball games have been arranged to be played here on the afternoon of the Fourth. All the big amateur teams have games scheduled elsewhere. A good game in the city would prove a drawing card.

A lesson on the evils of liquor is to be found each day in the local police court, but it seems to have no effect. In the great majority of cases in which men are charged with disorderly conduct, intoxicating drink has been the cause of their downfall.

It is unnecessary to place one of the voting machines in North Plainfield. Only two have been alloted to Somerset County and it is likely that they will be of more service in other districts than the borough. The strangeness of the returns there lately is not due to any irregularity.

KILLING OF NEGRO RIGHT

FARMER ORATOR MARTINE BELIEVES ACT JUSTIFIABLE.

Man Who Would Turn Back Under Similar Circumstances, a Coward.

Editor, The Daily Press:—

It is all very well for certain newspapers and pulpit orators to hold up their hands in horror over the "Wilmington situation," but let us try if possible to change the scene from Wilmington to Plainfield. What would we do under similar provocation? The process of law is too slow and the meshes too open in such cases, to reach and adequately punish such heinous and imprintable crimes as that perpetrated by that base brute White. I am friendly to the negro race and will stand by and defend them in all just demands, but in such a crisis, had it been one of my kin I would have been first to head the so-called mob, and a man who would hesitate would be a coward. Then too there is evidence that this brute had been twice convicted for crimes of a similar character; that a voice should be raised in his defense or in the slightest condemnation of the hasty manner of justice meted out is at least surprising. Whether it be a white or black man who should be the author of such a revolting crime, I hold that the course was justifiable. I believe that the thinking portion of Plainfield's negro population will express the same opinion.

the bride's mother, received their friends on the porch, in front of a marriage bell of white marguerites, screened with clematis. The mantles in the house were banked with maiden hair fern and bride roses. Charles Thorley, of New York, was the decorator.

Music was furnished by a large New York orchestra, and dancing was enjoyed on a platform on the lawn. The wedding supper was served along the brook banks.

The wedding gifts cost probably thousands of dollars. The groom's gift to the bride was a chain of pearls with a diamond pendant. The bride's mother gave the bride a chest of silver and a diamond tiara. The groom's brother gave the groom a gold loving cup, and the bride a diamond and emerald bracelet. Each of the ushers was presented by the groom with a diamond horseshoe pin, and Miss Hyde gave her maid-of-honor and flower girls bracelets with diamond hearts.

Over 1,000 wedding invitations were issued. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd and Mr. and Mrs. W. Palmer Smith, of Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kepler, of Lancaster, Pa.,; Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Betts, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rockefeller, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Mead, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. Wright Post and Mr. and Mrs. Girard Herrick, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Colby, of Orange; Mr. and Mrs. Rodman Griscom, Mr. and Mrs. Saumel Bettle, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Laffarre, Mr. and Mrs. James Kerlaly and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Bruson, of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Colby will take a wedding trip abroad, after which they will reside at Llewellyn Park, Orange.

The bride is the daughter of the late Charles Hyde, the Standard Oil magnate and president of the City National Bank of this city. The groom is one of the members of the State Assembly representing Essex County and is in line for the senatorship. He is vice chairman of the army branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, of New York.

was he who planned and carried out the improvements to the Plainfield sewerage system which have made that system a success, and now as Chief Engineer of the Central Railroad of New Jersey he is doing much to add to our comfort in travel through wisely designed improvements. * * *

"Let us taste of his quality. Let us drink the health of one who is great in many things but greatest as a man. One who is

'Of manners gentle, of affections mild,
In wit a man; simplicity, a child.'

The health of Joseph O. Osgood"

Mr. Osgood, who followed, expressed his appreciation of the efforts of his friends and give an interesting description of the work now being done by the Jersey Central in building the Newark Bay bridge.

Mr. Hunt, secretary of the A. S. of C. E., spoke very highly of Mr. Osgood who has been a member of that organization since 1879 and a director for the past eighteen months, and briefly outlined its objects. Dr. Waldo had a few words to add about personal experiences with engineers and Mr. Besler, of the Jersey Central, concluded the speaking.

Before and after the speeches, Charles L. Lewis sang, rendering "Gypsy John," "My Love Nel," and "The Two Gernadiers." He was accompanied by Stephen Haff. Dr. Waldo also gave a 'cello solo from "Tannhauser."

ing the life of Henri-Frederic Amiel, author of the now famous "Amiel's Journal," transalted into English by Mrs. Humphrey Ward. He had always been greatly interested in Amiel of whose personal history little has ever appeared. He passed two weeks in Amiel's home and with his friends, Mr. Zelie was the first stranger who had ever entered the house of the Genevan recluse who became so famous after his death, to make inquiries about his life and work. There he read his manuscripts, and talked with his friends.

In February of the present year he gave two lectures at Yale Divinity School on "Amiel and the Literature of the Inner Life" and is now at work on an article describing his visit in his home. Later he hopes to bring out a translation from the French of a biographical sketch of Amiel with such additional matter as he discovered in his home.

NEW CUP DEFENDER WINS.

Old Defenders Again Beaten by the Reliance.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 1.—The Reliance scored another decisive victory over the Constitution and Columbia in a fifteen mile thrash to windward and return. Beat for beat the Constitution won over the Columbia, but time allowance will probably give the latter second place. The new craft sailed the course in 7m. 2s. less time than the Constitution and 8m. 1s. less than the older boat. The Constitution covered the thirty miles in 5h. 50s. less time than the Columbia.

It was a cracking race under conditions supposed to be more to the liking of the Columbia than either of the other boats, but the Reliance again proved herself to be the better boat both to windward and running dead before the breeze.

The race was sailed in a breeze of from ten to twelve miles' strength, and on the way out a long rolling sea was met. The Reliance dipped deeper into the waves than did either of the other boats, but it had no retarding effect upon her speed. On the contrary, the new craft seemed to like the water, for it was at this point she walked away from her opponents the fastest. The Columbia also gained over the Constitution in the rough water going to windward, outpointing and outfooting the latter.

Spinnakers and balloon jibs were broken out after rounding the outer mark, and the Reliance gained steadily on the home leg, increasing her lead over the Columbia and the Constitution. The Constitution picked up slowly on the Columbia running before the wind and at Point Judith had worked up abreast of the old cup defender. Before the finish line was reached the Constitution crept past the Columbia and crossed the line 7s. ahead of her. Time—Reliance, 3h. 15m.; Constitution, 3h. 22m.; Columbia, 3h. 23m.

ACCIDENT TO LIPTON'S BOAT.

New Shamrock Carries Away Main Sheet Traveler.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Three minutes after she crossed the starting line of what was to have been a thirty mile race over the international course off Sandy Hook the Shamrock III. carried away the traveler by which her main sheet is fastened to the deck and was compelled to withdraw.

The two Shamrocks were towed off to Sandy Hook lightship and, with Sir Thomas Lipton and Designer Fife on board the new boat, were sent across a starting line between the lightship and Sir Thomas' steam yacht Erin. They crossed the line only a few seconds apart, the new boat to windward and leading by less than her own length. A twelve knot southwest wind was kicking up whitecaps, and there was a prospect of a fine race.

The boats had gone less than half a mile when the heavy steel rod snapped off. The other fastenings holding the sheet to the deck did not give way, but the race was immediately abandoned. Sir Thomas said afterward that he hoped the injured boat would be ready to leave the basin again this morning.

Emperor's Yacht Was Beaten.

KIEL, Prussia, July 1.—The yacht Hamburg beat the emperor's Meteor in the fifty mile race to Eckernfoerde, crossing the finish line a minute and a fraction ahead, which, with the handicap, made the Hamburg win by 4m. 38s. The Iduna was half an hour behind; but, as the empress remarked to a party of ladies with her, she did not care for a fast boat and only wanted a comfortable one. The emperor was rather pleased at the Hamburg's victory, as he organized the syndicate of 200 yachtsmen which owns her. She is an English built boat and was formerly the Rainbow, but she was sailed entirely by Germans, though the Meteor still retains part of her English crew. Ambassador Meyer and Allison V. Armour of Chicago were among the emperor's guests on the Meteor.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THE CANARY.

How to Keep Him Happy and In First Class Condition.

Be sure above everything else that your canary has plenty of room for exercise. A square cage is much better than a round one, and the perches, which should be only two in number, are best one on each side, so that the bird can jump back and forth.

GREEN FOOD EVERY DAY.

These perches should be carefully rounded, not less than half an inch in width and not stationary, for they must be taken out to be cleaned frequently.

Give plenty of fresh water every day. In warm weather change the water twice a day. Spanish canary seed is the best all around food. Do not mix several kinds of seed in one dish. Give the bird green food every day, water cress, chickweed or lettuce, and hang a piece of cuttlefish to the wire bars.

Canaries are very cleanly, and a blood warm bath is a necessity at least twice a week.

The cage must be cleaned every day and coarse river sand should be sprinkled all over the bottom whenever this is done.

Sunshine is necessary to the happiness of a canary, but do not leave it in the strong light without covering a section of the cage so that it can find shade if it needs it.

BEATRICE MILLER.

PERSONAL PRIDE.

Foster It In Your Children if You Wish Them to Succeed.

There is more harm done by lack of conceit than because of it. Parents, praise your children and make them think they are of some importance. I suppose I am raising a storm of protest with this anarchistic proverb, but I have my reasons. Many a failure in this world—in fact, most of the failures—may be attributed to lack of self confidence. It we don't have confidence in ourselves who is to have confidence in us?

The parents are to blame for this. They are always lowering the child in its own estimation. Some parents even carry the thing so far as hardly ever to utter one word of praise, but only take notice of the blunders a child makes in order that they may correct them.

Don't do that!

If the child has any particular talent, any genius, let him know it in order that the thought may give him happiness and that he may cultivate that particular bent. Foster carefully the smallest signs of talent and do this by means of praise.

Another thing. I believe in fostering a girl's personal pride. If she dresses prettily, if she looks well, tell her so. It is far better she should hear it from your lips than from those of outsiders. It will show her that you appreciate her and will increase her love for you. Teach her to be proud of herself and to hold her own personal worth very high. Don't always be trying to make her humble and self deprecating. The more a girl thinks of herself the better she will be treated in this world, and it has a marked effect, too, on her own moral nature.

If personal pride were instilled into more girls one would certainly see less silliness and running after men.

You cannot make your boys and girls too proud of themselves. Pride is a great thing, and the man who loses his pride is only a degree less to be pitied than the woman who loses hers.

Praise the children as much as possible, teach them to hold their heads up, to fear nothing and nobody and above all not to distrust their own strength.

HELEN CLIFTON.

A woman or a man of any age may be beautiful. Nothing is truer than that, yet the world is just finding it out.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1903, by The Robert Company.

"Not the skin of a shadow, 'cept that one man rode shorter stirrups'n I do. They forgot to set 'em back. They had my California saddle on Dan and that light Whitman of mine on Harney."

"Sure it was two men?" queried Webb, looking straight into the trader's eyes.

"What else could it be?" demanded Hay, in no little excitement.

"Well, I thought possibly Miss Flower might have been moved to take a moonlight ride. No reason why she shouldn't, you know, and not wishing to disturb you——"

"Then she would have used her own sidesaddle. What's she doing with a man's? Besides, she'd have told me!"

"Oh! You've seen her then this morning? I thought perhaps she wasn't up," hazarded Webb.

"Up? Why, hang it, she was up at daybreak—up hours ago, my wife says. Haven't you seen her? She's over here somewhere?"

No, Webb had not seen her, and together the two started in search, first to the flagstaff, and there at the point of bluff beyond the Ray's—there she stood, gazing up the Platte toward the Indian village through a pair of signal glasses that weighed heavily in her daintily gloved hands. Capt. Tracy, a bachelor assistant surgeon, stood faithfully by her side, listening to her lively chatter, with ears that absorbed and eyes that worshiped.

THERE SHE STOOD, GAZING UP THE PLATTE, TOWARD THE INDIAN VILLAGE THROUGH A PAIR OF SIGNAL GLASSES.

"Come away," said Webb. "I have an order on you for Field's currency in your safe. When are you going to try to get your cash to bank?" And Webb keenly eyed his man as he asked the question.

"To-morrow, or next day sure—even if I have to go part way with the stage myself. When do you want this money?" said Hay, tapping the envelope Webb had given him.

"Well, now, if agreeable to you, I prefer to keep such funds at the quartermaster's. Oh—Good morning, Mrs. Ray!" he cheerily called, lifting his cap, at sight of a young matron at an upper window. "Can you see them still?" he added, for the elder of the two boys was peering through a long telescope, perched on its brass tripod upon a little shelf projecting from the sill. Many a time had the "Ray's spyglass" been the last to discern some departing troop as it crossed the low divide ten miles away to the north. Many a time had the first announcement of "courier coming" reached headquarters through Master Sandy, the first born of their olive branches. There were unshed tears in the gentle voice that answered. There was wordless anxiety in the sweet, pallid face that smiled so bravely through its sorrow. "The troop passed out of sight quarter of an hour ago, major," said Mrs. Ray. "But Sandy could see the flankers on their left until within the last five minutes."

"Way out on their left, major!" interposed that young gentleman, big with importance. "If old Stabber tries any of his tricks with that troop he'll—he'll get his belly full!" and Master Sandy plainly intimated both in tone and manner, not to mention of the vernacular of the soldier, that Stabber might take liberties with any other troop or company at the post, but would best beware of daddy's. And yet, not three months agone he had stoutly taken up the cudgels for the Frayne garrison, as a whole, against the field, the wordy battle with the son and heir of the colonel commanding at Laramie culminating in a combat only terminated by the joint efforts of the stable sergeant and sentry, for both youngsters were game as their sires. What Sandy Ray was now praying to see was an attack by Stabber's band upon the isolated troop, but Stabber, it may be said, knew a trick worth ten of that. There was no sense in pitching into the sorrel troop on even terms when by waiting another day, perhaps, and the answer of Lame Wolf to the appeal of his speedy messenger, he might outnumber and overwhelm them with five to one.

"We should be hearing from Omaha and Laramie by ten o'clock, Mrs. Ray," said the major, reassuringly, "and I will send you word at once. And, of course, Corporal Ray," he continued, and now with martial formality addressing the lad at the telescope, "I can rely upon you to report at once in case you see anything suspicious toward the Big Horn."

"Yes, sir," answered the boy, straightening up to attention. Then, scrupulously exchanging salutes, the old soldier and the young parted company, and the major returned to receive the reports of the old and new officers of the day. These gentlemen were still with him, Capt. Chew, of the infantry, and the senior first lieutenant for duty with the —th, when Hay came hurrying up the board walk from the direction of the store. For reasons of his own, Webb had sent his orderly to the guardhouse to say to the officers in question that he would await them at his quarters instead of the little building known as the adjutant's office, in which were the offices of the commander, the record room in which were placed the desks of the sergeant major and his three clerks, and the sleeping rooms of the special duty soldiers. It had happened more than once in the past that garrison stories of matters not supposed to be known outside the office had been traced back to that desk room, and now Webb's questions of his old officer of the day, and his instructions to the new, were not things he cared to have bruited about the post. He was listening intently to the captain's report of the sentries' observations during the night gone by when Hay reached the gate and stopped, not wishing to intrude at such a moment.

"Come in, Mr. Hay," said the commander, cordially. "This all will interest you," and, thus bidden, the trader joined the soldiers three on the veranda, and some of the young people of the garrison, setting up their croquet arches on the parade, looked curiously toward the group, and wondered what should keep the old officer of the day so long. Sauntering down the walk, smiling radiantly upon the occupants of the various verandas that she passed, then beaming between times into the face of her smitten escort, her black eyes and white teeth flashing in the rare sunshine, Nanette Flower was gradually nearing the major's quarters. She was barely 20 yards away when, in obedience to some word of the major, Mr. Hay held forth two white packages that, even at that distance, could be recognized, so far as the outer covering was concerned, as official envelopes. She was too far away, perhaps, to hear what was said.

"It seems," began Webb, to his officers, as he mechanically opened the first packet, "that Field took fire at Wilkins' growls about the bother of keeping his funds, so the youngster stowed his money with Hay. He insisted on turning over everything before he left, so I receipted to him. Let's see," he continued, glancing at the memorandum in his hand. "Three hundred and seventy-two dollars and eighty-five cents post fund, and four hundred belonging to enlisted men. I may as well count it in your pres——"

A MINING DISASTER

Terrific Explosion Wrecks Union Pacific Shaft.

TWO HUNDRED MINERS ENTOMBED

Mine Worker Entered a Condemned Section of Coal Mine With Lamp and Ignited Large Accumulation of Gas.

HANNA, Wyo., July 1.—The worst coal mine disaster in the history of Wyoming has occurred in Mine No. 1 of the Union Pacific Coal company, where a terrific explosion occurred.

The mine took fire immediately, and the relief force which was organized at once to rescue the entombed miners was unable for a time to approach the entrance to the mine on account of dense volumes of smoke, but after being in the mine some hours the party returned to the surface with the mangled bodies of twenty-five miners who were taken out of the mines by the rear shaft or manhole. Some of the men were alive when found, but many will die. Those who can talk say that the men who were working farther on in the mine are probably dead. A conservative estimate places the number of dead at 175.

The explosion was caused by a man going into a condemned entrance of the mine. Quantities of gas had evidently accumulated, for a tremendous explosion occurred the moment the gas touched the miner's lamp.

A special train has taken physicians and nurses from Rawlins and Laramie to the mine, which is reported to be burning fiercely.

Most of the entombed miners, estimated to number 200, are believed to be on the sixth level.

New World's Record, 1:11 4-5.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Dick Welles set a new world's record for six furlongs on a circular track at Washington park, running the distance in 1:11 4-5. He carried 109 pounds. The former record was 1:12, held jointly by Lux Casta and Bummer. Dick Welles set the new mark under remarkable circumstances. He was almost left at the post. When the barrier flew up his head was turned and his rider not ready. He was fully a second behind his field at the start. The pace was terrific, but Jockey Knight set out after the field. He closed the gap of about ten lengths slowly but surely. He saved ground on the turns and took the rail after entering the stretch. He closed on the leaders at every stride and then hitched up with Runnels, who looked like a winner. Dick Welles slowly overhauled him and won by three-quarters of a length.

Tried to Dig a Path Out of Jail.

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 1.—Jennie Green, eighteen years old, tried to cut her way out of the new Ulster county jail by digging through the walls of the ward where she was confined. When discovered she had removed the plating and was at work on the wall itself, which is about eight inches thick at that point. Within three hours she could have freed herself. No steel was used in lining the walls of the jail wards, as in the rest of the jail, no one anticipating that it was needed.

A Denial.

The statement in The Daily Press of June 29 to the effect that Miss Florence Moore, of Watchung avenue, was deserted by her fiance, Burdette E. Ross, on the day she was to have married him, has been declared to be totally without foundation by friends of the girl. Miss Moore says no such person as Ross exists. The Press had no intention to misrepresent the facts and regrets extremely that it was misinformed by one who purported to speak with authority.

Miss Bowne Becomes the Wife of Geo. Isemann Unbeknown to Friends.

Miss Marguerite Bowne, daughter of Mr. George W. Bowne, of Somerset street, and George Isemann, of Cranford, were married Saturday evening at Flemington. The wedding was a quiet one only a sister of the bride being informed of the secret.

Miss Bowne left this city for Flemington Saturday ostensibly to visit Mrs. William H. Runyon. While she was there Rev. P. C. Bascom performed the ceremony in the M. E. Church parsonage. The pastor's wife and an outsider were the only witnesses to the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Isemann reside now in Cranford. The groom is employed at the First National Bank in that place.

Mr. Belding did not receive word until this morning concerning the fire and he left at once for New York.

LAWYER'S SUCCESS.

Important Case Before Supreme Court Won by W. S. Angleman—Debts Discharged in Bankruptcy.

The Supreme Court has just decided that a debt although incurred by fraud is wiped out by the debtor obtaining his discharge in bankruptcy. Most business men had thought otherwise.

The point was decided in a case brought by Attorney General Robert H. McCarter in behaf of the J. C. Smith & Wallace Co., of Newark, against Isaac H. Lambert, formerly doing business in Westfield. Although Lambert had gone through bankruptcy and had been granted his discharge, Mr. McCarter endeavored to hold him on an account of about nine hundred dollars on the ground that the debt was incurred through fraud. Charles H. Angleman, of Rahway, and W. S. Angleman, of this city, appeared for Lambert and claimed thatt he debt was barred by the discharge granted by the United States District Court.

The case was argued before the Supreme Court several months ago, and the decision now handed down sustains the point made by Lambert's counsel and holds that the discharge covers the debt even though it was incurred through fraud.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

Wall Street Interested in Report of Gains by P. and R. During May.

There has been considerable interest expressed in Wall street in the report of the earnings issued by the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company for the month of May. The increase of $1,420,079 in net earnings was considered striking. The first half of May, 1902, saw good earnings by all the coal roads and particularly by the Reading, which led to a belief that there would be no such increase over that year. May completed the eleventh month of the fiscal year and there is a belief in Wall street that owing to this good showing a dividend of some sort may be made on the second preferred stock, which amounts to $42,000,000.

CHASING MOSQUITOES.

Entomologist Smith Gunning After Pesty Creatures.

An expedition headed by John B. Smith, Entomologist for New Jersey, visited yesterday the Newark meadows for the purpose of inspecting cages built in the marshes. The cages were put there for the purpose of learning all that was possible about the habits of mosquitoes. They form part of the plan of the New Jersey authorities to get rid of the pests, but so far the scientists have not been able to get the better of the insects.

It was generally expected that in the cages the habits of the mosquitoes could be observed with safety. This was found not to be so. Once the party got inside a cage the mosquitoes proceeded to make what could hardly be called a friendly call. They some way or other got through the wire netting and proceeded to feast on the scientists.

After they got through their work in Newark they went through a similar ordeal at Elizabeth.

COUNTY COMMITTEES SHOULD AVOID TROUBLE

Danger That Contested Elections May Result From Technicality of Law.

PETITIONS COMPLICATED

NEW PRIMARY LAW AMENDED THIS YEAR IS CAUSE OF DIFFICULTY.

Definite Form of Petition and Affidavits for Presenting Candidates for Delegates Should be Prepared.

The new primary and election law amended this year is liable to make trouble in some of the rural districts of New Jersey by indirectly causing contested elections. This follows from the fact that the new primary law prescribes the methods of choosing delegates at all elections in which members of the Assembly are chosen. Petitions for the nomination of delegates in primaries are remarkably technical affairs, and the whole trouble, as a Daily Press reporter discovered in conversation with a prominent local politician, lies in this fact.

One way to avoid the difficulty would be for the county committees of the respective parties to prepare a form of petition and affidavits for presenting candidates that would hold uniformly throughout the country. If drawn up by the average election officers in country districts, or by anyone not versed in the law, the petitions and affidavits annexed would in all probability be so vague and indefinite that, if the selection of delegates were legally contested, they would have to be thrown out.

Unless some action such as suggested is taken by way of preventative, there will always be the danger of contested elections and the attendant expense and inconvenience. It is rather a complicated matter, involving only the mere chance of trouble and "the law's delay." But the proverbial stitch in time in the political cloth in this case may save nine later in the shape of settling disputed elections.

Moreover, there is a further germ of trouble in the fact that the new primary law does not govern other elections than those in which assemblymen are chosen in the fall of the year, whereas the rural districts, boroughs and townships hold their local elections in the spring.

Splendid Trip.

Everyone just now is making plans for some kind of an outing on the Fourth of July. Too often in the past has the day been followed by vain wishes that it had been spent in some other way than the one selected, but no such regrets ever attend the trip to Mauch Chunk. Many people travel half over Europe without viewing more romantic scenery than in this, the so-called "Switzerland of America." Rugged mountain peaks are in awe-inspiring contrast to deep chasms and gorges while there is hardly a spot in this section where the artist does not long to plant his easel or the amateur photograher to expose a plate. And the beauty of it is that the jaunt may be made at very moderate expense and within the limit of a day's outing. The New Jersey Central announces an excursion on July 4th to Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the Switchback, the round-trip costing only $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. It is alone worth making the trip to have experienced the novel ride of 14 miles over the gravity road known as the Switchback. There is nothing quite like it anywhere in the country. While it is exciting, the most timid have nothing to fear for the trip is quite safe. A fast special express train will leave Plainfield at 9:22 a. m., and arriving at Mauch Chunk about noon. There is ample opportunity to see and enjoy everything as the return train does not leave until 5:40. The nearest ticket agent will supply circulars giving full details. People who decide to make this excursion will have something to remember all their lives and much to tell their friends. c

A Great Newspaper.

"The Philadelphia Record," which recently observed its twenty-sixth anniversary as the pioneer one cent newspaper of America, claims the largest circulation of any paper published in Pennsylvania, and its claim is without doubt a just one. The secret of this is not hard to find. Throughout its entire career "The Record" has combined a certain spirit of conservatism with a progressive policy, and the result has been a newspaper that inspires and holds the confidence of its readers. There is a vast deal of difference between conservatism and old-fogyism. "The Record" is always keen, alert and up-to-date, and never allows itself to become hysterical. The metropolitan journals of today may be enterprising to the point of sensationalism, and in the existing spirit of rivalry may often overstep the bounds of decorum and good taste; but in this respect "The Philadelphia Record" is not a sinner. It is always sane, always temperate, always satisfying. Without half the fuss and feathers of some of its contemporaries, it is not to be gainsaid. It is this authoritative confidence in itself that has wrought confidence in the general public and has been instrumental in establishing its prestige. "Let us see what 'The Record' says about it," is a remark of frequent occurrence; and what "The Record" says is usually regarded as final and incontrovertible. The newspaper is still largely a moulder of public opinion, in spite of the theorists, and while the confidence of the public may be shaken in some phases of modern journalism, that class of which "The Philadelphia Record" is a fine type still survives, and will continue to survive for good. We could ill afford to spare any of them, least of all "The Record." A long and prosperous life to Pennsylvania's leading newspaper.

Merciless Reductions —IN— MILLINERY.

Generally speaking, we don't believe in using shriek type, scare headlines and circus adjectives to advertise our goods, but with facts like these, the most startling headline and the most strenuous language, are equally inadequate to describe the merits of these astonishing values.

Read this carefully and see if you don't agree with us.

We wish to close out our entire stock of Trimmed Millinery, Hats, Bonnets, Toques and Turbans just as quickly as possible, and we are willing to sacrifice heavily to make the clearance quick and sure. The loss is bound to come sooner or later, and we'll make it NOW when the goods may be of more value to you than later. They are all made of the finest materials—and in the most up-to-date shapes, colors and effects, and the entire stock will be disposed of at much less than the cost of materials.

There are ten different groupings, just look them over—and even though accustomed to our big values—see if these don't most take your breath away.

THE BURIED MINERS

Army of Rescuers at Work at Hanna, Wyo.

PIT WILL NOT BE CLEAR FOR A MONTH

Many Bodies Were Found Strewn Over a Pile of Debris Which the Entombed Men Had Endeavored to Surmount.

HANNA, Wyo., July 2.—According to the best information now obtainable, 235 men out of 282 who were in the No. 1 coal mine were killed in the explosion.

The majority of the victims were Finlanders and negroes.

An army of rescuers, spurred on by the frantic appeals of wives, mothers and children gathered at the mine, have been working with desperate energy.

They tell of pitiful scenes at the seventeenth level, the lowest point reached during the night.

Some of the survivors were driven in sane and fought furiously against the rescuers. Dazed, listless men were found sitting on cars or lying on the floor, careless whether they lived or died.

Near the seventeenth level twenty bodies were found strewn over a pile of debris, which the men had striven to surmount before they were overcome by the deadly fumes. Some were seared and blackened by flames, but all had died crawling toward fresh air. The eleven rescuers who penetrated thus far were too weak to bring out a body.

For hours the scene at the mouth of the level was heart moving. Women and children huddled together, weeping and wringing their hands. Many sat on shattered timbers blown from the mine's mouth, insensible to their surroundings.

The more frantic pushed to the edge of the gap and tried to force a way into the slope.

An expert who went almost to the seventeenth level says the mine cannot possibly be cleared for a month. It is feared that men in the lower levels were torn to pieces by the explosion, which hurled great timbers high over the town and 1,700 feet beyond the mouth of the slope.

Among the dead is Alfred Hapgood, who turned the first shovel of dirt in starting the slope.

J. Sergeant Cram Explains.

NEW YORK, July 2.—J. Sergeant Cram, former president of the dock board, has explained that his letter addressed to "Dear Colonel" and saying, "I will make Charlie call on you in a day or two to agree upon the price," was written to the late Colonel Michael C. Murphy. "Charlie" was Charles F. Murphy, then treasurer of the dock board and now leader of Tammany Hall. The city was trying to buy half of a pier in which Murphy was interested in behalf of a contestant. A price was arranged, approved by the dock board, but defeated by the sinking fund commission. Later Comptroller Coler recommended buying half the pier for $25,000. This was done. According to Mr. Cram, there is nothing mysterious about the transaction or the letter.

Payne Abolishes Physicians.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Postmaster General Payne issued an order abolishing the position of physician in post offices at the close of business June 30, 1903. This order wipes out a small list of officials whose employment without specific authority of law has caused wide discussion in connection with the post office investigation. Some at least of these offices paid $1,700 a year and were sinecures. One man was carried on the rolls of the Washington office for over a year at that salary and had practically no duties to perform.

The President's Fourth.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 2.—A fireworks party will be the feature of the Fourth of July at Sagamore Hill. It will be held in the afternoon after the president's return to Huntington, where he will go to deliver an address at the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the town. The display of fireworks will be superintended by an expert from New York, and will be very elaborate. Many neighbors and friends of the president and his family have been invited to witness the exhibition.

Payne Awards Postal Contract.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Postmaster General Payne has awarded the contract for printing the money order blanks of the government to Paul Herman of Rutherford, N. J. Mr. Herman was the lowest of fourteen bidders, and the award of the contract, which involves the payment of between $300,000 and $350,000 during the next fiscal year, will effect a saving of nearly $45,000 in the four years' contract.

Anthony Hope Married.

LONDON, July 2. — Anthony Hope Hawkins, author, and Miss Elizabeth Sheldon of New York, sister to Suzanne Sheldon (Mrs. Ainley), an actress, were married at St. Bride's church, Fleet street, in the presence of many literary and society people. The church was handsomely decorated, and the bishop of Stepney officiated. There were six bridesmaids, among them being Ethel Barrymore.

Missing Woman's Body Found.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 2. — A Gloucester fishing schooner picked up the body of a woman just outside the harbor of Rockport, and the authorities believe that it is that of Mrs. E. H. Hopkins, the East Boston woman who disappeared from the steamer Governor Dingley on the trip from Portland, Me., to Boston Monday night.

Plainfield, N. J., July 2, 1903.

Where is the man who said that overcoats would be a necessary garment for the first week in July?

People who are in the habit of giving out incorrect information to the press by way of a "joke" should remember that a penalty of $500 may be attached to the offense.

It is about time for Lawson, the broker, to give his opinion on American cup racing methods. Nothing has been heard of him since he made a theatrical display of his own boat last year.

"Bosy" Reiter, Old Nassau's famous halfback, has been ordained to the ministry. He and McCracken are samples of men who do not lose sight of their Christian duty while winning fame.

The weather man desires to state that owing to the multiplicity and diversity of requests he will be unable to accommodate the public with a particular brand of weather. Get your petitions in early and he will see what he can do.

Remember Madame Housekeeper this is warm weather, so take precaution not ot lose your temper on Fourth of July just because your grocer or baker does not deliver your order. There's only one way to avoid your getting out of sorts—place the order early. Don't wait until the holiday rolls around.

"Carper-Bagger" Addicks can not escape the arraignment of the press it seems, no matter how quiet he lays. In picturing the shames of Delaware his name is made as odious as those of the mob who burned the negro at the stake. Bad as he appears to be, Addicks is no worse than a score of political bosses in other States, but he seems to be the object of attack for the press of the country and is having a hard row to hoe in his attempt to be the master of the Diamond State.

Mary Baker G. Eddy, the founder and "mother" of Christian science is responsible for the following "poem" which she inserts in a recent message to the brethren:

"Truth happifies life in hamlet or town;
Life lessens all pride—its pomp and its frown—
Love comes to our rears like soft summer showers,
To beautify, bless and inspire man's power."

"Happifies" is good; also the magnificent disregard for the demands of rhyme and reason. Stick to Christian science, "mother" Eddy, please! And don't add the King's English to the list of victims of the faith cure.

"Lost in a great city" is a happy condition compared to the state of mind of the unfortunate who is trying to locate a house in certain streets of our own city and borough by means of its number. When the stranger, or the old timer for the matter of that, finds numbers repeated on the same street, or one house numbered 400 and the house next door something like 700, he is liable to think things uncomplimentary to the methods of the city fathers. Even in some of the principal streets of the city the shop numbers are displayed so inconspicuously as to be practically useless.

This neglect is in direct violation of the city ordinances. Part of the trouble lies in the fact that the city and borough governments have not agreed upon a system of numbering which should prevent repetition on the same streets, and sudden leaps of three or four hundred numbers in adjacent houses.

The city ordinances in this regard should be enforced, and all failure to observe them should be immediately investigated. Streets in the East and West ends are particularly faulty. Most of the houses on these streets display no numbers at all; in some of them supposed to be marked by two or three figures, one figure has been allowed to fall away; and cases are numerous where figures, in use before the present system of numbering was adopted by the city government, have been retained.

The result is unpleasantly mystifying, and there should be no delay in correcting it.

A small mongrel dog, performed a gymnastic feat yesterday afternoon which few would care to duplicate. The animal rushed to cross the railroad near the round house but his passage was blocked by a freight train which was moving at a fair rate of speed. The dog did not hesitate but proceeded to jump under the train. Somehow or other he escaped being hurt and proceeded contentedly on his way.

"Lefty" Davis will probably pitch both games on the Fourth against Alis. The fans need not worry about Davis, who is a cool player, being really stronger in the last innings of a game than in the first. As the morning game is called at 10 and the afternoon at 4, there will be a chance to rest up between games.

Work on the newly laid water mains has been completed. The last trench was filled in yesterday and the last hydrant set on Front street. The dirt left when the mains were laid by the water company still stands. The gutters badly need scraping and rolling.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:—

Having read an article by Mr. James Martine respecting his views on the outrage perpetrated upon the negro of Wilmington for an outrage committed, I beg to differ. He said he believes that the thinking portion of the Plainfield negro population will express the same opinion as he. There is not a negro of this city who will agree with him in his opinion expressed. I would not protest against lynching anywhere in our country, if we had no justice or equity. However serious the crime committed by any citizen of this country, he should be tried by the courts of our land. There is no higher crime committed than that of assassinating the Chief Executive of our Nation, and though the sentiment of the entire country may be against the perpetrator he is tried in a court of the law. Be he of the negro or any other race, justice should reign, and the North where man is supposed to receive justice, should protest against this evil that has lowered the status of our Nation.

Rev. E. E. Jackson.

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

There will be speaking and singing at the Rescue Mission, tonight. The meeting will be in charge of John Manley.

Rev. Dr. J. Kinsey Smith, of Louisville, Ky., will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. There will be special music.

No services will be held in the Mt. Olive Baptist church after the first Sunday in August, as the building is to be thoroughly renovated at a cost of not less than $800. The congregation is engaged in raising money to meet the expenses.

—A refreshing drink on a warm day is a cup of ice cold coffee or tea. To make the drink delicious the best of coffee is required. Java and Mocha, is properly blended at Neuman Brothers and that is why an ice drink made from their coffees is superior to others. The store will be closed all day Saturday.

Weather conditions are perfect for the annual excursion of the First Baptist Church Sunday-school to Asbury Park, and the weather prophet promises a fine day for July 9, the date of the excursion. This will be the first one of the season to the shore and a good opportunity to recuperate from the excitement of the Fourth of July.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

An elderly female laboriously driving an old style tricycle along Front street the other day presented a study in antiques that attracted consideration attention. The day was hot, the machine was heavy and the painfulness of the exertion showed clearly in the lines of the rider's face, the ensemble causing the spectator to long for a kodak. Probably if the owner will keep the vehicle a few years longer she will be able to dispose of it for a goodly sum to be exhibited as a curiosity in a dime museum.

Clayton L. Travers, a collector of antiquities, has presented to State Treasurer Frank O. Briggs a document believed to be the original act of Congress providing for the purchase of a site for a military academy, as a result of which the site at West Point was procured. The act was passed while Congress was in session in New York in 1790. The document is well preserved, and bears the signatures of Thomas Jefferson, then Secreatry of State; Frederick Muhlenberg, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and John Adams, Vice President. Mr. Briggs is himself a graduate of West Point.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Samuel Dreier's house on New street, near Front, is receiving a coat of paint similar to that put on the corner property.

—S. Scheuer & Company, of West Front street, have been granted a permit by Inspector T. O. Doane to alter and enlarge their store.

—A number of hackmen at the railroad station broke other engagements Tuesday in order to get customers going to the Colby-Hyde wedding. They were fooled to a man, the carriages ordered elsewhere being sufficient in number to satisfy the demand.

—Frank Hedden, the liveryman of East Fourth street, had a busy day Tuesday supplying carriages for the Colby-Hyde and Bill-Reid weddings. He furnished 243 carriages for the former and 60 for the latter wedding, a number being imported from Rahway, Somerville and New Brunswick.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THE TRAINED NURSE

An Angel of Mercy

THE prettiest women to be seen in London are the trained nurses walking in the park paths in their neat and becoming uniform. Whether it is the uniform that makes them so attractive looking one cannot say; probably not. Probably it is something in the women themselves and in the profession which dignifies them that gives them the air of refined gentleness and yet of self poise and strength that hovers around them. They are also very fair and graceful. If one had to be ill, among these is the woman one would choose to have around.

The woman who founded the trained nurse's profession lately passed her eighty-third birthday at her quiet country home in England, Florence Nightingale. She was also herself the first woman army nurse, fifty years ago in the Crimean war. A born philanthropist, she brooded over the bloodshed and horrors of the war in the inhospitable climate of the Crimea till she could endure no longer to refrain from helping the suffering soldiers. She knew what trained nursing meant, for she was connected with a school where it was taught.

She went to the Crimea in person. A howl of derision, as usual when any reform begins, went up from the commonplace and the old fogy, who in the inscrutable rulings of Providence seem to constitute a majority of the inhabitants of this planet. Nevertheless she went and won the greatest victory of the Crimean war, a victory for womankind over blind prejudice.

What Florence Nightingale did in the Crimean war belongs to another story. What she did for her sex was to open the way for woman army nurses, up to that time undreamed of even as a possibility.

The change came slowly. England, knowing what Miss Nightingale and her aids had done on the battle field, was naturally the first nation to officially adopt the innovation. In our civil war there were women nurses devoted and brave, some of whom gave their lives for the sick and wounded soldiers, but they were only volunteers, unpaid ones, alas, at that! When the war was over and they went home broken in health, many of them, there were those among them reduced to actual poverty because of the years they had given to their country.

Yet these heroic women, too, performed a mission. They, too, showed how valuable in the relief of suffering is the work of a strong, capable woman in war. Woman is a natural nurse. When she knows her business thoroughly she releases for active service the ablebodied soldier whose place she takes in the care of the disabled ones. It was not till the outbreak of the war with Spain, however, that women nurses became an official adjunct of the American army. They were sent to Cuba, they were sent to the Philippines, where some are to this day.

Congress enacted a law providing for the establishment of a "nurse corps (female)," as the bill has it. A noble and respected industrial occupation for capable women was thus inaugurated. They must, however, be thoroughly capable. There is no nonsense in the qualifications of an army nurse. She must of course be of the highest character morally and must know how to maintain her womanly dignity. She must be constitutionally strong and healthy and able to endure long hours and hard work. Sometimes a woman nurse must remain in an army surgeon's operating room many hours at a stretch when wounded soldiers need attention. There must be no weak minded squeamishness or shrinking of nerves. The nurse must be a graduate from a hospital training school.

The female nurses' corps of the United States army consists of one superintendent, appointed by the secretary of war; chief nurses, nurses and reserve nurses. Reserve nurses serve only when special occasion requires them; the rest serve all the time except during an annual furlough of thirty days, during which they receive pay. All nurses receive transportation and food and necessary expenses when traveling under orders, as the soldiers do.

The pay, as women's wages go, is not bad. The superintendent gets $1,800 a year and expenses. Ordinary nurses get $40 a month, quarters and subsistence when on duty in the United States, $50 a month outside of it. Chief nurses receive about $25 a month more than this. The nurses are appointed by the surgeon general of the army, with the approval of the secretary of war.

MARCIA CAMPBELL.

It is a disastrous day for a mother when her children find out they know more than she does. Keep up to date.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1903, by The Robert Company.

By this time the long, lean fingers had ripped open the package marked four hundred, and were extracting the contents—a sheet of official paper with figures and memoranda, and then a flat package, apparently, of currency. Topmost was a $5 treasury note; bottommost, another of the same denomination. Between them, deftly cut, trimmed and sized, were blank slips of paper to the number of perhaps 30, and the value of not one cent. With paling faces, the officers watched the trembling fingers slash open the second; its flap, as was that of the first envelope, securely gummed—not sealed. A nickel or two and a few dimes slid out before the packet came. It was of like consistency with first, and of about the same value. Webb lifted up his eyes and looked straight into the amazed—almost livid face of the trader.

"My God! Major Webb," cried Hay, aghast and bewildered. "Don't look at me like that! No man on earth has ever accused me of a crime. This means that not only my stable but my safe has been robbed—and there is a traitor within my gates."

Dr. Tracy, absorbed in contemplation of Miss Flower's radiant face, and in the effort to make his own words eloquent, had no ears for those of others. He never heeded the trader's excited outburst. He only saw her suddenly flinch, suddenly pale, then sway. His ready arm was around her in a twinkling. In a twinkling she twisted free from his undesired clasp.

"Just—my foot turned—a pebble!" she gasped.

But when, all assiduity, Tracy would have seated her on the horse-block and examined the delicate ankle, she refused straightway, and with almost savage emphasis, and with rigid lips, from which all loveliness had fled, bade him lead her home, where, despite protest and appeal, personal and professional, she dismissed him curtly.

CHAPTER VI.

Ray's gallant half hundred, as has been said, took the route for the north at break of day. Before them spread the open prairie, apparently level and unbroken for full five miles to the front and either flank, the distant slopes and ridges bounding the level expanse growing more distinct with every moment, and presently lighting up in exulting radiance in response to the rosy blushes of the eastward sky. Scorning the dusty stage road, the troop commander pointed to a distant height just visible against the northward horizon, bade the leading guide march straight on that; then gave the order, "Right by twos," that he might the more readily note the gait and condition of every horse and the bearing and equipment of his rider. There was still time to weed out the weaklings of either class should any such there be. Riding slowly along the left flank, one after another, he carefully scanned every man and mount in his little detachment, then, at quicker pace, passed around to the eastward side of the column, and as critically, carefully studied them from that point of view. A light of quiet satisfaction shone in his fine, dark eyes, as he finished, for, next to his wife and children, that troop was Ray's supreme delight. The preliminary look-over by lantern light had been all sufficient. This later inspection on the move revealed not a steed amiss, not an item of equipment either misplaced or lacking.

As has been said, Ray's senior subaltern was on detached service. His junior, Mr. Clayton, had joined but the year before, and this threw Mr. Field in command of the leading platoon and to the side of the leading guide. Now, as the senior officer took the head of column and Mr. Clayton fell back to the rear, the silence of the first mile of march was broken and, though sitting erect in saddle and forbidden to lounge or "slouch," the troop began its morning interchange of chaff and comment. Every mother's son of them rejoiced to be once more afield with a chance of stirring work ahead.

"It's time to throw out our advance, Field," said Ray, in kindly, cordial tone, as he scanned the low divide still some miles ahead and reined in beside the stern-faced young soldier. "Send Sergeant Scott forward with three men and the same number on each flank—corporals in charge."

He had more than liked Webb's adjutant. He had been his stanchest friend and supporter among the troop and company commanders, and was eager to befriend him now. He had expressed no wish to have him sent on the hurried move, but well he knew the post commander's reasons and approved his course. Still, now that Field was being removed, for the time at least, from the possibility of an entangling alliance that might prove disastrous, in every way in his power Ray meant to show the mortified, indeed sorely angered, officer that his personal regard for him had suffered no change whatever. If he could succeed in winning Field's confidence it might well be that he could bring him to see that there were good and sufficient grounds for the post commander's action—that for Field's own good, in fact, it was a most desirable move. The soul of loyalty and square dealing himself, Ray had never for a moment dreamed that anything other than a foolish escapade had occurred—a ride by moonlight, perhaps, demanded of her devotee by a thoughtless, thoroughbred coquette, whose influence over the young fellow was beginning to mar his usefulness, if not indeed his future prospects. Just what to think of Nanette Flower Ray really did not know. Marion, his beloved better half, was his unquestioned authority in all such matters, and it was an uncommon tenet of that young matron never to condemn until she had cause. Instinctively she shrank from what she had seen of Miss Flower, even though her woman's eye rejoiced in the elegance of Miss Flower's abundant toilets; and conscious of her intuitive aversion, she would utter no word that might later prove unjust. Oddly enough, that instinctive aversion was shared by her closest friend and neighbor, Mrs. Blake; but, as yet, the extent of their condemnation had found vent only in the half whimsical, half petulant expression on part of the younger lady—Blake's beautiful wife, "I wish her name weren't—so near like mine," for "Nan" had been her pet name almost from babyhood. Vaguely conscious were they both, these lords of creation, Messrs. Blake and Ray, that the ladies of their love did not approve of Miss Flower, but Ray had ridden forth without ever asking or knowing why, and so, unknowing, was ill prepared to grapple with the problem set before him. It is easier to stem a torrent with a shingle than to convince a lover that his idol is a shrew.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder.

If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. MRS. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.

Do You Wish To Borrow Money?

New Jersey Central.

In order to accommodate all classes of borrowers (those who cannot borrow at a bank, as well as those who can), the Mutual Loan and Investment Company, of 118 Market street, Newark, N. J., has a department for handling quickly and confidentially loans ranging from $20 to $500 on furniture, pianos, storage receipts, etc.

The security is not removed from your possession or in any way disturbed. The honest, careful and conservative borrower will try and decide two points before borrowing. First, where he can get the best terms. Second, where he can get fair and square treatment.

This company is in a position to give you by far the most satisfactory terms ever offered by any concern or individual negotiating this class of loans.

With this company you are assured of getting the lowest rates, easiest payments and longest time for repayment. The whole transaction from the time the application is made until loan is paid is entirely confidential. We give you another advantage in case you take the loan out for six months or a year, and wish to settle the same before the time expires: we charge you only for the time you have had the money. We also take up loans from other companies and advance more money.

Kindly call and let us explain our simple and up-to-date methods. If not entirely convenient for you to call, please write and our representative will call and give you any desired information. Remember it costs nothing to make application. Loans promptly made in Elizabeth, Plainfield, Westfield, Roselle, Rahway, Perth Amboy and all suburban towns.

RELIANCE AGAIN WINS.

New Craft Seems to Have Fleetest Wings.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 2.—The three American cup yachts raced again over a thirty mile windward and leeward course, and once more the Reliance demonstrated her superiority over the Constitution and Columbia. The 1903 boat defeated the Constitution by 5m. 30s. and the Columbia by 5m. 49s. The latter was beaten 19s. by Mr. Belmont's craft, but is an easy winner over her on time allowance.

The time of 3h. 4m. 27s. made by the Reliance betters the new cup course record of 3h. 9m. 53s., made on Monday by the new boat. The Constitution came within 4s. of the time made Monday, and the old cup defender was but 23s. behind it.

Not only was the beat to windward made in remarkably fast time by all the contestants, but on the run home, with spinnakers and ballooners pulling like mad, the three sloops fairly flew. The Reliance again excelled the Constitution at this kind of sailing, covering the fifteen miles in 1h. 11m. 48s., better speed than most steamboats can make.

The Constitution outran the Columbia but very little.

Sir Thomas Lipton watched the race closely from the Erin. He kept his glass on the Reliance every minute and when the boats finished started back for Sandy Hook.

George Allen, formerly of the Safe Works team, will hereafter play first base for Scotch Plains.

There will be a special meeting of the St. Mary's baseball team in the Democratic headquarters this evening.

It is quite likely that Barnes will be able to play with Alis Saturday, thereby strengthening the batting department.

A baseball team organized by Harry Shortman, and known as the Plainfield Stars, has arranged to play a game of ball, Saturday afternoon, on Hope Common with the Millbrook A. C. team, of Newark. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock. This is the batting order for the Stars: W. Magué, lf; J. Coyne, rf; F. Magué, cf; N. Barnes, 1b; T. Dwyer, 2b; I. Pangborn, c; J. Farlee, ss; A. Squires, p; W. Cenolle, 3b.

Much to the regret of the baseball fans "Warry" MacLaughlin will not be able to pitch for Alis Saturday morning against Scotch Plains, owing to extra work at New London, where he is pitching for the league club. After next Saturday "Warry" will be in the box for Alis every Saturday, playing with New London on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. The management of the Alis Club will, however, have a strong pitcher for Saturday morning and George Dupee will probably pitch in the afternoon. Flynn, who played several games with Alis at second base, and who was such a favorite, will be back at his old position next Saturday and will continue to play with the team during the season.

—George Weida, well-known in this city as a manager of a local concern, has resigned his position with that firm and is now employed by the International Correspondence School, of Scranton, Pa.

Make Handsome Donation to Baby Camp Which Opens Next Week.

The King's Daughters' baby camp will open Friday, July 10, with Mrs. Delaney as matron and Miss Olive Delaney as nurse. This was decided upon at a meeting of the King's Daughters Union this morning at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Reed.

Reports of an encouraging nature were read showing that the general fund now amounts to over $1,000. The fund was made larger through the interest taken by Plainfielders, many of who subscribed to the fund and held fairs. The fair at Mrs. Schoonmacker's netted over $200, and a large sum was realized at the fair held by Mrs. Daniel Ginna. Samuel Mc Cutchen circulated a paper among the commuters and thus secured about $600.

The camp will be renovated today and tomorrow and will be in fine condition on the day of the opening. The King's Daughters nurse reported that she has made 86 visits among the poor during the past month.

THEATRICAL.

The most remarkable exhibition that has ever been offered in New York is that of the Infant Incubators which are now to be seen at Luna Park, Coney Island. Former Lieutenant-Governor Woodruff said a week ago: "It is the grandest and most noble life-saving device that it has ever been my privilege to witness. Every city in America should own such a plant, for it is evidently the scientific result of a life's labor that will save the lives of innocent little bits of humanity who are sent to us before their time." This is but one of the countless attractions in Luna Park.

Mr. Treacy's Funeral.

Funeral services for James Treacy, of Watchung avenue, who died Tuesday, were held this morning in St. Mary's Church, where solemn high mass was performed by Fr. Delahanty, the new curate. The bearers were Abram King, John Gjetlesen, Charles Burt and Patrick Kane. The burial was at St. Mary's Cemetery.

INDEPENDENCE DAY'S SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

Numerous Attractions in Various Fascinating Sports to Draw the Crowd.

OBSERVANCE OF DAY

BASEBALL, HORSE RACES, GOLF AND TENNIS.

Features at Plainfield Driving Park Association's Track—Where the Local Teams Play—Doings at Hillside and Park Golf Club.

The glorious Fourth in Plainfield will not be celebrated with any unusual amount of flourish, but there will be enough events of interest and sufficient variety in the programme to attract all kinds of tastes.

Lovers of sports will have all sorts of opportunities to vent their enthusiasm. Those who admire horseflesh and the sight of blooded beauties struggling for the pole will journey to the driving park to witness the races given by the Plainfield Driving Association. Local and out-of-town entries of thoroughbreds with pedigrees and records "to burn" ensure some exciting brushes. There will be contests in the 2:20, 2:25 and 2:30 classes. The start is scheduled for 1:30. Take Arlington avenue cars.

Baseball enthusiasts will have their fill of the sport. There will be three games in Plainfield and enough in adjacent towns to satisfy the longings of the most ardent fan. Alis and Scotch Plains will illustrate the fine points in the national game at Crescent Oval (take Arlington avenue cars to Randolph road) at 10 o'clock, and at Scotch Plains in the afternoon at 4. St. Mary's and the All-New Brunswick nines will cross bats in the morning at 10 o'clock on St. Mary's grounds (Fourth street cars) and in the afternoon will have a hard proposition to go up against in the shape of Westfield at Westfield. The only game scheduled for the afternoon in Plainfield is that between the Plainfield Stars and the Millbrook A. C., of Newark, at 3:30 on St. Mary's field. Hope plays two games at Raritan. The Reform Club will don their baseball armor for two games with New Market, the morning game at the club grounds on South Second street (Front street cars) and the afternoon game at New Market.

Plaids and caddies will be much in demand during the day and Colonel Bogie will have to look to his laurels at the Park and Hillside golf clubs. At the Hillside, there will be play for the championship cup and the preliminary round matches for the holiday cups, in the morning beginning at 10 o'clock. At 1 in the afternoon, the first round matches for the championship cup will be started and the first round for the consolation cup. At 2, the Green's Committee Tankard competition will begin.

At the Park Golf Club, the event of the morning will be the bogie handicap. The afternoon attractions on the green will be a sweepstake contest and a putting and approaching contest.

The devotees of tennis at the Hillside will compete for special Fourth of July cups. There will be handicap tournaments in men's singles and doubles. There will be no special events at the Y. M. C. A. although the building and tennis courts will be open all day for the use of members.

The principal display of fireworks will be at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. A costly and splendid set of works has been procured, including many beautiful special pieces.

Owing to the inflammable material about the grounds of the Park Golf Club, the committee in charge of the Fourth of July programme has deemed it advisable to dispense with the usual fireworks exhibition this year.

Another attraction in the evening at the Hillside Club will be dancing. In the afternoon from 3 to 5:30, there will be a band concert by Friedgen's Claremont Park Band, of New York City, George Friedgen, conductor, with the following programme:

"Star Spangled Banner," march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," Sousa; overture, "Romantigue," Keler Bela; valse, "Ange D'Amour," Waldteufel; selections, "Faust," Gounod; cornet solo, "Polka de Concert," August Beringer, Rollinson; two step, "Hiawath," Moret; American fantasia, "Gems of Stephen Foster;" xylophone solo, "Valse Espangnole," Martin Schlig, Metra; selections, "Prince of Pilsen," Luden; two popular two steps, (a) "Dixie Land," Haines; (b) "Dixie Girl," Lampe.

All the shops in the city will be closed all day with a few exceptions. The postoffice and butchers' shops will be open for a short time in the morning. No orders will be delivered by the butchers. The bakeries will be kept open all day.

Above and beyond all other patriotic exhibitions will be that of the irrepressible and omnipresent smallboy, and it is safe to say that in spite of the injunctions of parents and police there will be the usual chapter of accidents.

An attractive programme has been arranged at the Westfield Golf Club for tomorrow. In the morning there will be an Independence handicap, 18 holes, medal play. Net score cup presented by Hugh Talbot; gross score cup by the club. In the afternoon there will be a driving and approaching and putting contest with cups for the winners.

ESCAPE DEATH IN RUNAWAY

THE MISSES SAMPSON, OF NEW MARKET, HAVE CLOSE SHAVE.

Cob Frightened at Approaching Trolley and Dashes Away—Young Women Thrown Out.

The Misses Sampson, of New Market, were the principals in a lively runaway, fraught with considerable danger, which occurred yesterday afternoon at the corner of Grant avenue and West Front street, about 5 o'clock. The young women, in a light runabout and driving a spirited cob, were on their way home from Plainfield. Just as they reached the corner of Grant avenue and West Front street, a trolley car came down the hill at a lively pace. The horse became frightened and made a complete circle in the middle of the road, throwing the two young women to the curb.

The older of the two girls, who was driving, clung to the reins, and was dragged fully a hundred feet on her face and stomach. The younger girl, who was thrown a considerable distance was powerless to help her sister.

The horse finally broke away from the wagon and made tracks for home at a 2:20 clip. James Stryker, who had his fast trotter with him, started in pursuit. Just as the runaway was passing the home of H. O. Compton on West Front street, Mr. Stryker drove alongside and was successful in getting the animal under control. Those who witnessed the race and the capture of the runaway horse say it was one of the most daring feats they had ever seen. The young women were more frightened than hurt, although they were considerably scratched and bruised.

NEGRO'S SALVATION.

Rev. E. E. Jackson Addresses Fellows of His Blood on Important Topic.

Rev. E. E. Jackson, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, addressed a meeting of the colored citizens in Elizabeth last evening, making allusion to the recent lynching of the negro, White, in Wilmington, Del. He denounced Rev. Thornton, of Wilmington, who advised his congregation to sell their coats and buy swords. The problem of the negro has been solved but the reason many believe that that is a problem of today is because they do not come in contact with the better element of the race.

"The negro," said he, "does not contend for social equality." As far as marriage is concerned, Rev. Mr. Jackson believes the race should be distinct but he does not think it is possible to be so in religion or business. "Stop finding fault, get out of politics, study economy and practice it, and acquire a trade" was the final advice of the speaker.

The King Will be There.

A cablegram from London states that King Edward will visit Bisley, July 13, to present the Palma trophy to the winners of the shooting competition. A peculiar interest will be manifested in this event as the All-America team, of which Captain W. B. Martin, of Company K, is a member, expects to win the trophy.

George A. Horne Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy S. Dyer, of Cincinnati, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Edith Hoyt Dyer, to George A. Horne, of North Plainfield.

NEW HOTEL.

Hostelry to be Built in West Front Street, Near Clinton Avenue.

John Goff, of West Second street, proposes to erect a large hotel on West Front street, near Clinton avenue.

Plans are being drawn up for the building by a local architect, who has submitted them to Building Inspector T. O. Doane for approval.

The building will be four stories in heighth and will contain sixteen rooms each of large size. A large veranda will surround the building on three sides. It will be a frame structure. Mr. Goff was formerly the proprietor of what is now known as the Clark Hotel in the West End.

ITALIAN CELEBRATION.

Sons of Italy to Observe the Feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel.

The Feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel will be celebrated in this city by local Italians on Wednesday and Thursday, July 15 and 16, with parades, fire-works and special services in St. Mary's R. C. Church.

The exercises will begin at noon on Wednesday with a band concert and parade through the principal streets of the city. Services will be held at S. Mary's R. C. Church at 5:30. Between the hours of 8 and 11, a band concert will be given on James E. Martine's commons on Park avenue. The musical programme embraces selections from well known Italian operas.

At 8 o'clock Thursday morning, services will commence at St. Mary's R. C. Church and will last until 10 o'clock. Another parade will halt at Mr. Martine's park, where fire-works and band music will be a feature. The arrangements are in charge of Salve Velard.

WILL HEAR GOOD MUSIC.

Entertainment at T. A. B. Hall for Benefit of Colored Sexton.

A grand entertainment by the Tuskahanna Club in the T. A. B. Hall July 9, at 8:30 o'clock, will be for the benefit of Manfield Robinson, sexton of the Calvary Baptist Church. The entetrainment will be the first given by the club and an elaborate musical programme is promised by the manager, Richard Harris. Refreshments will be served and a good time socially will be prepared for.

Among those who will take part are Mrs. Laura Smith, Mrs. Nelson Bates, the Misses Cornelia Jenkins, Fannie Bell, Susan Hayes, William Johnson, Waverly Carter and Arthur Smith.

He had the injury dressed by a physician and is now compelled to use crutches.

Meet Her by Moonlight.

A party of twelve young people are arranging for a moonlight ride to South Plainfield Thursday evening, July 9. They will make the trip on bicycles, meeting at the corner of Park avenue and Sixth street at 6:30 o'clock. Richard Campbell and Robert Everitt, of Sixth street, are in charge of the details.

HISTORIC EVENT AT WASHINGTON ROCK

Sketch of Famous Landmark Visited by General George Washington.

BY OLIVER B. LEONARD

WHO DISCUSSES REVOLUTIONARY CAMPAIGNS IN NEW JERSEY.

Interest Awakened by Daughters of American Revolution, Who Are Raising Money to Place a Tablet at the Rock.

Since Continental Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution commenced raising funds to erect a suitable tablet at Washington Rock interest in the historic significence of the stone has been awakened. O. B. Leonard has kindly written an account of the scenes connected with the rock. Mr. Leonard says:

"After the memorable battles of Trenton and Princeton, the American forces encamped in the Jersey hills about Morristown. Here they remained, less than 8000 in number, till the latter part of the spring of 1777. On May 24, this year, Washington broke camp and pitched his tents on the heights at Middlebrook just in rear of the town of Bound Brook. This was a strategic site overlooking the country for many miles and commanding the road to Philadelphia where Congress was in session.

"About the same time and for a fortnight afterwards the British were concentrating on the Raritan river at New Brunswick within eight miles of the American camp. Orders were given by General Howe for his army, 15,000 strong, to start at 11 o'clock of the evening of June 12, 1777 for Philadelphia. The march was begun, but a halt was called at Somerset Court House the next day.

"In this vicinity they entrenched themselves with the Millstone river on their left, the Raritan river all along their front and their right resting unmoved at New Brunswick. Here they remained four days, kept in check by the commanding position of the Americans. The British general was severely criticised by his own officers for putting his army in such a compromising situation. Howe's statement in his defence was, 'My only object was to bring the American Army to a general action. On finding their intention to keep a position which it would not have been prudent to attack, I determined to withdraw my forces from Jersey.'

"Nevertheless Washington strengthened his position at Middlebrook while the enemy were intrenched in his front. He rested under the belief that Howe would not advance any further and leave the Americans in their rear. His argument was, 'they have started on a march as light as possible with no baggage or provisions, which plainly contradicts the idea at present, of pushing for the Delaware.'

"On June 19, Howe broke camp and pretended to return in haste to New Brunswick, burning dwellings and barns on the march. The American light troop, to a limited number, followed in the direction of the enemy and harassed them as much as possible, with the Raritan river between them. The main army kept to their fortified encampment on the heights in complete readiness to support a general movement.

"On June 22, Howe marched out of New Brunswick in an opposite direction towards Perth Amboy, 'intending,' he wrote, 'to cross to Staten Island for embarkation. Washington at once sent General Greene with three brigades and a few riflemen under Morgan, to annoy the departing enemy. One corps of the Americans got to the north of Bonhamtown, expecting to strike a body of Hessians stationed near there, but the movement proved ineffective. Finding that the whole British army was preparing to move over a bridge of boats to Staten Island, on the 24th of June, the American forces descended from their Middlebrook entrenchments and marched down on the plains as far as Quibbletown near present New Market. General Howe, seeing this pursuit, thought he had gained his long desired object, and would be able to precipitate a general action. At once he formed his troops into two columns, with the right under Cornwallis, marching by way of Woodbridge and the left led by himself, going through Metuchen. By this movement he was planning to surround the Americans by getting into their rear and so cut off their return to Middlebrook camp. Penetrating the design of the British for a general fight, Washington regained his fortified position on the heights and secured the mountain passes at Plainfield and Scotch Plains.

"In the meantime the right column led by Cornwallis fell in with the Americans under Stirling, just after passing through Woodbridge. A spirited engagement ensued, resulting in the hasty retreat of the Americans and a loss, in killed, wounded and prisoners of nearly 200 men and a few field pieces. The enemy reported their losses, 'Five men killed and thirty wounded, and pursuit continued as far as Westfield, the day proving so intensely hot, the soldiers, could with difficulty, march no further.'

"During all the manoeuverings and skirmishes between the contending forces, the Commander-in-Chief made his memorable visit to the famous rock which bears his name. The range of view from this eminence has always been one of the most extended along the brow of the mountains. From this rock Washington could satisfactorily reconnoitre the enemy and watch the movements, of all the troops in the engagements taking place.

"On June 30, the British, giving up all hope of a general battle, began at 10 o'clock in the morning to cross over the sound to Staten Island. By 2 o'clock in the afternoon the rear guard under Lord Cornwallis left Amboy and the military career of General Howe in New Jersey ended.

"Reliable tradition in families of the Fitz Randolphs, Vails and Websters confirm the statement that George Washington was directed to the Rock on the mountain top on the occasion just recited by Edward Fitz Randolph, the grandfather of Mr. Ira F. Randolph and others.

"To localize this historical event in 1867 there was organized in Plainfield the 'Washington Monument and Historical Association,' which the Legislature the same year incorporated. A plot of ground on the brow of the mountain, embracing the distinguished stone known as 'Washington Rock,' was deeded to the society. From some flaw in the title or incumbrance on the property, satisfactory possession was never obtained. On the Fourth of July, 1867, the corner stone of a projected monument was laid with imposing programme. Money was subscribed and paid in towards the expenses. At the first anniversary of the Monument Association held February 22, 1868, a long list of officers was chosen, most of whom are now deceased. Some three or four only survive, of these who endeavored to perpetuate the memory of the Revolutionary incident."

DIVORCEE A POLITICAN

CRAIG A. MARSH, OF THIS CITY, APPEARING FOR MRS. FOOTE.

Foote Formerly An Assemblyman From Union County—Prominent in Local Politics—Practices Law in New York.

After a stubborn fight of nearly two years duration, Mrs. Mary C. W. Foote yesterday achieved complete success in her suit against her husband, former Assemblyman Charles S. Foote, for absolute divorce. She obtains the custody of her two boys, permanent alimony and costs.

The oral argument on the final questions in dispute were heard by the Chancellor in April, Craig A. Marsh appearing for Mrs. Foote. Former Gov. Foster M. Voorhees for a co-respondent in the case and Frank Bergen for Mr. Foote solely on the question of alimony. Mr. Foote himself had previously appeared with the co-respondent when the testimony was taken, and both testified that their relations were entirely platonic and proper in all respects.

The decree for alimony will date from the beginning of the suit. The defendant is living in New York although he comes to Plainfield to vote.

Mr. Foote is engaged in the practice of law, with offices in New York. He was formerly an assemblyman from Union County. For several years he represented the Second ward in the Republican City Executive Committee and was also a member of the county committee.

Only by the narrowest margin did he escape the car wheels.

The conductor brought his car to a standstill and Mr. Arens climbed aboard. He succeeded in securing the names of a number of witnesses who may be called to testify should a suit result.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Splendid Trip.

Everyone just now is making plans for some kind of an outing on the Fourth of July. Too often in the past has the day been followed by vain wishes that it had been spent in some other way than the one selected, but no such regrets ever attend the trip to Mauch Chunk. Many people travel half over Europe without viewing more romantic scenery than in this, the so-called "Switzerland of America." Rugged mountain peaks are in awe-inspiring contrast to deep chasms and gorges while there is hardly a spot in this section where the artist does not long to plant his easel or the amateur photograher to expose a plate. And the beauty of it is that the jaunt may be made at very moderate expense and within the limit of a day's outing. The New Jersey Central announces an excursion on July 4th to Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the Switchback, the round-trip costing only $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. It is alone worth making the trip to have experienced the novel ride of 14 miles over the gravity road known as the Switchback. There is nothing quite like it anywhere in the country. While it is exciting, the most timid have nothing to fear for the trip is quite safe. A fast special express train will leave Plainfield at 9:22 a. m., and arriving at Mauch Chunk about noon. There is ample opportunity to see and enjoy everything as the return train does not leave until 5:40. The nearest ticket agent will supply circulars giving full details. People who decide to make this excursion will have something to remember all their lives and much to tell their friends.

Miss Sadie M. Mattison, of Liberty Corner, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. James T. Sunders, of Fairview avenue.

FATAL END TO RACE

Seaman Olsen of the Columbia Is Drowned.

KNOCKED INSENSIBLE BY OVERHANG

Yacht Tar Was a Good Swimmer, but It Is Believed He Sank Immediately Because of the Blow He Received.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 3.—For the first time in the history of American ninety footers a fatal accident has occurred. Carl B. Olsen, a seaman on the old cup defender Columbia and one of the best men in the crew, was washed from the bowsprit just before the yacht reached the first turn in the race and was drowned. Two other men who were out on the bowsprit with Olsen snapping the big jibtopsail on the sail were washed inboard by the same sea that swept him away. Both managed to get another hold upon the bowsprit and were quickly hauled on deck by members of the crew. When the Columbia lifted from the big wave into which she had plunged Olsen was seen almost under the stem clinging to the boostay, but before assistance could be given him the sloop dipped into another great comber, and he was not seen afterward.

Captain Miller of the Columbia is of opinion that Olsen was struck by the overhang of the craft as it came smashing down and knocked insensible. He was a good swimmer, and the fact that he did not reappear after the yacht had swept over him causes the belief that he sank immediately after being hit by the bow. The Columbia came into the wind instantly, and the forestaysail was lowered. Two life buoys were thrown into the water near where the three racing caps from the three seamen were floating, and the tender was put overboard as quickly as possible. Two men jumped into it and rowed around for twenty minutes ready to pick Olsen up if he came to the surface.

Three sailors swarmed up the mast and watched closely from the spreaders for some signs of the unfortunate man, but without success.

Noticing that something had happened on the Columbia, the committee boat Riviera, the big steam yacht Delaware, with Commodore Bourne of the New York Yacht club on board; the torpedo boat Winslow, the Columbia's tender Park City and several other yachts and tugs steamed quickly to the vicinity and aided in the search for Olsen. Mr. Morgan gave up the search with reluctance and out of respect to the dead man withdrew from the race and headed back for Newport.

Captain Miller came ashore and sent a cable dispatch to the customs officials at Honefoss, Norway, asking them to hunt up Olsen's relatives and notify them of his death. So far as is known he had no relatives in this country. He was about forty-two years old and was under Captain Miller on the Navahoe last season.

The regatta committee posted the following bulletin at the club station:

"The Newport series for ninety footers will not be finished."

The Reliance received the severest buffeting she has had since being launched. The sea was a terrific one for racing yachts, and when the yacht reached her moorings it was noticed that she had a big dent in the bronze plating close to the water line on the port bow. When Mr. Iselin was asked what caused the dent he replied that the waves had hammered the metal in as the craft beat to windward. He expressed the opinion that the injury could easily be remedied at Bristol.

The indentation was about five feet long as nearly as could be judged and half the width of a plate. The rivets had apparently been started, in which case the craft must have leaked some on the second leg of the course. The indentation was similar to that the Constitution sustained two years ago.

There will be no more racing for the three big sloops until they start on the New York Yacht club's cruise. Mr. Iselin told the regatta committee that he would not race the Reliance any more in the present series, and Mr. Morgan said that he would do no more racing until the club cruise.

The inauguration was a great success.

Collision Causes One Death.

CHARLTON, Mass., July 3.—A locomotive running light ran into the rear end of a freight train on the Boston and Albany railroad about two miles west of here, and Conductor James McTige of the freight train was killed and two brakemen and the fireman of the locomotive were injured. Conductor McTige was forty years of age and lived in Worcester. The brakemen and firemen were not seriously hurt.

Booker Washington Calls Upon His Race For Patience.

PASSING THROUGH A TRYING PERIOD

It Is, He Contends, the Men Who Exercise Forbearance and Self Control In Trying Times That Win Out In the End.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 3.—Before an immense audience Booker T. Washington, head of the Tuskegee Normal school, delivered an address. He said that recent regrettable events in connection with the race question went to show that lynch law is not confined to any one section of the country. These events, he said, tend to simplify the race problem by making it national. He appealed to the negro to be calm and to exercise self control.

Among the other speakers was W. H. Lewis, assistant district attorney of Massachusetts, who was appointed several months ago by President Roosevelt.

Principal Washington said in part:

"In the present season of anxiety and almost of despair which possesses an element of the race there are two things I wish to say as strongly as I may:

"First, let no man of the race become discouraged or hopeless. There are in this country, north and south, men who mean to see that justice is meted out to the race. Such a man is Judge Jones of Alabama, to whom more credit should be given for blotting out the infamous system of peonage than to any other man.

"Second, let us keep before us the fact that almost without exception every race or nation that has ever got upon its feet has done so through struggle and trial and persecution.

"No one should seek to close his eyes to the fact that the race is passing through a very serious and trying period of its development, a period that calls for the use of our ripest thought and sober judgment.

"Let nothing lead us into extremes of utterance or action. It is, in the long run, the race or individual that exercises the most patience, forbearance and self control in the midst of trying conditions that wins its cause. Let nothing induce us to descend to the level of the mob. In advocating this policy I am not asking that the negro act the coward. We are not cowards. The part we have played in defending the flag of our country is sufficient evidence of our courage.

"The recent outbreaks of the mob emphasize two lessons, one for our race and one for the other citizens of our country, south and north, for it is to be noted that the work of the lyncher is not confined to one section of the country.

"The lesson for us is that we should see to it that no cause is given for the outrages that disgrace all connected with them."

Charged With Killing Her Child.

CINCINNATI, July 3.—Mrs. Anna Oppenheimer has been arrested here charged with poisoning her child at the Deaconness hospital two weeks ago. Mrs. Oppenheimer came here from Russellville, Ky. The child died suddenly four days after its birth, and after a thorough investigation it was found that death was due to the administering of bichloride of mercury. Mrs. Oppenheimer and her husband have been separated for some time. Mr. Oppenheimer is a traveling salesman for a Chicago firm.

Cattle Die From Grasshopper Plague

BUTTE, Mont., July 3. — Professor Cooley of the State Agricultural college at Bozeman has returned from a investigation of the grasshopper ridde district about Forsythe. He says th insects have devoured everything in a strip seventy miles long and fifty miles wide and that as a consequence of their raids range conditions are very serious. He says the plains are dotted with cattle that have starved to death as a result of the grasshopper raids.

Fire Nearly Destroyed Town.

GREENVILLE, N. C., July 3.—Fire which originated in Parham's warehouse in this city destroyed property estimated at nearly $100,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire for a time threatened the destruction of the entire town, and it was only by the extreme efforts of the firemen that the flames were checked. The larger portion of the tobacco section was destroyed, besides several shops, warehouses and residences.

Lincoln Volunteer Dead.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 3.—Silas Stull has died at his home in Courtdale, a few miles from this city. Deceased was seventy-three years of age and was born in Easton. He was one of the first men of Luzerne county to answer the call of President Lincoln for volunteers, and he served in the One Hundred and Seventy-sixth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

A meeting of the County Board of Assessors was held last Tuesday at New Brunswick. The borough was represented at the meeting by Assessor John L. Peters. The Amboys reported, through their representatives an increase in assessment value of $4,000,000. They now stand second to New Brunswick which has the highest assessment of any place in the county. Dunellen's increase was reported as being about $7,000. The tax rate for the borough will be $2.42 on the hundred. The rate would have been higher if it had not been for the remarkable increase of assessment in the Amboys.

Fourth of July is always a lively day in the borough and tomorrow will be no exception to the rule. Two good baseball games will be a great attraction. They will be called at 10:30 and at 3:30 on the Madison avenue grounds. In the afternoon a number from here will witness the races at the Plainfield Driving Park. Most of the stores in town will close all day.

A large number attended the social held last evening at the home of Miss May Apgar under the auspices of the Epworth League. The affair was a success and a considerable sum of money was reaped.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Bodine, of Dunellen avenue, left on Tuesday for Ocean Grove where they will spend the summer. Mr. Bodine drove down in his horse and carriage.

There is still considerable talk in town in regard to starting a bank and if enough capital can be obtained the venture will become a reality.

Charles Lake visited in Plainfield yesterday.

NEW MARKET.

A good joke was pertretrated on two well-known young men from this place on Wednesday. Robert Craig and Robert Haines, who own a canoe on the lake, were out paddling, clad in suitable costumes, when the unfortunate two asked for a ride. They were dressed in duck trousers, straw hats and were otherwise unsuitably clad for such an occasion. They were taken in, however, and were taken towards the island where the water is not very deep. There the canoe was tipped over and the two precipitated into the water. By the time they had reached land they were sad sights and are now vowing vengance.

While a party of small Plainfield boys were boating on the lake last Wednesday, one of them fell overboard. He could not swim and would have drowned if an older member of the party had not jumped in and pulled him out. As it was it took some time to revive the youngster.

A well attended meeting of Lakeside Council was held in the hall last evening and considerable local business was transacted.

All of Rogers boats were out last evening giving an evidence of the popularity rowing has attained.

The Y. M. A. ball team will play two games with the Reform A. A., of Plainfield tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Nelson have returned home after a visit in Caldwell.

F. Percy Vail visited in Plainfield yesterday afternoon.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Several hundred rooters will journey to Crescent Oval tomorrow morning to see the locals defeat the Alis team in the second of the series of games, between these two teams. The morning game will be called at 10. In the afternoon the two teams will meet at 4 o'clock on the local diamond. As this is the first game, at home, in three weeks, Manager Johnston should have the largest crowd of the season present. The lineup of Scotch Plains for both games will be, Brogan, c; Davis and Williams, p; Allen, 1b; Bosterle, 2b; Cruzius, ss; Williams, 3b; McMannis, lf; Flannery, cf; Kavanagh, rf.

The work of laying the water mains was completed yesterday. The streets covered by the mains are Park avenue, Front street, Westfield avenue, Bartle avenue, Grand street and Mountain avenue. As the town grows and the demand for city water in the houses increases, the Water Company, will, no doubt, lay the mains on other streets. As the hydrants are placed on interesting streets, ample fire protection is given the whole village.

Scotch Plains is promised a real estate boom. J. D. Loizeaux, of Plainfield, a well-known building and real estate speculator, has purchased twenty-five building lots on Stansbury avenue, and will build a number of houses for rent or sale. Scotch Plains has plenty of desirable building sites, all it needs is for some one to start the boom.

A number from town are planning to spend the Fourth at Boynton Beach. Now that the trolley runs direct to the beach, this popular resort is becoming a favorite place for local residents, who want to enjoy a day at the shore.

Sunday services at the Baptist Church will be as usual. Sunday-school, 9:30 a. m.; morning preaching, 10:45; B. Y. P. U. meeting in the parlors of the church at 7 p. m., followed at 7:45 by the evening sermon.

Landlord Earle is preparing for a large crowd at the weekly dance in the pavilion on the evening of the Fourth. Naylor's full orchestra will furnish the music.

The glorious Fourth will be observed in town in the usual way, the only special attraction being the ball game, and the small boy with his noisy firecracker.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., met and transacted routine business last night. Owing to the warm weather, the attendance was small.

Frederick Ivamy, who conducted the Scotch Plains Hotel until recently, has purchased the Roger's sea food market in Plainfield.

New Providence has woke up and will celebrate the Fourth in the good old fashioned way. A number from town will go over.

A cool dip at the Back Pond, is one of the pleasures the boys in town are enjoying every day, now that summer has really began.

Charles Layton, who has been detained at home with an attack of inflamatory rheumatism, is able to be around again.

A Surgical Operation
is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them: I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies, but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve Two boxes of this salve cured me eighteen months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since.—H. A. Tisdale, Summerton, S. C. For Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles no remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

A. F. Streuli and wife, of Hillside avenue, are registered at the Peninsula House, Seabright. Mrs. M. S. Stillman, of West Seventh street, is also registered at the same place.

Just As a Fire
spreads in dry grass and weeds, so does an inflammation of the throat—the result of a cold—grow down into the sensitive air-passages of the lungs. The cold, like the fire, should be promptly dealt with. When you begin to cough, use Allen's Lung Balsam. It will certainly heal the sore throat and lungs and it may save you from consumption.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning July 5, "The Safeguard of a Nation"—Text, Prov. xiv, 34.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

Carlyle said, "Man is the born enemy of lies." However that may be, it is certain that all falsity is unprofitable. The wrong thing is the evil thing for man. Our good lies ever on the side of right. No permanent advance can be made by the individual or the nation except in the path of righteousness. The immoral is the dangerous. Sin against the person is crime against the state. The firm base of national prosperity is in the integrity and freedom of its citizens.

The oppression of any body of the people is a menace to the stability of the government. The danger lurks not altogether in the risk of resentment and revolt on the part of the wronged ones, but is ever present in the lawlessness of the oppressors. Those who defraud in one direction and oppress any one are likely to steal and enslave wherever they may have the chance to do so for their own ends. When honor is lost the defense of the nation is gone. The idea of the state is a union of persons for the common weal. The association is called the commonwealth. The aims are mutual defense, prosperity and happiness. If one class may be allowed to disregard the rights of any other the bond which unites all is severed and each must protect his own as best he can, and there is then no national life, but anarchy, which is the opposite of society.

The impulse to get together is natural to men. Co-operation is the necessity if any work is to be done beyond that possible to the one person alone. But in co-operation the ability and needs of each one must be considered and provided for. To deny to any one his just dues is to hinder him from doing his just share of work and rob the community of some benefit of his labor. The sin against him becomes the crime against the whole society, and the interest of all is in aiding him to get his just dues and doing his proper share of the common toil. Unrighteousness is an industrial, economical and political as well as a moral and religious wrong.

The principle reaches still further than this. For one nation to oppress another is as unwise as it is unjust. The consequences may not be seen at once, but the fruit of oppression will appear in disaster sooner or later. History proves beyond all doubt the truth of this text from the old wisdom book of the Hebrews. Spanish oppression of Cuba and the other American colonies is shown to be disastrous, not so much by the defeat of Spanish navies and armies, by revolt of colonies and dependencies, as by the decay of Spanish national life and prosperity at home. Goodness is strength.

Christ Only.

It was a great delusion of some in Paul's day that after they had begun in the spirit they hoped to be made perfect in the flesh, and there are some nowadays who begin as sinners resting upon Christ, but they want to go on as independent sinners, resting on themselves. That will never do, brethren. It is not "Christ and company" anyhow. The sinner knows that it must be Christ only, because he has nothing of his own, and the saint ought to know that it must be Christ only, because he has less than nothing apart from Christ. I believe that if we grow out of Christ we grow up in an unhealthy, mushroom fashion. What we need is to grow up into Christ in all things, knowing Him more and more and being more and more satisfied that He is what we need.—C. H. Spurgeon.

The Grateful Heart.

If one should give me a dish of sand and tell me there were particles of iron in it I might look for them with my eyes and search for them with my clumsy fingers and be unable to detect them, but let me take a magnet and sweep through it and how it would draw to itself the most invisible particles by the mere power of attraction! The unthankful heart, like my finger in the sand, discovers no mercies, but let the thankful heart sweep through the day as the magnet finds the iron so it will find in every hour some heavenly blessings, only the iron in God's sand is gold.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Inner Life.

It is easy to be heroic when there is no crisis. It is not difficult to say before a few friends that we would give up all for Christ. But the spontaneous deed reveals the character. When the inner life of the man shows itself it is more than lip profession. A man who could in an extreme need think more of helping his enemy than of his own comfort must during his life have made it his habit to put others' interests above self, and he must have felt and loved the spirit of Him who died for those who hung Him on the cross.—American Friend.

What Evil Will Do.

The Lord often brings His people away from their sins by giving them sharp and cutting experiences of what evil will do for them. If such be the present consequences of sin they begin to guess what sin will bring them when they come into judgment and condemnation.—Episcopal Recorder.

Trust In Him.

Would you trust your life to a stranger whom you had never tried? How can you have faith to calmly commit your soul to God if the angel of death should visit you tonight, if you have not trusted Him day by day? Cast all your cares upon Him, for He careth for you.—Christian Statesman.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning July 5—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Endeavorers in training for public life.—Gen. xli, 38-42; Acts vii, 22, 35; Dan. vi, 1-4.

National anniversaries should not only speak to us of the past, but also of the present. They should not only recall the splendid achievements of those who wrought well for God and country in days gone by, but should impress us with the necessity of our performing in our day the duties that devolve upon us. They should be inspirations to present noble action as well as memorials to past noble action. The writer of the book of Hebrews recalls in the eleventh chapter of that book the wonderful achievements of the heroes of the past not simply to commemorate them and their deeds, but that we also, under the influence of their example, might "run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith."

Public life is as important as any other phase of life. A man not only owes a duty to himself and to his family and to the social circles in which he moves, but also to his state. And this duty is an important one. God has raised up human governments for the execution of his will, and He calls upon His people everywhere to be interested in them and to perform their duties toward them. "Render unto Cæsar," said Christ, "the things that are Cæsar's and unto God the things that are God's." God should hold the supreme place in our lives, yet at the same time there is an important place for the state and for civic duties. Nor is it enough to point out the impurities of political life and beg to be excused. That the name of God is not expressly written in the constitution of the United States is no excuse for a body of Christian people for refusing to vote. By their votes they could help stamp the name and character of God upon the country itself, which is far better even than to have it written in our constitution. If politics is impure, there is all the more reason that Christian people should be interested in it, that it may be purified. God can sustain His people even in adverse surroundings. He kept Joseph and Moses pure in high places in Egypt and Daniel faithful even in idolatrous Babylon. Statesmen and politicians can be Christians if, like all other Christians, they depend upon the grace of God to sustain them.

God often trains His people for public service and calls them to it. He trained Joseph and Moses in Egypt, Daniel in Babylon and thousands of others since their day, and when the crisis came and they were needed men recognized their wisdom and placed the reins of power within their hands. God still wants his people to rule this world. It is His world and should be governed in accordance with His will and by His people. Endeavorers, young and old, should keep themselves in touch with public life. We should be informed upon the questions of the day and by voice and ballot cast our influence upon the side of civic righteousness and in favor of Christian citizenship—for "righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach unto any people." Our forefathers were faithful to God and to their country. They loved His word, His house, His name, His day, and they impressed His will upon the nation that they founded. Let us follow in their footsteps, rendering "unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's and unto God the things that are God's."

LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

LACES AND TARTANS.

Black Chantilly In Vogue—Wee Macgreegors Will Soon Be Numerous.

When a pendulum has swung as far as it can in one direction it must swing back, and that is just what is happening to white lace. People are beginning to grow weary of so much white lace, and the last few days have shown us several new and beautiful gowns of black chantilly made up over white chiffon with a white silk slip under that. The handsomest one was not made of a width of this beautiful lace, but the different designs were either woven separate or cut out so that directly around the bottom was a vine design. Above that were festoons and lozenges large and small. Next came a row like an insertion and then more festoons and lozenges nearly to the waist line. The arrangement showed that this was all applied to the chiffon. The lozenges were quite heavy and bold in design for that delicate lace, and the whole was a model of lightness and beauty. The waist was made in the same general style, and one good thing noticeable was that the blouse was not very baggy or full. There was a pointed velvet belt with a jeweled buckle. The sleeves ended at the elbow with a ruffle of the lace. At the throat was a velvet collar, but the lace, which formed a V, did not reach to the throat. It would be difficult to imagine a more exquisite dress than this or one more delicate and refined.

All the other dresses of black lace are made so that the pattern is clearly defined by having white beneath it, and silk mull or chiffon is generally the medium. These two ethereal fabrics are well designed to show the delicate beauty of the black thread lace pattern.

Among the dainty new materials for elegant wear one finds the new silk and wool crepes de chine, matting cloths, sailcloths and voiles in all wool and also eoliennes in silk and wool. The eoliennes and silk and wool china crape are produced in delft blue, china blue, light green, pink, a most pleasing shade of steel gray and a few of the pastel shades on the biscuit order and also champagne, oyster, putty and castor. Any one of these tints and shades in such fabrics is sure to produce a beautiful effect if rightly made up.

The bolero and Monte Carlo short coats are still in great vogue, and the blouse waist is still with us and, what is more, intends to remain. Still, the blouse is not so blousy as it was. The pointed belt is now reserved mostly for the very stout woman, who fondly imagines that it makes her waist look trimmer and smaller. The rest of the fair ones are now picking out straight leather belts, some of which are very handsome and finely wrought with stitching and even cut out work. The draped velvet or ribbon belt has recently been much admired, especially for the thin gowns.

The other day I happened into a store where children's wants are considered to the exclusion of everything else. Here I found no end of what have been very cleverly called "Wee Macgreegor" suits. As may be supposed, they are national Scotch suits, with everything complete from the buckled shoes to the "glengarry," as Wee Macgreegor himself called that style of bonnet.

That mothers may know just what is needed for their wee laddies for a complete highland costume I took special pains to learn, and here is the list: First comes the cap, or "bonnet," in black velvet, with a cap crest and black cock's feather; next a black velvet doublet and vest, and then a tartan kilt in any plaid preferred. Right here I must say that there are few mothers who cannot claim a certain degree of relationship with some Scotch family, and the tartan of that clan is what she should choose for her boy's kilt. The trews, shoulder plaid and hose should all be of the clan plaid, which it is not difficult to obtain, for a specialty is made of plaids. The brogues are of patent leather. The sporran for full dress is covered with fur, and there is a chain strap to hold it directly in front. The finishing touch to the costume is given by the cairngorm shoulder brooch and lace ruffle. A short sword really belongs to the suit; but, as a rule, mothers seem to like to forget the sword.

Since the advent of the charming little book called "Wee Macgreegor" the always dormant fancy for the Scotch outfit for little boys from four to six has sprung into life again, and I suppose that American mothers will soon be answering to the same never ending "whit weys" of the active but fine little chap who turned his adoring father around his finger openly and in face of everything and who also managed to make his sterner mother give him his way. HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1902, by The Robert Company.

Without a word of reply, Field reined out of column, glanced along the double file of his platoon, nodded a signal "fall out" to Sergeant Scott, and the men nearest him at the front, merely said "advance guard," and then proceeded to choose his corporals and men for flankers. No need to tell Scott what to do! He had been leading scouts in Arizona long ere Field had even dreamed of West Point. In five minutes, riding at easy lope, carbines advanced, three little parties of four troopers each were spreading far out to the front and flank, guarding the little column against the possibility of sudden assault from hidden foe.

And at this moment the situation was grave in the extreme. There had been bad blood and frequent collision between the cattlemen, herders, "hustlers"—especially hustlers and the hunting parties of the Sioux and the Northern Cheyenne, who clung to the Big Horn range and the superb surrounding country with almost passionate love and with jealous tenacity. There had been aggression on both sides, then bloodshed, then attempts on part of frontier sheriffs to arrest accused or suspected red men, and equally determined and banded effort to prevent arrest of accused and identified whites. By due process of law, as administered in the days whereof we write, the Indian was pretty sure to get the worst of every difference, and therefore, preferred, not unnaturally, his own time-honored methods of settlement. In accordance therewith, had they scalped the sheriff's posse that had shot two of their young braves who had availed themselves of a purposely given chance to escape, and then in their undiscriminating zeal, the Sioux had opened fire from ambush on Plodder's hunting parties and the choppers at the wood camp, who defended themselves as best they could, to the end that more men, red and white, were killed. The Indians rallied in force and closed in about Fort Beecher, driving the survivors to shelter within its guarded lines, and then, when Plodder needed every man of his force to keep the foe at respectful distance, so that his bullets could not reach the quarters occupied by the women and children at the post, there reached him by night a runner from the stage station far over to the southeast, on a dry fork of the Powder, saying that the north and southbound stages had taken refuge there, with only ten men, all told, to stand off some 50 warriors, and therefore imploring assistance. Not daring to send a troop, Plodder called for volunteers to bear dispatches to Maj. Webb, at Frayne, and Pat Kennedy, with half a dozen brave lads, had promptly stepped forward. Kennedy had managed to slip through the encircling Sioux by night, and to reach Fort Frayne after a daring and almost desperate ride. Then Ray was ordered forth, first to raise the siege at the stage station, then, either to hold that important relay ranch or go on to reinforce Plodder, as his judgment and the situation might dictate.

He knew enough of the stout adobe walls of the corral on the Dry Fork, and of the grit of the few defenders, to feel reasonably sure that, with ammunition, provisions and water in plenty, they could easily hold out a week if need be against the Sioux, so long as they fought on the defensive and the Indians were not strongly reinforced. He reasoned that Stabber and his people were probably gone to strengthen the attack, and that having an hour's start at least, and riding faster, they would get there somewhat ahead of him. But one of his own old sergeants, a veteran of 20 years in the cavalry, was now stationmaster on the Dry Fork, and all the Sioux from the Platte to Paradise could'nt stampede old Jim Kelly. Many a forced march had Ray made in the past, and well he knew that the surest way to bring his horses into action, strong and sound at the finish, was to move "slow and steady" at the start, to move at the walk until the horses were calm and quiet, was his rule. Then on this bright September day would come the alternating trot and lope, with brief halts to reset saddles; then, later still, the call upon his willing men and mounts for sustained effort, and by sunset he and they could count on riding in, triumphant, to the rescue, even though Stabber himself should seek to bar the way.

And that Stabber meant to watch the road, if not to block it, became evident before the head of the column began the gradual ascent of Moccasin Ridge, from whose sharp crest the little band could take their last look, for the time, at least, at the distant walls of Frayne. Somewhere toward seven-thirty, Corporal Connors' foremost man, far out on the left flank, r...ng suddenly over a low divide, caught sight of a bonneted warrior bending flat over his excited pony and lashing that nimble, fleet-footed creature to mad gallop in the effort to reach the cover of the projecting point of bluff across the shallow ravine that cut in toward the foothills. Stone, the trooper, lifted his campaign hat on high once, and then lowered his arm to the horizontal, hat in hand, pointing in the direction the darting savage was seen, and thus, without a syllable having been spoken at the front, word was passed in to Ray that one Indian had been sighted far out to the northwest.

"They may try to hold us among the breaks of the Mini Pusa," said he, to his still unreconciled second in command. Field had been civil, respectful, but utterly uncommunicative in his replies to the captain's repeated cordialities. Any attempt to even remotely refer to the causes that led to his being ordered out with the detachment had been met with chilling silence. Now, however, the foe had been seen and could be counted on to resist if his rallied force much exceeded that of the troop, or to annoy it by long-range fire if too weak to risk other encounter. The command halted one moment at the crest to take one long, lingering look at the now far-distant post beyond the Platte; then, swinging again into saddle, moved briskly down into the long, wide hollow between them and the next divide, well nigh three miles across, and as they reached the low ground and traversed its little draining gully, a muttered exclamation "Look there!" from the lips of the first sergeant, called their attention again to the far left front. Stone, the trooper who had reported the first Indian, had turned his horse over to the second man, as had the corporal on that flank, and together they were crouching up along the eastward face of a billowing hillock, while, straight to the front Sergeant Scott, obedient to a signal from his left hand man, was speeding diagonally along the rise to the north, for all three advance troopers had halted and two were cautiously dismounting. Ray watched one moment, with kindling eyes, then turned to his young chief of platoons:

"Take your men, Field, and be ready to support. There's something behind that second ridge!"

CHAPTER VII.

As Webb had predicted, even before nine o'clock, came prompt, spirited response from Laramie, where the colonel had ordered the four troops to prepare for instant march, and had bidden the infantry to be ready for any duty the general might order. From Omaha—department headquarters—almost on the heels of the Laramie wire came cheery word from their gallant chief: "Coming to join you noon train to-day. Cheyenne 1:30 to-morrow. Your action in sending Ray's troop approved. Hold others in readiness to move at a moment's notice. Wire further news North Platte, Sidney or Cheyenne to meet me."

AMERICAN HENLEY.

Argonauts of Toronto Win the Chief Event.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—The first American "Henley" under the auspices of the newly organized American Rowing association was held here over the national course on the Schuylkill river in Fairmount park. The association hopes to make its annual affair the classic rowing event in America. Its plan is copied closely after the famous English Henley. The distance, one and five-sixteenths miles, is the same as the English distance, and the rules are practically alike. Out of the twenty-seven entries in the ten events seventeen were from Philadelphia, four from Boston, two from Detroit and one each from Baltimore, New Haven, San Francisco and Canada.

The greatest interest was manifested in the eight oared shell race between the Argonauts of Canada, Yale freshmen, a mixed crew from the University of Pennsylvania and the Union Boat club of Boston.

The Canadians won easily by four lengths. They took the lead at the start and were never headed. Yale and Pennsylvania furnished a beautiful race for second place.

The closest race of the day was between the University of Pennsylvania and Ariel Boat club of Baltimore in the four oared shell event. The Ariels were even with the Pennsylvanians to a point near the finish, when bad steering lost them the contest by two feet.

New World's Mark Made.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Record breaking performances were continued at Washington park, and one world's record besides two track records were smashed. Glassful set a new world's mark for the mile and a sixteenth in the final race of the day, making the distance in 1:44 3-5. Fred Leppert at the odds of 17 to 1 won the Quickstep stakes for two-year-olds and incidentally set a new track record of 47 seconds flat for the four furlongs, reducing the old record four-fifths of a second. Leppert won by a nose, due to Dominick's energetic ride. Don Domo led until the last jump, but a weak finish settled his chances. Sylvia Talbot won the fifth race and made the track record of 1:16 for six and a half furlongs.

Decoration Wins at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., July 3.—In a sensational finish Decoration beat John J. Regan in the fifth event at Highland park, but Tod Walsh all but crowded the other horse into the fence, and the judges disqualified Decoration and placed John J. Regan in front, with Artist second and Jerry third. Three horses fell in the jumping race, but no injuries resulted. Sauber won the race in the stretch from Pat My Boy, who was fast tiring and just lasted to beat out Faraday, Jr., for the place.

Orris Won at Delmar.

ST. LOUIS, July 3.—Orris won the feature of the card at Delmar park at a mile and a sixteenth. The field of four horses got away nicely, with Orris first, Helen Print second and Pettijohn third. There was no change in positions during the whole distance, the horses finishing as above named within two lengths. In the first race Hoedown ran into Sararose, who swerved clear across the track. Hoedown fell, slightly injuring the jockey. Sararose finished third, but was disqualified.

Waterboy Won Suburban Renewal.

NEW YORK, July 3. — Before a crowd of 20,000 persons J. B. Haggin's Waterboy, with Odom up, won the Suburban renewal, worth $12,000, at Sheepshead Bay. The black son of Watercress broke the track record for the mile and a quarter by covering the distance in 2:04 3-5, which is two-fifths of a second faster than the previous record made by the mighty Salvator in 1890. The Brooklyn Handicap winner Irish Lad was second and Goldsmith, the favorite, a bad third.

HILLSIDE GOLFERS' GREAT CELEBRATION

Elaborate Programme Draws Big Crowd on Independence Day.

RESULTS OF THE PLAY

SCORES MADE ON THE PARK GOLF CLUB COURSE.

Band Concert, Dinner and Dance Features at Hillside—Reinhart's Clever Work—The Individual Scores.

Independence Day was celebrated in an elaborate manner at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, the club through various committees, appointed for the purpose, arranging an unusually attractive programme. The clubhouse was decorated with the National colors, while the interior as well presented a patriotic appearance. Directly in front of the clubhouse, beneath a canopy of the National colors was Friedgen's Claremont Park Band, of New York, which gave concerts in the afternoon and evening.

The clubhouse was tested to its capacity, every available bit of room being used to serve dinners and for the dancing which followed a fine display of fireworks given early in the evening.

The first event of the day on the golf course was the play for the club championship, eight lowest gross scores to quality, with prize cups for the second and third lowest eights. The first eight and the result of the first round match play was:

Robert Abbott beat W. L. Glenney, 4 up and 3 to go; Dudley H. Barrows beat Olaf Saugstad, 2 up; C. W. Abbott beat Frank C. Talmadge, 1 up; Frank O. Reinhart beat H. deP. Wright, 3 up and 2 to go. The semi-finals and finals will be played next Saturday. This event was notable because Frank Reinhart made the lowest score for the course this season, it being a 72. He also won first honors for the Golf Committee cup and scored a win for the Greens' Committee tankard, contested for by those with handicaps less than 18, besides making second place in the bogey handicap.

In the competition for the Greens' Committee tankard, for members with handicaps of 18 or less, these scores were posted:

Frank O. Reinhart, 72, 0—72; Olaf Saugstad, 90, 15—75; W. L. Glenney, 78, 1—77; Howard Huntington, 94, 17—77; Owen H. Fleming, 90, 12—78; Dudley H. Barrows, 85, 6—79; C. A. Stover, 94, 15—79; L. L. Tweedy, 95, 16—79; C. B. Morgan, 96, 16—80; E. T. Newkirk, 93, 10—83; Walter Peterson, 93, 9—84; Frank C. Talmadge, 86, 2—84; Leighton Calkins, 92, 8—84; Arthur Murphy, 95, 10—85; Robert Abbott, 86, 1—85; C. W. Abbott, 89, 4—85; Dr. F. C. Ard, 91, 6—85; C. C. Burke, Jr., 104, 16—88.

F. W. Frost scored a win for the Holiday cup, for those with handicaps of 18 or over. His net score was 76. The scores:

F. W. Frost, 94, 18—76; J. E. Erickson, 102, 18—84; H. M. Stockton, 112, 27—85; W. L. C. Glenney, 106, 20—86; C. F. Abbott, 115, 27—88; E. E. Reinhart, 108, 18—90; Harold Serrell, 120, 27—93; C. W. King, 124, 27—97; E. E. Shoemaker, 117, 20—97.

One of the chief events of the afternoon was the weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup. Low scores were the rule, not one of the net scores reaching the hundred mark. F. O. Reinhart won the first three points, while Olaf Saugstad secured the two points and W. L. Glenney the one remaining point. The scores:

Frank O. Reinhart, 74, 0—74; Olaf Saugstad, 90, 15—75; W. L. Glenney, 78, 1—77; Owen H. Fleming, 90, 12—78; Dudley H. Barrows, 85, 6—79; Lawrence L. Tweedy, 95, 16—79; C. W. Abbott, 87, 4—83; E. T. Newkirk, 93, 10—83; Frank C. Talmadge, 86, 12—84; Walter Peterson, 93, 9—84; Robert Abbott, 86, 1—85; Dr. F. C. Ard, 91, 6—85; W. L. Glenney, 106, 20—86; L. H. VanBuren, 105, 18—87; E. T. Barrows, 102, 15—87; C. B. Morgan, 103, 16—87; Chas. F. Abbott, 115, 27—88; H. R. Stockton, 94, 4—90; Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, 96, 6—90; George T. VanBoskerck, 103, 12—91; J. E. Erickson, 109, 18—91; Morris J. Dumont, 100, 6—94; C. W. King, 124, 27—97.

During the afternoon there were two clock golf tournaments, one for women and the other for men. Miss Waldo won the women's event with a score of 22. In the other W. L. Glenney and Frank O. Reinhart made four tie scores, the first and second at 22 the third at 23 and the fourth at 24 and on the play off Glenney won with a 21.

In the bogey handicap Lawrence L. Tweedy made the lowest score, beating "Col. Bogey" and winning the cup offered as prize. He was 5 up on the colonel, making a net score of 73, three better than his opponent. The other scores are these:

Frank O. Reinhart, 2 up; Walter Peterson, 2 down; Frank C. Talmadge, 6 down; Robert Abbott, 1 down; W. L. Glenney, 1 down; Owen H. Fleming, even up; E. T. Newkirk, 4 down; Dudley H. Barrows, 2 down.

This completed the golf events for the day. In each event prize cups were offered. These were exhibited at the clubhouse during the day and evening.

The committees having in charge the programme for the day and evening were these:

Edward H. Ladd, Jr., general chairman; reception—George P. Melleck, chairman; Ernest R. Ackerman, Lewis E. Waring, Lewis G. Timpson, Walter M. McGee; music and refreshments—Lewis G. Timpson, chairman; Lewis E. Waring, Elliot T. Barrows; events—Thomas R. Van Boskerck, chairman, Thomas M. Day, Jr., Elliot T. Barrows; decorations—Elliot T. Barrows, chairman; Walter M. McGee, Edward H. Ladd, Jr.; transportation and grounds—James W. De Graff, chairman; William S. Tyler, Walter M. McGee; fireworks—Townsend Rushmore, James W. DeGraff; finance—Ernest R. Ackerman, Lewis E. Waring.

At the Park Golf Club there was a bogey handicap and ball sweepstakes in the morning. Senator Charles A. Reed and Samuel Townsend were tie for the honors, each being 5 down to "Col. Bogey." There was another tie in the afternoon in the competition for the Holiday cup, when Charles L. Nichols and Henry C. Wells each returned a net score of 80.

The honors for the President's cup went to Henry C. Wells and Charles L. Nichols, who divided the first three points; George T. Rogers, who gets two points and Morgan T. Townsend who receives the one remaining point. For the Park Golf Club cup, scratch play, Morgan T. Townsend receives first honors, while T. U. Morris, Jr., and Charles A. Reed get the two and one points respectively. The scores made counted in all three events, Holiday, President's and Park Golf Club cups. The scores:

WILD WEST IN ALL ITS GLORY

PAWNEE BILL BRINGS HIS GREAT SHOW TO TOWN.

Twenty-Two Nationalities Represented—Two Performances to be Given.

Pawnee Bill and his great wild west show is in town for the day and evening and everybody from the youngest to the oldest, is happy. Twenty years ago Pawnee Bill was an ordinary cowboy in the West, but today he owns the largest Wild West show in the world and besides he is the president of the Arkansas Valley National Bank at Pawnee, Oklahoma.

During these years this veteran showman has collected an aggregation second to none of its class in the world. The magnificent parade this morning attracted the populace. It represented people speaking twenty-two different tongues, including Orientals, Indians under the leadership of Iron Shell, the sub-chief; Filipinos, Cossacks, Mexicans, Hindu, Japanese and full-blooded Arabs. All the nationalities represented are genuine types. There are also innumerable lot of ponies, bronchos and a handsome show wagon hand-carved, twenty-six feet long, was a feature of the parade. Altogether the showing made by Pawnee Bill's is by far one of the best ever seen in Plainfield.

There will be two performances, one this afternoon and the other this evening, when all these people and horses will appear. The show grounds are located at the corner of Arlington avenue and Randolph road and the Arlington avenue trolley will take you directly there.

BASEBALL ENTHUSIASTS SEE GOOD GAMES

Plainfield Teams Win Few Laurels in Contests on the Diamond.

ALIS WINS AND LOSES

ST. MARY'S CRACK TEAM IS TWICE DEFEATED BY OPPONENTS.

Those Depending on Hope Are Disappointed by Results—Other Games in Which the Local Teams Figured.

ALIS DIVIDES HONORS.

Alis split even with Scotch Plains in its Independence Day games. A large holiday crowd witnessed the home team defeat the 'Plains boys on Crescent Oval, in the morning. The score was 9 to 7. During the early part of the game it looked as though the visitors would not get more than two runs as Hope, who pitched for Alis, had perfect control of the ball and prevented his opponents from doing much batting. In the seventh inning the visiting team took on a streak of batting and came close to winning out. The decisions by Umpire Townley were at times disastrous to both teams. The only weak spot in the home team was Worthley at third base. He made several miserable plays. The rest of the nine was up to the standard.

The visitors were not up to their usual form and in the middle of the game Davis the pitcher, was replaced by Kavanaugh, the right fielder. The lineup:

Alis—Flynn, 2b; Pond, rf; Henriquez, ss; Richardson, 1b; Hope, p; Page, c; Worthley, 3b; Moore, cf; Lederer, lf.

Scotch Plains—McManus, lf, Brogan, c; Kavanaugh, rf, p; Allen, 1b; Davis, p, rf; Bolsterli, 2b; Cruzius, ss; Williams, 3b; Flannery, cf.

The Scotch Plains boys redeemed themselves in the afternoon, in one of the prettiest contests of the season, the game being won in the ninth inning, by a wild throw of Burt, which went back in the crowd, allowing Cruzius to score the winning run. Dupee in the box for Alis, was relieved by Burt in the sixth. The line up:

Alis—Flynn, 2b; Pond, rf; Henriquez, ss; Richardson, 1b; Moore, cf; Page, c; Worthley, 3b; Lederer, lf; Dupee and Burt, p.

Scotch Plains — McManus, lf; Brogan, c; Kavanaugh, rf; Allen, 1b; Davis, p; Bolsterli, 2b; Cruzins, ss; Williams, 3b; Flannery, cf.

DOWNED ST. MARY'S.

St. Mary's met defeat at the hands of the Westfield team, Saturday afternoon, on the latter's grounds. Montross, who pitched a winning game in the morning for Westfield, did the twirling against the Plainfield boys. Although he was hit freely the hits were not bunched, and only one St. Mary player crossed the rubber. Hughes, the St. Mary box artist, was wild, hitting three men and letting eleven walk. Winn relieved him in the ninth.

HAVE WE FORGOTTEN GOD?

SUNDAY SPORTS, THE EXISTENCE OF TRUSTS AND LAWLESSNESS.

Labor Troubles and Political Corruption Lead Divine to Think So.

"Has the American nation forgotten God?" was the subject of Rev. John McMurray's sermon at the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church last evening Mr. McMurray discussed three phases of present day life that indicate the forgetfulness of God, one the desecration of Sunday by sports, including automobiling, golf and social gayeties; a second the increase of materialism and the enshrining of Mammon due in part to our unprecendented prosperity and revealed in the maintenance of so-called trusts; and third the spirit of lawlessness. He touched also upon the struggles in the labor world and the debauchery of political office by bribery.

STRANGE DEATH OF ELOPER

MRS. RANDOLPH, OF OAK TREE, WAS FOUND COLD IN DEATH.

Ran Away With a Farm Hand—The Husband Hears of Death.

Mrs. Adelia Randolph, wife of Daniel F. Randolph, a wealthy farmer of Oak Tree, was found in New Haven, Conn., on Friday, with a bullet wound in her head. The identification was made by the husband who telegraphed to the chief of police of that city yesterday to hold the body until he arrived there today and to arrest Fred. C. Nelson, at whose house the woman is believed to have committed suicide.

Mrs. Randolph eloped eight months ago. She and Nelson lived at Newark and when located there they moved to Connecticut. Randolph drove to Rahway in a rig and took with him his wife and the hired man. Randolph went to New Brunswick and that was the last seen of either his wife or Nelson. Mrs. Randolph had a large sum of money with her at the time of her disappearance.

It appears that a neighbor in the flat above the rooms where the woman was found dead, heard them quarreling and in a short time she heard a pistol shot ring out.

William Randolph, a trolley conductor on the local lines, is the dead woman's son.

IMMENSE CROWD WITNESS RACES

Events at Plainfield Driving Park Keep the Spectators Excited Throughout.

COL. EDWARDS STARTER

CONTESTS FOR SECOND AND THIRD PLACE IN EACH EVENT.

Accident to Highland Laddie—The Mayor's Son Affords Amusement—Complete Details of the Races.

Marred by only one accident, the races at the Driving Park Saturday afternoon, provided keen sport for hundreds of holiday spectators, including many of the fair sex. There wasn't a tame contest on the programme, every race bringing the spectators to their feet with the excitement of the struggle at the home stretch.

The real contests came in the race for second and third honors. Plainfield was represented by none of the victors but won second place in the 2:20 and 2:30 classes and third in the 2:25. The collapse of Highland Laddie, a black gelding owned by W. A. Tucker, of Orange, was caused by excessive heat.

There were three mixed races, trot or pace. A race between mules and a match race between Mayor N. B. Smalley's Prince, with the mayor's son holding the lines and a trotter owned by Stonewall Jackson and driven by Martin Duffy, provided lots of amusement and variety. In the latter race, the horses finished nose to nose in the time of 3:17 for the mile after much loitering on the way. Col. McIlvaine, of Lexington, Ky., put several high steppers from his stables on Park avenue through their paces. The New Market band furnished music.

The $200 purse for the 2:20 class was won by Little Patsy, a brown gelding owned by James Avery, of Stapleton, S. I., capturing the second, third and fourth heats in 2:22, 2:21½, 2:23¾. Jessie Dine, owned by J. S. Irving, of Westfield, landed second honors and Bessie D, J. H. Greene, Jr., owner, took third money, fourth going to the brown gelding Edgar C, J. B. Osborn, of Oak Tree.

Arnolda, the chestnut mare owned by W. H. Coville, of Westfield, took three straight heats in the 2:25 class for a $150 purse against six other horses. The times were 2:2½, 2:22¼, 2:23½. Dan P, a brown gelding owned by I. D. Norton, of New Brunswick, was second in each heat. Glitters Lad, J. H. Greene, Jr.'s colt, took third prize and Nellie, a bay, owned by E. Sweet, of Perth Amboy was fourth.

2:30 class, $150 purse, won by Bob Douglas, bay gelding, J. J. Phalen owner, of Glen Moor, in straight heats, 2:27½, 2:27¼, 2:29½. A. L. Smalley's Belle, second prize, T. H. Brantingham's bay gelding, third; I. D. Norton's Viola F, fouth. Gatlin's driving of Belle was the feature of this race.

The starter was Col. Edwards, of Newark. The judges were Nathan Robbins, of Metuchen; J. W. Johnson, of this city; R. A. Fairburn, of Westfield, and C. P. Ross, of South Amboy. William L. Smalley acted as clerk of the course, assisted by Thomas Quinn. Harry S. Potter was scales clerk.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

The glorious Fourth of 1903 is a thing of the past. An important thing of the present is that J. C. Hansen, of East Front street, has a splendid line of oils, paints and varnishes at lowest prices.

You can always depend on it that the goods sold by J. Hervey Doane, the Park avenue jeweler, are just as represented and you will get true value. His line of jewelry is the equal of any to be found in the metropolitan district.

The H. E. Gayle Hardware Company is carrying an exceptionally fine line of goods this season, including all kinds of hardware and lawn mowers, refrigerators, ice cream freezers, etc. The company also makes a specialty of builders' supplies.

There are many kinds of men's clothing, some very cheap and worthless, but M. Weinbergerv, of West Front street, has established a reputation for selling the best quality of men's and boys' clothing at prices within the reach of all.

Get your cold drinks of T. S. Armstrong, of Park avenue. Armstrong's cigars are the smoker's delight. His articles for the toilet are their owner's pride. His drugs and medicines are the best and purest. Reynold's Petroleum Hair Tonic a specialty.

It is better to take advantage of this ideal weather and have your painting and papering done now. Chas. Conover & Company, of Elmwood place, have been very successful in estimating on large contracts and the firm will give you a first-class job if you give them the contract.

The kodak enthusiast is in his glory in summer. Before going away for the summer why not tuck away in a corner of the trunk enough photographic supplies to last the entire season. By getting them in large quantites one can save money and time. See F. W. VanWinkle about it on North avenue.

July is the great bargain month for summer furnishings. Whether it be for the home or camp, the seashore or the mountain, I. H. Boehm can offer bargains in dress material that will put to shame some of those offered by his competitors. An hour spent in his store is a treat for the bargain hunter.

Three things about electric lights that are superior to gas are: First, no matches are required to light them, practically no heat is given out by an incandescent bulb and it is impossible for a curtain to blow into the flame thus causing a fire. Skilled electricians can wire a house for that kind of lighting at a low price. See William H. Pope.

In Modern Athens.

No place is more renowned as a tourist resort than the glorious City of Boston. First as a seat of learning and second as an historical centre about which is gathered innumerable Revolutionary associations than which none are more renowned or more interesting. The City is famed for its hospitality, and nothing is left undone to make the sojourn of the delegate or tourist a period of delight. Within the confines of the City are the notable landmarks—Faneuil Hall, better known as the "Cradle of Liberty"—the old State House, now a museum of Revolutionary relics—the North and South Churches, which figured prominently in the early struggle—Bunker Hill and its interesting surroundings—the scene of the Boston Massacre and the location of the Boston Tea Party, while within a short distance by rail the historic spots of Plymouth, Salem of witchcraft fame, Lexington and Concord, where that most eventful fray occurred, while Medford, Cambridge, Hudson, Lynn, Marblehead, teem with the memories of events well known in history. The parks in Boston are grand productions of the landscape artist, and these reservations covers hundreds of acres all easily accessible. Cambridge, close to Boston is the seat of famous Harvard while Concord treasures memories of Hawthorne, Emerson, Alcott, Thoreau and others, fully as illustrous. The National Educational Association meets in Boston, July 6th to 10th, and the New Jersey Central is prepared to furnish reduced rate tickets for this occasion from all points on its line. AMUSEMENTS.

The "shoppers' district" can boast of a most pleasant theatrical retreat in Mr. Proctor's well-known Twenty-third Street house. A woman shopping in this fashionable district can always find at Proctor's a comfortable sea in which to rest, a "bully good show" to please the eye and ear, and most courteous attendance to her every want.

The Pain Pyrotechnic Co. has six separate shows in America this season. First is the mammoth Pompeii spectacle at Manhattan Beach. A second production of Pompeii is on the road. Three productions of the "Burning of Rome" are travelling and the "Destruction of St. Pierre," first production last summer in Boston, will be sent on tour.

Alexander Clark who plays General Hardtack in "The Runaways," at the Casino, owes part of his success in the role to an ancestral coat. This is part of an old army uniform, the front showing a peculiar cut-away effect, the back being fully six inches too long waisted for its present owner. The old coat which once was worn by a military personage of a New England cross-roads store, fairly exudes comedy, and is an invaluable assistant to the Casino comedian.

"The Wizard of Oz, which holds the record for the longest run achieved by any musical play in New York this season, celebrates its 200th performance in the metropolis next Saturday afternoon, July 11. The occasion will be duly commemorated by the distribution of a unique souvenir typical of this most successful extravaganza. A dainty bronze statuette of the Poppy Queen in "The Wizard of Oz" will be the distinctive memento chosen by the management for distribution at the bi-centennial performance of "The Wizard."

Miss May Hengler, one of the charming dancers with "The Runaways," has a most interesting and complete musical library, which she carries with her wherever she travels. This includes books bearing on musical history, the lives of composers, scores of operas, original manuscripts of compositions and autographed copies of the works of many modern composers. The walls of her drawing room in the Marlborough Hotel are converted with photographs of old and new masters of music, and pictures of prima donnas, impressarios and the lesser lights of opera.

With the able assistance of Miss Fay Templeton, Arthur Dunn, Alexander Clark, Miss Amelia Stone, Van-Rensselaer Wheeler, Miss Helen Lord, William Gould, the pretty Hengler Sisters, William Wolff and other principals of "The Runaways," Manager Sam. S. Shubert has built into what is beyond doubt the most satisfying performance which has ever been seen on Broadway. There are now no less than twenty songs getting two or more encores, which is a remarkable showing. Probably the three most popular of these twenty are "My Hindoo Belle," as sung by Miss Templeton; "Hiawatha," and "Susannah from Urbana."

The desire to see Howard Thurston perform his wonderful feats of magic and illusion has been so great that Mr. Keith has retained this marvel for another week. This shows that the ability to deceive the senses is as much an attraction as it ever was. Emerson & Omega, in their farce, "Don't Notice It" will add to the comedy as will Mamie Remington and her company. The Bros. Tanean in an eccentric musical turn, and Trask & Gladden, the comedians, will be sure to get their share of the applause. Dolly Jordan, the vocalist; Palfrey & Hilton; James Weitzell, the sensational juggler; the Garrity Sisters, in songs and dances; and the Keith moving pictures with another of those childrens' delights, a fairy story, will complete the bill.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. CLOUDBURST WRECK

Jeannette, Pa., Visited by Disastrous Floods.

TWENTY LIVES KNOWN TO BE LOST

Oakford Park Pleasure Resort Was Inundated and a Large Party Overwhelmed by the Waters. Car Washed Into a Creek.

PITTSBURG, July 6.—A cloudburst struck Jeannette, a short distance east of here, and reports say that many people have been drowned and much damage done to property.

It is said that the Oakford park dam, near Jeannette, burst, engulfing an excursion party on trolley cars.

The cloudburst caused a washout on the Pennsylvania railroad east of Greensburg, and trains are being held there. The wires are all down east of that place, and no communication is had with Jeannette.

Oakford park is a summer resort about a mile east of Jeannette, and several hundred men, women and children are known to have gone there. The damage done by the cloudburst in the vicinity of Greensburg will not be less than $200,000. Brush creek rose higher than ever before and washed away everything along its banks. Scores of people barely had time to escape from their houses, so sudden was the rise in the stream.

It is known that at least twenty persons lost their lives, and rumors place the number of dead at more than 100, but up to a late hour only three or four bodies have been recovered, having been washed to the banks of the little creek that runs parallel with the park.

The rain began to fall in torrents in the vicinity of the park and spread over territory covering probably ten miles. Half an hour later the cloudburst occurred. The waters in the lake north of Oakford park began to rise, and Manager James McGrath, believing there was danger of a final break in the great walls of the dam, hurried among the crowds of pleasure seekers who had gathered under the roofs of the eating stands, the dancing pavilion and other buildings in line of the water should the banks break, and warned them to run to the hills.

On both sides of the pleasure grounds are high hills, the park being located in a ravine about a fourth of a mile wide and a mile long. The people, being protected from the rain, were loath to leave the cozy places, and not until Mr. McGrath and his assistant, Charles E. Thomas, entered each building in turn and simply drove the crowds out into the rain did they realize that the managers were in earnest, that earnestness being depicted in their pale faces, for they knew after careful study of the dam that the awful flood meant probably the breaking of the wall that held five acres of water.

Half an hour after the buildings had been cleared of the people the waters mounted the wall of the dam, and within five minutes water seven feet deep was flowing over the entire length of the 400 feet of wall. The park or ravine studded with buildings, the merry go round and other amusement places were twisted about, and all but the dancing pavilion and lunch stand were knocked from their foundations. The rain continued to fall in awful torrents, and forty feet of the wall of the dam to the east gave way with an awful crash. The flood beat down the ravine with a roar that was heard for two miles.

Half a mile down, at the junction of the Greensburg and Jeannette and the park car lines, the car barns are located. The entrance gates to the park were lifted, and with the force of a pile driver the mammoth posts were hurled by the waters against the barn. Beyond was located the small waiting room, and on the track was standing a car laden with people on their way from Greensburg and Jeannette. The electric storm had rendered the power south of here useless, and the motorman was unable to move the car.

The flood struck the waiting room, containing probably a dozen people. A number of them struggled to a point of safety, but in the excitement that followed there is no way to be positive how many lives were lost. The street car was caught and swept into the creek. A number of the people in the car jumped off, and there are conflicting stories as to the number of persons who were carried with the car.

Among those who were washed into the flood were C. M. McClain of Greensburg, Edward O'Brien, Joseph Overly and Misses Keefer and Crum. Young McClain is an expert swimmer, and the cries for help from the two unknown women brought the young man to their side as they struggled in the water. He grabbed them about the waists and kept their heads above water as the three were carried in the direction of Jeannette by the raging torrent.

The brave youth held to the women for more than a mile, and then, exhausted and ready to sink to his death, he released his hold, and the women sank. It was with the greatest difficulty that he managed to get to shore. He went back to the park, but up to a late hour the names of the women were not known. It is believed that ten people who were in the car were drowned.

Standing on the platform near the waiting room were a man and his wife whose names have not been learned. When the flood came the husband escaped, but the wife was carried away.

It is said that the couple resided at Jeannette.

Oakford park is patronized by the people of this town and Jeannette, and when the fact was announced that the dam had given way and rumor said that from 200 to 300 people were drowned excitement knew no bounds. The shuttink down of the power house

DEATH FROM THE FLAG.

Banner Breaks Live Wire, Killing Four Persons.

PITTSBURG, July 6.—During the progress of a terrific rain storm here four persons were killed in an accident of most unusual character.

The dead are: Joseph Wisa, Giuseppi Renda, aged twenty-one years; Mrs. Francesca Statti, aged fifty-four, and Giuseppi Statti, her son, aged twenty-two.

All of the victims except Wisa were of the same family.

A large American flag suspended from a grocery store became soaked with the rain, and the high wind blew it against an electric light wire which was carrying 2,000 volts. The wire snapped under the pressure and fell into the street, one end lodging in a pool of water, charging it to a high degree. The first one to fall a victim to the wire was Wisa, who was running for shelter from the rain. In crossing the street he stepped into the pool of water and fell as though he had been shot. His death was instantaneous.

Shortly after this the Statti family came driving along the street in a surrey. There were seven persons in the vehicle, and the driver was hurrying all he could to reach a place of shelter from the storm. As he approached the broken wire hundreds of people tried to warn him of the danger, but could not make him understand until too late. He tried to pull away from the wire, but one of the horses stepped into the highly charged pool of water and fell paralyzed. The occupants of the surrey immediately began to jump, and the four who leaped from the side opposite the wire escaped injury, but the three on the other side in their excitement stepped on the wire and were shocked to death almost instantly.

Italian Killed; Cause, Whisky.

MILFORD CENTER, O., July 6.—In a riot between citizens and a gang of Italian laborers employed on the Pan Handle railroad one Italian was shot and killed, another seriously wounded and several citizens stabbed. The Italians came to town, and several of them became intoxicated. A general fight ensued, during which Marshal Joseph Perkins appeared on the scene. A running battle ensued, and many shots were fired by citizens and the marshal at the Italians, who used stilettos. Four of the Italians have been arrested and are in jail under heavy guard. Great excitement prevails.

Brooklyn Defeats St. Louis.

CINCINNATI, O., July 6.—Cincinnati was defeated by Brooklyn in a slugging match. Although the Cincinnatis outbatted Brooklyn their hits were not as timely. Suthoff and Garvin, who started in to pitch for each team, were knocked out of the box, and their successors did not fare much better. Dobbs, Jordan and Beckley were ordered off the grounds by Umpire Moran for kicking. Vickers, while running to second base, fell on Corcoran and hurt the Cincinnati shortstop's shoulder so that it will probably keep him out of the game for some time. Score: Cincinnati, 12; Brooklyn, 16.

One Thousand Messages to Manila.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Superintendent Storrer of the Postal Telegraph company has stated that nearly 1,000 cablegrams had been filed with his company for transmission over the new cable to Manila, including one from Mayor Schmidtz of this city addressed to Governor Taft and one from the local chamber of commerce to the chamber of commerce of Manila. Mr. Storrer says that none of these messages would be transmitted at present—in fact that only the messages of President Roosevelt, Mr. Mackay and Governor Taft would pass over the cable.

Hammond Packing Plant Burned.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 6.—Fire originated in the casing department of the Hammond packing plant and spread rapidly throughout the main building. The wind was blowing from the south directly toward the Nelson Morris plant, but that building was saved until the wind veered to the east. In the cooling rooms were dressed carcasses—1,800 beeves, 4,500 hogs and 800 sheep, and all will be lost. Value of plant, $1,000,000; stock, $2,000,000. The building containing the stock of lard and the engine house may be saved.

Despondent, Died From Morphine.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 6.—A special to the Telegram from Whitinsville says that Jessie Amanda Vanier, thirty-one years old, a beautiful young woman, for eight years a teacher in Northbridge public schools, was found dead in a house where she had been living alone. A letter left by her told that she had taken twenty grains of morphine with suicidal intent. Miss Vanier was despondent on account of the actions of her father.

Worcester Beats Providence.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 6.—Both Worcester and Providence had patched up teams, and Fred Brown of the local club officiated alone as umpire in the absence of a regular official. Worcester had but nine men on hand. Armbruster's drop of a fly in the first inning was responsible for the only run. Score: Worcester, 1; Providence, 0.

Tried to Save Boy, Both Drowned.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 6.—Elias D. Trimble, an old and well known resident of West Nanticoke, and West Kyttle, aged fourteen years, were drowned in the canal near Harvey's creek. The former made an attempt to rescue the boy, and both were caught in an underbrush and drowned.

Plainfield, N. J., July 6, 1903.

Chicago boasts of 4,702 lawyers. Chicago must be a very bad city.

A gubernatorial candidate in Arkansas calls the present chief executive of that State a liar and a coward. Probably he is in training for a seat in the Senate.

The Legislature's appropriation for the maintenance of keepers and employes of prisons is $10,000 more than for the maintenance of the convicts. What do you think of it?

Rev. E. E. Jackson gives some good advice to members of his race when he urges them to "get out of politics; practice economy and acquire a trade." The negro question is rapidly coming to the fore in National importance. As for its solution there has been many valuable suggestions made. Industry may be found to be the correct one.

Notice the batch of accidents due to the reckless use of firearms on the Fourth. There is a law in this State prohibiting children under fifteen years of age using such weapons except when in the presence of parent or guardian. This arbitrary age limit should be abolished and the act should be made general. As a rule such accidents are not caused because the person using the weapon is under fifteen years of age, but rather because he acts as if he had not reached that time of life.

In declining an invitation to attend the Tammany Society's Fourth of July celebration, Mr. Cleveland wrote that the organization as one of vast influence cannot escape the responsibility which its powers and its glorious traditions create in aiding in the work of good government. The distinguished former President was no doubt unmindful of the time when the Tammany crowd sent a solid delegation to a National convention for the purpose of defeating his nomination. Tammany as a reform element would be an anomaly.

Much commendable work is being accomplished by the ministers of the Gospel in the various municipalities of the State in preventing wrongs as well as bringing about needed reforms. The latest instance recorded is the move made by the pastors of Elizabeth churches against any increase in the number of licenses in that city. These "ambassadors of Christ" declare that there are already too many saloons in that place. Elizabeth is not alone in this affliction. In fact there are few municipalities in the State where the number of licenses to sell this mind poison liquor could not be advantageously lessened.

Associate Justice George Gray, than whom there is no more brighter mind in the American judiciary, made some timely remarks concerning the liberty of the press at a Fourth of July demonstration in Wilkesbarre, Pa. Speaking as he did in the heart of a politically debauched State which is suffering with a press gag law, the remarks of the learned president of the Anthracite Strike Commission were most appropriate. The public may well ponder over these expressions:

"A free and untrammeled press is a potent influence for good. It is a reflex of the public opinion which, on the other hand, it helps to mould and direct. We all live today under its calcium light, and the growing sense of responsibility upon the part of those who conduct it is now ground for hopefulness as to the future. We sometimes resent its invasion of our privacy, its mistakes and false judgments, and in our anger at the individual offender, we are apt to forget the beneficence of the institution and think we pay a high price for the untrammeled freedom of the press.

"But do not let us forget that we have received an hundredfold return for the price we have paid. Through it mainly does public opinion exert its salutary influence and through it largely are exploited the true defenses of the individualism and personal liberty on which I have dwelt so much. In the arbitrament of which we must all submit in the end, is the outcome of the character, judgment and daily conduct of communities like this. See to it, my friends, that your contribution thereto is wise and virtuous and calculated to uphold and not to tear down the fabric of American civilization.

"Public opinion of which I have been speaking, and to which deference is due and in the end will be commanded, comes from the ructible of discussion and contention among a free people and from an awakened public conscience. Its most powerful instrument and vehicle is, as I have said, a free and untrammeled press."

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The local ball team found the Senator F. C., of Brooklyn, easy victors on Saturday, beating them in two games. Cushing was in the box for seven innings and was then relieved by Ettinger. Cushing was batted hard but Ettinger was invincible. The final score in the morning game was 9 to 7. In the afternoon Ettinger did the twirling and the New Yorkers could not touch him. On the other hand the locals batted Baker all over the lot and won as they pleased, by a score of 14 to 0.

Charles Hill pitcher on the Levering & Garrigues baseball team, met with a very peculiar accident while playing ball on Saturday. A "grounder" was knocked to him, which he picked up and went to toss it to first base. His arm took a peculiar twist and the bone was broken cleanly, just above the elbow. The young man was taken to the office of Dr. Brakeley and the arm was set.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Manager Johnston's colts played like school boys at Crescent Oval in the morning of the Fourth, the game being a long drawn out listless affair. In the afternoon game everyone was in the game all the time and the fans were given their money's worth of excitement for the several hundred rooters from Plainfield, together with the din and noise made by the locals supporters, made the game one of the most exciting ever held on the local diamond.

The trolley service for the ball game on Saturday afternoon was worse than poor. Several hundred rooters were stalled in town until nearly 7 o'clock before they were able to get cars for home, every car was crowded to its capacity before getting to the village and could only accommodate a few.

McManus's one handed low catch in the sixth innings in the game Saturday afternoon, was one of the greatest catches ever seen on the local diamond and won the applause of all, even if it did rob Alis of one run.

Thomas Sellers paid $3.75 and costs into the township treasury Saturday morning. Judge Clark thought this would about settle matters for Sellers' little altercation with Officer Clark on Park avenue, late Friday night.

The attendance at the game on the afternoon of the Fourth was the largest ever gathered on the local diamond. The change in the price made no difference. People want baseball and are willing to pay for it.

The Township Committee met in the township rooms, Friday night. Considerable routine business was transacted and a number of bills paid.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

After a fierce battle lasting half an hour, Alexander Boyd, Clarence Pope and Frederick Smith, all of this city, captured a large snapping turtle at New Market pond recently. The young men were rowing along shore, when Smith, seeing the turtle seemingly asleep, attempted to land him. The amphibian immediately countered, grasping Smith cordially by the hand and affectionately refusing to let go. Pope and Boyd came to their friend's rescue, and put the animal out of business with their oars. It was sold to a neighboring farmer, making another sharp struggle when taken out of the boat. The turtle tipped the scales at eighteen pounds.

Practical Test.

A test to the value of newspaper advertising over other methods was made a year ago by the great publishing house of Harper & Brothers. Two books were selected, one by a well known popular author, and the other by an unknown writer. The latter was selected for the newspaper advertising and the other for the usual channels. With equal expenditure the work advertised in the newspapers outstripped the other in sales by two hundred thousand copies. The result was a complete surprise and established the fact that readers go to the newspapers for information with regard to books as well as with regard to most other matters.—American Advertiser.

NEW PACIFIC CABLE

President Sends First Message to Manila.

GREETING TO PHILIPPINE ISLES.

Governor Taft Returned Greeting to the President and Said That the New Wire Under the Sea Would Lead to a Closer Union.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 6.—President Roosevelt opened the new Pacific Commercial cable by exchanging greetings with Governor Taft of the Philippines at Manila.

Then a message from the president was rushed from Oyster Bay westward around the world and back to Oyster Bay again to Mr. Mackay, congratulating him on the generous enterprise that had produced this final link in a system of globe girdling submarine cables.

At two minutes past 11 o'clock this message was sent by the president to Governor Taft, Manila:

"I open the American Pacific cable with greetings to you and the people of the Philippines."

It was immediately followed by this one to Mr. Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Pacific Cable company:

"Congratulations and success to the Pacific cable, which the genius of your lamented father and your own enterprise made possible."

Mr. Mackay received the message of the president and sent an answer from west to east at 11:53:45. It returned at 12:02:45. It read:

"I thank you deeply for your message, and I earnestly hope that the Pacific cable, by opening wide horizon of great east, may prove a useful factor to the commerce of the United States."

Governor Taft's message to the president was as follows:

"The Filipino people and the Americans resident in these islands are glad to present their respectful greetings and congratulations to the president of the United States conveyed over the cable with which American enterprise has girded the Pacific, thereby rendering greatly easier and more frequent communication between the two countries.

"It will certainly lead to closer union and a better mutual understanding of each other's aim and sympathies and of their common interest in the prosperity of the Philippines and the education and development of the Filipinos. It is not inappropriate to incorporate in this, the first message across the Pacific from the Philippines to America, an earnest plea for the reduction of the tariff on Filipino products, in accordance with the broad and liberal spirit which the American people desire to manifest toward the Philippines and of which you have been an earnest exponent."

Unknown Man Robbed and Murdered

LEWISTOWN, Pa., July 6.—William Troberg, John Storick, W. N. Kline, W. E. Bumgardner, Woods Franklin, William Woomer and Harry Heighy, all of Lewistown, have been placed in jail here, supposed to be connected with the robbery and murder of the unknown man found near Lewistown Junction, Pa. Several men were molested near the junction, and the men placed in jail were seen in this neighborhood raising considerable disturbance. One of the suspects had been seen in company with the murdered man.

Held For Stabbing Wife.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 6.—Thomas De Paul of New York came here and, finding his wife registered at a lodging house with another man, drew a large penknife and stabbed her in the neck. She is in the hospital in a dying condition. De Paul was arrested and is held pending the result of her injuries. Little hope is entertained of her recovery. The wife alleges that she had to leave him because of abuse. He came here and insisted on her returning to New York with him.

New York Sculptor Shoots Himself.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 6.—The body of the man who committed suicide by shooting in Whitneyville has been identified as that of John Donoghue, a sculptor of New York city. The identification was made by D. H. Robbins of New York, who said that a few days ago he received a note from Donoghue announcing his intention to commit suicide. Money matters, Mr. Robbins believes, was the cause of the act.

Porte Denies Massing of Troops.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 6.—The porte has sent circulars to the Ottoman ambassadors in Vienna, St. Petersburg, Berlin and Paris vigorously repudiating the accusation made by the Bulgarian government of concentrating of Ottoman troops at strategic points along the Bulgarian frontier. Representations to this effect have already been made to the Bulgarian government.

Elliot Hall Destroyed.

DELAWARE, O., July 6.—Elliot hall of the Wesleyan university and which contained the laboratory, library and gymnasium of the institution, has been destroyed by fire. It was caused by fireworks—a celebration being held on the campus at the time. The loss on the building is $15,000 and on the contents $40,000.

Chile Has Bubonic Plague.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 6.—Isolated cases of bubonic plague have occurred at Valparaiso and other towns in Chile. The authorities are taking the strictest precautions.

Boston Beats St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—The Bostons won a Sunday National League baseball game from St. Louis by a score of 9 to 5.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

THIN GOWNS.

Dainty Lawn Dresses—Some Useful Taffeta Costumes.

Linen and lawn gowns are among the pressing considerations of the hour. The last are very elaborate, embroidered affairs for the most part, made of the finest material, decorated with hemstitchings and mounted on the sheerest of linings.

Taffeta for linings seems to have given way to softer silks, but whole dresses are made of it and are considered very smart.

A gown of white taffeta seen recently was inset with medallions of lace and had a sack coat worn over a lace blouse. This was a very effective toilet.

The fluffy, soft gowns of mull show lace and tucks, trellis work of ribbon and applications of lace flowers, while floral patterned taffetas are to be seen made in the simplest fashion, with a perfectly plain, narrow skirt, a wide waistband of black satin and a slightly full bodice.

Elbow sleeves are again seen on many models, and they have huge drooping frills.

The dress shown is of deep scarlet taffeta trimmed with soft ecru mull tucked and embroidered.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT WOMEN ARE WEARING

Foulard For Simple Gowns—Gray Linen Is Smart.

Foulard continues in high favor, white with brown spots being considered especially smart. The bodices of these foulard dresses are made overhanging a wide belt. Sometimes the sole trimming of these gowns consists of a stole effect of lace. Those fortunate enough to possess it use bits of old lace and line them with chiffon, employing shirrings of the chiffon to fill in with. Good effects are also to be obtained by puffings of tulle and narrow strips of lace.

Pale blue and pale lavender vie with old rose for pretty summer toilets.

DRESSY BLACK HAT.

Gowns of pale lavender linen are trimmed with bands of cream linen decorated with French knots in black.

Iron gray linens are used for traveling costumes consisting of a kilted skirt and a three-quarter unlined coat.

Gray linen canvas is one of the season's novelties, and when trimmed with gray and white braid it looks very dressy.

Foremost among the decorative details of the hour to be chronicled are ribbon quillings—narrow, broad, regular or in graduated widths, whichever appeals as more convincingly appropriate to the occasion. As the finish to the hem of a plaited skirt these quillings are particularly happy in a narrow width of satin ribbon, repeated two or at most three times round the hem. On a pastel blue cloth they created a distinctive outline in a delicate French gray ribbon, the short really incidental bolero being worn over a pale gray accordion kilted chiffon blouse, inlet down the front and along the shoulders with an exceptionally boldly patterned but light cream guipure lace, cuffs of the same lace running up into a deep point on the inside of the arm of the graceful full sleeves.

The black hat shown is simply trimmed with a single ostrich plume. It is suitable for wear with elaborate gowns.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1903, by The Hobart Company.

Everybody, of course, was aware by eight o'clock that Field had gone with Ray, and while no officers presumed to ask if it was because Ray, or Field, had applied for the detail, no woman would have been restrained therefrom by any fear of Webb. Well he realized this fact, and, dodging the first that sought to waylay him on the walk, he had later intrenched himself, as it were, in his office, where Dade, Blake and the old post surgeon had sat with him in solemn conclave while Bill Hay brought his clerk, barkeeper, storekeeper, Pete, the general utility man, and even "Crapaud," the halfbreed, to swear in succession they had no idea who could have tampered with either the safe or the stables. Closely had they been cross-examined; and, going away in turn, they told of the nature of the cross-examination; yet to no one of their number had been made known what had occurred to cause such close questioning. Hay had been forbidden to speak of it, even to his household. The officers-of-the-day were sworn to secrecy. Neither Wilkins nor the acting adjutant was closeted with the council, and neither, therefore, could do more than guess at the facts. Yet that somebody knew, in part at least, the trend of suspicion, was at once apparent to Webb and his councilors when, about nine o'clock, he took Blake and Dade to see those significant "bar shoe" hoof prints. Every one of them had disappeared.

"By jove!" said Webb, "I know now I should have set a sentry with orders to let no man walk or ride about here. See! He's used his foot to smear this—and this—and here again!"

There in a dozen places were signs old Indian trailers read as they would read an open book. Places where, pivoting on the heel, a heavy foot had crushed right and left into the yielding soil of the roadway, making concentric, circular grooves and ridges of sandy earth, where, earlier in the morning, Dan's and Harney's dainty hoof-prints were the only new impressions. For nearly 50 yards had this obliterating process been carried on, and in a dozen spots, until the road dipped over the rounding edge, and, hard and firm now, went winding down to the flats. Here Webb, with Dade and Hay, returned, while Blake meandered on, musing over what he had been told. "It's a government heel, not a cowboy's," had Hay said, hopefully, of the print of that pivoting lump of leather.

"That gives no clew to the wearer," answered Blake. "Our men often sell their new boots, or give their old ones, to these hangers-on about the post. So far as I'm concerned, the care with which the print has been erased is proof to me that the major saw just what he said. Somebody about Hay's place was mighty anxious to cover his tracks."

But a dozen "somebodies" besides the stablemen hung there at all hours of the day, infesting the broad veranda, the barroom and stores, striving to barter the skin of coyote, skunk or beaver, or, when they had nothing to sell, pleading for an unearned drink. Half a dozen of these furtive, beetle-browed, swarthy sons of the prairie lounged there now, as the elder officers and the trader returned, while Blake went on his way exploring. With downcast eyes he followed the road to and across a sandy watercourse in the low ground, and there, in two or three places found the fresh imprint of that same bar shoe, just as described by Webb. Then with long, swift strides he came stalking up the hill again, passing the watchful eyes about the corral without a stop, and only checking speed as he neared the homestead of the Hay's, where, once again, he became engrossed in studying the road and the hard pathways at the side. Something that he saw, or fancied that he saw, perhaps a dozen yards from the trader's gate, induced him to stop, scrutinize, turn, and, with searching eyes, to cross diagonally the road in the direction of the stables, then again to retrace his steps and return to the eastward side. Just as he concluded his search, and once more went briskly on his way, a blithe voice hailed him from an upper window, and the radiant face and gleaming white teeth of Nanette Flower appeared between the opening blinds. One might have said he expected both the sight and question:

"Lost anything, Capt. Blake?"

"Nothing but—a little time, Miss Flower," was the prompt reply as, without a pause, the tall captain, raising his forage cap, pushed swiftly on. "But I've found something," muttered he to himself, between his set teeth, and within five minutes more was again closeted with the post commander.

"You saw it?" asked Webb.

"Yes. Three or four places—down in the arroyo. More than that—Where's Hay?" he broke off suddenly, for voices were sounding in the adjoining room.

"Here, with Dade and the doctor."

"Then—" But Blake got no further. Breathless and eager, little Sandy Ray came bounding through the hallway into the presence of the officers. He could hardly gasp his news:

"Major, you told me to keep watch and let you know. There's a courier coming—hard! Mother saw him—too, through the—spyglass. She says they—see him, too at Stabber's—and she's afraid——"

"Right!" cried Webb. "Quick, Blake; rush out half a dozen men to meet him. Those devils may indeed cut him off. Thank you, my little man," he added, bending down and patting the dark curly head, as Blake went bounding away. "Thank you, Sandy. I'll come at once to the bluff. We'll save him. Never you fear."

In less than no time, one might say, all Fort Frayne seemed hurrying to the northward bluff. The sight of tall Capt. Blake bounding like a greyhound toward his troop barracks, and shouting for his first sergeant—of Maj. Webb almost running across the parade toward the flagstaff—of Sandy rushing back to his post at the telescope—of the adjutant and officer of the day tearing away toward the stables, where many of the men were now at work, were signs that told unerringly of something stirring, probably across the Platte. As luck would have it, in anticipation of orders to move, the troop horses had not been set out to graze, and were still in the sunshiny corrals, and long before the news was fully voiced through officers' row, Blake and six of his men were in saddle and darting away for the ford, carbines advanced the instant they struck the opposite bank.

From the bluff Webb had shouted his instructions. "We could see him a moment ago," for half a dozen field glasses were already brought to bear, "six miles out—far east of the road. Keel well out to your left to head off any of Stabber's people. Three of them have been seen galloping out already."

"Aye, aye, sir," came the answering shout, as Blake whirled and tore away after his men. There had been a time in his distant past when the navy, not the army, was his ambition, and he still retained some of the ways of the sea. Just as Webb feared, some few of Stabber's young warriors had been left behind, and their eagle-eyed lookout had sighted the far distant courier almost as soon as Sandy's famous telescope. Now they were hastening to head him off.

But he seemed to have totally vanished. Level as appeared the northward prairie from the commanding height on which stood the throng of eager watchers, it was in reality a low, rolling surface like some lazily heaving sea that had become suddenly solidified. Long, broad, shallow dips or basins lay between broad, wide, far-extending, yet slight upheavals. Through the shallows turned and twisted dozens of dry arroyos, all gradually trending toward the Platte—the drainage system of the frontier. Five miles out began the ascent to the taller divides and ridges that gradually, and with many an intervening dip, rose to the watershed between the Platte and the score of tiny tributaries that united to form the South Cheyenne. It was over Moccasin, or Ten Mile, Ridge, as it was often called, and close to the now abandoned stage road, Ray's daring little command had disappeared from view toward eight o'clock. It was at least two, possibly three, miles east of the stage-road that the solitary courier had first been sighted, and when later seen by the major and certain others of the swift gathering spectators, he was heading for Frayne, though still far east of the highroad.

WOMEN'S CONFERENCE.

Appeal For Funds Results In Donations of $5,000.

SILVER BAY, N. Y., July 6.—The sessions of the young women's conference were of much interest. At the morning meeting the work done by the American committee was presented from the point of the students who knew the work intimately. Six young women representing the different colleges spoke on the effect the student movement has had on student life and the inspiration that has been derived from the experiences of the traveling secretaries. There was much enthusiasm during their discourses, and many in the great audience made donations toward the work.

Miss Conde spoke of the immediate need of more funds to support a few more secretaries in the field. One, she said, was needed in the normal school branch and another to reach young women in preparatory schools. As a result of the plea $5,000 was pledged. One donation of $1,500 was made by a young woman who wished to put a substitute for herself in the work. There were also eight $100 donations and two of $300.

Other addresses were made by the Rev. W. F. McDowell and Bishop Thoburn of India.

National Educational Convention.

BOSTON, July 6.—The main body of educators from all parts of the country has reached this city, eager for the great convention of the National Educational association, which begins its annual session here today. Special trains from the west and from New York rolled into the great terminal stations. The system of steering hotelward the incoming hordes was severely taxed. However, it stood the strain to a remarkable degree, assisted in a great measure by the excellent weather and the general good nature of the strangers, notwithstanding their long and tiresome journey. Those who came early spent most of the time in sightseeing, and groups of twenty and thirty were met at frequent intervals, guide books in hand, looking at the different places of historic interest throughout the city. A large number went out into the suburbs on trolley rides, while those from the west seemed particularly eager to get a sight of the ocean.

Hanna Will Visit Roosevelt.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 6.—Senator Hanna, accompanied by Mrs. Hanna and a small party of friends, is expected at Sagamore Hill early this week. The party will arrive in a yacht in which Mr. Hanna proposes to take a short cruise and will take luncheon with the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and their house guests. President Roosevelt, the members of his family and his guests, attended service at Christ Episcopal church. When the carriages reached the outskirts of the village at the conclusion of the service the president and one of his friends alighted and walked home across the country. Clarence H. Mackay has presented to President Roosevelt a small section of the new Pacific cable. It is beautifully mounted and rests in a handsome morocco case.

"Didn't Know It Was Loaded."

STAMFORD, Conn., July 6.—Arthur Austin, twenty years old, a law student of New York city, is at Stamford hospital in a critical condition, the result of an accidental shooting by his younger brother. The latter went to the room where Arthur was sleeping with an old revolver and playfully told his brother that if he did not get up he would shoot him. Unaware of the fact that the revolver was loaded, the boy pulled the trigger, and a bullet entered Arthur's side. The young man was removed to the hospital. T. physicians are unable to say whether or not his life can be saved.

Hamburg Liner Celebrates.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Hamburg-American steamer Moltke, which arrived from Hamburg, Southampton and Cherbourg, brought a number of Americans. In their honor the ship was illuminated, and the passengers celebrated the glorious Fourth by singing and dancing. A concert was given, and the festivities were kept going to a late hour. On June 30 a girl baby was born in the steerage. It was called Maristhka Moltke Klein. The cabin passengers made up a collection for the child.

Rescued by Revenue Cutter.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The United States revenue cutter Hudson, while out on duty boarding incoming steamers, discovered a thirty foot naphtha launch off Liberty Island in distress. She went to her assistance and took off Mr. Lewis Erickson, the owner, Robert Church, his wife and three children and Thomas Bradley.

Venezuelan Appointments.

CARACAS, Venezuela, July 6.—A decree issued appoints Senor Pulido, who has acted as charge d'affaires recently, secretary to the Venezuelan legation at Washington. The son of General Hernandez (El Mocho), the new minister at Washington, and Senor Para are appointed attaches of the legation.

Lehigh Valley Pier Burned.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Fire destroyed Pier H of the Lehigh Valley railroad in Jersey City. The pier was used almost exclusively for the storage of flour, and $100,000 worth of the staple was consumed. The estimated damage to the pier and contents is $250,000.

City of Mexico Has a "Fourth."

Baseball Team of the P. H. S. A. A

P. H. S. RECORD ON DIAMOND

RESUME OF SCHOOL BOYS BASEBALL ACHIEVEMENTS

Harder Battles During Last Season 'Than Ever before—Next Years's Team.

The baseball team of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association for the season just completed has been the most successful team supported by the school for the past four years. The school team has been victorious in nine out of the thirteen games played and the team has run up against a far stronger class of opponents this year than ever before.

For the first time in three years the school boys won the two games with their old opponents, the Rutgers Preparatory School boys. The home team won out by scores of 8 to 4 and 10 to 2. Aside from this, the team trounced the Westfield High School in two games—8 to 5 and 19 to 2; Newark Academy, 8 to 4; Scotch Plains High School, 14 to 2, St. Francis Xavier Preparatory School, 9 to 4; North Plainfield High Schol, 4 to 0, and the Montclair High School, 8 to 2. The defeats were administered by the Orange Field Club, 4 to 3; Brooklyn Boys' High School, 16 to 2; Khiani Club, of Princeton University, 12 to 2, and the Stevens Institute Underclassmen, 5 to 11.

Luther L. Sheppard, the team scorer, reports the batting averages of the season to be as follows. "Dago" Walters leads the hitters with 32 per cent., Smith is close second with 31.7 per cent. Munro has a percentage of 29.4 per cent.; Thompson, 28 per cent.; Craig, 26.3 per cent.; Pitcher VanAuken, 25.8 per cent.; Miner, 24 3 per cent.; Rocap, 20 per cent.; Ulrich, 19 5 per cent.; Bock, 14.7 per cent.; and Brokaw, 12.8 per cent. On the whole the averages are lower this year than last.

"Deacon" VanAuken has done great work for the school boys in the box, and has 116 strike-outs to his credit. His strike-out record for a single game is 19 men. "Scotch" Munro has also made his debut in the box and has left a good record as twirler. It is especially unfortunate that both of these pitchers have left school. VanAuken graduated this year and Munro has moved to Philadelphia. The material is by no means exhausted, however, as Sam Bogart still attends the High School, and can fill the bill with practice.

While Munro, Ulrich, VanAuken and Miner will not be with the team another year, Captain Craig has much material to draw from in the pupil body, and the team will be organized early for the next season and will get plenty of the indoor work found so beneficial this year.

SPORTING NEWS.

THREE-BASE HITS.

The St. Mary baseball team is scheduled to meet Scotch Plains at the latter place Saturday.

Ramsey, the pitcher for the High Bridge baseball team, is making an enviable reputation this year. He is a country lad with an abundance of twisters to puzzle the best of batsmen. Last week he allowed the crack Flemington team but three hits and besides he struck out eleven men.

Result of Celebrations.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

After months of expectancy announcement is made that the new Krag-Jorgensen rifles, for which Governor Murphy and Quartermaster General Donnelly made requisition on the National Government, are ready to be turned over to the regiments of this State. The Fifth Regiment, which is the first to go into camp this summer, will be given the new arms on the arrival of the men at Sea Girt. Assurance is given that the other regiments will be supplied with the new rifles before the summer wanes, so that at the beginning of the drill season next fall the entire National Guard of the State will be equipped with improved arm, and the old gas-pipe Springfields relegated to the junk heap.

New Jersey has a National Guard contingent of which the State may well be proud, and the new arm will increase the efficiency of the regiments easily 100 per cent. If the State Military Board for an annual encampment for each regiment of the guard, instead of alternate years, as at present, the general efficiency of the New Jersey troops will be still further increased.—Newark Advertiser.

The City Union King's Daughters' baby camp on the mountain was opened today for the season and the first lot of children were received there by the matron, Mrs. DeLany and the King's Daughters' nurse, Miss Olive Z. DeLany. The camp has been put in first-class order and is now well equipped for the care and treatment of the children.

In addition to the accommodations provided last year there are six new cots and a new crib, together with cradles and regular beds. The camp has been furnished with an idea of giving comfort, not only to the children, but the mothers who will go there with their little ones.

Reed, president of the City Union, together with the members of the committee and others interested, will be at the camp at that time to receive the guests. Carriages will meet the cars at the end of the Somerset street trolley line between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock. It has also been arranged that members of the Junior Circles shall be present and serve light refreshments during the afternoon. The City Union King's Daughters are very anxious that the public shall know what is being done that they may become interested in this work. During the season Mrs. DeLany, matron, and Miss DeLany, nurse, will give their undivided attention to the work.

BOARD OF PROPRIETORS START FIGHT TO OUST FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

Board Takes Title From Owners of Grant Made by Charles II of England.

As counsel representing the Board of General Proprietors of the Eastern Division of New Jersey, Howard W. Hayes has brought suit in the United States Circuit Court, New York, to dispossess the United States Government from Ellis Island, now occupied by the Immigration Commissioners.

The Board of Proprietors is an incorporated body, succeeding the East Jersey Proprietors, who were the original owners of the grant made by Charles II, of England to the Duke of New York, and later assigned by him to Colonial Governor Carteret, whose authority then extended over the entire State of New Jersey and the Island of Manhattan

The bill filed in the suit, sets forth these facts, and alleges a valid claim under various grants and assignments to scattered parcels of land of the original grant, which have not passed by sale and quit claim deed to others.

The Board of General Proprietors of the Eastern Division of New Jersey was originally composed of twenty-four members, who held equal interest in the board. The present members are heirs of those who composed the original board. Francis M. Tichenor, of Elizabeth, is the chairman of the board, and Mr. Hayes, who acts as counsel, is one of its members. The board includes some of the oldest families in this State, among them being the Howells, Cobbs, Kirkpatricks, Keans, Stuyvesants, Pierponts, Morrises and Rutherfords. There are about fifty members of the board at present, and they meet semi-annually in Perth Amboy.

PLUMBERS STRIKE.

Difference Between Galbraith and One of His Men Causes a Tie-Up.

The journeymen plumbers this morning called out the men employed by Dennis Galbraith on North avenue and there are prospects of a general tie-up.

The trouble arose through one of Galbraith's men claiming that his employer owed him $2 as wages. Galbraith, on the other hand, declares that the man's work was defective, and on that ground refuses to pay the claim.

The discontented man reported the matter to the local union and it called out all ten men employed at that shop. If the employe's demands are not settled the journeymen say that before tomorrow morning a general strike of all the plumbers in this city will be called.

West End Hose Company Considers Matters Interesting to Its Members.

The question of holding a picnic this year was one of the chief topics discussed at the meeting of the members of the West End Hose Company last evening. The matter is still under advisement. Wanted His Twenty Cents.

Judge Mahon, in the police court at Elizabeth, N. J., fined yesterday Michael Harrison, a saloon-keeper, $22.85, the full penalty for Sunday selling. He paid without a murmur. Then Harrison declared 20 cents was on a table in the saloon when the police raiders entered and he missed the money after they left. He asked that the sum be refunded. His request was ignored by the court, and this seemed to annoy the lawbreaker more than the fine.

PROTECTING HEALTH ACROSS THE BROOK

North Plainfield's Board of Health Meets in Regular Session.

UNDERTAKER CENSURED

AUTHORITIES OBJECT TO IRREGULARITY IN BURIAL PERMIT.

After Former Mayor Saunders Now—No Odor in Alleged Drainpipe in White's Field—The Other Transactions.

An irregularity in the burial of Mrs. Catherine Finger, who died from pneumonia at her home on Pearl street a week ago, was reported to the North Plainfield Board of Health at the meeting last evening and the undertaker was severely censured. The woman was buried without a permit being issued by the borough authorities. A Dunellen undertaker had charge of the funeral arrangements.

It is alleged that the undertaker secured a permit from the registrar of Dunellen, Middlesex County, for the burial of a woman who had died in Somerset County. The funeral took place in North Plainfield and the interment was in Samptown Cemetery, Middlesex County.

There is a fine of $50 for the first offense for burying a body without a permit properly issued by the registrar of the town or borough in which the death occurs. The matter was considered by the Board at great length and the undertaker was severely censured but no fine was imposed.

The Board decided to prosecute Samuel M. Titus, of Howard street, for connecting a cesspool with a street gutter. A complaint was received by the Board to the effect that former Mayor William L. Saunders was virtually draining his stables into the Stony brook. The Board of Health inspector, William N. Pangborn and the secretary, Dr. W. E. Honeyman, stated that they discovered that manure, at an elevation above the surface of the brook, was washed into the stream by the rain. Notice will be sent to Mr. Saunders to have the nuisance abated.

By order of Mayor Smalley, a drain pipe in White's field in back of Groendyke's place in the borough had been dug up. Samples of the pipe were shown and it was announced that no solid matter was found in the drain and that there was no smell to it at any place. A. L. Smalley, Dr. W. E. Honeyman, William N. Pangborn and Andrew Love, president of the Board of Health, were present when the drain was dug up and they testified to the fact that there was no odor. Complaint was received regarding the race way along Green brook from Johnson's pond to Hyde's pond and this was referred to the inspector.

Mrs. Burroughs Buried.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Evalene Burroughs, of Somerset street, took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence. Rev. O. E. Herring was the officiating minister. Interment was in Fairview cemetery, Westfield. These were the bearers: John Johnson, Alvin Hoagland, Frank Urian, Clifford Braider, Charles McDougall and Russell Bond.

SWALLOWS PARIS GREEN

HIS WIFE SUBSEQUENTLY FINDS HIM WRITHING IN AGONY.

Native of Austria—A Resident of Scotch Plains for Twenty Years—He Leaves a Family—Interment to be at Stony Hill.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, July 7—Gustave Warta, a resident of this place for twenty years, died at his home at 1 o'clock this morning, the result of taking a dose of Paris green. For several days past Mr. Warta suffered from a spell of temporary insanity. Yesterday morning about 5 o'clock he left his bedroom, obtained a package of the poison and took a very large quantity of it.

The man's wife was in the house at the time. She subsequently discovered her husband in a state of excruciating pain. Dr. F. W. Westcott, the county physician, was summoned as quickly as possible and he worked over the man for some time. After much effort the physician succeeded in getting the poison out of his stomach, but owing to his advanced age and weakened condition, Mr. Warta was unable to survive the shock.

Mr. Warta was born in Austria and came to this place about twenty years ago. He was a laborer and was generally employed. He leaves a wife and two grown up children. The remains will be interred at Stony Hill.

TRANSFERS, PLEASE!

Elizabeth Council Takes Steps to Enforce Terms of Trolley Franchise.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, July 7—Common Council has cited the Public Service Corporation officials to a conference July 15, to show cause why all the trolley franchises in this city should not be revoked, because of the refusal of the corporation to make a general transfer system between all its lines here.

In the three franchises for the present corporation's local lines was inserted a clause requiring that if at any time there should be a change of ownership the party coming into possession should be obliged to give transfers to the other city lines.

Answer to this has been made by the corporation representative that while the corporation merged the several railway lines it merely took over the stock, without taking control of the details.

Circus Wagon Horses Felled Woman and Smash a Policeman's Bicycle.

One of the wagons of Pawnee Bill's Wild West show, drawn by eight horses, struck and injured Mrs. Dorgan, of Arlington avenue, on that thoroughfare last night after the performance. The accident occurred while the driver was trying to avoid a trolley car, the horses running into a telegraph pole, swerving to the other side of the street and knocking Mrs. Dorgan to the ground. She was badly bruised and cut and her back was sprained. Patrolman Saffron's wheel was trampled under foot while the officer was attempting to stop the horses.

CITY FATHERS ACT ON ROUTINE MATTERS

President Buckle Announces Committee on Proposed New Park.

AID FOR BAND CONCERTS

MONTHLY REPORTS OF CITY JUDGE AND BUILDING INSPECTOR READ.

Muhlenberg Hospital Not Exempt From Taxation — Leasing of Police Headquarters — Poor Insulation of Light Wires.

The July meeting of the Common Council held last evening, was devoid of particularly interesting features. A petition from the Plainfield Real Estate Company and other business men occupying offices near the corner of North and Watchung avenue, petitioned the Council to secure toilet rooms for the travelling public at the trolley terminus. On Mr. Lee's motion the petition was referred to the Board of Health.

Another petition was received from Benjamin LaVere asking for an appropriation from the city for band concerts. He stated that public spirited citizens had subscribed enough money for three concerts and it was desired to give a series of eight. The cost of each concert is $70. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

The Plainfield Produce Commission Company, of North avenue, petitioned for the privilege of erecting an awning in front of its place of business, 132 North avenue, and the erection of a railing leading to the basement. The petition was referred to the fire and building committee.

Residents of Darrow avenue protested against the proposed rasing of the grade on that avenue when it is macadamized. They stated that Street Commissioner Gavett had informed them that such a raise could be avoided if a storm sewer is installed in the avenue and the property owners asked that this be done. The matter was referred to the street committee.

The Plainfield Electric Light Company informed the Council that four lights, recently ordered, have been located as directed. The quarterly report of City Judge Runyon showed that 167 cases had been before him and $213 in fines collected. The expenses for the quarter amounted to $4 and the balance was turned over to the city treasurer. Building Inspector Doane reported that during the past month twenty-three permits were granted.

Regarding the request from the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital for exemption from tax on its property corner of Park avenue and Randolph road, Mr. Daniel presented an opinion from Corporation Counsel Marsh stating that this cannot legally be done. The clerk was instructed to so notify the Board of Governors.

In accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. Daniel, L. Moralier & Son, the Park avenue jewelers, were given the contract to take care of the town clock for one year for $30. This is practically a renewal of last year's contract and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Pray reported on the petition of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital asking that Randolph road in front of the hospital property be graded and macadamized, and stated that the work would be done as soon as possible. Mr. Pray also reported on the petition of residents in the West End asking that Dunellen avenue be extended through to Myrtle avenue, North Plainfield, and that the name of the thoroughfare be changed to Myrtle avenue. He offered a resolution authorizing that a map of the proposed street and extension be made and that the same be opened and extended provided the borough will do its share of the work. This was assured by Mr. Lee, who stated that Mayor Smalley had informed him that the borough would do its share toward the improvement.

Mr. Lee, chairman of the fire and building committee, reported that one of the condemned fire horses had been sold for $125.

Mr. Randolph, chairman of the police committee, presenetd a letter from Corporation Counsel Marsh stating that the lease between the city and J. B. Coward and J. W. Murray, owners of the police headquarters' property had been drafted and approved and urging its adoption by the Council. The agreement provides for the leasing of the first and second stories of the building used as police headquarters, a right-of-way from East Front street to the rear of the property, but Mr. Randolph's resolution authorizing the adoption of the lease on the part of the city was laid over for a time for the reason that the instrument fails to give the city the use of the land back of police headquarters. This omission was discovered by Mr. Tyler and upon his recommendation the matter was laid over. The lease also provides for the right to remove the cells in the jail, as well as to erect a stable for the occupancy of the patrol horse and wagon.

In accordance with the request of Mayor Jenkins that a committee of fifteen men, five from the Council and ten from the various wards, be appointed to inquire into the advisability of establishing a city park along the lines as proposed by the Mayor, President Buckle appointed the following: From the Council—J. F. Buckle, W. S. Tyler, Robert L. Lee, Jan. vanHerwerden and R. I. Tolles; First ward—L. V. F. Randolph, Moses Schloss; Second ward—S. A. Ginna, DeWitt C. Ivins, Geo. P. Mellick; Third ward—E. T. Barrows, Alex. Gilbert, P. V. R. VanWyck; Fourth ward—Andrew McCardell and Arthur T. Gallup.

Mr. Buckle stated, by way of explanation, that it would probably be some time before the committee would be prepared to report as there are many things to be many things to be considered regarding the improvement.

Mr. Daniel called up the supplement to the tax ordinance providing for the issuance of the school bond and collection of taxes therefore and on his motion the ordinance was adopted on its third reading. He also offered a resolution providing that H. C. VanEmburgh make the necessary changes in the city map for the past year at an expense not to exceed $100. Another resolution by Mr. Daniel provided for the transfer of $3,500 from the general to the fire fund and $600 from the general to the poor fund. Still another resolution by the same member provided that in the matter of the new school bonds, the finance committee be authorized to confer with the successful bidders Ladenburg, Thalman & Co., for an extension of time in the issuance of the bonds for two months from July 1, last, for the delivery of the same. This action was necessary owing to a delay in getting the bonds ready.

Mr. Pray called up the ordinance providing for the permanent improvement of certain streets and it was adopted on a third reading. He also offered a resolution authorizing Street Commissioner Gavett to prepare profiles and specifications for this work.

Mr. Tyler called the attention of the Council to a letter which he received from Ernest R. Ackerman in which the latter spoke of the poor insulation found in the electric light wires in the city park. Mr. Ackerman believed that the city would be liable in case of any damage or injury therefrom. At the suggestion of President Buckle the matter was referred to the light committee. This committee will make an investigation of the electric wiring about the city streets and have the matter attended to without delay.

DETECTIVE FINDS MISSING GOVERNESS

Mrs. King, Who Dropped From Sight Sunday, Located at Last.

TALE OF WANDERINGS

SHE LEAVES THE CITY IN COMPANY WITH A STRANGER.

Exciting Experiences While in This Locality—Formerly a Governess at Alexander Mack's—Going Back to Montreal.

The mystery surrounding the strange disappearance of Mrs. King, a governess in the home of Alex Mack at Somerville, last Sunday morning, while in this city, was solved late last night, when the woman was located and brought to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Smith, of Washington avenue, where she now is. This evening she will leave for her old home in Montreal, Canada.

Since coming to this part of the country about six weeks ago, Mrs. King's life has been a series of exciting experiences. She was an intimate friend of Mr. and Mrs. Smith and for five years was a governess in the home of Mrs. Smith's sisters family in Montreal. A month ago she became governess in the home of Mr. Mack at Somerville. According to a story which she told to her borough friends recently, there were reasons why she did not like the new position.

Arrangements were then made that she could come to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith last Sunday morning. A telephone message received from her early that morning informed them of the fact. A little later Mrs. Smith received a second telephone message from a man, who claimed to be at Somerville, stating that Mrs. King would not arrive in Plainfield until evening. This second message aroused Mrs. Smith's suspicion and an investigation was started by her husband. He learned that the second message came from a local restaurant in North avenue. This fact made Mr. Smith more suspicious and when he telephoned to Somerville he was told that nothing was known there of the second message.

In the meantime, Miss Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Smith, went to the North Avenue Station on her wheel and met Mrs. King, according to the original plans. A carriage was engaged to take her and her trunk to the home of the Smiths. Miss Smith started on ahead on her wheel and supposed, of course, that her guest was following in the carriage. She had gone some distance when she discovered otherwise.

It was then learned that just as Mrs. King was about to leave the station, a strange man called to her and, according to her story, he represented himself as a friend of Mr. Mack and offered to amicably adjust all existing trouble so that she would not have to leave her place. She believed him and at his solicitation accompanied him, leaving her trunk at the station.

Mrs. King's story is that she and the strange man, whom she says she does not know, got into a carriage and started off toward Somerville, as she supposed. Instead, they went to Scotch Plains, where they stopped at a hotel. Soon afterward, the man suggested that, as she looked tired a glass of wine would be refreshing. He went out and soon returned with the wine, which she drank. After telling her that he would go and get a lawyer to adjust matters, the man left the room and Mrs. King says she does not remember anything further until some hours later. When she aroused from her long sleep she discovered that all her money was gone and she could not find the man who acompanied her and inquiry about the hotel failed to disclose his whereabouts.

She then came back to Plainfield and was located late last evening by detectives which Mr. Smith had employed on the case. At first Mrs. King refused to accompany the detectives, but when they displayed their badges of authority she accompanied them to the home of the Smiths where she is now stopping prior to leaving for home tonight.

Mr. Smith, in speaking to a representative for The Press about the matter, said that Mrs. King is a woman of excepitonal character. At her home in Montreal she was actively engaged in church work, being organist in a church as well as a Sunday-school teacher. He cannot understand her willingness to go away with a stranger, unless it was because she had implicit faith in him and believed that he intended to adjust whatever troubles she might have had.

John Entwistle, a machinist at the Potter Press Works, made an incredible record Saturday at a private exhibition shoot on his farm at Rockview Heights. Mr. Entwistle told a few of his admiring friends about it afterwards, announcing that he had scored 100 bulls-eye out of a possible 100. He also said he gave a phenomenal exhibition of fancy shooting, holding his weapon under his arm, behind his back and in other extraordinary positions, hitting the mark ten times out of nine. His most remarkable feat was to close one eye, hold his hand, fingers extended, in front of his face, stand on one leg and shoot the bulls-eye with the other. This was his one attempt that failed. Mr. Entwistle's reports of his achievements, according to unimpeachable testimony, are quite as accurate as his shooting.

AMUSEMENTS.

Down in New York's shopping district, at Proctor's Twenty-third Street house, a cracker-jack show has been scheduled for the week. Falke and Semon, pioneers of musical comedy, will officiate as headliners. Kine and Gotthold in a bright comedy sketch, entitled "One Touch of Nature;" Louis Fialokowski, animal imitator; Derenda and Breen, "Rube" acrobats; Mozart Comedy Four, comedians; Meredith Sisters, creole comedians, and twenty other good acts will complete the splendid bill.

The only strictly dramatic attraction now remaining on Broadway, New York, is "The Earl of Pawtucket" at the Manhatten Theatre. This delightful comedy is in the sixth month of its career with no decrease in attendance. The 150th performance has come and gone. Next week the part of Harriet Fordyce, the principal female support to Mr. D'Orsay, will be assumed by Teresa Maxwell, late leading lady with the Warde-James organization, who made a pronounced hit in each roles as Francesca in "Francesca di Rimini" and Miranda in "The Tempest." The Wednesday and Saturday matinees continue to be popular with suburbanites, and will be continued throughout the summer.

Blanche Ring in "The Blonde in Black" enters upon its second month of its career the coming week at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York. In its condensed form, with the addition of several breezy and popular songs and the swinging in line of some more contemporaneous humor Manager George W. Lederer feels he has a summer production thoroughly appropriate to the requirements of the patrons of this house. Miss Ring has made special hits with her rendering of "She Walks Like This," "Ze American Ragtime" and "The Banjo Serenado," and she now sings "The Belle of Avenue A" regularly.

LEO'S LIFE EBBING.

His Holinsss Is Unmistakably Sinking.

EXTREME UNCTION ADMINISTERED.

Dr. Lapponi States That the Low Temperature Is the Grave Symptom, and No Consoling News Can Be Given.

ROME, July 7.—The condition of the pope has grown worse, and the news, together with the tone of the last bulletin, has caused the gravest alarm. Dr. Lapponi said that it was necessary to keep up the pontiff's strength through artificial respiration.

The change for the worse in Pope Leo's condition is augmenting rapidly. His holiness is unmistakably sinking, so that Dr. Lapponi, alarmed, consulted with the pope's relatives, Cardinal Rampolla and other ecclesiastics, who decided that extreme unction should be given, and it was administered by Mgr. Pifferi, Pope Leo's confessor.

Dr. Lapponi during his brief absence from the Vatican was asked regarding the august patient and said: "Unfortunately I cannot give you any really consoling news. I cannot share the optimism which is spreading, which is not owing to a definite change for the better, but to the spirit of the pope, who is giving further proof that his indefatigable energy continues.

"The truth is that the pontiff's condition is stationary, which means that it is very grave.

"The worst symptom, apart from the feebleness of the pontiff's pulse, is his low temperature, which is stationary at 31 centigrade. He continues to take nourishment at short intervals, but not in such quantities as his weakness requires or his doctors wish. Nothing medical science can suggest and his organism can stand has been left untried; for instance, oxygen, cutaneous revulsives, digitalis and caffeine, which have also been injected to produce more rapid effect.

"The disease, as announced in the first bulletin, is senile pneumonia in a torpid form, which is now at its maximum intensity, but which may have begun unobserved before the pope complained of any feeling of illness."

For the last three hours the pope has remained motionless. He has refused all nourishment and is sinking rapidly. The body is assuming the stiffness of death. All present in the chamber are praying.

Repeated doses of chloral have enabled the pontiff to sleep; but, contrary to previous nights, artificial respiration is continued, and Dr. Lapponi goes every five minutes to the bedside to observe the patient and listen to his breathing.

Great activity reigns among the cardinals now that it is sure that a conclave cannot be far off. It is even said that there has been an exchange of telegrams in cipher between the members of the Sacred college in Rome and those in the provinces or abroad.

Innumerable rumors are circulating, and scarcely any cardinal is deprived of the flattery of being considered a candidate. The candidates who are regarded as having a fair chance are Cardinal Svampa, archbishop of Bologna, and Cardinal Richelmy, archbishop of Turin. Cardinal Rampolla is thought by many to have the best chances of being elected. According to the most accredited Vatican gossip, however, Cardinal Rampolla has entered into an agreement with Cardinal Gotti, prefect of the Congregation of the Propaganda, to support the election of the latter on condition that he himself be appointed [illegible] as prefect of the Propaganda, the holder of which post is [illegible] Pope.

Canal Works Against Treaty.

PANAMA, Colombia, July 7.—Up to the present nothing of exceptional importance has been done by the Colombian congress at Bogota. It seems that neither congress nor the president wishes to assume the responsibility of the ratification of the Hay-Herran canal treaty. Ex-President Caro, the political enemy of President Marroquin, is doing his best to prevent congress approving the treaty. He says that President Marroquin should defend the treaty before its discussion by congress, not leaving to the house the responsibility for the ratification of his work.

Doctor's Death From Yellow Fever.

MOBILE, Ala., July 7.—Dr. R. B. Parker, who was inspector on the steamer Mount Vernon, was taken ill on the voyage up from Port Limon and who was sent with the vessel to the government quarantine station at Ship island, Miss., has died there from yellow fever. Dr. Parker came from Cincinnati three weeks ago to fill this post, and this was his first trip back from Costa Rica.

Drowned in Chicopee River.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 7.—George Martell of Chicopee, aged eighteen years, was drowned in the Chicopee river. He was swimming across with a companion. When his companion reached the opposite bank he was informed by the gesticulations of men on shore that Martell had sunk. The young man was subject to cramps.

Japan Is Ready For War.

LONDON, July 7.—The opinion prevails in Russian circles that the outbreak of hostilities in the far east is inevitable. The Japanese are mobilizing their forces, and it is thought at Tientsin that in the event of a war with Russia everything would favor the Japanese, who are certainly in a better state of preparation.

July Clearing Sale!

Tremendous Sacrificing of Remaining Summer Stocks.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF, and the mere announcement of this regularly occurring semi-annual mid-summer event insures a selling siege of almost unparalleled proportions. The most brilliant of all past great bargain-giving achievements completely eclipsed—thousands of dollars' worth of high grade, seasonable and staple merchandise of every description to be disposed of for from One-Quarter to a Third Off and Half Former Markings.

A clean sweep of surplus stocks, odd lots and broken assortments—a movement made imperative by our invariable rule which forbids carrying goods from one season into another, and the following quotations on a few of the innumerable lines involved are merely evidences of the money-saving possibilities of a sale without precedent for comparison. With an augmented force of salespeople and improved facilities, comfortable shopping, even during the busiest time, is absolutely assured. Mail or telephone orders will be filled as far as quantities will permit, but many advantages are to be gained by those who visit any or all of our departments during the next few days. Doors open at half-past eight.

HONORS FOR COTTON

American European Squadron at Portsmouth.

CITY IS FULL OF AMERICAN FLAGS

Entertainments Galore Await the Admiral, His Captains and Officers—Hospitality of England Will Evince Her Friendship.

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 7.—In the midst of the entertainment of President Loubet England has not neglected to make full preparations for the reception of Rear Admiral Cotton's squadron here today. Sir Archibald Berkeley Milne, the commodore of the royal yachts, specially detailed by King Edward, had a long conference with Sir Charles Hatham, the admiral commanding at Portsmouth, and Lord Charles Beresford, commanding the channel squadron, regarding the details of the reception. The heavy weather in the channel, however, unexpectedly drove the Kearsarge, San Francisco and Chicago into Spithead.

As soon as the news was communicated to Admiral Hotham the vessels of the channel squadron began to twinkle a welcome with their electric lights, but beyond this there was no demonstration. The gunboat Machias has not yet arrived, but is expected to join Admiral Cotton very shortly.

The British squadron at Portsmouth is more formidable in offensive power than the channel squadron, which received President Loubet at Dover.

The city is decorated with the British and American colors. The American war ships assembled at Spithead will enter this morning into Portsmouth harbor, passing through the line of the British vessels, which will fire salutes. This compliment will be returned by the Kearsarge and her consorts, which will be escorted to their berths in the inner harbor.

Official calls will then be exchanged by Lord Charles Beresford, Admiral Milne and Rear Admiral Cotton. The entertainment will be robbed somewhat of the spectacular character of the ceremonies at Kiel, since King Edward, unlike the German emperor, will be unable to be present. Admiral Hotham will be the host, giving a dinner at the Admiralty House, which will be attended by Admiral Cotton, Flag Lieutenant Hussey, Flag Secretary Mannix and the captains of the American war ships. The fleets will be illuminated.

Besides the entertainments at Portsmouth Admiral Cotton, his captains and Naval Attache Stockton will be the guests of honor at a dinner at the London house of the Earl of Selborne, first lord of the admiralty. Later, accompanied by twenty-three other officers of the squadron, they will attend the state ball given in honor of President Loubet at Buckingham palace.

The American officers also will be entertained at breakfast by the Pilgrims club, and afterward Admiral Cotton, the captains of the American vessels and United States Naval Attache Stockton will dine with the king at Buckingham palace.

The lord mayor will give the American officers a luncheon at the Mansion House, and they will attend a dinner given by Ambassador Choate at the American embassy, to which King Edward has been invited, but it is feared that his majesty will be unable to attend. The entertainment ends with a ball given at Portsmouth, Rear Admiral Cotton will return some of the courtesies extended to the American squadron by giving a reception and a dinner on the Kearsarge.

Captain Shoots Deserter Dead.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 7.—Captain Willard of the schooner Helen Whitten of Gloucester, Mass., has shot and killed one of his crew named Patrick Yetman at Cape Broyle. The schooner had put into Broyle harbor for bait and was ready for sea when Yetman refused to go and, jumping into a dory, attempted to cut the painter and leave the vessel. The captain ordered him to stop. Yetman refused, and Captain Willard then drew his revolver and emptied five barrels at the sailor. One shot penetrated his heart, and Yetman fell dead in the boat. Captain Willard has been arrested and will be brought to St. John's for trial. The victim was a Newfoundlander, and his death has aroused indignation here.

Leather Workers Will Assist Strike.

LYNN, Mass., July 7.—The strike of leather workers in a big tannery at Milwaukee, Wis., held the attention of the convention of the Leather Workers' Union of America during a large part of the session. It was stated that of ten tanneries in that city originally affected by the strike all but one have made a settlement with the strikers. One thousand men employed by this company are still out on strike, and the national organization voted to extend financial and other assistance to aid them in continuing the struggle.

Thunderbolt Killed Two.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 7.—A special from Louisburg, N. C., says that during a violent storm lightning struck the residence of Mr. F. M. Davis, who lives four miles north from Louisburg. The flash instantly killed his little son Otty, aged seven years, and Miss Nannie Dean, his wife's sister, aged about thirty years. Other members of the family were shocked, but none of them seriously hurt.

Sent $35,000 For Chinese Famine.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Acting Secretary Loomis received through the mails the check for $10,000 from the Christian Herald promised last week on account of the famine sufferers in China. This makes a total of $35,000 contributed to the Chinese relief work through the efforts of this paper.

Plainfield, N. J., July 7, 1903.

The merchant who does no advertising has at least one advantage. He can take a vacation at almost any time without danger of losing much business.

Some papers are making much ado over the fact that New York has a woman stage manager. Quite appropriate. Who else is more capable of leading others a dance?

A cigarette dope over in New York attempted to kill himself by drinking four bottles of whiskey. This being unsuccessful he smoked eighteen packs of cigarettes, which came much nearer to ending his existence.

The women of a Trenton musical organization rather than sink their identity decline to merge with the men, who have a similar club. This is one instance in which a woman refuses to give up her name.

Now that the park committee has been appointed let no time be lost in fulfilling the object of its existence. The people want a pleasure ground and it is up to the committee to decide whether it is advisable, particularly from a financial standpoint.

The woman who committed suicide because her husband refused to take her to Coney Island left a valuable legacy in the shape of a free ad to the island. Possibly there are other patrons of the resort who feel more like making away with themselves after rather than before a visit.

It has been found that an act of the Legislature prevents the loan of a flag, now stored at the State House, to California for purposes of exhibition. Under the law the flags and relics owned by New Jersey must not be taken out of the State. Wise legislation. Why hasn't some one thought of such a scheme to prevent the junketing trips with the Liberty Bell?

The discouraging news from the Pope's bedside awakens nothing but deepest regret and sympathy. Creed differences at this time are forgotten in the admiration which the high qualities of mind of the dying churchman, his achievements for the advancement of peace and the interests of civilization among the nations, and the beauty of his life and character compel.

When Councilman Tyler's term is ended the citizens of this city no doubt will be able to glance at a record hard to surpass. Once more he has saved the municipality needless expense. What was overlooked by the others did not escape his watchful eye. In the new lease for the police headquarters the Third ward representative discovered that there was no provision regarding the grounds in the rear of the premises upon which the city contemplates erecting a stable. The Third ward is well represented in the Common Council.

On Sundays and Wednesday evenings in August Prof. G. E. Knox, of Union Theological Seminary, will occupy the pulpit.

Communion services were held Sunday morning in four of the local churches and at each new members were received. At the First M. E. Church three persons were received into full membership from probation. One was received by letter at the Monroe Avenue Church and at the Congregational Church Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, of Bound Brook, were received by letter. Five persons were received on confession and four by letter at the First Presbyterian Church.

The first excursion of the season to Asbury Park will go Thursday under the auspices of the First Baptist Church Sunday-schools. Everything points to a successful outing as the weather conditions are all to be desired. The train will leave Plainfield at 8 o'clock in the morning, returning will leave the Park at 6:30. The usual low rate for outsiders will prevail. All members of the Sunday-schools, including the Home Department, will be carried free.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The residents of the other end of the township are agitating a movement for increased school accommodations They claim that the little one room schoolhouse at Willow Grove is far too small to accommodate all the children if they were sent there; another reason advanced is that the building is too far removed from Alton that it is far more convenient to have the children from this end go to the Plainfield schools. The matter was brought before the Board of Education at a special meeting held last Tuesday night. Nothing definite was done as the board is powerless in the matter without the voice of the taxpayers. The committee were advised to put their petition in proper form before the board and then they could call a special school meeting for the purpose of deciding the question. The petition is being circulated and a call for the meeting will no doubt be issued in the near future. The residents, if they are successful, want the new building placed at Two Bridges. This is a central location, being about half way between Alton and Willow Grove.

AFTER THE CLOUDBURST.

Loss of Life Near Jeannette May Reach Seventy-five.

PITTSBURG, July 7.—It was estimated that the loss of life through the disastrous cloudburst and flood at Oakford park will reach fully seventy-five. Twenty bodies have been recovered so far, but most of them are unidentified.

The disaster is the worst in this neighborhood since the Johnstown flood. The loss of life was mainly caused by the bursting of the dam at Oakford park, near Jeannette, about thirty miles from Pittsburg. Many of those killed were drowned, some were crushed by timbers and others were burned and shocked to death by coming in contact with falling electric wires.

The loss of life was not confined to the neighborhood of Oakford park. West Penn station, Jeannette, Manor and little towns by the score were swept by the water from the dam and the flood that poured out of dozens of little creeks. The bridge crossing Brush creek at Manor was carried away, 100 people on it escaping. The house of Silas Schroeder was washed away, carrying with it the body of Mrs. Schroeder, who had died of typhoid fever.

M. A. Coffee, the superintendent of the traction company that owns the park at Oakford park, said that he estimated the number of those killed at the park at forty, but he says his estimate is very conservative. Sidney McLain was caught by the edge of the torrent pouring from the dam, grasped an electric wire and is not expected to live. Walter Hawthorne was caught in the flood after it had spread to the wider part of the valley. He caught hold of a floating telegraph pole and was saved. Three members of a family were rescued from the roof of their house as they floated past Manor station. None of the dead at the park has been identified as yet.

TRIAL SATISFIES LIPTON.

Shamrock III. Beats Old Challenger Reaching and Running.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Shamrock III covered a thirty mile course off Sandy Hook yesterday six minutes and eighteen seconds faster than Shamrock I. It was a broad reach of fifteen miles to the outer mark and a long leg close hauled back to the finish line.

Reaching and running are Shamrock I.'s best points of sailing. Sir Thomas Lipton and Designer Fife were satisfied with the new boat's showing in reaching, but they were delighted with the splendid fashion in which she beat the old boat in a five mile thrash to windward after the finish of the race.

In the latter trial the new cup hunter sailed through the lee of Shamrock I. in less than ten minutes, worked up from the lee to a position fairly ahead of the old boat and then passed to windward of her, outpointing and outfooting her and beating her an eighth of a mile dead to windward.

An eight to twelve knot breeze made racing conditions all that could be desired.

Drifting Toward War.

VIENNA, July 7.—According to the Austrian foreign office, semiofficial reports received here indicate that the situation between Bulgaria and Turkey has become more serious. Bulgaria appears unwilling to consider the admonitions of the great powers to maintain peace notwithstanding the note sent to Sofia in which Bulgaria was warned that Austria and Russia were absolutely in accord and that the Bulgarian complaints against Turkey were considered to be much exaggerated. In official quarters, however, it is still hoped that Bulgaria under the pressure of the whole of Europe will recognize how hopeless will be the situation of the principality in the event of Bulgaria commencing war on Turkey.

Georgia Will Educate the Negro.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 7.—The house of representatives of the Georgia legislature after a heated debate killed by an overwhelming vote the resolution providing that in the distribution of money to common schools the county authorities should apportion the money among schools for whites and colored youths according to the taxable property of the two races. The debate showed that the sentiment of the Georgia legislators is that the state should contribute to the limit of its ability to the common school education of the colored youth, even when the burden falls almost entirely upon white taxpayers.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

SMART DUST COATS.

They Are Prettily Trimmed With Tassels and Embroidery.

Applique motifs of lace or handsome insertion are liberally used, and tassels, tabs and shaped frills are all popular on dust wraps.

Some of the wraps are full length, but the majority are three-quarters.

There are many cloths now used for coats which have a waterproof surface or some particular finish which renders them impervious to clouds of dust and showers of rain. The smart wraps, however, are in a soft make of taffeta or louisine and may be as beautiful as one pleases. The prettiest perhaps are those draped with capuchin effects of contrasting shades. Thus a pale biscuit wrap has a hood of sky blue and a small over collar of lace, the sleeves being also turned back with sky blue and lace.

A charming dust wrap seen recently was of accordion plaited alpaca in the form of a pelisse caught in at the waist with a fancy embroidered belt. The large sleeves had embroidered cuffs.

The yachting costume shown herewith is of white alpaca trimmed with navy blue taffeta.

New and Dainty Shirt Waists—Afternoon Lawn Costumes.

The new batiste and linen shirt waists are particularly charming. They are embroidered in linen thread and, although simple, possess a good deal of style. They are admirably suited for morning wear with the full, short skirt.

A smart little afternoon frock of grass lawn was worn over a pale grass green petticoat made with several rows of gaugings around the waist and finished with five large tucks near the hem. A cape collar of coarse lace and grass lawn was fastened down under a pale green taffeta swathed band, and the blouse underneath was entirely of gauged grass lawn. With this was worn a pale green sailor hat simply trimmed with a wreath of black velvet balls.

Another smart linen costume had a kilted skirt with a yoke of embroidery in a deep red shade, the waist being trimmed to correspond.

Grass lawn mixes well with the new make of macrame lace or, for that matter, with any coarse lace which has character in its design.

The waist illustrated is of black china silk trimmed with embroidered squares of white.

An Absent Minded Teacher.

Neander, professor of theology in Berlin, was one day overtaken by a thunderstorm. He jumped into a cab, but could not give either the number of his house or the name of the street. The driver thought the man was mad and was about to tell him to get out when the professor, espying a student, called out to him and said, "Just tell the man where I live."

Neander's sister, who kept house for the professor, took fresh apartments nearer the university, as she thought the distance too great for her brother. A few days after their removal he complained of the long and tiring walk, and it then turned out that he had gone first to the old lodgings and so around to the university.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1902, by The Robert Company.

And now Mrs. Ray, on the north piazza, with Webb by her side and Nannie Blake, Mrs. Dade and Esther in close attendance, was briefly telling the major what she had seen up stream. One glance through Sandy's glass had told her the little fellow had not watched in vain. Then with the ready binocular, she had turned to the Indian encampment up the Platte, and almost instantly saw signs of commotion—squaws and children running about, ponies running away and Indian boys pursuing. Then, one after another, three Indians—warriors, presumably—had lashed away northward and she had sent Sandy on the run to tell the major, even while keeping watch on this threatening three until they shot behind a long, low ridge that stretched southward from the foothills. Beyond doubt they were off in hopes of bagging that solitary horseman, speeding with warning of some kind for the shelter of Fort Frayne.

By this time there must have been nearly two hundred men, women and children lining the crest of the bluff, and speaking in low, tense voices when they spoke at all, and straining their eyes for the next sight of the coming ecurier or the swift dash of the intercepting Sioux. Well out now, and riding at the gallop, Blake and his half dozen, widely separating so as to cover much of the ground, were still in view, and Dade and his officers breathed more freely. "See what a distance those beggars of Stabber's will have to ride," said the veteran captain to the little group about him. "They dare not cross the ridge short of three miles out. It's my belief they'll see Blake and never cross at all."

Then up rose a sudden shout. "There he is!" "There he comes!" "See!" "See!" and 50 hands pointed eagerly northeastward where a little black dot had suddenly popped into view out of some friendly, winding watercourse, four miles still away, at least count, and far to the right and front of Blake's easternmost trooper. Every glass was instantly brought to bear upon the swiftly coming rider, Sandy's shrill young voice ringing out from the upper window. "It isn't one of papa's men. His horse is a gray!" Who then could it be? and what could it mean, this coming of a strange courier from a direction so far to the east of the traveled road? Another moment and up rose another shout. "Look!"—"There they are!" "Sioux for certain!" And from behind a little knob or knoll on the meridian ridge three other black dots had swept into view and were shooting eastward down the gradual slope. Another moment and they were swallowed up behind still another low divide, but in that moment they had seen and been seen by the westernmost of Blake's men, and now, one after another, as the signals swept from the left, the seven swerved. Their line of direction had been west of north. Now, riding like mad, they veered to the northeast, and a grand race was on between the hidden three and the would-be rescuers—all heading for the low-rolling prairie where the lone courier might next be expected to come into view—friends and foes alike, unconscious of the fact that, following one of those crooked arroyos with its stiff and precipitous banks, he had been turned from his true course full three-quarters of a mile, and now, with a longer run, but a clear field ahead, was steering straight for Frayne.

CHAPTER VIII.

But Frayne was far from done with excitement for the day. For a while all eyes seemed centered on the chase, now scattered miles toward the east, and, save for two of the number left behind, blown, spent and hopelessly out of the race, soon lost to view among the distant swales and ravines. Then everyone turned to welcome the coming harbinger, to congratulate him on his escape, to demand the reason for his daring essay. Gregg and his men were first to reach him, and while one of them was seen through the leveled glass to dismount and give the courier his fresh horse, thereby showing that the gray was well-nigh exhausted, the whole party turned slowly toward the post. Then one of their number suddenly darted forth from the group and came spurring at top speed straight for the ford.

"That means news of importance," said Webb, at the instant. "And Gregg and all of his squad are coming in—not following Blake. That means he and they are more needed elsewhere. Come on, Mr. Ross. We'll go down and meet that fellow. Orderly, have my horse sent to the ford." So, followed the three or four younger officers—the married men being restrained, as a rule, by protesting voices, close at hand—the commanding officer went slipping and sliding down a narrow, winding pathway, a mere goat track, many of the soldiers following at a respectful distance, while all the rest of the gathered throng remained at the crest, eagerly, almost breathlessly, awaiting the result. They saw the trooper come speeding in across the flats from the northeast: saw as he reached the "bench" that he was spurring hard; heard, even at the distance, the batter of hoofs upon the resounding sod; could almost hear the fierce panting of the racing steed; saw horse and rider come plunging down the bank and into the stream, and shoving breast-deep through the foaming waters; then issue dripping, on the hither shore, where, turning loose his horse, the soldier leaped from saddle and saluted his commander. But only those about the major heard the stirring message:

"Captain Gregg's compliments, sir. It's Rudge from the Dry Fork. Sergeant Kelly feared that Kennedy hadn't got through, for most of Lame Wolf's people pulled away from the Fork yesterday morning, coming this way, and the sergeant thought it was to unite with Stabber to surround any small command that might be sent ahead from here. Rudge was ordered to make a wide sweep to the east, so as to get around them, and that's what took him so long. He left not two hours after Kennedy."

In spite of his years of frontier service and training in self-control, Webb felt, and others saw, that his face was paling. Ray, with only 50 men at his back, was now out of sight—out of reach—of the post and probably face to face with, if not already surrounded by, the combined forces of the Sioux. Not a second did he hesitate. Among the swarm that had followed him was a young trumpeter of "K" troop, reckless of the fact that he should be at barracks, packing his kit. As luck would have it, there at his back hung the brazen clarion, held by its yellow braid and cord. "Boots and saddles, Kerry, quick!" ordered the major, and as the ringing notes re-echoed from bluff and building wall and came laughing back from the distant crags at the south, the little throng at the bank and the crowd at the point of the bluff, had scattered like startled coveys—the men full run for the barracks and stables, never stopping to "reason why."

DIRE DISTRESS.

It Is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Plainfield Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back.

Backache is the kidneys' cry for help.

Profit by a Plainfield citizen's experience.

Mr. Charles Giese, cigar manufacturer, of 25 Elm place, says: "I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint for two or three years. Most of the pain was in my back and hips and I could not stoop or straighten without feeling sharp shooting twinges. When I sat for any length of time I grew stiff and sore and was compelled to get up and move about. I grew so bad I had to do something for it. I had read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills being such good medicine for kidney troubles so I got a box of them at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I used them according to directions and after two or three days I felt better. I continued their use until the pain disappeared."

For sale by all dealers; price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Tankard Wins Stirrup Cup.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The Stirrup Cup steeplechase, the feature of the card at Sheepshead Bay, was won easily by the favorite, Tankard, with Adjidaumo second and Howard Gratz third. This race is for gentlemen jockeys, and seven good timber toppers faced the starter. Higbie made the running for about one and a half miles, when he gave way to the favorite. Coming to the Liverpool jump the second time around, Higbie fell, but his rider, Kelly, remounted and started after his field. At the last jump Howard Gratz fell, and Kelly began to ride hard. Evans had caught his horse, Howard Gratz, and mounted as Kelly was passing him. In a head and head finish for the third money Howard Gratz gained the decision by a head. Evans was loudly cheered when he returned to the scales. Dublin, carrying 124 pounds and making all the pace, won the fifth race at one mile in the fast time of 1:38 4-5.

Alan-a-Dale Beats Track Record.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Alan-a-Dale, who reduced the world's mile record (circular track) to 1:37 3-5 last week at Washington park, won at a mile and seventy yards in 1:43 1-5, knocking two-fifths of a second off the track record. The performance was remarkable in view of the track conditions. Alan-a-Dale won just as he pleased from Jack Demund. His price was 1 to 3. Gregor K. beat Bondage in the mile and a sixteenth race. Peter Paul was a handy winner of the two-year-old event. Lute, backed from 15 down to 4 to 1 by E. Corrigan and his friends, won the first race.

Munro's Grand Riding.

DETROIT, July 7.—Munro's riding was the feature of the racing at Highland park. He had the mount on three of the first four winners and was second in the other event. Jockey Hopkins, on Moreta, was thrown in the first race and badly injured by being stepped on. Diamontina went down in the second race, but Rider T. Dean was unhurt. Sailor Lad, favorite at evens, carried a big bunch of money in the fifth number, and his winning by a nose brought horse and jockey, J. Walsh, an ovation.

Fine Finish at Delmar.

During the month of August the only regular play on the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club will be for the Golf Committee cup. This is so arranged owing to so many of the members being away from the city being away from the city during that month.

The golf schedule for the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club for Saturday includes the second round match play for the Club Championship and Consolation cups and the Woman's Handicap cup in the morning, and the semi-finals in the afternoon for the Championship and Consolation cups. The finals for the Championship and Consolation cups will be played Saturday, July 18, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

BASE ON BALLS.

In a game of baseball Saturday, the Somerset Street A. C. defeated the Willow Grove A. C. by a score of 11 to 10.

Manager MacLaughlin, of the Alis team, is authority for the statement that hereafter "Warry" MacLaughlin will pitch for the team. This should insure a nine capable of meeting the strongest semi-professional clubs in the Metropolitan district.

The Holy Cross choir boys were defeated by the North Plainfield Invincibles yesterday morning on the Mountain avenue grounds by a score of 19 to 9. The batteries were: Holy Cross, Mosher, Vail, Davis and Brakeley. For the Invincibles, Conover, Ward, Steiner and Webster.

The Celluloid baseball nine of Newark has booked a game with the Hope Chapel team for Saturday afternoon on the home field. The Newarkers are one of the strongest teams which have appeared in this city so far this season and a lively game is expected. Manager Cose of the local nine has secured some of the strongest men in this city to play against the visitors.

The Alis Club has a fourth game scheduled with Scotch Plains for Saturday, but if arrangements can be made the Aeolian team, of Garwood, will play on Crescent Oval instead. St. Mary's team also has a game with the 'Plains team for Saturday and in all probability this game will be played if the other arrangements can be made. Later on Alis and Scotch Plains will meet again.

IMMENSE CROWD.

S. R. O. Signs Raised Long "Before the Big Show Commences."

Perhaps the biggest crowd that ever attended a circus in this city was present last evening at the performance of Pawnee Bill's Wild West show. The S. R. O. sign was hung out early in the evening and, by the time the first act was on, standing room was at a premium. Speculators reaped a rich harvest. There was also a big attendance at the afternoon performance. The show itself was enjoyed by everybody, the exhibitions of horsemanship and marksmanship being "well worth going miles to see."

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

With the Governor inhaling the ocean breeze in Elberon, Secretary of State Dickinson speeding toward the Yellowstone Park, Senators Kean and Dryden taking only a passive interest in politics, there is an absolute silence in public life, broken only fitfully by some too boisterous politician who wants to be heard and is disinclined to let others enjoy the summer siesta. Even Smith, Davis, Cornish, Gourley, Thompson and other Democratic chiefs are quietly biding the passing of the vacation season before engaging in the activities that must arouse every parisan in the fall. It is almost impossible to get even a mild expression of opinion now on the progress of the crops, for fear it may be construed into some partisan leaning of an injurious nature.—New York Press.

BOROUGH COUNCIL MAY TEST THE LAW

Inability to Make Appropriation for Back Taxes Leads to Action.

SCHOOL NEEDS MONEY

NORWOOD AVENUE OFFICIALLY ACCEPTED AS A STREET.

Flag Stone Sidewalk Legislation —Chief Marshal to Kill Stray Dogs — Many Bills Ordered Paid—Other Business.

A report regarding the money alleged to be due the North Plainfield Board of Education for back taxes was received from Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed at the adjourned meeting of the North Plainfield Common Council last evening. The session was a brief one and but few matters of importance were discussed.

The amount due for back taxes is said to be $2,450.31. At the last meeting the matter was referred to the Corporation Counsel for his written opinion. In his report Former Senator Reed declares that the Board of Education is entitled to the money and that the Council according to the new law must appropriate the amount whether the money has been collected or not. If the sum is not in the collector's hand it will have to be borrowed. The only course left open to the Council is to make a test case of the law.

Heretofore the taxes have been payable only as they have been collected by the borough. Senator Reed said that the enforcement of the law is unfair to the Mayor and Council because it places them in the position of raising the tax rate when they are not responsible for it. His report was placed on file and a copy of the opinion and resolution passed by the Council will be sent to John Valiant, chairman of the Board of Education's finance committee.

All the members were present except Councilman Northrup. In his report Collector George F. Brown stated that interest and taxes for the past month amounted to $422.62; Board of Health, $4.56; Recorder, fines, $7; Clerk, for macadamizing, $10; Clerk, licenses, $5; balance on hand June 1, $13,559.63; total receipts, $14,008.81; disbursements, $3,733.52; balance on hand, $10,275.29; engine house fund, $8,972.58; borough fund, $1,302.71.

Councilman James F. Arnold, chairman of the street committee, reported expenditures for street work, $335.15, and for street sprinkling, $74. For stone, for macadamizing, these expenditures were made: Belmont avenue—$39.55; Somerset strtee — $205.25; Manning avenue—$59.20, amounting in all to $304. The fire committee reported expenditures amounting to $718.37.

Claims amounting to $2,518 were ordered paid. It was reported that $30 had been received for the macadamizing of Walnut street and that $70 was in the hands of the borough for the macadamizing of Duer street from Linden avenue to Greenbrook road. The Union County Investment Company asked the Council to accept the road dedicated to the borough some time ago which is known as Norwood avenue and volunteered to pay two-thirsd of the cost of grading and macadamizing it. The street was officially accepted and will be graded and macadamized.

From the trustees of the First M. E. Church a communication was received asking the borough to appropriate a sum to be use for the maintenance of the paupers' plot in the cemetery. This was referred to the street committee. D. N. Groendyke, of Mercer avenue, entered a complaint regarding the practice of allowing the dogs to run at large on his property and about the streets of the borough. Mr. Lee, of the police committee, assured him that the matter would be placed in the hands of Chief Marshal Campbell with instructions to shoot on sight all dogs running at large without tags or muzzles.

The amendment to the ordinance relating to the extension of the boundary lines for flagstone sidewalks was passed on its third reading. It includes Somerset place, Howard street, from Somerset street to Grove street, Norwood avenue, from Brook avenue to Mountain avenue, Franklin avenue, Farragut avenue and Manning avenue, from Franklin avenue to Belmont avenue.

—Stephen Aldrich, of Sherman avenue, has purchased an automobile.

BOARD OF EDUCATION DISCUSSES FINANCES

School Expenses for Past Year Slightly Increased Over Preceding Year.

THE ROUTINE BUSINESS

DRS. TOMLINSON AND VAN HORN REAPPOINTED MEDICAL INSPECTORS.

Building Committee Reports—Judge Ashman Thanked for the Commencement Address—Good Registration Record of Teachers.

Routine business was transacted at the July meeting of the City Board of Education, last evening, the presenting of the annual financial reports being the most important feature. There were present at the meeting Dr. J. B. Probasco, president, E. M. Cave, L. N. Lovell and F. T. Woodhull.

The annual report of the financial committee showed the total disbursements for the year to be $83,960.21, compared with $80,657.53 for the year preceding, and making an increase of about $3,300. Of the increased expenditure, $1,400 was due to rentals including that of the Epworth League house of the Monroe Avenue Church; $300 for fuel, caused by the coal strike; $1,300 for repairs; the total amounting to $3,500, a reduction of other items bringing the net increase down to $3,300. The report of the custodian of school moneys tallied with that of the finance committee, showing a balance on hand of $25.50

Doctors T. H. Tomlinson and A. F. VanHorn, medical inspectors, reported eleven pupils examined during June and a total of 1,236 pupils examined during the entire year. Both inspectors were reappointed for the ensuing school year at the same salary.

The finance committee were authorized to borrow $6,000 to meet necessary expenses incurred in obtaining annual supplies. The committee on buildings announced that work on the pinnacle of the Bryant School which had been insecure and in need of repairs was completed and the building ready for inspection. It was also stated that Pease & Ayers who had contracted to paint the Franklin School were unable to meet their contract. Their work had proceeded only so far as scraping the building. The matter was laid over until the next meeting.

Reference was made to the fact that of all the teachers' registration blanks which had been sent to the State Board of Education, 4,000 had been returned for corrections, not one of them, however, to a Plainfield teacher. The matter reflected much credit upon the teachers and upon Superintendent Maxson.

Hearty thanks and high appreciation were extended to Judge William N. Ashman, of Philadelphia, for his able commencement address before the High School graduates. Judge Ashman was especially generous in refusing any compensation for his services.

Week End Party.

Councilman Robert Clark, Jr., and wife, and A. L. Force and wife and daughter, Miss Lillian Force, were the guests of Mrs. J. F. Grandin and daughters, the Misses Sara and Elizabeth, at their charming home in Hamden, from Friday until Monday night. Grandin Mere, as they call it, is one of the many delightful spots in old Hunterdon County. Far from the noise attendant upon the Fourth in more thickly populated districts, the merry party spent an enjoyable time.

Mother Laid to Rest.

Mrs. McKee, the aged mother of Mrs. A. J. Leader, of Duer street, died at her home in Brooklyn, Thursday evening, in the eighty-eighth year of her age, after a lingering illness. The funeral services were held on Sunday evening and interment was made in Cypress Hill Cemetery on Monday. The handsome display of flowers was one of the evidences of the high esteem a loving Christian mother was held in by friends and neighbors.

HAS MR. SAUNDERS VIOLATED ORDINANCE?

Borough Board of Health Claims That Manure Pile Is a Menace.

FORMER MAYOR TALKS

AND THE SECRETARY OF THE BOARD MAKES A REPLY.

Interesting Because of Local Conditions in North Plainfield—Mr. Saunders Liable to a Fine If Found Guilty.

Former Mayor W. L. Saunders, on whose property the North Plainfield Board of Health has found manure that is said to be in a position where it can be washed into Stony brook, made a statement this morning regarding the action taken at the meeting of the Board Monday night.

"I have not received any communication from the Board of Health and know nothing about the matter except what has been published and which I am told was given to the papers by the board. It is to be regretted that such tactics should be resorted to.

"There is no connection of any kind between my drains and the brook. There is about a quarter of a ton of manure in my chicken yard, and situated just sixty-five feet from the brook with soft dry sand in between. The whole matter is so transparent that it is amusing. Nobody has complained, of course, because there is nothing to complain about."

Dr. W. E. Honeyman, the secretary of the Board, was informed of Mr. Saunders' statement and willingly made an answer. To a reporter for The Daily Press he said:

"He has not received any communication because it was mailed to him this morning. He will receive it this evening. About the manure pile, he is right when he says that there is less than a ton of manure in his yard and he is also correct about the sand.

"The Board in the notice sent him calls attention to the fact that a large pile of cow manure (from which typhoid germs are said to rise) is dumped by his man on the crest of a forty-five degree grade fifty or more feet from and above the surface of Stony brook. It is therefore apparent that during heavy rains the manure will be washed into the stream.

"Besides the manure there is a quantity of swill and garbage in the chicken yard which also washes into the brook. The sand referred to by Mr. Saunders is not fine enough to filter the washing from the pile in heavy storms.

"The pile of manure situated on the hill is a violation of the health ordinance governing such matters and in the State law it is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years."

FARMERS' VERDICT.

The Selling of Mustard Seed for Oats Is Nothing to Them.

The case in tort between Joseph King and Jonathan Ayres which was heard yesterday at Basking Rigde was dismissed on the ground of no cause for action. The defendants were represented by Codington & Swackhamer.

The action was brought to recover damages for placing mustard seed in oats bought of the defendant by the plaintiff. It was originally brought in Justice Mattison's court but the plaintiff wanted a farmers' jury to hear the testimony and took it to the country.

Pigs Won't be in Clover.

A notice has been sent to Charles Wyckoff, of Dupont street, by the North Plainfield Board of Health, informing him that he must remove pigs from his property and clean the pen and grounds around it. The board refuses to give him a permit to keep hogs.

The sun had set in a golden blaze of glory—like a hen on a basket of smashed eggs. It was eventide. Listen.

Swish—slap—bang!

Followed the silence, disturbed only by the low murmur of voices in tones soft and caressing. The crucial moment had arrived. It was Algernon who was speaking:

"Amanda, will you be my—infernal little cuss!"

Squash—slap—smash!!

Likewise biff, and sundry references to Helen Blazes, Ki-Ram, blanket and similar undesirable and irrelevant subjects.

(Intervening space occupied by Amanda who grabs frantically at both ankles, while her infatuated lover, now well nigh desperate, again screws his courage to the sticking point.)

"Amanda, I lo'—blast you!" he announces fiercely, striking himself in an insane fashion upon the neck and other unprotected portions of his anatomy.

"Sir!!"

"O, Amanda, darling, forgive me, you are my—confounded pesky little beast!"

"Algernon, Mr. Sniffkins, I think you are perfectly horrid. I shan't listen to such language. I shall never speak to you again. I am going to leave you this minute."

At this point Amanda disappears within the house beating the air ferociously with both hands, leaving her dejected lover alternately beseeching and anathematizing on the stoop and putting in his spare moments getting up a friction on ankles, arms, legs, hands, face, back, neck, etc., etc. (See anatomical dictionary.)

* * * * * *

All of which is by way of introduction to the statement that Plainfield is in the grasp of the mosquito pest. Not in years have the "peaky critters" proved so troublesome as now. They come in swarms, in droves. They bore through shoe leather. They penetrate the closest fitting screen ever manufactured. They attack and they never retreat.

They are the enemy, and we are theirs.

Probably the combination of hot and wet weather is the cause of their presence in such large quantities. A high wind will probably drive them away eventually, but there seems no sign of immediate relief.

CHARITABLE CITIZENS.

Pledging Sums to Enable Pastor to Renovate Church Edifice.

Rev. E. E. Jackson is meeting with encouraging response in his efforts to raise funds for the repair of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church edifice. The members of his congregation are unable to subscribe the amount needed to do the work and support is asked of the public. One philanthropic borroughite has given his check for $100 while another citizen has subscribed a like amount. No matter how small the contribution it will be gladly welcomed by the pastor who is canvassing the city.

Templar Field Day.

The annual field day of the New Jersey Knigets Templar, will be held at Atlantic City, Wednesday, October 14, and Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., of this city, will take part.

THE DIRECTORS RENAMED

MAYOR REAPPOINTS TALMADGE, TRACY AND TYLER AS LIBRARY DIRECTORS.

Fifty-Six Volumns Added to the Library—The Reports Read at Meeting.

General business occupied the attention of the Board of Directors of the Public Library at their regular meeting last evening. The library committee reported the purchase of a set of the Journal of the Iron and Steel Institute, fifty-six volumes, for the Babcock library. All bills against the library were ordered paid by the treasurer from the general and Babcock funds.

The treasurer's report was approved and a communication from the Mayor appointing Messrs. Tyler, Talmadge and Tracy as members of the board for the next three years was ordered on file. These committees were named for the ensuing year: Library committee, J. E. Tracy, chairman, W. H. Larrabee, Dr. Leonard Waldo; art committee, Messrs. Gilbert, Talmadge and Stillman. The members present were Mason W. Tyler, J. Herbert Case, William H. Larrabee, J. Evarts Tracy and Leonard Waldo.

HORSE RACING PROFITABLE

THE PLAINFIELD DRIVING ASSOCIATION MEET A SUCCESS.

Another Meet to be Held Before Fall—To Make Repairs to the Track.

Mayor Newton B. Smalley announces that between $300 and $400 was realized at the race meet Saturday. The money received will be used to maintain the grounds and buildings. Heretofore the place, including the track, has been kept in repair by J. Wesley Johnson, president of the First National Bank. The track will be put in first class order and several minor changes made on the grounds during the summer.

It is probable that another race will be arranged at the local driving park before Labor Day. The Westfield Driving Club is arranging to conduct a meet in that town on Labor Day and consquently the local horse fanciers will probably hold one a week or two before that holiday.

SAUERSACKER HELD.

Man Who Assaulted Michael Doyle in Jail Awaiting Action of Grand Jury.

Charles Sauersacker, who confesses to having assaulted Michael Doyle, was held by Justice Huff this morning in $500 bonds to await trail by the Grand Jury. He was taken to Elizabeth in default of bail. Doyle, his victim, is reported to be improving although never likely to recover fully from the effects of the blow. Sauersacker is represented by Lawyer Francis J. Blatz, who waived examination when the case was called this morning.

UNUSUAL APPENDAGES.

Operation to Make Francis Truman's Hands and Feet Normal.

Francis Truman, the infant son of J. Frank Truman, has undergone an operation for the removal of two superfluous thumbs and great toes. The child was born about three weeks ago with the unusual appendages. Dr. Marc L. Clawson was the surgeon. The boy is doing as well as could be expected. The father of the child is the agent of the Union News Company at the North avenue depot. When a youth he underwent a similar operation.

Bridge Work.

The Union County Board of Freeholders, in conjunction with the Board from Somerset county, has decided to make necessary repairs to the Westervelt avenue bridge. New planking will be put down and otherwise the bridge will be made stronger. Freeholder William A. Westphal will supervise the work.

The Hustling Mr. Blatz.

The contract case of Antone Ammon against Frank and Burk Carrara was given a hearing by Justice Cooper, of Warrenville, yesterday. Suit was brought for $50 and a verdict of $3.80 returned, a virtual victory for the defendants represented by F. J. Blatz.

Prize Choristers.

The prize choristers of Grace P. E. Church for June are these: Edward Schiller, Alfred Manley, Hudson Burr, Elmer Bohan, Harold Miller and Miss Ethel Weseman.

RIGHT TO TRANSFER PROPERTY QUESTIONED

The Borough Council Doubts Legality of Method Used to Escape Taxes.

A DIFFERENCE IN RATE

NORTH PLAINFIELD WOULD LOSE $1,600 IN TAXES.

Said That A. J. Brunson Has Transferred Personalty to Avoid High Rate—To be Investigated.

The action of A. J. Brunson in transferring from North Plainfield to this city eight hundred and fifty shares of the First National Bank stock is said to be illegal and the Borough Council, at its meeting last night, decided to ascertain the correctness of the reports. The committee on taxation was authorized to look into the matter and inform itself in the low governing such cases.

A resolution was adopted giving that committee full power to go ahead with the investigation and to report its findings. This is the resolution:

"Whereas, It is reported that the largest stockholder of the First National Bank of Plainfield, who is a legal resident of this borough, has transferred about eight hundred and fifty shares of said stock to a county where the tax rate is lower;

"And whereas, if such report is true, the result will be the withdrawal from the borough rateables of something like $65,000 of taxable property, (equal to the loss of about $1,600 of taxes) and to make the tax rate about six points higher than it otherwise would be:

"And whereas this Council is in doubt whether such transfer as reported can legally be made, and the borough thus be deprived of taxable property to its injury:

"Therefore be it resolved the Committee on Taxation investigate said subject, ascertain whether or not said report is founded on fact, and the provisions of law relating thereto, and report to this Council.

"And be it further resolved that the Corporation Counsel co-operate with and assist said Committee in said investigation whenever called upon by them so to do."

D., having served over forty-four years; Rev. A. E. Baldwin, eight years; Rev. H. B. Macauley, six years and Mr. Davis thirteen years.

Praise for O. B. Leonard.

The New Jersey Baptist Bulletin for July, referring to the sixty-second anniversary of the East Association of Baptist churches held recently at Perth Amboy, says of O. B. Leonard, of Madison avenue, who was chosen moderator of that meeting: "Mr. Leonard, the moderator, was for ten years the efficient clerk of the Association, and gave much attention to matters of historic interest. The election this year was a very fitting and happy recognition of valuable service."

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

Finest cuts of fresh meats at J. W. VanSickle's store on North avenue.

Good digestion will wait on appetite whenever you sit down to a meal at which fish bought of Jerry Foss, of Park avenue, forms the principal feature.

The sun is 93,000,000 miles away, but it is very much in evidence these days nevertheless. One way to get around it is to buy a glass of soda at C. W. Nagle's pharmacy on West Front street.

People who have tried the excellent soda at Dudley S. Miller's Park avenue pharmacy, pronounce it to be the best. Mr. Miller uses only the purest of fruit syrups and he also keeps the latest concoctions.

Charles E. Vail, the Park avenue jeweler, is showing one of the best lines of silverware and goldware, as well as watches, diamonds, etc., to be found in the State. The quality is the finest and the prices are reasonable.

Before going away for the summer get your jewelry repaired. The best place and the cheapest is L. Moraller & Sons on Park avenue. Ten years of practical experience in watch repairing qualifies him to do the best work at reasonable prices.

A cigar that is made of the best material is a delight to a smoker who enjoys good tobacco. That is why men of fastidious tastes smoke Dobbins' Yarra cigars. At his Park avenue cigar store Mr. Dobbins keeps a full and complete line of pipes at all prices.

The grocery and meat expense in any household is an important item and that it why so many people find it to their advantage to trade with S. Scheuer & Company, of West Front street. They know the goods are of the best quality and that the prices are lower than at many other stores.

AMUSEMENTS.

Bostock's great animal arena at Coney Island includes one of the marvelous aggregation of beasts to be seen. If there was nothing else on the island it would be well worth a trip just to gaze upon that remarkable collection of animals. They amuse the young and instruct the old.

"Last Days of Pompeii," the production of the Pain Pyrotechnic Co., which is running during the summer at Manhattan Beach, has been entirely rebuilt, on a larger and costlier scale than ever. This is the busy season for the company, not only at the beach, but at the factories in Brooklyn, which already have begun to feel the pressure of demands from Manhattan.

The new Majestic Theatre which has been justly characterized as "New York's finest, the world's safest playhouse" continues to attract over-flowing assemblages through the potent medium of "The Wizard of Oz." There are no indications of any waning of the power of "The Wizard." It is conceded to be the most brilliant, novel and fascinating extravaganza seen in New York during the past decade.

The feature known as 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea is the great novelty of the year in the amusement line, and is one of the nearly two score of marvels which Messrs. Thompson and Dudy have created in their vast pleasure resort at Luna Park, Coney Island. Very realistic in the departure of the adventures who are to be passengers in the submarine boat which lies so quietly on the surface of the water within the portals of the great building occupied by this feature among the varied attractions of the Park. The manhole is invitingly open, and the adventurers step along to it over the gang-plank without trepidation. People watching from the brink see the manholes securely closed, and the strange craft disappears in the depths. That is all they know about it until they make the adventure themselves. It is a strange sensation which falls to the lot of those who embark.

The British Fleet Salutes the American Squadron.

TWO NATIONS' TARS MAKE MERRY

Grand Spectacle of the Combined Fleets Illuminated Attracts Thousands From England's Great Naval Port.

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 8.—The British fleet, in behalf of King Edward, welcomed the United States European squadron to Great Britain's naval headquarters with the boom of many cannons. The gunboat Matchless joined the flagship Kearsarge, the Chicago and the San Francisco. Signals then began to flutter from the mastheads of the American and British ships. The latter, in obedience to a signal from Lord Charles Beresford, the commander of the channel squadron, formed two lines, and down this lane of huge gray war ships moved the American vessels, their sides gleaming in the sunlight.

National salutes were fired by each squadron, which were followed by an exchange of salutes to Rear Admiral Cotton and Vice Admiral Beresford.

While Admiral Hotham entertained Admiral Cotton and the American captains at dinner the junior officers of the United States vessels were dining on board the British gunnery ship Excellent. The English and American ships were illuminated in the evening, the spectacle attracting thousands of onlookers who watched it from the flag bedecked streets. Outside Spithead the British channel squadron lay outlined in white electric lights.

The royal yacht Victoria and Albert, moored a few hundred yards from the Kearsarge, was alone dressed in a different color scheme, being decorated with red, white and green lights. Later on all the vessels turned on their searchlights, the British war ships flashing red and blue and the Kearsarge and her consorts red and green. The scene, crowned by the full moon, was most picturesque.

The dinner given by Admiral Hotham was characterized by considerable warmth of feeling. There were no formal toasts except those to King Edward and the president of the United States, and no set speeches.

RESULT OF SMALL STRIKE.

Two Thousand Granite Workers Locked Out.

BARRE, VT., July 8.—As a result of a strike of twenty-five granite workers employed by two small firms in this city 2,000 cutters in this city and Montpelier were locked out of the sheds and quarries.

The trouble arose over the question of subletting contracts, and it was thought that a settlement would be brought about before the strike became general.

The manufacturers took the initiative, however, and closed their doors. They claim there is nothing in the agreement signed last March which has any bearing on the question of subletting contracts, and they insist that it lies entirely with them to decide whether or not this shall be done. They further insist that in declaring a strike in the sheds of J. F. Corskie & Co. and Moore Bros. in this city the twenty-five men employed by those firms violated the arbitration clause in the new agreement and that in failing to order the men back the union recognized and gave its support to the position taken by the strikers. The lockout was a step in retaliation.

Kearsarge Smashed Record.

WASHINGTON, July 8. — The big United States battle ship Kearsarge smashed all ocean records for speed in the battle ship class in her journey to Kiel, making a total distance of 3,345 miles from New York to the Needles at the high average speed of 16.62 miles per hour. She made the entire run without a single stop or disarrangement of the machinery, which showed its perfect condition by running up the speed to 14.5 and 15 knots on the last few days of the voyage.

Sentence Will Be Executed.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The president has denied applications for executive clemency in the cases of Tanbara Gisaburo, a Japanese, convicted in Hawaii of murder; Charles Barrett and Dora Wright, the latter colored, also convicted of murder in the central district of Indian Territory. All three are under sentence of death. In each case the attorney general advised against clemency.

The Only Prison Ship.

BOSTON, July 8.—The Southery, the only prison ship in the United States navy, left the Charlestown navy yard in tow of two large government tugs for Portsmouth, where she is to be permanently stationed. On board the Southery are several score of prisoners who are serving terms of various lengths for breaches of discipline.

Turk Says War Is Inevitable.

LONDON, July 8.—A Constantinople correspondent quotes an officer of high rank in the Turkish army as declaring that war with Bulgaria appears to be inevitable, that Turkey was never so well prepared for hostilities and that the army on the frontier is anxious to begin, but the sultan's policy is to remain quiet until attacked.

Colored Consul at St. Thomas.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 8.—Christopher H. Payne, who has been appointed to succeed Consul Van Horne at St. Thomas, has arrived here. Mr. Payne, who is a colored man, is the object of many attentions on the part of negroes here.

TWENTY-THREE DIE.

Collision at Rockfish, Va., Makes Fatal Wreck.

FREIGHT TRAIN OVERSTAYED TIME

Baggage and Passenger Cars Telescoped—Washington and Boston Travelers Among the One Hundred and Twenty on Train.

WASHINGTON, July 8. — Twenty-three persons were killed and nine persons injured in a head on collision on the Virginia Midland division of the Southern railway at Rockfish, Va., late yesterday afternoon. Passenger train No. 35, leaving Washington at 11:15 a. m. for Atlanta, Ga., dashed into local freight No. 68, standing on the main line of the road at that point, wrecking both engines and the baggage and express cars of No. 35. The baggage car and the second class passenger coach immediately following it telescoped.

The freight train was in charge of Conductor Brubeck and Engineer Hale and at the time of the accident was on the return run from Lynchburg to Charlottesville. Rockfish station is midway between these two points, and the track there is a single one. Engineer Hale had orders to get out of the way of the fast passenger train, but for some reason which has not yet been explained he had overstayed his time and had failed to take a siding so that the passenger train could pass. The trains came together with a horrible crash, and a fearful scene of panic ensued when the occupants of the cars realized what had occurred.

Train No. 35, which ran into the freight and which left Washington at 11:15, was made up of an express car, a baggage car, two day coaches and two Pullman cars. The two Pullmans formed a New York connection at Washington for Atlanta and the south. The train arriving here at 10:32 a. m. from Boston also connected with No. 35. No. 35 was in charge of Engineer Davis and Conductor Mays. One of the passenger cars of the train was a second class day coach and the other a vestibuled car.

Engineer McCormick, who was a passenger on the freight train, was going to Charlottesville to take a train south and met death in the smash up. The engineer of the freight escaped without injury.

It is estimated here that there were in all probably 120 passengers on the train, including those from Boston and intermediate points.

It was at first thought that Baggage Master Payne of train No. 35 had met his death in the wreck. Later reports, however, show that this is incorrect. He was caught under one of the coaches and was badly stunned, but later he revived and probably will recover. It is now said to be almost certain that of those killed nineteen were colored persons, as the second class coach which was telescoped was occupied almost exclusively by them.

Later advices from the scene of the wreck are that the freight train, which was on the main track, had been there six minutes longer than the orders directed when the collision occurred.

Investigating Accident.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 8.—The Northern Pacific company is investigating the wreck which occurred to the north coast limited at Detroit, Minn. The officials were unable to state what caused the accident, which fortunately resulted in the death of but one person, Engineer Mason of Staples, Minn., and the slight injury of but three or four others. The train was running about forty miles an hour when the accident occurred. The engine and tender, baggage, express, mail and forward tourist sleeper left the track and were badly smashed up.

Claims Shot Was Accidental.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., July 8.—Michael Holland of New York city was shot by Robert Calder of Nelliston, N. Y., at St. Johnsville. Holland was stealing a ride on a New York Central train. Commanded by Calder, who was searching for car thieves, to throw up his hands, Holland started to run. Calder pursued him and as he was passing through a barb wire fence he fell, accidentally, he claims, discharging his revolver. The ball entered Holland's right hip, inflicting a dangerous wound.

Paid Ten Millions For Oregon Line.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The deal between the San Pedro company and the Oregon Short Line company has been closed by the former paying the latter between $10,000,000 and $11,000,000 in cash and taking conveyances for all its lines south of Salt Lake City and the equipment for operating the lines. The San Pedro company will take possession at once. This leaves the San Pedro company only 300 miles to build in order to complete a through line from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles.

Russian Telegraph Across the Yalu.

Yokohama, Japan, July 8.—Advices received here from Seoul, Koren, say the Russians are laying a telegraphic cable from Antung to Yongampho, across the Yalu river. The Japanese newspapers severely comment on the responsibility for the cabinet crisis arising at such a critical moment and say that if the premier, Viscount Katsuna, persists in retiring the Marquis Ito will form a new ministry.

Plainfield, N. J., July 8, 1903.

The merchant who advertises judiciously will have little cause to complain of dull seasons.

It is claimed that mosquitoes have brains. At any rate we have always found them very sharp in their ways.

Some people seem to deplore the fact that Plainfield has no old landmarks. Aren't they satisfied with the trolley cars?

It is not strange that Jerseymen lay claim to Ellis Island. They would take the whole earth, not including Butte, Montana, if given a chance.

The National Educational Association is in session at Boston. Suppose when they return the New Jersey delegates will want to introduce Browning as a text book.

John D. Rockefeller will be sixty-four years old tomorrow. He has aged some since Ida M. Tarbell commenced to throw the searchlight on the career of this "truly great man."

According to statistics there are 157,313 hogs in the State worth on the average a trifle over $11. There's another variety, however, worth less than eleven cents. You can easily identify them in a street car or place of amusement.

Threats to lynch a negro were made down at Asbury Park the other day. The objects of an angered crowd's vengence were two men in a carriage who had run down a young girl. Fortunately the negros were hustled in the early morn to the county jail at Freehold. This is not the wild West—it is the effete East.

Some Massachusetts scientists have discovered that certain strains of music will cause the mosquito to become completely paralyzed. We have heard that "music hath charms to soothe the maddened beast" but are still convinced that nothing less than a shot gun will have any effect on the brand of mosquito which has been "in our midst" during the last few days.

Catarrh of the Stomach.
When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Throat Sore?

There's no telling what a sore throat will do if you give it "right of way." Uncertain remedies often cause dangerous delay. Make a cure sure with Painkiller, known for half a century as a specific for sore throat, croup, coughs, and all kindred troubles. Keep it by you for an emergency. It never fails. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. 25c. and 50c.

Battle Flag of New Jersey Can't be Exhibited in California.

Because of an act passed by the State Legislature of 1888, prohibiting any one from taking or allowing to be taken from the State House any of the New Jersey battle flags, which form an attractive display in the corridors of the Capitol, Adjutant General Brientnall has decided not to permit the California-New Jersey battle flag to go to San Francisco to be used in connection with the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in that city in September.

Fifteen of the thirty-five men who gave the flag to the State were from Essex County, the flag having been presented to the First New Jersey brigade on July 15, 1861, the Jerseymen at that time having been residents of the State of California when the war broke out.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

WHAT IS WORN.

Deep Collars a Distinguishing Mark of Smart Garments.

The deep collar or pelerine of lace is worn over plain blouses with strapped linen skirts, and these are quite smart and effective in a deep red or dark blue, the millinery repeating the light tone of the collar. The sack bolero accompanies the lawn and linen gown, and this is a most adaptable costume when completed by a thin blouse.

Tussore silk and tussore linen are the most useful fabrics for dust cloaks, but alpaca, when dressed in the soft, limp style, is also admirable, and the colorings most in vogue are the beige tint, a silvery green and a mignonette tint which is less pronounced than the reseda.

Where more decided effects are wished brighter tints are worn, but these must accord with the hat. For instance, an old rose alpaca edged with ruffled black ribbon has a few medallions of black lace and is to be worn with a large black hat over black or white gowns.

The collar has entirely disappeared from coats—that is, the high collar—for the cape effects now reign supreme, and no garment is smart without one of these. A voluminous sack shape is proper to all long garments. Applique trimmings are popular for these.

The cut shows a tailor made of checked wool goods.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NOVELTIES IN DRESS.

An Attractive Green and Black Effect—A Useful Hat.

A very smart gown seen recently was of hand painted muslin, and from the knees to the feet there was a border consisting of trellis work of woven green ribbons and pink roses. This was much befounced underneath to give the necessary flare. The trellis work also appeared on either side of the bolero bodice, which was cut short at the back over a green spotted muslin blouse finished with a draped waistband of taffeta. The costume was completed by a hat composed entirely of green leaves over a foundation of tucked pink chiffon finished with two black velvet strings and a black rose resting on the hair, while another rose held the strings in place on the bodice. With this was carried a perfectly plain long handled black parasol with a green lizard crawling up the stick.

The Breton sailor shape will undoubtedly prove a favorite hat for boating.

A deep blue Breton shape in soft straw may be trimmed with white ribbon and wings and used with cream or navy blue gowns.

Belts are of infinite importance now, and some of the newer models are quite charming. The shaped belt with little tabs or tails is exceedingly modish, and a change of belt and chou often gives quite a different aspect to a black or neutral tinted gown. A gold tinsel belt is most useful, especially if made with tabs or arranged with a crossed front and tail back. It can figure on a blue, brown or black gown and is equally at home on white or pale colors, and no better finish to a plain slip under a coffee coat can be devised, even if a black or white skirt is worn. Even on cloth it is attractive, and a flaked woolen trimmed with strappings of plain cloth should have a tabbed and stitched belt to match the strappings.

The tailor made hat in the cut is of scarlet rough straw trimmed with a white bird. JUDIC CHOLLET.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1902, by The Robert Company.

Nearly half an hour later, gray-haired Capt. Dade stood at the point of bluff near the flagstaff, Esther pale and tearful, by his side, waving adieu and Godspeed to Webb, who had halted in saddle on reaching the opposite bank and was watching his little column through the ford—three stanch troops, each about 60 strong, reinforced by about half a dozen of Ray's men left behind in the forward rush at dawn, but scorning disqualification of any kind, now that danger menaced their beloved captain and their comrades of the sorrel troop. In all the regiment no man was loved by the rank and file as was Billy Ray.

The veterans trusted and sworn by, the younger troopers looked up to and well-nigh worshipped him, and now, as the story that the Sioux had probably surrounded the sorrel troop went like wildfire through the garrison, even the sick in the hospital begged to be allowed to go, and one poor lad, frantic through fever and enforced confinement, broke from the hold of the half-hearted attendant; tore over to "K" troop barracks, demanding his "kit" of Sergeant Schreiber, and, finding the quarters deserted, the men all gone to stables, dared to burst into that magnate's own room in search of his arms and clothing, and thereby roused a heavily sleeping soldier, who damned him savagely, until, through wild raving, he gathered that some grave danger menaced Capt. Ray. Even his befuddled senses could fathom that! And while the guards and nurses bore the patient, shrieking and struggling, back to the hospital, Kennedy soused his hot head in the cooling waters of their frontier lavatory and was off like a shot to the stables.

It was long before he found his horse, for the guard had taken Kilmaine to "F" troop's stables, and Kennedy had been housed by "K." It was longer still before he could persuade the guard that he "had a right," as he put it, to ride after the major. Not until Capt. Dade had been consulted would they let him go. Not, indeed, until in person Kennedy had pleaded his cause with that cool-headed commander. Dade noted the flushed and swollen face, but reasoned that nothing would more speedily shake the whisky from his system that a long gallop in that glorious air and sunshine. "Maj. Webb is following the trail of Capt. Ray," said he. "You follow the major's. You can't miss him, and there are no Indians now to interpose. You should catch him by noon—then give him this."

"This" was a copy of a late dispatch just in from Laramie, saying that the revolt had reached the Sioux at the agencies and reservations on the White Earth, and would demand the attention of every man at the post. No reinforcement, therefore, could be looked for from that quarter until the general came. It was no surprise to Dade. It could be none to Webb, for old Red Cloud had ever been an enemy, even when bribed and petted and fed and coddled in his village on the Wakpa Schicha. His nephew led the bolt afield. No wonder the old war chief backed him with abundant food, ammunition and eager warriors sent "from home."

But it was still after 11 when Kennedy drove his still wearied horse through the Platte and, far to the north, saw the dun dust cloud that told where Webb's little column was trotting hard to the support of the sorrels. His head was aching and he missed the morning draught of soldier coffee. He had eaten nothing since his cold lunch at the major's, and would have been wise had he gone to Mistress McGann and begged a cup of the fragrant Java with which she had stimulated her docile master ere he rode forth, but the one idea uppermost in Kennedy's muddled brain was that the sorrels were trapped by the Sioux and every trooper was needed to save them. At three in the morning he felt equal to fighting the whole Sioux nation, with all its dozen tribes and dialects. At 3:30 he had been whipped to a stand by just one of their number, and, "Mother av Moses," one that spoke English as well, or as ill as any man in the —th.

Sore in soul and body was Kennedy, and sore and stiff was his gallant bay, Kilmaine, when these comrades of over three years' service shook the spray of the Platte from their legs and started doggedly northward on the trail. Northward they went for full three miles, Kilmaine sulky and protesting. The dust cloud was only partially visible now, hidden by the ridge a few miles ahead, when, over that ridge, probably four miles away to the right front, Kennedy saw coming at speed a single rider, and reined to the northeast to meet him. Blake and his men had gone far in that direction. Two of their number, with horses too slow for a chase after nimble ponies, had, as we have seen, drifted back, and joined, unprepared though they were for the field, the rear of Webb's column. But now came another, not aiming for Webb, but heading for Frayne. It meant news from the chase that might be important. It would take him but little from the direct line to the north, why not meet him and hear? Kennedy reined to the right, riding slowly now and seeking the higher level from which he could command the better view.

At last they neared each other, the little Irish veteran, sore-headed and in evil mood, and a big, wild-eyed, scare-faced trooper new to the frontier, spurring homeward with panic in every feature, but rejoicing at sight of a comrade soldier.

"Git back; git back!" he began to shout, as soon as he got within hailing distance. "There's a million Indians just over the ridge. They've got the captain——"

"What captain?" yelled Kennedy, all ablaze at the instant. "Spake up, ye shiverin' loon!"

"Blake! He got way ahead of us ——"

SPORTING NEWS.

DOUBLE PLAYS.

It is quite likely that Manager MacLaughlin, of the Alis Club, will have a new third baseman, Saturday, in place of Worthley. The latter lacks ginger in his play and last Saturday he was very slow on the field.

It is sincerely hoped that if Alis and Scotch Plains meet Saturday that the game will be played on Crescent Oval, where the accommodations are better and to which place the trolley service is superior to Scotch Plains. Besides a larger crowd would attend in Plainfield.

By a score of 12 to 2 the Camp Bowser A. C. yesterday morning defeated the Underwood A. C. at baseball on Hope Common. The batteries were: Camp Bowser—W. Corwin and R. Schoonmaker, and for the Underwood, A. C. Minford and Wood.

"Jimmie" Montross, who has pitched the Westfield nine to nearly all of its victories this year, has quit the team and hereafter will pitch for Hope Y. M. A. It is understood that the treatment received at Westfield by the management was not to his liking.

Samuel Hope, the Alis Club pitcher in Saturday morning's game, has been making a great record. Including two games pitched on Saturday he occupied the box every day during the past eight days and a majority of the games he won. The work was a great strain on his arm and he has been advised to do less pitching.

The famous Sixth Ward baseball team, of New Brunswick, organized this year by John Harkins, of Somerville fame, will meet St. Mary's team on the latter's grounds, West Fourth street, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. John Harkins could not accompany his team last Saturday, but he called at The Daily Press office, yesterday, and said that he would surely appear Saturday with his strongest team. John, although forty-nine years old, says that he is still able to play the game.

Considerable interest is shown by certain followers of the National game in this city regarding the hits made at local games. For the benefit of such those made in the two games played by Alis and Scotch Plains on the Fourth are given. In the morning game these hits were made: Alis—Pond, 1; Richardson, 4; Hope, 2; Page, 2; Worthley, 2; Moore, 2; Lederer, 1. Scotch Plains—Kavanaugh, 1; Allen, 3; Davis, 2; Bolsterli, 1; Williams, 3; Flannery, 2. In the afternoon the hits were evenly divided in this way: Alis—Henriquez, 1; Page, 1; Burt, 1. Scotch Plains—Brogan, 1; Bolsterli, 1; Williams, 1.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

All the members of the Independent Shooting Club who have not filled out their scores for the summer shoot must do so tomorrow. The grounds on Maple avenue will be open and the results of the shoot will close the contest for the summer shoot.

James Pike, of New York, is visiting his parents on West Front street.

SELECTING MACHINES.

Automatic Device to Offset Machinations of the Human Type in This State.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, July 8—Bids were opened yesterday afternoon by the State Voting Machine Commissioners at a meeting held at the State house. Seven bids were submitted, but only three of them were considered. The board took no definite action with respect to making a selection, and adjourned to confer with the Governor at Sea Girt yesterday afternoon.

The three machines considered by the commissioners were these: United State Standard Voting Machine Company, of Rochester, N. Y., price $500; the New Jersey Voting Machine Company, price $450; United Ballot Machine Company of New Jersey, price $500.

Under the requirements of the law authorizing the introduction of voting machines in this State, the voting machines submitted must be examined and approved by the State Voting Machine Commission.

A meeting with the Governor at Sea Girt was arranged by telephone, the executive expressing the hope that the commission proceed as speedily as possible looking to the installation of the voting machines in the State.

His Heart Grew Fonder.

"Jimmie" Montross has returned to his first love and for the rest of the season will pitch for the Hope Y. M. A. His first game will be against the Celluloid Club, of Newark, next Saturday, on Hope's grounds. During the season "Smiling Jimmie" has been with the Westfield team. Hope will be further strengthened by the services of three players from the Brooklyn Field Club.

TENNIS.

In the final play at tennis for the Mellick cup on the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, recently, Miss Margaret Goddard was defeated by Miss Schuyler, 6-0, 6-2.

You Cannot Change

the course of a storm by tearing down the signals that give warning of its approach. Neither can you cure a cold by temporarily stopping a cough with opium-laden "medicines." Allen's Lung Balsam, in which there is no opium, cures sore throats and sore lungs because it allays the inflammation and rids you of the mucus that stops up the air passages.

LOCAL CANDIDATES.

Martine and Swackhamer Mentioned As Democratic Gubernatorial Timber.

The Republican West Jersey Press thinks that "with such material as James Smith, Jr., James M. Seymour, Robert Davis, Allan L McDermott, DeWitt C Flanagan, 'Farmer Orator' Martine, Assemblyman Swackhamer, Senator Childs, Senator Ferrell and William J. Thompson to select from," the Democrats may have a hard time to pick out the best Gubernatorial timber. The Press cannot suppress entries in the race simply by leaving names off its list. Senators Gebhardt and Martin cannot be kept off the track by Republicans.—Newark News.

Working on Ritual.

A commission of fourteen bishops and delegates of the Methodist Episcopal Church North and the Methodist Episcopal Church South is holding sessions at Ocean Grove to revise the catechism and ritual of the two churches so that they will conform to each other. The sessions are secret and will be continued several days.

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Two candidates will be received into Somerset Council, No. 104, at the regular meeting this evening. The initiatory work will be conducted by the local team.

Thursday evening, July 16, is the time set for the annual excursion of the Retail Clerks' Mutual Aid Association to Riverside Park. There will be the usual pleasant features, including dancing at the Park.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Newark has begun to enforce an ordinance restricting the height of fences to eight feet, and of advertising signs on the roofs of buildings to two feet. The ordinances will make trouble for the owners of bill-boards, and the modified posters cannot fail to help the appearance of the city. The time is coming when the Legislature will be compelled to pass a law regulating this feature of advertising, which has become so popular that New Jersey is in danger of becoming a mere field for making known to the public the merits of patent medicines, patented foods and rival brands of whiskey. The huge bill-boards that line the two railroads between Philadelphia and New York are offensive to the sight of the traveller.—Trenton Times.

The voter who stands by his party, no matter what the character of the candidate may be, is next door neighbor to the "boss"—"an untold power for evil. The only voter the politician respects and fears is the one who votes as his conscience dictates. Young men who have not yet reached their majority, and older men who value their self-respect and manhood, would do well to ponder deeply over these self-evident facts, especially on this the anniversary of our Nation's independence, when we are supposed to be carrying out the principles laid down by our forefathers in 1776. If the American idea is to prove a success we must be just as patriotic and loyal as those strenuous days so long ago called for, but it cannot be done by playing into the hands of designing politicians.—North Plainfield Review.

CENTRAL'S BRIDGE OVER NEWARK BAY

Chief Engineer Osgood's Description af the New Span.

ROLLING LIFT TYPE

CONSISTS OF TWO SPANS, WORKED INDEPENDENTLY OR TOGETHER.

New Lifts When Open Will Stand 130 Feet in the Air—How the Work is Being Done.

At the dinner given to Joseph O. Osgood, chief engineer of the New Jersey Central Railroad, by the engineers of Plainfield and North Plainfield, in this city, the other evening, Mr. Osgood gave an excellent description of the building operations now going on at the new Newark bay bridge of that railroad. At the time The Daily Press was able to speak only briefly of his address.

Of the engineering work now being done on the line of the Jersey Central the Newark bay bridge was, Mr. Osgood said, of particular interest. The old bridge has carried the traffic of the railroad safely for fifteen years and is still able to carry the increased loads at a reduced speed. Need of a new bridge has, however, been felt for some time. The new bridge is of the rolling lift type, quite different from anything in this neighborhood at present, but, similar to those being used with success in other parts of the country. It will consist of two spans, each 120 feet long which may be operated independently or together. These will each provide for a clear channel of 85 feet instead of 75 feet as at present.

The Central has encountered various difficulties in erecting this bridge. It was necessary to keep the old bridge in operation while the construction of the new was going on. Then, as the Central has four tracks at each end of the bridge, it is probable that it will eventually be necessary to enlarge the new bridge to accommodate four tracks; in planning the construction this had to be kept in mind. The rolling lift bridge is so planned that while it will be made for only two tracks now it will be comparatively easy to build a similar bridge alongside making room for four and eventually for six if necessary. To build a bridge of the present style it would have been necessary to erect a temporary bridge and draw to operate while the new was being constructed. By building slightly to the west of the present structure it is possible to erect a new bridge without disturbing the traffic through the draw. The westerly span is to be entirely west of the present draw making it possible to tear down one side of the old structure and build the new one. When this is completed it will be used as a simple bridge until the easterly span can be constructed and then both will be operated as originally intended.

Mr. Osgood gave a very interesting account of the building of the foundation and the difficulties there encountered. Piles were driven and sawed off just above the mud with a circular saw attached horizontally to the pile driver. They were floored over with a grillage four feet thick, the work being done with the assistance of a coffer dam. The pier was then built of concrete inside of the casing. The work has been going along without any hitch and Mr. Osgood reported that four piers had already been built. No steel was used below water in the construction of the concrete piers on account of the possible action of salt water. As a special precautionary measure salt water was used for mixing the concrete up to the low water mark. The concrete used is composed of one part Atlas cement, three parts sand, and five parts of 1½ inch broken stone. The bridge is so designed that under the heaviest possible load, which is hardly probable to happen, it will not be greater than 14 tons to each pile.

The two lifts when open will stand 130 feet in the air but they will be so counter weighted that they will go up and down without trouble. When small craft desire to pass through the draw, unlike the present arrangement it will only be necessary to lift the span slightly. There will be no direct connection between the spans and the steel plates on which they rest, but they will simply be tied down by their weight. There will, however, be holes in the bottom of the bridge, in which will fit projecting pieces in

METHODISTS ADOPT A NEW LITURGY

Revised Form to be Used by Methodists, North and South.

ALTERING CATECHISMS

COMPLETE ORDER OF SERVICE AS ARRANGED BY COMMISSION.

Bishop Merrill, of Chicago, Chairman of Catechism Committee—Working at Ocean Grove.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Ocean Grove, July 9—Representatives of the Methodist Episcopal Church, North and South, at a conference held here have adopted a new liturgy. The revised form in some respects is similar to that which has been in use in the churches North of Mason and Dixon's line for years. The commissioners are now working on the revision of the Church catechisms, in order to make them uniform. There will be only a few slight changes in the old form. Bishop Merrill, of Chicago, is chairman of the joint catechism committee.

This is the new liturgy:

Let all the people kneel in silent prayer on entering the sanctuary.

1. Voluntary, instrumental or vocal.
2. Singing from the common hymnal, the people standing.
3. The Apostles' Creed, recited by all, standing.
4. Prayer, concluding with the Lord's Prayer repeated audibly by all, both minister and people kneeling. (a)
5. Anthem or voluntary.
6. Lesson from the Old Testament which, if from the Psalms, may be read responsively. (b)
7. The Gloria Patri.
8. Lessons from the New Testament.
9. Notices, followed by the collection.
14. Doxology and the Apostolic benediction. (II)
10. Singing from the common hymnal, the people standing.
11. The sermon.
12. Prayer, the people kneeling.
13. Singing from the common hymnal, the people standing. (The order of prayer and singing may be reversed.) (c)
14. Doxology and the Apostolic benediction. (2d Cor. xiii, 14.)

(a) Let all our people be exhorted to kneel in prayer, keeping their faces toward the minister.

(b) In the afternoon or evening the lesson from the Old Testament may be omitted.

(c) An invitation to come to Christ or to unite with the church shall be given when this hymn is announced.

MERELY ASSAULT.

No Charge of Homicide as Result of John Fillmore's Death.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, July 9—George Loeser, Jr., was not indicted for homicide for his part in the death of John Fillmore, of Plainfield, but for assault, and has been released on bail for $1,000. As has been told, Loeser had some words with John Fillmore, an old man who worked around the hotel kept by Loeser's father at Maurer's.

The old man was drunk. Loeser declared he simply shoved the old man off the stoop. A little while later Fillmore was found dead, where he had fallen. Loeser drove to Perth Amboy and gave himself up to the police. His case was the first considered by the grand jury at the extra session called by the court.

TROLLEYS FROM PLAINFIELD TO THE SEA

New Line Between This City and Metuchen Is Being Staked Out.

LAST LINK CONNECTING

WILL BE POSSIBLE TO TRAVEL DIRECT TO AMBOYS BY TROLLEY.

Line Will Include Oak Tree, New Market and Dunellen—Cars Will Be Running Next Summer—Work To Start Soon.

The new trolley line between this city and Metuchen is being staked out by surveyors in the employ of the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company. The new road will connect with the local line at the end of the Arlington avenue route.

Manager Thomas E. Walsh, of the New Brunswick line, when seen by a representative of The Daily Press, stated that, as soon as the laying of the double track between Riverside Park and New Brunswick is completed, the work of preparing the roadway for the new line will be taken up in earnest. It is the company's intention to have cars running by next summer.

The road will have a private right of way, the last grant having been made last week. The original line has been changed to some extent to include Oak Tree, New Market and Dunellen. When completed the road will enable people to go direct from Plainefild to the seaside resorts in and around the Amboys. It will connect for Perth Amboy at Metuchen.

COURT HOUSE CORNERSTONE

FREEMASONS TO HAVE CHARGE OF EXERCISES.

Time Designated—Foster Voorhees, a Master Mason, to Speak.

Most Worshipful Grand Master W. Holt Apgar, of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of New Jersey, met the committee of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders in Elizabeth yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of making arrangements for the laying of the cornerstone of the new court house.

The date for the laying of the cornerstone has been designed as Tuesday, July 28, at 11 o'clock in the morning. On the day of the ceremonies the officers of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New Jersey will be met at the railroad station by various lodges of this city, headed by a band of music, and be escorted to the site of the new court house. The grand officers will be in coaches.

No choice of orator for the occasion had as yet been made, but the name of former Governor Foster M. Voorhees, an honored member of the fraternity and a member of Washington Lodge of Free Masons, may be selected. The address is to be a brief one. There will be a favorable opportunity presented for all to witness the laying of the cornerstone because its location will be several feet above the level of the street. After the ceremonies a banquet will be given at Jacobs Theatre.

BUILDING SANITARIUM.

State Tuberculosis Institution Being Erected at Glen Gardner.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Glen Gardner, July 9—Work has been commenced on the site of the proposed State Tuberculosis Sanitarium at this place. The site where the men are at work is the third one selected by the commission for the building, and commands a view of the beautiful valley below for many miles in every direction, and is considered to be the ideal spot for such an institution. Being on a high elevation, 957 feet above sea level, the air is pure and dry, while in the winter the building will be protected from the north wind by the heavy woodland which covers the top of the range of mountains.

It is certain that there is no purer or better water in the country than is found on the range of mountains of which Mt. Kipp is a part. Surveyors have been at work during the last week making the final survey and laying out the site for the building, and it is said that the work of grading for the building and the making of roads will be pushed rapidly forward.

LOCAL BAPTISTS AT SHORE

SUNDAY-SCHOOLS' BIG EXCURSION TO ASBURY PARK

Train in Two Sections — Seventeen Coaches—Return This Evening.

The First Baptist Church Sunday-schools excursion to Asbury Park, left this morning in two train sections, under most favorable auspices. Weather conditions were perfect and it required seventeen coaches, twelve in one section and five in another, to take the Baptists and their friends to the shore. So far as could be learned everyone intending to go was on time and no one was left behind. The officers of the various schools, including the Home, the Mt. Olive Baptist and the East Third Street Chapel, were in charge and attended to their several departments. Returning this evening the trains will leave Asbury Park at 6:30 and they should reach home between 8 and 8:30.

TO BEGIN BOROUGH BOULEVARD

PROPERTY OWNERS HAVE DEEDED LAND FOR THE PURPOSE.

Greenbrook Road to be Widened, Graded and Macadamized Before Summer Ends.

That the proposed boulevard in North Plainfield is to materialize in fact is now almost a certainty. All the property owners along the proposed roadway have deeded over parts of their estates to the borough for such a roadway and Mayor Smalley states that he intends starting work on the new avenue before the summer is over.

The boulevard is formed by the widening of Greenbrook road from Rockview avenue to Rock avenue, a distance of one mile. Its width will be seventy feet and it will be macadamized and graded at a cost of probably not more than $2,500. When completed it will be the last link in a chain of macadamized roads in North Plainfield; work on the other unpaved part, Belmont avenue, having been completed within the past few weeks.

Property owners who have signed papers deeding land for the new roadway are A. J. Brunson, Charles Debele, Adam Fritz, Charles Arnold and the trustees of the Stine estate.

The proceeds, which are considerable, will be used in the interests of the association.

The lawn was decorated with Japanese lanterns and bunting. At one corner was the fortune telling booth conducted by Miss Margaret Vandeventer and directly opposite was another at which Miss Frances Vandeventer presided. Mrs. Jacob Vandeventer dispensed sweetmeats at the candy table.

Those in charge of the fair were: Stuart Freeman, president; Donald Jadwin, captain; Joseph Vandeventer, manager, assisted by Graff Simmonds, Moses Rubenstein, Leanard Rubenstein, Howard Freeman, Edgar Freeman, Russell Morris and Robert Morris.

In the evening musical selections were rendered by members of the club.

A watermelon feast is planned by the members of the Y. M. C. A. for Friday afternoon, July 24. A bicycle trip will be taken to Rahway and after spending the afternoon in gymnastic sports the water melons will be served. Arthur Denton and Herbert Brokaw are the committee in charge of the arrangements.

"DR." WOODS IN TOILS; SUSPECTED OF CRIME

Former Plainfielder's Name Connected With Death of Wealthy Man.

DETECTIVES AT WORK

AUTOPSY REVEALS SAWDUST IN DEAD MAN'S BODY.

Woods Purchased Aconite and New York Man Dies at His Home in California—Accused Lived in Watchung Avenue.

Detectives who have been at work on the case of Col. W. J. Best, of New York City, who died at the home of "Dr." John Donald Woods and Alice Cley Woods, in San Rafael, Cal., on April 6 last, have made rapid progress. "Dr." Woods at one time lived in Watchung avenue, this city. Evidence has been obtained connecting him with the death of the New York man.

It has been learned that Woods, who professed to be a physician, purchased poisons from druggists and one man admitted that he sold him aconite. The District Attorney in San Rafael says he has enough evidence to prove that Woods is neither a native of California nor a physician.

The remains of Col. Best were interred at Caldwell, Essex County, and yesterday they were disinterred for the purpose of holding an autopsy. The case is believed to be one of murder. During the autopsy it was discovered that all of the organs had bene removed from the body and in their place was a quantity of sawdust.

Little is known here of "Dr." Woods, except that he resided for a time in Watchung avenue.

BATTLE MONUMENT UNVEILING

ARRANGEMENTS FOR PUBLIC EXERCISES ON ANTIETAM BATTLEFIELD.

Surviving Members of New Jersey Troop Engaged in Fight to Be There.

The unveiling of the State monument at Antietam is to take place September 17, and the Legislature has appropriated $7,500 to pay the transportation of the surviving veterans of the First Brigade, Hexamer's Battery, and the Thirteenth Regiment, which were the New Jersey troops in the fight. The appropriation, however, is for transportation only, and the commissioners are puzzling over the question of how to lodge and feed the veterans, of whom there are estimated to be about 500 living in the State.

What makes the problem difficult is that there are not hotels on the battlefield and none at Sharpsburg, the nearest railroad station, capable of furnishing accommodations for so many men. Two plans have been proposed. One of these is to make the trip in special Pullman trains, in which the excursionists can eat and sleep on the trip. The other is to leave New Jersey in the morning, reaching Hagerstown in the evening, and staying there over night, returning to Sharpsburg in the morning and driving to the battlefield, and then, after the dedication, returning to Gettysburg at night and spending the next day there. The veterans will have to pay all their own expenses except transportation, and others will be given a special excursion rate covering all the cost of the trip.

Stokes Monument.

The committee appointed by the Ocean Grove Campmeeting Association to arrange for a monument to be erected in memory of its first president and famous leader, Rev. E. H. Stokes, has decided to erect a bronze statue on the grounds of the association.

Brig.-Gen. Moore Dead.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Hackensack, July 9—Brigadier-General J. Vreeland Moore died at Leonia Tuesday in his seventy-ninth year. He was first colonel of the old Second Regiment, and had been active in the National Guard from 1869 until April 25, 1893, when he retired.

OLD GRAVE STONES BENEATH ELM TREE

Inscriptions on Stones Marking Graves Made Long Ago.

THOSE INTERRED THERE

LAST RESTING PLACE OF EARLY MEMBERS OF CORIELL FAMILY.

Street Committee Digs up Bones Which Prove to be Those of a Horse—Detailed Account.

Beneath a spreading elm tree at the rear of the Isolation Hospital on Rock avenue are several graves with dates on the headstones of over a hundred years ago. Few people know of the place although the toppling headstones are in plain view of people riding along the roadway.

A glance at the dates brings to mind the fact that the graves were made only a few years after the Father of his Country stood on Washington Rock and watched his armies advance over the plains below. It is not improbable that the great general visited the same spot where now rests the remains of early settlers, members of the Coriell family of this city.

Although neglected the names on the sand stones slabs are still discernable. On one are seen the letters: "Mary, daughter of Daniel and Silvia Whitehead, who died June 23, 1773." Another reads: "Levil, son of Ephriam and Sally Coriell. Died October 15, 1813, aged 1 year, 1 month and 10 days." A small headstone marks the grave of another child: "Sarah, daughter of Elisha and Mary Coriell, who died December 2, 1782 at the age of 7 months.

Further away from the other graves is the resting place of "Mary, wife of Elisha and daughter of Luke and Anna Covert who died May 7, 1805, at the age of 41 years."

To the left the closing chapter of the lives of those early settlers are to be read on the tombstones. "In memory of Anne, the wife of Luke Covert. Died October 22, 1790 in the fiftieth year of her age," marks the burying place of Luke Covert's first wife and beside her resting place is another tombstone on which is inscribed, "In Memory of Luke Covert who died January 22, 1822 in his 94th year." Below is the epitaph:

"Come look upon my grave,
All ye that pass by
Where one doth live to such an age,
Thousands do younger die."

To the right of that grave is another marking, the burial place of Luke Covert's second wife. The inscription on the stone reads: "In memory of Deliah, second wife of Luke Covert, who died June 25, 1818, at the age of 73 years."

To the fore ground is the grave of Mary, the daughter of Levi and Sarah Lenox, who died October 26, 1815 in the 89th year of her age." The inscription on that stone reads:

"How short is life!
How certain is death
How important is Eternity."

Thus ends the necrology.

Some time ago when the street committee was at work digging away some earth near the mound where the graves are located some bones were discovered. When the report was circulated that human bones had been unearthed at the place the surviving relatives of the people buried there filed a complaint with the street commissioner about the matter. Investigation proved the bones to be those of a horse.

Around the graves are several bones, but they are evidently those of some animal. The finding of more bones at the place has given rise lately to the rumor that a human skeleton had been discovered in the vicinity but what bones there are on the spot at present indicate that they are part of some dead animal as they are too large to be those of a human being.

An Revoir.

After an absence of twenty years, Herman Marx, of the provision firm of Marx, Neu & Company, of Newark, sailed yesterday morning on the steamship Rydam for his native town of Reichelsheim, Oldenwold, Hessen, Darmstadt, Germany. Mr. Marx is well known in this city whither he has been coming every day with supplies for provisions dealers. A delegation of his Plainfield friends were present at the pier to wish him "bon voyage."

Walter Probasco, of Chicago, is spending his summer vacation at the home of his father, Dr. John B. Probasco, of East Front street.

Won Brighton Handicap.

NEW YORK, July 9.—J. B. Haggin's Waterboy won the Brighton handicap at one and a quarter miles in 2:03 1-5, a world's record, faster by three-fifths of a second than Gold Heels' circular track record time made in this race last year and faster than the record time of 2:03¾ made on a straight course by Banquet. Waterboy, gamest son of Watercress that ever won turf fame, carried the top weight, 124 pounds, and was favorite in the betting at 2 to 1. He had no serious competition in the race after Jockey Odom made his run except from Roehampton.

Three Favorites Won.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Flo Bob won the Maywood stakes at Washington park from Prince Silverwings in a hard drive by a head. The race was for two-year-olds at five furlongs. Flo Bob was a slight choice at 9 to 2 at post time, but others were heavily played. Fred Leppert set the pace and looked a winner until a sixteenth from home, when he quit badly. Flo Bob came with a rush from behind and barely won. In the first race Aggie Lewis lowered the track record for five and a half furlongs from 1:06¾ to 1:06 3-5.

Bookies Ahead at Highland Park.

DETROIT, Mich., July 9.—An excellent card coupled with perfect racing weather drew a large crowd to Highland park. Backers of the favorites had a disastrous day, as only one of the choices won, and the books reaped a harvest. A killing was made with Clifton Forge, a recent arrival from New York. He was heavily backed at the track and in the pool rooms throughout the country and won in a romp after making all his own pace.

Favorites Win at Granite Park.

DOVER, N. H., July 9.—The summer light harness meeting at Granite State park opened with three races on the programme. The favorites won in each class. In the 2:11 pace Peller Patron dropped the first heat to Princess Moquette. He then squared away and easily outpaced the field in remaining heats.

Racing at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—Forehand, an even money choice, won the fourth race at six furlongs for two-year-olds by a length. Check Morgan was second and Fenian third. Forehand was fourth to the stretch and then came strong, passing the field, with Check Morgan and Fenian close behind.

Deaths From Heat In Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Six deaths and a score of prostrations here witness to the advent of a hot wave. The temperature during the day reached 92 at the weather bureau. Thermometers on the streets showed marks several degrees higher. A thunderstorm followed by a breeze off the lake caused a fall of 20 degrees. Continuance of the heat is predicted.

Mosquito Transmits Disease.

HONOLULU, July 9.—Dengue fever continues to prevail here and in other districts of the islands. In Hilo Judge Little adjourned court for a week owing to the amount of illness among jurors and others. The mosquito is held responsible for the transmission of the disease, which is similar to the grip.

Shot Wife and Himself.

BOISE, Ida., July 9.—John Mitchell, a Grand Army veteran and a former member of the legislature, shot and severely wounded his wife and then shot and killed himself. The Mitchells, it is alleged, had had numerous quarrels about property matters.

Killed by Erie Train.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 9.—Thomas McCune of New York was killed by an Erie train here.

KODOL Digests What You Eat.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Kodol

Digests What You Eat

Mrs. Loring Nichols of Penn Yan, N. Y., writes: After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders, and gives the heart a full, free and untrammeled action.

Summit, N. J., May 21, 1903.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county:

Gentlemen: At a meeting of the Common Council of the city of Summit, held on Tuesday evening, May 19th, I was directed to communicate with your board to ask permission of them for the purpose of being granted permission to open the county road from Bridge street, in East Summit, along Morris avenue, to the county line in Millburn township, for the purpose of building one lateral sewer to connect with the Millburn-Summit branch of the trunk sewer.

Signed, Yours very truly,
Robert J. Muldowney,
City Clerk.

On motion of Freeholder King received and referred to the county road committee.

The following petition was presented and read:

Elizabeth, May 19, 1903.

Honorable Board of Freeholders,

The Calf Pasture Creek runs across Grier avenue, Broad street and Maple avenue, about 300 feet north of Summer avenue. If your honorable board would connect this water course (which is dry eight months of the year) to the sewer in Grier avenue and Maple avenue, with six inch pipe, it would be a benefit to the land, as it could be filled in, and thereby saving an expense in the future for opening ditch and keeping the brick walls in condition. Signed,

Yours respectfully,
P. H. Gilhooly and Anna H. Noyes,
Per O. W. Noyes.

Freeholder McCandless moved that the communication be received and referred to a special committee of three, which was so ordered.

The director appointed as said committee Freeholders McCandless, Krouse and Farrell.

LEO GROWS WEAKER

The General Condition of the Pope Is Not Tranquilizing.

HIS DEPRESSION ON THE INCREASE

Drs. Lapponi and Mazzoni, Wishing to Defend Their Diagnosis, Have Issued a History of the Holy Father's Illness.

ROME, July 9.—The latest reports issued from the Vatican are that the pope was steadily growing weaker and was only intermittently conscious. It was said that his holiness was not suffering in the least.

The following bulletin has been issued:

"The night passed tranquilly enough, although the pontiff had no restorative sleep. The pulse was frequent, but regular. Breathing was not as free as last night. The condition of the pope does not permit of a long examination, but it seems that the pneumonia tends to solve itself and that the pleuric liquid is not regathering. However, the general condition of the patient is not tranquilizing because of the state of depression, which at intervals increases."

Drs. Lapponi and Mazzoni, wishing to defend themselves from the attacks on their diagnosis of the pope's case, have issued the following account of his illness:

"On the morning of Tuesday, June 30, Pope Leo went for a drive in the Vatican gardens. On returning he declared that he had greatly benefited by the fresh air and wished to repeat the drive. The pope said he felt no need of a medical visit and informed Dr. Lapponi not to go and see him.

"During the night of Wednesday, July 1, Pope Leo complained of intestinal disturbance, which he attributed to constipation.

"On Thursday he declared he felt well, but Dr. Lapponi, wishing to know personally the nature of the disturbances complained of, spent the night at the Vatican. During the night the pope seemed sleepless and restless.

"On Friday Dr. Lapponi examined the pope and found pulmonary inflammation in the right of the thorax between the inferior and middle lobes. He informed Cardinal Rampolla and began the treatment which he thought right. During the day the inflammation spread. Dr. Lapponi, worried, desired to have Pope Leo seen by Dr. Mazzoni.

"On Sunday Dr. Mazzoni went to the Vatican and examined the patient with Dr. Lapponi, confirming the latter's diagnosis—namely, an inflammatory process in the lung which was defined in the medical bulletin as pulmonary hepatization. The original treatment was continued, consisting of supporting the strength, the heart and general condition of the patient.

"No noticeable change was observed until Monday evening. It was then found that the lowest part of the right of the thorax, which previously was pervious to respiration, had become impervious, affecting the function of the lung. The presence of liquid was suspected. The pontiff spent an agitated and sleepless night.

"On Tuesday many symptoms confirmed the presence of liquid. Its increase was considered to account for the pope's general condition growing worse. After a test puncture 800 grams of bloody liquid was extracted. The condition of the patient improved immediately, reviving hopes, slight in some persons and exaggerated in others. The amelioration in the condition of the patient was not continued during Tuesday. Indeed, depression gained the upper hand."

Kaiser's Sympathy For Leo.

BERLIN, July 9.—A report from Scandinavia says that Emperor William has addressed a telegram to the pope personally, saying that he prayed to God to preserve the pope's life for many years. The emperor has also requested daily information to be sent to him regarding the condition of his holiness. Accordingly Cardinal Rampolla telegraphs his majesty twice daily. It is said that in case of the pontiff's death the emperor will immediately return from Scandinavia and proceed to Rome to take part in the funeral.

No More Track Gambling.

NEW YORK, July 9.—At the Brighton Beach track a special policeman was arrested on a warrant secured by Benjamin Steinhardt, a lawyer, who declared that after a week there will be no more gambling at the tracks where thoroughbreds are raced. Steinhardt said that the arrest was made for the purpose of determining whether or not the Jockey club officials were acting contrary to the provisions of the Percy-Gray racing law in permitting betting at the track.

David Burrell, Jr., at Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., July 9.—David D. Burrell, son of the Rev. Dr. David J. Burrell of New York city, was ordained an evangelist in the First Presbyterian church here. He has been appointed instructor in the New Testament department of the Theological seminary and will enter upon his duties in the fall.

General Clay Is Insane.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 9.—General Cassius M. Clay was pronounced by a jury at Richmond to be of unsound mind. He will be sent to an asylum, this action being taken to protect his property. The aged gentleman was not in court. Physicians testified as to his mental condition.

Postmaster General's Return.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Postmaster General Payne returned to Washington from his brief outing in the Catskills. Because of fatigue he declined to see inquirers on post office matters.

National Association Meets at Omaha, Neb.

LIBEL LAW A PARAMOUNT QUESTION

President Willard Denounces Yellow Journalism and the Attempts to Throttle the Free Publication of News.

OMAHA, Neb., July 9.—A programme of music prefaced the first session of the annual conference of the National Editorial association here. President Garry A. Willard called the convention to order and delivered his annual address. He reviewed the work of the year, mentioned the increased membership of the association and congratulated the members on its healthy condition.

President Willard then spoke on the ethics of journalism and said it was the duty of every true newspaper man to stamp out "yellow" journalism. He aroused great enthusiasm in a denunciation of attempts to throttle the press, regarding which he said:

"One of the paramount questions of the day to our profession is the libel law, made more pointed than ever by the infamous enactment of a Pennsylvania legislature signed by Governor Pennypacker, whose name will ever be odious to all people who believe in the liberty of the press and who rely on its great power to denounce crime and corruption in public office. There is no mistaking the sentiment of the press and the people on this momentous subject. It is the duty of this body to pass strong resolutions against this law, which seeks to throttle the press, and give both moral and financial support to secure its repeal. So unjust and flagrant a violation of the people's rights will not be tolerated in any civilized country.

"The liberty of the press has been threatened by the cold blooded murder of a fellow journalist in South Carolina, and we protest with all earnestness against the atrocious deed. Public opinion cannot too severely criticise this foul murder and demand that the guilty party receive the punishment that he deserves. It was a most dastardly crime and strikes at the freedom of the press in such a manner as to cause us to wonder where it will end."

Suspect Foul Play In Best Case.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., July 9.—Warrants were issued for the arrest of John D. Woods and Alice C. Woods on a charge of grand larceny. A detective swore to the complaint. District Attorney Boyd stated that he would await developments in the autopsy about to be held on the body of Colonel William J. Best in New Jersey before placing a charge against Woods. He further said that he is in possession of evidence conclusively showing foul play in Colonel Best's demise. Mr. Boyd and a detective will leave for Sacramento to procure extradition papers from Governor Pardee.

Alleged Grafter Pardoned.

CONCORDIA, Kan., July 9.—A. J. Patterson, convicted and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for withholding $1,000 collected from the illicit saloons at Clyde as license payments while he was county treasurer, was pardoned by Governor Bailey. This is the first case in the state in which a convicted man has been pardoned before entering the penitentiary. Patterson contended that the city received the money illegally and could not hold him accountable for it. He paid the money back, with interest, after his conviction.

Land Bill Passes Committee.

LONDON, July 9.—In the house of commons Mr. Wyndham pleaded that the house complete the committee stage of the Irish land bill, and, this being assented to, Mr. Wyndham moved an amendment providing for the payment to the landlords of a uniform bonus of 12 per cent. This was agreed to, although the Nationalists plainly intimated their intention of reopening the question on the report stage. The bill as amended then passed through the committee stage and was reported to the house amid cheers.

Divide Sixty Millions.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The Huntington estate in California has been equally divided between the two heirs of the late C. P. Huntington. They are Arabella Huntington, his widow, and H. E. Huntington, a nephew of the deceased millionaire. This is the first division of the $60,000,000 estate, and a distribution of the eastern properties will soon follow.

Sad Drowning at Glens Falls.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., July 9.—Arthur Winchip, the fifteen-year-old son of Frank Winship of Glens Falls, was drowned at Glen lake while swimming. It is supposed he was taken with cramps. The body was recovered immediately after he sank, and physicians worked over him for an hour or more, but without avail.

Child Labor Bill Killed.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 9.—The house of representatives of the general assembly by a vote of 89 to 75 killed the child labor bill. The measure prevented the employing of children in cotton mills under a certain age limit.

Chautauqua Hotel Fire.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 9.—The Waldmere, at Lakewood, one of the chief hotels on Lake Chautauqua, has been badly damaged by fire. The house had just been opened for the season. The loss is about $10,000.

Plainfield, N. J., July 9, 1903.

Leadville, Col., had snow on the Fourth; but then we had ice cream.

You are right, Mary Jane, it would be bad form to say that State Entomologist Smith is making war on the mosquito. The mosquito is making war on Mr. Smith.

An ordinance compelling the unobstructed view of their bars on Sunday has offended the Trenton saloon-keepers, who claim that it casts reflection upon them. What a shame!

The Bergen county authorities who have released a common scold from jail and placed her in charge of the probation officer have found an effective means to force that official's resignation.

"It's a curious fact that wherever you go you are sure to meet somebody from Paterson," says the Paterson Evening News.

Yes, but this is a free country and we can't object.

When the American warships approached Portsmouth the other day "attention" was sounded on His Majesty's ships. This is not the first time that attention has been paid the appearance of our fleets.

It's poor taste to be discussing the Papal succession when Leo XIII still lives. Let us rather pray that the earthly father of the Roman Catholic communion, the noblest since Gregary I, be spared to continue his ministrations.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company officials had it "pasted" to them very thick when the firemen turned the hose on 230 carloads of flour on the burning pier at Jersey City.—Newark Evening News.

Yes, they lost their "dough."

The Asbury Park Common Council has appointed a committee to invite President Roosevelt to witness the annual baby parade at that resort. It doesn't pay to be too strenuous on some subjects, and the President may fully appreciate now what a peck of trouble that race suicide talk got him into.

Some of North Plainfield's councilmen think they are placed in a bad light because the tax rate will have to be raised providing an amount equal to a share of uncollected back taxes is paid over to the Borough Board of Education. Don't cast reflection upon yourselves in this way. If you are not responsible for it, you will be discredited when the public understands the situation.

The New Brunswick Home News says:

"The Asbury Park editor who used automobiles to deliver his afternoon edition is nothing if not up-to-date. But it is pretty hard commentary on the railroad service between Long Branch and Asbury Park that he couldn't depend on it to bring his papers."

Nothing hard in this—just putting it mildly.

"Trenton," a corespondent of the New York Herald, dishes out this morsel as a hot weather portion:

"Travellers through New Brunswick on the elevated tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad get a new revelation of the extent and beauties of the old town. All that one could see while formerly passing through the city at grade were dingly looking factories, a shabby little station, ill paved streets and rows of small wooden houses. The extended view now obtained shows a large number of handsome public and private buildings, beautifully shaded streets, a wide stretching city and some of the finest residential streets in New Jersey."

We would like to gaze upon the beauties (?) of New Brunswick as here depicted. It's dollars to doughnuts that the New Jersey editor of the New York Herald has never seen the county seat of Middlesex. Paraphrasing the joke Prince of Pilsen, "Have you ever been in New Brunswick?"

The press mentions James E. Martine as a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Although a member of the minority party in Union County, the election returns in the past have demonstrated "the farmer-orator's" strength as a vote getter and his popularity has not waned in the least. People who know him, admire Martine for his loyalty and aggressiveness. Since the time when he made his first speech many years ago until this day he has worked assiduously for the success of his party and what reward has he received? True it is that at the last State convention he received a complimentary vote for the gubernatorial nomination. On previous occasions he has also been named when there was little or no chance of success. The "farmer-orator" is abreast of the times and were he governor of New Jersey the State would have as chief executive a man of fearlessness, honesty and progressiveness.

The sooner the North Plainfield Council remedies the deplorable condition of the police department the better it will be for that community, which has been without sufficient police protection for a long time. There is only one solution and we advise the borough fathers to lose no time in adopting it. Increase the salaries. It is idle to think that capable men can be obtained to perform the required duties, when the salaries are as low as generally paid laborers. No man wishes to earn a living by patrolling streets at night, when he is able to obtain more congenial employment by day. All that the marshals get now is $50 a month and the chief receives but $65. There is no reason why the men in the borough's department should not be given a salary equivalent paid to the policemen in this city. Their work is just as exacting. Here the lowest salary paid a patrolman is $65 and he is benefitted by a graduated scale, receiving at the end of a certain time $80. We suggest that the borough marshals be given $65 a month at least. As for the chief there should be an increase in his salary as well and $75 is none too much for the work he has to perform.

Mr. Osgood described briefly a number of little questions of interest which had come up already during the course of the work. The bridge men, he said, had arrived and were ready to put up the false work to support the new bridge.

The power house will be located on the central tower, above the track, and can operate one side or both. At either end the lift is to be supported on heavy steel girders. It was difficult, Mr. Osgood explained, to tell how long it would take to complete the bridge as there were many questions which would undoubtedly come up during the course of the work which may delay it. The first span is to ready, according to contract, September 1, and he intimates that the chances were that it would be in order about that time.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

Among the victims of pickpockets at Pawnee Bill Wild West show in Plainfield on Monday night, was John Apgar, of this place. Mr. Apgar had recently been paid a bill and had the money amounting to $25 in his trousers pocket. Shortly after the performance he discovered that his money was gone, but could not remember being near any suspicious looking characters.

The members of the Board of Education had a lively time at their seance Tuesday evening and it is said that several wordy battles were indulged in.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

A very quiet marriage was celebrated in town Saturday evening, the contracting parties being Mrs. Nellie O. Crane, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Parks and John Lindahl, of New York. Rev. Mr. Greenwood, of the First Baptist Church, of Westfield, was the officiating clergyman. Mr. and Mrs. Lindahl will reside in the village.

Some one should look to improving the trolley service for Saturday afternoon ball games. Last Saturday's game drew 500 visitors to town, practically all of whom depended upon the trolley for transportation. Regular cars only were run and proved wholly inadqeuate to accommodate the crowds.

The efforts of the followers of the game in Plainfield to have Manager Johnston transfer Saturday's game with Alis from the local diamond to Crescent Oval are to no purpose as the local followers have only had one game at home in four weeks.

Judge Clark is following up the delinquent taxpayers. A number of pluvius tax warrants have been issued and place in Constable Guerrier's hands. This means pay up or be the guest of Warden Dodd at Elizabeth.

It is reported that another ball team not many miles away is trying to land MacManus, left fielder for the locals. Mac seems to be satisfied with the 'Plains and will probably stay the season out.

Kavanagh, who is playing right field for the locals, is not only a good outfielder but, as a pitcher, can keep the best of stick artists guessing with his benders.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning July 12, "My Place as a Christian Citizen"—Text, Matt. xvii, 24-27; I Tim. ii, 1, 2; I Pet. ii, 13-17.

"Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king."

Reverence for authority belongs to all true religion. Obedience to law is a mark of piety. Impatience of restraint and contempt for rules are not a sign of nobleness of nature, but rather of a craven spirit. The thirst for freedom is not an irritability against proper control. It is rather the inner longing for harmony between self and one's surroundings. Liberty is not power to do as one chooses, but ability to do as one ought. Absolute independence is unknown in a world where all are related in work and privilege. Relation to others means mutual dependence upon each other. Each, then, has a right to do as he pleases, only as he pleases to do right. We are born into a world which has fixed conditions of existence which we cannot largely change. We must use things as we find them and make them as much better as we can.

We do not largely have the choice of our fatherland and form of government. We are born into our position. A few may change the land of their residence and the rulers, but the vast majority of men must live and die in the land and under the government where they were born.

Every Christian must settle what is his duty to the state of which he is a citizen.

The first duty of every one under all governments is to have proper respect for the rulers and laws of the realm and to obey them so far as they do not conflict with moral right.

If any certain law be plainly wrong and to obey it would be sinful then one must resist such a law, strive by all just means to have it changed and expect until it is changed to suffer the penalty of violating it and by such suffering patiently endured assist in its repeal and the enactment of the right rule.

Wherever the form of the government allows free discussion and participation of the citizens in election of officers and making of laws it is the duty of every Christian citizen to use his utmost endeavor and highest ability to secure just and right laws and their proper enforcement.

To consent to any injustice or wrong of any kind in order to make any private gain is crime and sin. To gain office for self or others by any form of bribery or coercion, by threats or promises of favors is iniquitous and brands one as unfit for office or citizenship. To know of such deeds and not to protest and work against them is unmanly and cowardly. We must be upright and make our nation noble.

More Than Your Business.

A man says: "What business is it of any one except myself if I close my eyes and do not see the Lord? Does it hurt any one but me? Who has a right to interfere or urge me?" Indeed it is the business of other men than you; it is the whole world's business whether or not you are a Christian. Indeed it does rob other souls than yours if you will not live spiritually and see the truth which God is showing to your soul. If there are men whom, being yourself a Christian, you might bring to Christ, then you rob not only yourself, but them, if you refuse to come to Christ. The window which makes itself dark darkens not merely itself, but also all the room into which the light might have shone through it.—Phillips Brooks.

More Presumption Than Faith.

Some Christians have more presumption than faith. All they think necessary is to whip up a desire for some real or imagined good and then insist on having it regardless of conditions which the Lord has fixed. A certain parable puts the matter thus: Two pilgrims unwilling to enter a town with their beast proposed to leave him on the outskirts until they should have accomplished their mission. "Don't tie the horse," said one, "but trust in Providence that he will not run away." "No," said the other, "tie the horse first and then trust in Providence." First obey, then trust.—Lutheran.

How to Obtain Holiness.

Be determined to have it. God does like to see people tremulously in earnest for the right. It will not avail to talk about it. The discussion of technicalities, even in one's own mind, without accepting the truth so far as known only tends to mystify. Do not speculate or philosophize. "There are many points in it that you will never understand till its own light blazes in your soul." Having seen the possibility, do not longer delay, but resolve to have it.—American Friend.

Power For Good.

Multiply your power for good by putting yourself in God's hands to be led and used by Him. Work with God and let God work with you, for by being in harmony with God a man increases his ability by an infinite factor, and God and eternity alone can measure and reveal the result.—Religious Telescope.

Be In Earnest.

A half hearted Christianity is like a nut with a dried up kernel. Like many other things which neither God nor man cares for it is good—for nothing.—Lutheran.

Ye Shall Reap Your Own.

Every sower must one day reap
From the seed he has sown.
How carefully, then, it becomes us to keep
A watchful eye on the seed and seek
To sow what is good that we may not weep,
To receive our own.

—Good Words.

DIRE DISTRESS.

It Is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Plainfield Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back.

Backache is the kidneys' cry for help.

Profit by a Plainfield citizen's experience.

Mr. Charles Giese, cigar manufacturer, of 25 Elm place, says: "I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint for two or three years. Most of the pain was in my back and hips and I could not stoop or straighten without feeling sharp shooting twinges. When I sat for any length of time I grew stiff and sore and was compelled to get up and move about. I grew so bad I had to do something for it. I had read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills being such good medicine for kidney troubles so I got a box of them at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I used them according to directions and after two or three days I felt better. I continued their use until the pain disappeared."

For sale by all dealers; price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning July 12—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—What the Holy Spirit can do for me.—John xvi, 5-16.

The Holy Spirit is the third person of the Trinity and as such has a distinctive work to perform. The Father planned the only method of salvation, the Son executed it by His death upon the cross, and it is the mission of the Holy Spirit to apply it. The Father is specially manifested in the Old Testament dispensation, the Son in the gospels and from the day of Pentecost we have been living in the dispensation of the Spirit. He came as a result of Christ's going from earth. "It is expedient that I go away; for if I go not away the Comforter will not come unto you, but if I depart I will send him unto you." Christ in the flesh was to be replaced by Christ in the spirit. In the flesh Christ could be in but one place at the same time, but in the spirit He could be everywhere, performing His work; hence the expediency of Christ's going away that the Spirit might come.

Having come, what is the work of the Spirit in applying the redemption purchased by Christ? Several phases of the Spirit's work in the world are here suggested by Christ:

1. The Spirit convinces the world of sin. "And when He is come He will convince the world of sin and of righteousness and of judgment." The people of the world were loath to believe in Christ, but the Spirit would convince them of their unbelief and would show that righteousness could be obtained in Christ and that Christ had judged and condemned Satan, the prince of this world. Conviction of sin is the first step in the salvation of the soul. No one will cry out "What must I do to be saved?" until he feels that he is a sinner and therefore needs salvation. This conviction is the work of the Spirit, and then He leads to repentance and faith and a complete apprehension of the mercy of God in Christ. This is the Spirit's work for the sinner, and if unsaved He is the only one who can do it for us.

2. The Spirit guides into spiritual truth. Christ taught the disciples many things, and yet they were often ignorant and full of misunderstanding. But after Pentecost this was not true of them. Their faith was strong and their knowledge certain, because they were guided into the truth by the Spirit. This also is a part of His word in relation to the Christian. "When He, the Spirit of Truth, is come He will guide you into all truth," and the truth which He teaches is the truth as it is in Jesus, "for He shall not speak of Himself, but whatsoever He shall hear that shall He speak, and He shall show you things to come." And in John xv, 26, Jesus says, "He shall testify of Me." The truth of God as revealed in His word is the work of His Spirit. "Holy men spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." And in addition to that, the Holy Spirit enlightens the mind that it may comprehend the truth as it is in Jesus. In all Bible study we should earnestly and prayerfully seek the personal guidance of the Spirit. He wrote the Bible, and no one like Him can help us to understand it.

3. The Spirit glorifies Christ. "He shall glorify Me, for He shall receive of mine and show it unto you." The method of glorification is by the manifestation of the truth. To one who knows the truth Christ cannot but be glorified.

The New General Secretary.

After nearly six months of searching the ideal man has finally been found to succeed Mr. John Willis Baer as general secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor. Mr. Von Ogden Vogt of Beloit, Wis., assumed the duties of the office recently. He brings to the work a large experience along similar lines and will throw his splendid personality into Christian Endeavor in such a way as to make it move forward in every branch. Mr. Vogt is twenty-five years old, a graduate of Beloit college and a member of the Woodlawn Presbyterian church of Chicago.

VON OGDEN VOGT.

Endeavor Day In Juneau.

Endeavor day was celebrated in Juneau, Alaska, by emphasizing the "good citizenship" features of the movement. This unusual observance was for the purpose of giving encouragement to the efforts then on foot for ridding the town of gambling and other kindred evils.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1902, by The Robert Company.

"Then it's to him you should be runnin', not home, ye cur! Turn about now! Turn about or I'll——" And in a fury Pat had seized the other's rein, and, spurring savagely at Kilmaine—both horses instantly waking, as though responsive to the wrath and fersor of their little master—he fairly whirled the big trooper around and, despite fearsome protests, bore him onward toward the ridge, swift questioning as they rode. How came they to send a raw rookie on such a quest? Why, the rookie grasped in explanation that he was on stable guard, and the captain took the first six men in sight. How happened it that the captain got so far ahead of him? There was no keepin' up with the captain. He was on his big, raw-boned race horse, chasin' three Indians that was firin', and had hit Meisner, but there was still three of the troop to follow him, and the captain ordered "come ahead," until all of a sudden, as they filed round a little knoll the three Indians they'd been chasin' turned about and let 'em have it, and down went another horse, and Corporal Feeney was killed sure, and he, poor young rookie, saw Indians in every direction, "comin' straight at 'em," and what else could he do but gallop for home—and help? All this, told with much gasping on his part, and heard with much blasphemy by Kennedy, brought the strangely assorted pair at a swift gallop over the springy turf back along the line of that panicky, yet most natural retreat. Twice would the big fellow have broken away and again spurred for home, but the little gamecock held him savagely to his work, and so, together, at last they neared the curtaining ridge. "Now, damn you!" howled Kennedy, "Whip out your carbine and play you're a man till we see what's in front! an' if ye play false, the first shot from this barker," with a slap at the butt of his Springfield, "goes through your heart."

And this was what they saw as, together, they rounded the hillock and came in view of the low ground beyond.

Half-way down the long, gradual slope, in a shallow little dip, possibly an old buffalo wallow, two or three horses were sprawled and a tiny tongue of flame and blue smoke, spitting over the broad, brown backs, told that some one, at least, was on the alert and defensive. Out on the prairie, 300 yards beyond, a spotted Indian pony, heels up, was rolling on the turf, evidently sorely wounded. Behind this rolling parapet crouched a feathered warrior, and farther still away, sweeping and circling on their mettlesome steeds, three more savage braves were darting at speed. Already they had sighted the coming reinforcements, and while two seemed frantically signalling toward the northwest, the third whirled his horse and sped madly away in that direction.

"Millions, be damned!" yelled Kennedy. "There's only three. Come on, ye scut!" And down they went, full tilt, at the Sioux, yet heading to cover and reach the beleaguered party in the hollow. Some one of the besieged waved a hat on high. Two more carbines barked their defiance at the feathered foe, and then came a pretty exhibit of savage daring and devotion. Disdainful of the coming troopers and of the swift fire blazing at them from the pit, the two mounted warriors lashed their ponies to mad gallop and bore down straight for their imperiled brother, crouching behind the stricken "pinto." Never swerving, never halting, hardly checking speed, but bending low over and behind their chargers' necks, the two young braves swept onward, and with wild whoop of triumph, challenge and hatred, gathered up and slung behind the rider of the heavier pony the agile and bedizened form on the turf; then circled away, defiant, taunting, gleeful, yes and even more:— With raging eyes Kennedy sprang from saddle and, kneeling, drove shot after shot at the scurrying pair. Two of the troopers at the hollow followed suit. Even the big, blubbering lad so lately crazed with fear, unslung his weapon and fired thrice into empty space, and a shout of wrath and renewed challenge to "come back and fight it out" rang out after the Sioux, for to the amaze of the lately besieged, to the impotent fury of the Irishman, in unmistakable, yet mostly unquotable, English, the crippled warrior was yelling mingled threat and imprecation.

"Who was it Kennedy?—and where did you ever see him before?" a moment later, demanded Capt. Blake, almost before he could grasp the Irishman's hands and shower his thanks, and even while stanching the flow of blood from a furrow along his sun-burnt cheek. "What's that he said about eating your heart?"

And Kennedy, his head cleared now through the rapture of battle, minded him of his promise to Field, and lied like a hero. "Sure, how should I know, sorr? They're all of the same spit."

"But he called you by name. I heard him plainly. So did Meisner, here," protested Blake. "Hello, what have you there, corporal?" he added, as young Feeney, the "surely killed," came running back, bearing in his hand a gaily ornamented pouch of buckskin, with long fringes and heavy crusting of brilliant beads.

"Picked it up by that pony yonder, sir," answered the corporal, with a salute. "Beg pardon, sir, but will the captain take my horse? His is hit too bad to carry him."

Two, indeed of Blake's horses were crippled, and it was high time to be going. Mechanically he took the pouch and tied it to his waist belt. "Thank God no man is hurt!" he said. "But—now back to Frayne! Watch those ridges and be ready if a feather shows, and spread out a little—don't ride in a bunch."

But there was bigger game miles to the west, demanding all the attention of the gathered Sioux. There were none to spare to send so far, and though three warriors—one of them raging and clamoring for further attempt despite his wounds—hovered about the retiring party, Blake and his fellows within another hour were in sight of the sheltering walls of Frayne; and, after a last, long-range swapping of shots, with Blake and Meisner footing it most of the way, led their crippled mounts in safety toward that Rubicon of the west—the swift flowing Platte. They were still three miles out when Blake found leisure to examine the contents of that beaded pouch, and the first thing drawn from its depths was about the last a Christian would think to find in the wallet of a Sioux—a dinty little billet, scented with wood violet—an envelope of delicate texture, containing a missive on paper to match, and the envelope was addressed in a strange, angular, characteristic hand that Blake recognized at once, to a man of whom, by that name at least, he had never heard before:

THE JEWS' PETITION

President Roosevelt to Confer With B'nai B'rith.

MUCH DELAY IN ITS COMPLETION.

It Is Expected the Document Will Be Handed In at an Early Date to Be Sent to the Russian Government.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 9.—President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay have concluded their conference relative to the B'nai B'rith petition to the Russian government. The petition itself has not been completed, and it can be said that the president deeply regrets the delay in the placing of the document in his hands. The president expects to have a conference at Sagamore Hill with three of the Jewish citizens who have promoted the idea of forwarding a petition to the Russian government. On that day Simon Wolf of Washington and Oscar Straus and Leon N. Levy of New-York will take luncheon with the president. It is expected that the petition, which has been revised carefully by its authors, will be handed to the president at that time. In any event the subject in all its phases will be considered thoroughly.

It is understood that the Jewish citizens who have been insistent in their advocacy of the sending of the petition desire that matters relating to it should be considered entirely apart from the Manchurian question. This, it is pointed out by state department officials, is scarcely possible, as the two matters are inseparably connected in the manifold ramifications of the United States diplomatic relations with Russia.

Whether the petition when completed will be sent immediately to the Russian government or whether the Russian foreign officials will be asked first whether it will receive such a presentation has not been determined definitely. The result would be the same in effect whether the one method were adopted or the other, as, naturally, Russia would be cognizant of the nature of the petition before she declined or agreed to receive it.

Lee Brown Will Be Moved Secretly.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 9.—Acting under orders of Judge Rasch, Sheriff Kratz left secretly for the Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville to bring back Lee Brown, the wounded negro who killed Patrolman Massey last Friday. It was this killing and the desire of the mob to lynch Brown that precipitated the rioting here. Brown was quietly removed to Vincennes and from Vincennes to the state prison at Jeffersonville for safe keeping. How Sheriff Kratz will bring the negro here and what hour he will arrive will be kept secret if possible.

Lehigh Increases Wages.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 9.—The Lehigh Valley railroad engineers and firemen have been granted an advance of from 10 to 25 per cent a day. They had intended petitioning for an increase. The increase will hereafter make the wages on the Lehigh Valley uniform. The trainmen and conductors are not included in the new schedule, as their wages were increased last month. While the firemen are not altogether satisfied with the advance, they not getting as much as they hoped, it is believed that there will be no trouble over the allotment.

Mother Abducted Her Son.

LIMA, O., July 9.—The village of Bluffton, this county, was intensely excited over the second abduction of a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kraft, who has been living with his grandparents pending divorce proceedings between his father and mother. Mrs. Kraft, aided by her father, Mr. John Adams of Cleveland, kidnaped the boy. They were apprehended by the authorities of Mount Cory while driving through the town and brought back to Bluffton.

Held Up Train For Harvest Hands.

BOSTON, Kan., July 9.—Forty farmers stopped a Missouri Pacific train here last night and went through it searching for harvest hands. The train ordinarily does not stop here, and the farmers flagged it with a lantern wrapped in a red handkerchief. They offered passengers $2.50 and $3 a day for three weeks to get off the train. There is a great scarcity of harvest hands.

Forged Czolgosz's Name.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 9.—Frank Y. Feiten of Cleveland, who forged the assumed name under which Joseph Czolgosz, brother of President McKinley's assassin, was traveling while in Los Angeles, was fined $250 in the United States district court. Feiten obtained $15 on a postal money order by forging Czolgosz's name.

The Canal Treaty.

BOGOTA, Colombia, July 9.—Minister Rico has stated in congress that Senor Herran signed the Panama canal treaty under instructions from the Colombian government. The public discussion of the treaty was secured by the opposition, headed by ex-President Caro.

Scalpers Can Do Business.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—St. Louis ticket brokers will be able to continue doing business in nontransferrable and any other kinds of transportation until next October despite the injunctions recently issued against them by the judges of the St. Louis circuit court.

Barrington Gets Postponement.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—"Lord" F. Seymour Barrington, charged with the murder of James P. McCann, secured a postponement of the preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Campbell until July 20.

TO TEST VOTING MACHINES

NONE TO BE ADOPTED UNTIL ALL ARE GIVEN A TRIAL.

Decision Made at a Conference Between Governor and Commission at Sea Girt.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Camp Murphy, Sea Girt, July 9—Bids for supplying voting machines to the State for use in the fall election have been submitted to Governor Murphy. The State voting machine commission received bids on several designs of machines. Only three of these are machines that have been approved by the commission. The prices quoted range from $450 to $500 each.

As a result of a conference between the Governor and the commission it has been practically agreed that three or more designs of machines will be purchased and given a test at this year's election to determine their relative merits.

Six of the bids will be considered by the commission, on condition that the makers of the three types that have not been officially approved submit samples for examination and approval within a week. If these makes are satisfactory, three of four types will be selected and some of each included in the eighty-one that are to be bought by the State for use this year.

By the adoption of this plan it is believed that a thorough test can be given the machines in practical use, and the commissioners will then be better able to recommend intelligently the type or types that should be bought if the Legislature next year decides to purchase enough to supply the entire State.

CHOOSE U. S. RIFLE TROPHY

ARMY, NAVY, AND GUARD TEAMS TO COMPETE.

Prizes and Trophies to be Given in General Contests—Design of the Trophy.

A committee of which Lieutenant Frank K. Hill, United States navy, is chairman, appointed from the board for promotion of rifle practice to select a design for a national trophy, has decided upon the design submitted by the Gorham Company of New Jersey. In addition to this national trophy, which is to be competed for each year by the teams representing the army, navy, Marine Corps and National Guard, there will be given medals to each member of the six highest teams.

The design selected for the trophy represents an inverted shell with a shield on the lower part of the shell. The shell and shield are supported by two eagles, representing the army and navy of the United States, which are in turn supported by a globe, the eagles resting on the eastern and western hemispheres. On the upper part of the shell is a figure of Mars holding in leash four dogs of war. In the upper left hand corner is a bar supporting the coat-of-arms of the United States, from which are depended four other bars with the following inscription:

"Army, Navy, Marine Corps, National Guard."

In the upper right hand corner will be placed an inscription, probably this: "National trophy team marksmanship, presented by act of Congress of United States of America, MDCCCCIII."

The material of the shield on which an inscription will be made yearly of the team winning for that year is of silver, the other parts being bronze. The whole is about three and one-half feet high by two and a half feet wide.

The general allotment of prizes and trophies is as follows:

Rifles—United States service, with not less than three-pound trigger pull; ammunition — Service cartridge as manufactured and issued by the ordnance department; entrance fee—Twenty-four dollars per team, except by teams of the American navy and Marine Corps; two days' contest—First day, 200, 500 and 600 yards; second day, 800, 900 and 1,000 yards.

Prizes: To the team making the highest aggregate total in the two days' contest, the national trophy (authorized by act of Congress), to be competed for annually, and cash $500; the team making the second highest aggregate total, the Hilton trophy, presented by the late Henry Hilton, of New York, to be competed for annually, and cash $300; the team making the third highest aggregate total, the bronze Soldier of Marathon, presented by the commander-in-chief, on behalf of the State of New York, to be competed for annually, and cash $200; the team making the fourth highest aggregate total, cash $10; the team making the fifth highest aggregate total, $100; the team making the sixth highest aggregate total, $50; also a medal for each member of the winning teams.

COMPENSATION OF ELECTION OFFICERS

Mixup Caused by Clashing of Amendment to Meeker Act and New Primary Law.

STILL DISPUTING PAY

MEEKER ACT AMENDMENT GIVES NO PAY FOR PRIMARY ELECTION.

Incongruity in Primary Election Law—Provisions of the Two Enactments Are Given Below in Detail.

There seems to be considerable confusion in regard to the proper compensation of election officers in municipal elections in Plainfield and other New Jersey cities. The confusion is in the clashing of the new primary law and the amendment to the Meeker act in regard to the rates of compensation. About 400 of the district officers have entered claims of $40 for extra services in the elections of the past two years, making their demands on the strength of a Supreme Court decision that the statute entitled officers to pay for general and for special elections even though the two were held simultaneously. About $18,000 is involved in suits for compensation, which will probably be argued early in the fall.

The question raised regarding the years 1901 and 1902 will not obtain in connection with the election of this year because of legislative action taken at the last session. Chapter 266, of the statutes of 1903, contains the remedy. It provides that the compensation of each member of the boards of registry and election in cities having a population exceeding 30,000, shall be for each registry day $5, and for each election day $10. The act provides that the services of the election officers shall be given for both the general and municipal election without extra compensation.

The same provision regarding the amount of compensation that shall be received by the election officers is contained in the act regulating the manner in which primary elections shall be held. The language of the sections of the two acts, while exactly similar in effect, in most particulars, differs in one important feature and this difference is giving public officials some concern because of the apparent opening it makes for more dispute relating to the amount of compensation to which the election officers will be entitled.

The amendment to the Meeker act provides that the pay of election officers shall be $5 for each registry day and $10 for each election day. It fails to provide for any additional compensation for services in connection with the primary election, which, under the law, must be held on the first day of registry, which is the second Tuesday in September.

The other act—that regulating primary elections — makes provisions, however, that the pay of the election officers shall be $10 for the first day of registry, which compensation shall include services rendered at the primary election. This latter act was approved April 14, 1903, but the other law, naming $5 pay for days of registry, was approved April 15, 1903, one day later, and this fact may be used to sustain a possible claim that as the latest act supersedes the prior one, election officers will not be legally entitled to more than $5 pay for their services on the first day registry, notwithstanding they will have to perform additional services in connection with the primary election.

As an offset to this argument, however, it is held that the later act deals only with the pay of election officers in connection with their services as registry and election officers, and that the provision of the prior act that the compensation shall be $10 for the first day of registry, including services rendered at the primary election, should be interpreted to mean that the pay for services at the primary election shall be $5, in addition to the $5 they are entitled to for services in connection with the registry.

There is another seeming incongruity in the primary election law that has given rise to speculation as to its possible effect. The act is supposed to relate only to primary elections, yet its thirty-first section is an amendment to Section 178 of the general elections act, and regulates the compensation that shall be received by election officers, not only in connection with their services as officers of the primary elections, but also for their services on the days of registry and on general and municipal election days.

HORSE DOCTORS MEET.

The State Veterinary Medical Association Holds Semi-Annual Session.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Paterson, July 10—The semi-annual meeting of the Veterinary Medical Association of New Jersey was held at the quarters of the government animal quarantine station at Athenia yesterday afternoon. It is usual to hold the sessions of the association at some large city, but a desire of a number of the members to inspect the government station for the port of New York led to the meeting held in Athenia.

The veterinarians assembled shortly after the noon hour. After the meeting had been called to order and some routine business disposed of, Dr. D. E. Salmon, chief of the bureau of the animal industry, read a paper, which was followed by others on topics of interest to the members.

A clinic was held and, following that, the veterinarians were conducted through the different departments of the quarantine station.

CALIFORNIA WARRANT OUT FOR "DR." WOODS

Charge of Murder Lodged Against Former Plainfielder Who Disappears.

RESULT OF AUTOPSY

STATEMENTS IN THE CERTIFICATE OF DEATH PROVEN TO BE FALSE.

Parents Say Woods Was Black-sheep of the Family — Know Nothing of Wife — Dropped Out of Sight.

Notwithstanding the revelations of the autopsy on the body of Colonel William J. Best, which was exhumed at Caldwell, on Wednesday, no steps have been taken by the New Jersey authorities, so far as can be ascertained, to find Dr. John D. Woods and wife, former residents of Plainfield, in whose house in San Rafael, Cal., the Colonel died. The couple left Atlantic City suddenly on Monday night.

The sons of Col. Best received a telegram yesterday from the District Attorney of Marin County, Cal., stating that warrants have been issued for John Donald Woods and Alice Cloy Woods on a charge of larceny and, after the autopsy, on a charge of murder.

County Physician McKenzie, who performed the autopsy, said yesterday that he had not asserted that the conditions revealed by the autopsy showed that the man was murdered. Thus far, he said, he had no means of knowing what was the cause of death, although he did find that it was not, as is stated in the certificate, cerebral apoplexy.

While no one seems to know where Dr. Woods and his wife are, there are many who are looking for them. It was thought that possibly they might return to the home of his parents at Union Hill, N. J., but the parents state that they have not seen their son in three years, at which time he was in trouble. The parents say that their son was the "black sheep" of the family. The parents claim that they know nothing of the woman who is said to be his wife.

SLANDER SUIT.

Clergyman Named in Watt Divorce Case May Take That Course to Clear His Reputation.

Slander, proceedings against Archibald Watt are being strongly urged by friends of the Rev. Dr. George R. Van De Water, named as one of the co-respondents in the divorce proceedings brought by the former against his wife, Adele Watt, of North Plainfield, as part of a programme of reprisal.

"The vestry and members of St. Andrew's," said William H. Sage, counsel for Dr. Van De Water, yesterday, "believe that Dr. Van De Water has only one course to pursue, and that is to insist upon a thorough hearing of the case. He is innocent of every charge brought against him and we intend to prove it to the public and his friends beyond the peradventure of a doubt."

GREAT THRONG AT FREE BAND CONCERT

Mosquitoes and Heat Combined Did Not Keep Crowd Away.

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

AUDIENCE ARMED WITH CHINESE TAPERS AND FANS.

Vocal Solos a Feature of the Programme — People Show Their Appreciation by Much Applause.

Heat and mosquitoes combined were not enough to keep people away from the attractions of the band concert last evening. The City Park was thronged half an hour before the time for the opening number and everybody stayed until the last strains of "Victorious America," the final selection, had died away.

The excellence of the music by Benjamin LaVere's band well repaid music lovers for their courage in braving the mosquitoes. Every selection was popular and followed by enthusiastic demands for more. "Hiawatha" probably pleased the multitude more than any other number, and, before the opening bar had been played through, it was taken up by the crowd, and whistled and hummed to the end.

Another popular selection was the medley, "The Curtain Raiser." Albert C. Sweet's cornet solo was another favorite, the musician performing so ably that he had to "blow himself" for an encore. Everybody enjoyed Mr. Murray's vocal solos which were rendered with an esprit that earned for him enthusiastic recalls. All the other selections had been made with a thorough understanding of popular demands and were received with delight. The collection taken up in the intervals between numbers netted a considerable sum and it seems likely that it will be possible to continue the concerts through the summer.

Everybody came last night armed for the fray with the mosquitoes. The drug store did a flourishing business in joss sticks preceding the concert and the park was redolent with their odor. Many brought with them bottles of penny-royal, essence of lavendar and other safe-guards against the pest, and bathed face and hands frequently in the vain hope of relief. It was perhaps the hottest night of the year, but in spite of all everybody "stuck it out" with a persisency that attested convincingly the excellent work of the band.

The musicians themselves suffered probably more than anybody else. The bright lights of the band stand attracted the mosquitoes in clouds, and when the music was on, the players were absolutely defenseless. It was amusing to watch the expression on the face of the trombone artist or the bass horn performer, exercising his lung power to its utmost capacity with a swarm of insects three deep feeding eagerly on face, neck and hands. With what great pleasure the musicians set down their instruments after playing through a number and applied themselves to fighting off mosquitoes may be imagined.

But despite the fact that the people were bored by mosquitoes, the delight in the music was sufficient to send them home happy in the knowledge that they had heard good music in a most successful concert. The programme:

Part I—March, "My Own United States," Edwards; overture, "Der Tambour der Garde," Titl; concert waltz, "Symphia," Holzman; cornet solo, selected, Albert C. Sweet; medley, "The Curtain Raiser," Smith.

Part II—Characteristic, "Dance of the Skeletons," Allen; vocal solo, (a) "I Thinking of You all de While," Reed, (b) "Alls Busby Don't go Way," Cannon, Mr. Murray; intermezzo, "Cavalleria Rusticana," Mascagni; idyl, "Hiawatha," Moret; a tone poem, "Sunbeams and Shadows," Keiser; finale, "Victorious America."

Benj. La Vere, director.

Entertained Class.

Sunday-school class No. 15, of Trinity Reformed Church, which is taught by Miss Mabel Wilson, was entertained last evening by A. P. Bach at his home in Somerset street. The young men remained on the front porch until the mosquitoes drove them in. The evening was spent in playing games, during which refreshments were served.

RECONCILIATION AFTER MARRIAGE

The Foster Parents Forgive Divorced Wife Who Takes Second Partner.

MRS. CRANE, THE BRIDE

"ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL" AND COUPLE ARE HAPPY.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lindahl Were Married on July Fourth —The Story of a Romance.

A romance is said to be connected with the marriage of Mrs. Nellie Crane, of Scotch Plains, and John Lindahl, formerly of Pennsylvania, which took place July 4, at Scotch Plains, and which was noticed in yesterday's Daily Press. The story contains all the necessary elements of stern parental disapproval followed by affecting reconciliations to stir the pulses even of a hardened reader of Ouida and "The Duchess."

Husband No. 1, by name Dennis C. Crane, left for Dakota several months ago and took advantage of the elastic marriage laws of that State to obtain a divorce on the ground of desertion. His wife put forward no opposition.

Mrs. Crane, it is said, met her future husband while he, in the person of Mr. Lindahl, was a boarder at her house. Then came the announcement that the two intended tempting the guardian angel that watches over marriages, followed closely, according to the story, by earnest remonstrances from Mrs. Crane's foster-parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Parks. These proved of no weight however, in the balance with the call of Cupid.

The arrangements for the marriage went merrily on until the time came for the choice of a minister to perform the ceremony. Mrs. Crane appealed first to her foster-father, Rev. J. H. Parks, the retired pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist Church, but the stern parent refused to accommodate. Rev. Gideon M. Shott, of the same church, was next called upon, but he too refused, in deference to the wishes of Mr. Parks, his predecessor in office.

Finally the couple requested Rev. Mr. Greenwood, of the First Baptist Church of Westfield, to tie the knot which was done, as already stated on the Fourth of July, in the presence of the necessary witnesses only. The last chapter in the romance followed quickly and consisted in the reunion of the parties interested and a complete reconciliation

STREET WORK.

Improvements and Repairs on the Various Thoroughfares of the City.

The work of turnpiking North avenue between Richmond street and Terrill road, was completed yesterday afternoon. West Front street is being resurfaced between Grant and Clinton avenue. This work will be finished this week.

West Fifth street, Arlington and Plainfield avenues are to receive attention next week and it is expected that that work will be done in a few days. Several old culverts near South Second street and Clinton avenue are to be rebuilt.

Many residents along Arlington avenue have complied with the request of the street committee of the Common Council and have laid flagstone sidewalks in front of their houses.

Stocking With Bass.

At the July meeting of the Fish and Game Commission of the State, held at Long Branch, the reports presented showed that $270 had been collected in fines last month. The commission discussed the purchase of a supply of black bass from the Great Lake and more quail from Indian Territory. Five thousand bass have been ordered to stock the various streams. One thousand quail will be brought into the State.

Slew Reptile.

George Gunther, coachman for W. J. Buttfield, of Rockview avenue, encountered a big black snake this morning near the Buttfield residence From tip to tip he measured five feet six inches. This is not the first time Mr. Gunther has killed snakes in the borough. It is believed that they habitate the woods not far from Mr. Buttfield's home.

Invitations to the first annual assemblage of the Aaron Burr Legion, to be held in Newark Tuesday, have been sent out by the Grand Camp officers in Boston.

The exercises will conclude with a pilgrimage to Aaron Burr's grave in Princeton and a visit to St. James Hotel, Staten Island, where he died.

CORNER STONE LAYING PLANS

ARRANGEMENT FOR EXERCISES AT UNION COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

The Date to be Changed to Suit the Grand Master of the F. and A. M.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, July 10—The special Building Committee of the Union County Board of Freeholders, which has charge of the construction of the new $600,000 county building and courthouse met yesterday afternoon to fix a date for the laying of the corner-stone of the structure. This, as planned, will be an impressive ceremony, as it will be performed by the grand Masonic lodge of New Jersey, and all societies in Elizabeth will be invited to participate in the other exercises, which will include several short addresses and a select musical programme.

It was decided by the building committee at a previous meeting to have the corner-stone laying take place on July 28, but since then it has been learned that the grand master of the Masonic fraternity of New Jersey cannot attend on that date, and as he is the one who will handle the trowel, some other date will have to be selected. Freeholder John Farrell, of Rahway, who is chairman of the building committee, is making every effort to have the affair a noteworthy one in the history of Union County. July 29 or 30, it is thought, will be chosen, and a parade of all the Masonic lodges in this city, together with other organizations, will probably take place if the weather permits.

FIGHTING SKEETERS.

Rushing Business Done in Chinese Tapers Used to Ward Off Pesty Creatures.

"Punk too packes for 5c good for mocequets bites" is the sign displayed in a Watchung avenue Chinese laundry window. In spite of the bad lettering and misspelled words the Celestial did a rushing business last evening. His place was crowded with people who purchased large supplies for use at the band concert, and the stock was disposed of in half an hour.

At the concert last evening men circulated though the crowd with small bottles of what they call "mosquito chaser," selling it for ten cents. They reaped a rich harvest through the sale of the stuff and one young fellow was compelled to make several trips to the drug stores for more stock.

Election of Officers.

At a meeting of the Investors' Realty Company, held at its office, 221 Park avenue, these officers have bene elected to serve for the coming year.: President, W. W. Warnock; vice president, Sam. H. Craig; treasurer and secretary, William Jeffery. The board of directors consist of: W. W. Warnock, Sam. H. Craig, D. C. Adams, J. R. Lindsay, Wm. Jeffery; counsel, Wm. N. Runyon.

Ministers' Conference.

A committee composed of Revs. J. B. J. Rhodes, Oscar L. Joseph, Charles M. Anderson and presiding elder, Dr. Daniel Halleron, met in St. Paul's Church, Cranford, yesterday afternoon, to complete arrangements for a ministers' convention which is to take place at that place in the fall.

A mad dog terrorized the neighborhood of Richmond and East Third streets last evening. Officer Mattox shot it on South avenue after a crowd of men and boys with sticks and stones had chased the animal for three blocks.

MARGARET KEIDERLING ENVELOPED IN FLAMES

A Five-Year-Old Girl Has a Narrow Escape From Death.

CLOTHING BURNED OFF

LITTLE SUFFERER STILL IN A SERIOUS CONDITION.

Her Right Side Horribly Burned —Mother's Presence of Mind— The Doctor Was Quickly Summoned.

While Margaret Keiderling was passing before a bon fire of newspapers on Harmony street yesterday afternoon her dress caught fire and, before help arrived, the little girl was almost burned to death. She was playing house at the time. The entire lower part of her dress was wrapt in flames before the youngster was aware of her danger.

The first the child knew that she was on fire was when the flames began to lick her bare shoulders. She uttered a cry for help and a playmate, Alice Murray, ran towards her to put out the flames. The child, in agony, rushed down the street enveloped in fire. She inhaled much smoke and soon dropped in a swoon in the gutter.

The child's mother, Mrs. James Keiderling, ran out of her house and she, in company with Mrs. Charles Frey beat out the flames and carried the suffering child into the house where wet blankets were applied. Not a single stitch of garment remained on her person and in places the skin was burned away entirely.

Dr. Hughes was called and dressed the injuries. He stated this morning that the wounds are serious and that if the skin is burned away as badly as it now appears the operation of grafting will be necessary. Her condition now is said to be serious.

Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Keiderling, of Harmony street. She is five years of age and has just recovered from a long illness.

Rogers, of Unity Lodge, will have charge of the local arrangements.

Land Breeze Hit Plainfielders.

The First Baptist Church Sunday-scholls and their friends had a very pleasant, but warm day at Asbury Park, yesterday. Unfortunately, there was a land breeze all day, yet most of the excursionists were able to find cool spots. They returned home between 8 and 8:30 o'clock, a tired, but happy crowd.

While You Wait.

For the purpose of demonstrating a certain type of freezer, ice cream will be served free all day tomorrow at the store of Woodhull & Martin. A generous portion will be given to each person. The cream will be made while you wait, showing the rapidity with which it can be frozen.

A Surgical Operation

is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them: I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies, but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve Two boxes of this salve cured me eighteen months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since.—H. POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

A little ice cream, now and then, is relished by the wisest men. In weather like this it is almost a necessity. W. W. Warnock, of West Front street, has the best.

Bonn, the milliner, keeps ideal warm weather hats, the kind that are light on your head, yet keep the face well protected from the sun's intense rays. His stock of millinery is second to none.

There are several kinds of tackles, football tackles, tackle a man for what he owes you and fishing tackle. The latter article is best supplied at the sporting goods store of Harry Dreier, on West Front street.

The cool summer waists and gowns sold at the Paris Cloak Store in West Front street are very popular at this season of the year. They are made of light weight material, yet there is a shapeliness about them that you do not find in many similar gowns.

An afternoon spent beside the banks of the Raritan where there is always a fresh breeze is a delight to children and their elders. At Riverside Park, near Bound Brook, there is a merry-go-round for the children and a high class vaudeville show for adults.

There is nothing finer that comes out of a soda fountain than the syrups made at B. J. Schreiner's drug store on Park avenue. His celery nervine for weakened nerves is known in every household. He is the agent in this city for Lowney's famous candies.

DELEHANTY IS DEAD

Body Found In Niagara River Below the Falls.

WAS IT FOUL PLAY OR SUICIDE?

Theory Is Famous American League Outfielder Started to Walk Across Railway Bridge and Plunged Through the Open Draw.

BUFFALO, July 10.—The body found in the river below the falls was identified as that of Ed Delehanty, the famous outfielder of the Washington American league team.

The body was mangled. One leg was torn off, presumably by the propeller of the Maid of the Mist, near whose landing the body was found. M. A. Green, a stockholder in the Washington team, identified the body by the teeth, two crippled fingers and the clothing. The body will be shipped to Washington.

Mr. Green identified the luggage left by Delehanty on the train at the bridge last Thursday night when he was put off.

In it was a pass to the Washington grounds made out to Mrs. Delehanty. Delehanty's effects have been sent to his wife by the Pullman people.

Frank Delehanty of the Syracuse team and E. J. McGuire, a brother-in-law from Cleveland, are here investigating the death of the player. They do not believe that Delehanty committed suicide or that he had been on a spree in Detroit. In the sleeper on the Michigan Central train on the way down from Detroit Delehanty had five drinks of whisky, says Conductor Cole, and he became so obstreperous that he had to put him off the train at Bridgeburg, at the Canadian side of the bridge. Cole says Delehanty had an open razor and was terrifying others in the sleeper. When the train stopped at Bridgeburg Cole did not deliver Delehanty up to a constable, as the Canadian police say he should have done. He just put him off the train.

After the train had disappeared across the bridge Delehanty started to walk across, which is against the rules. The night watchman attempted to stop him, but Delehanty pushed the man to one side. The draw of the bridge had been opened for a boat, and the player plunged into the dark waters of the Niagara.

Delehanty's relatives hint at foul play, but there is nothing in the case apparently to bear out such a theory.

Edward Declares For Closer Ties.

LONDON, July 10.—When King Edward formally welcomed the American naval officers to England he took occasion to make an emphatic declaration in favor of closer relations between the United States and Great Britain. His majesty did not speak of an alliance or even of an understanding, but the impression was clear from his remarks that he desired that the two nations move together in the interests of the peace of the world. Some of the king's ministers also took advantage of the occasion to impress on the American officers their cordial approval of the Manroe doctrine and their desire that it be supported by American influence in a way which would place it above all criticism.

Dog Saves Young Master.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 10.—Jack a Newfoundland dog, the pet of Timothy Hayden, nine years old, saved his young master from drowning. At the time Hayden, who could not swim, was in the water trying to reach a comrade who did drown. The boy that was drowned was Frank Robinson. As soon as he was in danger he cried out. The dog heard his young master's voice and swam directly for him. Jack seized Timothy by the collar and dragged him ashore. Meanwhile some men came up just in time to witness the rescue of Timothy and the final disappearance of young Robinson, whose body has not yet been recovered.

Turkey Will Not Withdraw.

LONDON, July 10.—According to a Constantinople dispatch, a special session of the ministerial council was held at which, it is understood, the war party insisted on Turkey's right to continue the occupation of strategic points on the frontier in spite of Austrian and Russian remonstrances. It was maintained that it was impossible to act otherwise lest Turkey be caught unprepared. The dispatch adds that a panic occurred on the bourse, and Turkish bonds fell one and a half points owing to sales by palace functionaries.

Pacific Fleet Off to Alaska.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 10.—The Pacific squadron, composed of the flagship New York, the cruiser Marblehead and the gunboat Bennington, has sailed from the Puget Sound navy yard for the north and will anchor next at Dutch Harbor. The squadron is in command of Admiral Glass. On its return it is expected that extensive repairs to the New York, requiring a year, will be made.

Fatal Corner In Beans.

CHICAGO, July 10.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from San Francisco says that after losing $45,000 in cornering the lima bean market and securing 6,000,000 pounds, to find nobody who wanted the beans, Lyden & Co. have assigned. The liabilities will amount to $300,000 and the assets are estimated at $25,000.

DURBIN DEFIES MOB

Influence of the Lawless Must Not Prevent Justice.

LEE BROWN MUST HAVE FAIR TRIAL

During Present Agitation Immediate Trial Cannot Be Conducted Under Conditions to Secure a Full and Proper Verdict.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 10.—Upon learning that Judge Rasch had ordered the negro, Lee Brown, brought back here for immediate trial Governor Durbin telegraphed Judge Rasch as follows:

"I decline to sanction an arrangement whereby the negro, Lee Brown, is to be tried immediately at Evansville under the military forces of the state. My information, obtained from medical officers of the state reformatory, is that the prisoner is suffering from severe and possibly fatal gunshot wounds. However heinous the crime or seemingly clear the guilt he is entitled under the sacred tenets of our jurisprudence to a hearing, which he cannot have in the very nature of things until he is sufficiently recovered to make a defense, if he has one. No grounds should be given for the suspicion that even a guilty man has been railroaded to the gallows to satisfy public sentiment or that the civil authorities have been influenced to the determination of their course by the demonstration of the lawless.

"I do not wish by consenting to the programme suggested, to confess to the world that in the second city in Indiana the law has not been enforced in an orderly manner without the presence of troops. Nor do I desire to compromise for a moment with the mob spirit. Let this man be tried as speedily as his condition will permit under the safeguard prescribed by our laws. If guilty he will pay the penalty of murder with his life. If at any stage of the procedure it shall appear that there are those in your city who desire to deprive it of its efforts to exercise the function conferred by the people, then the state will be ready to give further demonstration of its disposition and its ability to do with rioters as they deserve."

As Lee Brown will not be brought back here, the militia force will be reduced soon, but the city will have some troops for some time.

The funerals of seven victims of the riots, with two policemen on guard, have been held.

The grand jury has returned nineteen indictments against participants in the trouble Sunday night and is now investigating the disturbances of Monday night.

Depew Was the Guest of Honor.

LONDON, July 10.—Senator Chauncey M. Depew was the guest of honor at a dinner given by George T. Wilson of New York, at which over fifty Englishmen and Americans were present. The guests included many distinguished men of both countries, among them Senator Gorman, Consul General Evans, Moberly Bell, Sir Squire Bancroft, Perry Belmont, Colonel Hutchinson of Lord Roberts' staff, Hiram Maxim and Reginald Ward. Both Senator Depew and Senator Gorman spoke and referred to one another in a bantering way as presidential candidates. They both, however, made serious references to the growing evidences of Anglo-American friendship which they found abroad.

Warrants For Murder.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The presence of an irritant poison, probably aconite was discovered in the small section of intestine taken from the body of Colonel William J. Best at the autopsy. Dr Herbert B. Baldwin, chemist of the Newark (N. J.) board of health, who made the test, assured Charles Sumner Best, a son of the dead man, that he had found enough to be certain that Colonel Best's death was due to poison. Warrants will be issued on the charge of murder for the arrest of John Donald Woods and Alice Cloy Woods by Thomas P. Boyd, public prosecutor of Marin county, Cal.

Wanted to Marry Her Brother.

CINCINNATI, O., July 10.—Heartbroken because she could not marry her brother, Miss Henrietta Distler, aged eighteen years, committed suicide by taking poison. The girl and her brother George, aged twenty years, came to this country when they were infants. They lost their parents and were cared for in the Children's home in this city. Subsequently the girl was adopted by Herman Niederholm and the boy by another family. A year ago an intense affection sprang up between the two, and only recently was their relation made known to them.

Steamer Laconner Burned.

ANACORTES, Wash., July 10.—The sound steamer Laconner has been destroyed by fire in Burroughs bay. The vessel was bringing 1,800 barrels of lime and 129 barrels of salt salmon from San Juan island, when she sprang a leak. As soon as the water struck the lime the vessel caught fire. Captain Ira Myers headed her for the beach, which she reached in time to allow the officers and crew to get ashore. The loss is about $20,000.

Four Killed by Train at Red Bank.

CINCINNATI, O., July 10.—An express train on the Pennsylvania road struck a wagon containing a picnic party of ten people at Red Bank, east of Cincinnati, killing four and injuring the others.

Two lads of the street, a West side street, wandered across the Bowery a few days ago on a tour of exploration of the crowded East side. They discovered among other things the city's bathing establishment in Rivington street. They read the signs with as much difficulty as interest, both being great.

"You ever had a bath, Billy?" asked the taller one.

"No, but I had me neck washed once," was the answer.—N. Y. Tribune.

His Penalty.

"Would you call stealing a kiss larceny?" queried the inexperienced young man.

"I suppose so," replied the married man, who was hustling from dawn to dusk to support his family.

"What is the penalty?"

"Why, I stole a kiss one time and was sentenced to hard labor for life."—Philadelphia Record.

How He Kept Humble.

Hiller—You'll excuse me, but I never see your name in the list of subscribers for the poor of the village.

Slender—Naturally. You see, it is this way. I pity the poor awfully and I am rather proud that I do pity them. If I should go so far as to give them money I'd be so vain there'd be no living in the same town with me.—Brooklyn Transcript.

Would Need It.

Olden—You're cultivating rather extravagant tates.

Youngman—Oh, well, when I get a start in the world I expect to have all the money I want.

"Well, at that rate, you'll want all the money you expect to have."—Philadelphia Press.

Often the Case.

Youngun—How much a year does it require for the support of a wife?

Oldun—Anywhere from $300 to $3,000.

"Can't you give me something more definite?"

"Yes; all the husband has."—Chicago Daily News.

What He Was Coming To.

Anxious Patient—Do you weally think, doctah, that I shall have a gween old age?

Bruff Doctor—Unless you die young or acquire a little common gumption, you have before you a prospect of the greenest old age possible to humanity.—Baltimore American.

Plainfield, N. J., July 10, 1903.

Mayor Seymour, of Bayonne, says he likes our fire department. Well, we like it ourselves.

An exchange asks, "When is a man drunk?" Taking advantage of a legal right, we decline to answer.

Mr. Mos Quito dropped in yesterday and presented his bill. He said he was out for blood and kept up a buzz which was all Greek to us. Needless to say he left an impression.

A correspondent asks the editor of the Perth Amboy Chronicle when a person's head stops growing. According to one authority it is on "the cold gray dawn of the morning after."

Turf records are being smashed right and left at Sheepshead, Brighton and other tracks this year. The remarkable feats of Waterboy and Africander have astonished the race goers.

Peter Finley Dunne, the newspaper writer known to fame as the author of the Dooley letters, celebrates his thirty-sixth birthday today. His contribution will form a chapter in the history of American wit.

The expenditure of $2,500 for a proposed boulevard in North Plainfield appears unwarranted when there are so many important improvements to be made. Better use the $2,500 in the proposed sewage system work.

"Effective window dressing may induce people who are passing a store to enter it, but good newspaper advertising frequently brings customers to a store who had never even heard of it till they read the advertisement."

Congressman Fowler told the Minnesota Bankers' Association the other day that "if all the farmers and farm laborers and small storekeepers were accustomed to the use of checks, there would be no use for any currency expansion in this country." Who would have thought it?

The Passaic Daily News says: "The tobacco trust is advertising the Robert Burns cigar as 'The Cigar That's Always Good.' Our private opinion is that, if the original of that name was as good as the cigar, it is no wonder that Robert burns."

This can't be taken as a "puff."

Samuel S. Swackhamer has leaped into prominence since his appearance on the floor of the Legislature as the Assemblyman from staid old Somerset County. The old leaders did not seem to take him seriously at first, but after his display of ability as a debater and orator they commenced to think. In fact all the other members of the lower house commenced the practice of thinking twice before they spoke for fear that the lanky Assemblyman from Somerset would catch them. Now the Democratic leaders are looking about for a desirable candidate for the gubernatorial nomination and would you believe it that man Swackhamer has already been trotted out. There is no question that he would make a good run when once the voting public became acquainted with him.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS IN CAMP

PLAINFIELD LADS ENJOYING OUTING IN THE BERKSHIRE HILLS.

Entertained Royally Wherever They Stopped on Trip to New England Camping Ground.

The local Y. M. C. A. boys in charge of Kenneth Robbie, have arrived at their destination, Norwich Pond, Berkshire Hills, Mass., where they will camp.

A letter from the camp says that they left New York Monday morning on a fast express and stopped at New Haven where they were entertained by the Y. M. C. A. They were shown through Yale University and saw the trophy room and the captured relics from stuffed bull pups to flags and baseball bats by the hundreds.

The next stop was at Springfield where they were again entertained by the Y. M. C. A. At Huntington a stage was taken and for seven miles across country the party were driven. At their destination a New England supper awaited them. It was prepared by "Mother" Searle, the matron of the camp.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:—

Wish to correct inference gained from articles in your editions of July 7th and 8th inst., respectively, regarding adjustment of difficulty between one of my previous employes and myself over wages claimed; which affair was taken up by the Journeymen Plumbers Union.

My impression being the Union were not relying upon the justice of their cause but were seeking to compel myself and others interested to yield to their demands by reason of the loss and inconvenience resistance would involve, thus, when they learned that it was impossible to compromise they decided to simply drop the matter.

I desire it to be made clear that no settlement was effected other than the Union dropping the entire affair.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Through somebody's carelessness the drinking fountain on West Front street, near Somerset street, is dry and has been so since last fall. Horses instinctively stop at the place these hot days only to find the fountain without water. This is the only water trough in the downtown district and it is important that that one, of all others, should be in operation.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Parse, of Grove street, is sojourning at Asbury Park.

Mrs. R. V. Kinney, of this city, has been visiting friends at Bound Brook.

Fred Butler and family, of East Ninth street, are stopping at the Hotel Passaic, Asbury Park.

Nat Samuels, of New York, has been visiting friends in West Front street for several days.

Rev. T. E. Davis, of Bound Brook, expects to take up his residence in Plainfield the last of this month.

Mrs. A. M. Gillem, of Duer street, who has been in California for some time, leaves San Francisco today for home.

Mrs. Susan Wilson, of Sycamore avenue, who has been seriously ill, is convalescent and it is hoped will soon be quite well again.

Among the registrations of guests at the Hotel Brighton, Long Branch, are included Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sturtevant, of Plainfield.

Mrs. W. H. Chamberlain and son, of Westfield, have been visiting Mrs. Chamberlain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre, of North avenue.

AMUSEMENTS.

Visitors at Luna Park, Coney Island, have been much amused at the trained bears and lions in Carl Hagenbeck's trained animal company. The performance is really worth seeing and is instructive as well as entertaining. This is Hagenbeck's second tour of America and this year he has brought many more animals than he had with him a year ago.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The question of a proper fire alarm in town is still an open one. The engine tire that was secured for that purpose has proved hardly satisfactory and now the firemen are on a lookout for something better. The Council has offered to erect a tower on top of the Borough Hall, if the fire company will purchase a bell. The offer will be considered at the next meeting.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The historic Baptist Cemetery is sadly in need of some attention, weeds and briars have been allowed to grow until in some places the graves are hidden entirely. It does seem as though some effort should be made among the plot owners towards having a caretaker for the resting places of their dead. Several years ago the church paid for having the place cleaned up but it has been allowed to go back again.

Better trolley accommodations are promised for the ball game tomorrow afternoon. Game will be called 3:45. Following will be the lineup for Scotch Plains: Brogan, c; Davis, p; Allen, 1b; Bosterli, 2b; Cruzius, ss; Williams, 3b; McManus, lf; Flannery, cf; Kavanagh, rf.

Manager Johnston should have another record breaking crowd at the game tomorrow, as Alis has a large following being Plainfield's strongest team. Warry MacLaughlin is to be in the box for Alis. This should make an interesting game.

The crowd, yesterday, at the First Baptist Sunday-school excursion of Plainfield, to Asbury Park, was increased by a number from the 'Plains, who wanted a day with the ocean breezes.

BOYCOTTING SANTA CLAUS

SCHOOL OF METHODS SPURN SANTA AS A PAGAN.

Ask Publishers Not to Mention Him in Christmas Literature—Unanimously Black Listed.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Asbury Park, July 10—The two hundred Sunday-school teachers, including Miss Edith Cairns and Miss Florence Serrell, delegates from Plainfield, who are holding the annual convention of the School of Methods of the New Jersey Sunday-school Association in the Asbury Park Auditorium, have summoned courage to denounce Santa Claus as a "pagan myth" unfit for introduction into entertainments provided for Christian children.

They propose to inaugurate a crusade which bids fair to end in the downfall of the Christmas "saint." The anti-Santa Claus movement is led by Miss Josephine L. Baldwin, of Newark, and her resolution, unanimously adopted yesterday, calls upon publishers of Christmas entertainment literature to omit all mention of Santa Claus. This action is due to the literature published last Christmas when Santa Claus was given prominence over everything else in the entertainments planned.

—Chief T. O. Doane, of the fire department, went to Somerville yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral of former chief Robert Day.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. TWELVE DEATHS FROM HEAT.

Hottest Day In Two Years Causes Death and Prostration.

NEW YORK, July 10.—There were six deaths from heat yesterday in New York, six in Brooklyn and fully two score of prostrations. It was the hottest day in two years, or since July 2, 1901, which was the hottest day in the hottest month since the local weather bureau opened in 1871. The official record of that day, two years ago, was 99 degrees. Yesterday it ran to 94 degrees at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Down in the streets humanity suffered terribly.

In the tenement districts the heat seemed to be unbearable. Little children suffered especially. This state of affairs continued from early morning until late at night. In the evening the scorched inhabitants sought relief on roofs, at the nearby beaches or by taking trolley car rides.

Kingston's Heat 120 Degrees.

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 10.—The hottest day Kingston has known for years was yesterday. The thermometer registered 120 degrees in the sun and 100 in the shade.

Ballston Shows 117 Degrees.

BALLSTON, N. Y., July 10. — The mercury registered 90 degrees in the shade yesterday. At the Delaware and Hudson railway station in the sun at 3 o'clock it was 117 degrees.

Hottest Day In Utica.

UTICA, N. Y., July 10.—Yesterday was the hottest day of the season, 97 at 4 p. m. and 80 at midnight. There was one prostration from heat here and one in Rome.

Three Killed by Dynamite.

ST. PETER, Minn., July 10.—At the Lake Oshawa creamery three men have lost their lives by an explosion of dynamite. Malcom and Archie MacDonald, well diggers and brothers, and Fred Reipke, manager of the creamery, were cleaning out a well 300 feet deep. A screen at the bottom was struck and the only way to remove it was by exploding dynamite. The dynamite was lowered only a few feet when the explosion occurred, instantly killing Reipke and injuring the two MacDonalds so that they died two hours later.

Methodist Ritual Revised.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 10.—The joint commission of the Methodist Episcopal churches, north and south, has completed its ritual revision labors in Ocean Grove. The new order of worship adopted lays special stress upon reverent worship and provides for kneeling in silent prayer on entering a church.

Two Boys Die of Lockjaw.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Two boys died at St. Elizabeth's hospital of lockjaw as the result of injuries received in playing with Fourth of July explosives. When the boys reached the hospital the disease had become so advanced that it was impossible to give them any relief.

Corey Head of Steel Company.

NEW YORK, July 10.—At the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. it was stated that W. E. Corey, recently appointed assistant to the president of the United States Steel corporation, will continue indefinitely as president of the Carnegie Steel company.

LOUBET RETURNS HOME.

Leaves London Amid Shouts of "Long Live the President!"

LONDON, July 10.—President Loubet's visit to London was brought to a close when the French visitor left the Victoria station for Dover. The scenes and incidents of his departure testified to how the republican president by his unassuming dignity and cordial sincerity has captured all classes and won popular good will.

Crowds lined the route from St. James' palace to the railway station and British "hurrahs" and French "vive Loubets" re-echoed through the streets until the president had entered the station. Here the nation's guest was met by the king, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught, Lord Lansdowne, Premier Balfour and other notables.

King Edward grasped M. Loubet's right hand and shook it with extreme cordiality.

After renewed handshaking his majesty showed the president into the royal car and stood chatting with him until the train pulled out amid cheers and shouts of "Vive Loubet!" mingled with the strains of the "Marseillaise." President Loubet stood at a window of the car waving his hat in his gloved hand until the royal special disappeared from view.

Upon his arrival at Dover M. Loubet embarked on the French cruiser Guichen and the vessel sailed at once for Calais, escorted by a British torpedo flotilla and followed by salutes from the fleet and castle.

THE JEWISH PETITION.

Roosevelt Wants the Issue Entirely Outside of Manchuria.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The president has decided that the matter of the Jewish petition must be finally disposed of before any further effort is made here to compose the issues arising out of the Manchurian situation. Therefore it is now said that nothing is likely to be done in regard to Manchuria until next September, by which time, according to the last Russian engagement, the evacuation of Manchuria by Russian troops, save railroad guards, should be complete.

It is understood that the Russian government has set up as one reason for not sanctioning the opening of new ports in Manchuria the necessity of allowing her first to complete the evacuation of Manchuria, and although the reasoning is rather obscure on that point it is understood that our government is willing to wait until September before making the next move.

Protection Against Libel Suits.

OMAHA, Neb., July 10.—B. B. Herbert of the National Editorial association gave an account of a journalistic association in England which has met with success under the name of the Institute of Journalists of England. One of its objects is the protection of its members against libel suits and other difficulties common to journalism. Out of it has grown the world's press congress which will be held in St. Louis next year. Mr. Herbert recommended that a committee be appointed to represent the Editorial association at that congress, and the suggestion was adopted.

Trying to Defeat Treaty.

PANAMA, Colombia, July 10.—Senor Teran, one of the representatives for the isthmus, is doing all he can within congress and without to defeat the canal treaty. Ex-President Caro continues his systematic opposition to the treaty because President Marroquin has not signed it. He proposes that the United States be asked to extend the time for ratification, thus showing that the discussion will be lengthy.

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lotowners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

A New Make of Cluny Lace—Linen and Tussore Silk.

There is a new make of cluny lace in silk which is very effective for a trimming of plain voile frocks, and it is not at all expensive. A charming costume recently seen was in rose pink voile with a bolero of this cluny lace finished with a silk fringe. The bolero really formed a cape and collar in one with a pelerine effect and sleeves ending at the elbow. The gown was eminently suited to race meetings, country gatherings and similar occasions, and, although it was smart, it was very simple. The skirt was made with three plaits on each hip and five folds at the bottom of the hem. The blouse bodice under the lace bolero consisted of tiny box plaits on either side worn with a plain fawn leather band. The whole was surmounted by a neat black straw toque.

Linen closely resembling hopsacking is soft and does not crease readily. A good many tussores and silks of a similar nature are also used for ordinary wear. The ecru tints of tussore and linen require relieving with embroidery or colored ribbon.

The china silk negligee in the cut is trimmed with ecru lace, and the main portion is accordion plaited.

PRETTY EFFECTS.

Some Costly Frocks With Jeweled Lace—Simple Muslins.

A fichu stole or scarf of lace or embroidered lawn is a useful adjunct to any woman's toilet.

Very beautiful frocks are made of white kilted chiffon veiled with jeweled or spangled lace. These transparencies in evening wear are much in vogue in Paris. They are generally placed over a kilted underskirt of a contrasting shade. Such an idea is very picturesque for a ball frock.

Inexpensive muslins make very pretty evening gowns if chosen in dainty shades and carefully trimmed with inexpensive yellow insertion.

Very pretty are the new scroll patterns in black and white and red and white. These make up charmingly with the plain spotted muslin or lace fichu. The skirts of such frocks look well cut with five frills around the hem and only long enough to touch the ground. The sleeves should be very full. These dresses are not hard to make at home if one has a good pattern.

The illustration shows a pretty waist of black louisine silk trimmed with red and black embroidered bands.

A Body Blow to the Air Ship.

The resistance of the air to moving bodies of various shapes has been tested by M. Canovetti by attaching each form to a carriage sliding down a wire 400 yards long, one of whose ends was seventy-five yards higher than the other. From the time made with and without the load the resistance was calculated. It was shown that more power was necessary for driving an aeroplane through the air than for propelling an automobile of equal weight along a road and that the weight of engine necessary must make this form of air ship impracticable.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1902, by The Robert Company.

CHAPTER IX.

Sorely puzzled as Blake had been by the discovery, he had been able on the long homeward march—walking until in sight of Frayne and safety, then galloping ahead on the corporal's horse—to think it out, as he said, in several ways. Miss Flower had frequently ridden up the valley and visited the Indian village across the Platte. Miss Flower might easily have dropped that note, and some squaw, picking it up, had surrendered it to the first red man who demanded it, such being the domestic discipline of the savage. The Indian kept it, as he would any other treasure trove for which he had no use, in hopes of reward for its return, said Blake. It was queer, of course, that the Indian in whose pouch it was found should have been so fluent a speaker of English, yet many a Sioux knew enough of our tongue to swear volubly and talk ten words of vengeance to come. There were several ways, as Blake reasoned, by which that letter might have got into the hands of the enemy. But at any rate, with everything said, it was a woman's letter. He had no right to read it. He would first confide in his wife, and, if she said so, in Mrs. Ray. Then what they decided should decide him.

But now came a new problem. Despite the long morning of peril and chase and excitement, there was still much more ahead. His men were in saddle; his troop was afield; the foe was in force on the road to the north; the battle, mayhap, was on at the very moment, and Frayne and home was no place for him when duty called at the distant front. Only, there was Nan, silent, tremulous, to be sure, and with such a world of piteous dread and pleading in her beautiful eyes. It was hard to have to tell her he must go again and at once, hard to have to bid her help him in his hurried preparations, when she longed to throw herself in his arms and be comforted. He tried to smile as he entered the gate, and thereby cracked the brittle, sun-dried court plaster with which a sergeant had patched his cheek at the stables. The would-be gladsome grin started the blood again, and it trickled down and splashed on his breast where poor Nan longed to pillow her bonny head, and the sight of it, despite her years of frontier training, made her sick and faint. He caught her in his left arm, laughing gayly, and drew her to the other side. "Got the mate to that scoop of Billy's," he cried, holding forth his other hand to Mrs. Ray. "'Tisn't so deep, perhaps, but 'twill serve, 'twill do, and I'll crow over him to-night. Come in with us, Mrs. Ray. I—I've something to show you."

"One minute," said that wise young matron. "Let me tell the children where to find me. Sandy and Billy are on post at the telescope. They wouldn't leave it even for luncheon." With that she vanished, and husband and wife were alone.

"You must go, Gerald," she sobbed—"I know it, but—isn't there some way?—Won't Capt. Dade send more men with you?"

"If he did, Nan, they'd only hamper me with horses that drag behind. Be brave, little woman. Webb has swept the way clear by this time. Come, I need your help."

And the door closed on the soldier and his young wife. They never saw that Nanette Flower, in saddle, was riding swiftly up the row, and, for the first time since her coming to Frayne, without an escort. Dade reappeared upon his front gallery in time to greet her, but Esther, after one quick glance, had darted again within. Dade saw unerringly that Miss Flower was in no placid frame of mind. Her cheeks were pale; her mouth had that livid look that robbed her face of all beauty; but her eyes were full and flashing with excitement.

"What news, captain?" she hailed, and the joyous, silvery ring had gone from her voice. "They tell me Capt. Blake is back—two horses crippled, two men hit, including himself."

"His own share is a scratch he wouldn't think of mentioning outside the family, Miss Flower," answered Dade, with grim civility. He had his reasons for disapproving of the young woman; yet they were not such as warranted him in showing her the least discourtesy. He walked to his gate and met her at the curb beyond and stood stroking the arching neck of her spirited horse—"Harney" again.

"Did they—were there any Indians—killed?" she asked, with anxiety scarcely veiled.

"Oh, they downed one of them," answered the captain, eyeing her closely the while and speaking with much precision, "a fellow who cursed them freely in fluent English." Yes, she was surely turning paler. "A bold, bad customer, from all accounts. Blake thought he must be of Lame Wolf's fellows, because he—seemed to know Kennedy so well and to hate him. Kennedy has only just come down from Fort Beecher, where Wolf's people have been at mischief."

"But what became of him? What did they do with him?" interrupted the girl, her lips quivering in spite of herself.

"Oh—left him, I suppose," answered the veteran, with deliberate design. "What else could they do? There was no time for ceremony. His fellow savages, you know, can attend to that."

For a moment she sat there rigid, her black eyes staring straight into the imperturbable face of the old soldier. No one had ever accused Dade of cruelty or unkindness to man or woman, especially to woman; yet here he stood before this suffering girl and, with obvious intent, pictured to her mind's eye a warrior stricken and left unburied or uncared for on the field. Whatever his reasons, he stabbed and meant to stab, and for just one moment she seemed almost to droop and reel in saddle; then, with splendid rally, straightened up again, her eyes flashing, her lip curling in scorn, and with one brief, emphatic phrase ended the interview and, whirling Harney about, smote him sharply with her whip, and darted away:

"True!" she said. "Civilized warfare!"

"If that girl isn't more than half savage," said Dade, to himself, as Harney tore away out of the garrison on the road to the ford, "I am more than half Sioux. Oh, for news of Ray!"

Ray indeed! It was now nearly four o'clock. Telegrams had been coming and going over the Laramie wire. "The Chief," as they called their general, with only one of his staff in attendance, had reached Cheyenne on time, and, quitting the train, declining dinner at the hotel and having but a word or two with the "Platform Club"—the little bevy of officers from Fort Russell whose custom it was to see the westbound train through almost every day—had started straightway for Laramie beind the swiftest team owned by the quartermaster's department, while another, in relay, awaited him at the Chugwater, nearly 50 miles out. Driving steadily through the starlit night, he should reach the old frontier fort by dawn at the latest, and what news would Dade have to send him there? Not a word had he uttered to either the officers who respectfully greeted, or reporters who eagerly importuned, him as to the situation at Frayne; but men who had served with him in Arizona and on the Yellowstone many a year before, knew well that grave tidings had reached him. Dade had in fact, supplemented Webb's parting dispatch with another, saying that Blake's little party, returning, had just been sighted through the telescope nine miles out, with two men afoot. But not until the general reached Lodge Pole creek did the message meet him, saying that Webb's advance guard could hear the distant attack on Ray. Not until he reached the Chugwater in the early night could he hope to hear the result.

It was nightfall when the awful suspense of the garrison at Frayne was even measurably lifted. Blake, with three troopers at his back, had then been gone an hour, and was lost in the gloaming before Dr. Tracy's orderly, with a face that plainly told the nervous tension of his two hours' ride, left his reeking, heaving horse at the stables and climbed the steep path to the flag-staff, the shortest way to the quarters of the commanding officer. Despite the gathering darkness, he had been seen by a dozen eager watchers and was deluged with questions by trembling, tearful women and by grave, anxious men.

"There's been a fight; that's all I know," he said. "I was with the pack mules and the ambulances and didn't get to see it. All I saw was dead ponies way out beyond Ten Mile ridge. Where's the major?—I mean the captain?" No! the orderly didn't know who was killed or wounded, or that anybody was killed and wounded. All he knew was that Dr. Tracy came galloping back and ordered the ambulances to scoot for the front and him to spur every bit of the way back to Frayne with the note for Capt. Dade.

Do You Wish To Borrow Money?

In order to accommodate all classes of borrowers (those who cannot borrow at a bank, as well as those who can), the Mutual Loan and Investment Company, of 118 Market street, Newark, N. J., has a department for handling quickly and confidentially loans ranging from $10 to $500 on furniture, pianos, storage receipts, etc.

The security is not removed from your possession or in any way disturbed. The honest, careful and conservative borrower will try and decide two points before borrowing. First, where he can get the best terms. Second, where he can get fair and square treatment.

This company is in a position to give you by far the most satisfactory terms ever offered by any concern or individual negotiating this class of loans.

With this company you are assured of getting the lowest rates, easiest payments and longest time for repayment. The whole transaction from the time the application is made until loan is paid is entirely confidential. We give you another advantage in case you take the loan out for six months or a year, and wish to settle the same before the time expires: we charge you only for the time you have had the money. We also take up loans from other companies and advance more money.

Kindly call and let us explain our simple and up-to-date methods. If not entirely convenient for you to call, please write and our representative will call and give you any desired information. Remember it costs nothing to make application. Loans promptly made in Elizabeth, Plainfield, Westfield, Roselle, Rahway, Perth Amboy and all suburban towns.

This despatch further says that the credentials given to Mr. Bowen are not definitive enough to be considered by the Colombian government.

Fred Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hansen, of 728 Webster place, died at Muhlenberg Hospital today noon, from lockjaw. On Fourth of July young Hansen was playing with a toy pistol. While shooting blank cartridges he sustained an injury to his left hand. It was not considered serious at the time, although the usual home remedies were applied to the wound.

The wound became so serious yesterday that the parent decided that the son should go to the hospital. Soon afterward lockjaw developed and despite all that was done for him, including the use of anti-toxin, the lad died today. Young Hansen was but eleven years of age.

POPE STILL LIVES.

He Fully Realizes That the End Cannot Be Far Off.

GIBBONS A POSSIBLE SUCCESSOR.

Dr. Mazzoni Says That the Pontiff's Condition Has Not Changed, but Declares His Fear That There Is No Hope.

ROME, July 10.—Another day of alternate hopes and fears has passed, and Pope Leo's life still hangs in the balance. Beginning with renewed hopes, the day closed with the scales tending slowly but surely downward. How long this agonizing period of suspense will last not even the attending doctors dare to say.

No bulletin was issued, but it was learned from Dr. Mazzoni that the condition of the pontiff had not changed since Dr. Lapponi had declared his fear that there was no hope, but that the end might not come very soon. A report coming from the Vatican itself gained currency that Dr. Mazzoni had again operated on the pope and extracted serum which had again gathered in the pleural cavity. Dr. Mazzoni said:

"It is untrue that a new operation has been performed. I was with the pope from 11 p. m. until after midnight and found his general condition stationary, no change having taken place. To strengthen the patient's heart and help the circulation of the blood I injected camphor and caffeine, after which the pope, who seemed somewhat relieved, said he remembered being treated with Raspail water on a camphor basis when he was nuncio at Brussels sixty years ago."

In reply to a question Dr. Mazzoni replied: "I really cannot say whether the serum in the pleural cavity has increased since the consultation, as I did not examine his holiness for such a purpose. It must be understood that the pope is too frail to be handled like other people. Besides his thorax, through old age, has become bent in such a way that the right side, where pneumonia was first detected, curves out in a very pronounced manner, while the left side curves in. Attention will be especially centered on the progress in the secretion of serum.

Injections given by Dr. Mazzoni and then by Dr. Lapponi have had in part the desired effect, as the pope has succeeded in getting some sleep, although his slumber was not entirely tranquil. The patient's diet has been somewhat lightened since the attack of diarrhea and is now limited mainly to meat broth and beef tea.

That the pope fully realizes that his end cannot long be deferred is shown by the attention he has given during the last few days to the details of his final resting place. It is well known that he has discussed his testamentary dispositions and expressed his wishes as to the place and manner of his funeral. Shortly before he was taken ill the pontiff repeated to Cardinal Satolli his desire to be buried in the Church of St. John Lateran.

The possible action of the conclave of cardinals attracts great attention. Some authorities hold that each cardinal ha a right to demand the postponement of the conclave to permit him to reach Rome, but it is doubtful if the selection of a pope will be deferred on account of any one cardinal. It is recalled that the American Cardinal McCloskey arrived too late to participate in the conclave which selected Pope Leo. It is an interesting fact that Archbishop Farley, then secretary to Cardinal McCloskey, was also too late to participate as a secretary in the conclave, but Archbishop Farley took part in the ceremony of Pope Leo's coronation, and through a singular coincidence his nomination as archbishop of New York occurred at what was probably the pontiff's last consistory.

Gratification was expressed by the American prelates here on learning that Cardinal Gibbons had sailed for Rome. As the conclave will not take place until at least ten days after the demise of the pope his eminence will arrive in ample time to participate. Outside of Americans Cardinal Gibbons' coming excites widespread interest, as he is regarded as the representative of the modern progressive spirit of the United States. It is recognized that one of the chief issues at the conclave will be between the advocates of modern progress and the supporters of the conservative traditions of the past.

A sketch of Cardinal Gibbons as a possible successor to Leo XIII. says:

"The partisans of Americanism have in the past often spoken of Cardinal Gibbons as a possible successor to Leo XIII. The idea was for many reasons too daring to become a reality, but it would not have appeared altogether impossible without the Spanish-American war, which rendered Cardinal Gibbons' position excessively delicate with the Catholics and the remainder of the world. He would not be a pope of the two American continents or even an Americanist, but pope of the United States, against whom would rise the Spanish cardinals with all the prestige of their indisputable loyalty to the apostolic see and who would have on their side the greater part of the Latin cardinals. This does not mean that in case a conclave held Cardinal Gibbons will be without influence. On the contrary, he will have a power which will be exercised by him with wisdom in favor of a candidate who will agree with the state of modern civilization."

Dr. Mazzoni ridicules the criticisms, objections and advice which he said people, most of whom are famous only for never having been heard of, allow themselves to advance even from abroad, many of these persons having only seen the pope in photograph. The greatest accusation is that pleurisy was not discovered in time. I visited the pope for the first time on Sunday. On Monday evening I discovered the fluid and on Tuesday removed it. Any student of medicine knows," concluded Dr. Mazzoni, "that sometimes weeks pass before the presence of serum is detected. I myself once had pleurisy, which the doctors only discovered fifteen days after I was taken ill."

The condition of Pope Leo at times seemed so favorable that the hopeful Dr. Mazzoni and the more conservative Dr. Lapponi united in expressing the belief that there was some slight prospect of recovery, but within a few hours these brighter prospects disappeared before the most alarming conclusions, reached after the lengthy consultation of the doctors. The earlier hopes had been inspired largely by the pontiff's outward evidence of vigor, as he was able to rise, walk and command all his faculties, but the later consultation disclosed that these outward evidences of strength were entirely deceptive, as the real danger consisted in the gradual internal progress of the insidious disease.

The doctors freely expressed their personal convictions regarding the extreme gravity of the case. Dr. Lapponi said without qualification that the patient's condition was beyond hope. He did not expect a final collapse last night, but rather a gradual sinking until the end came. How long the sufferer may last the doctors will not venture any prediction. Ordinary calculations, they say, fail to apply to this extraordinary case. One of them remarked yesterday: "Here is a man almost 100 years old retaining all his mental and most of his physical faculties and bravely combating the approach of death. Although the conditions change from hour to hour, the essential conditions of mental alertness and physical vigor continue unbroken. Never yet has there been the slightest lapse into incoherency."

The latest bulletins declare that the pope is still very low, with conditions unchanged.

Mgr. Volpini, secretary of the Consistorial Congregation, who had an attack of syncope in an antechamber of the papal apartments, is dead. Mgr. Volpini received his appointment from the pope only a few days ago.

OLD DOCUMENTS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Interesting Papers in the Possession of Alvin E. Hoagland, of This City.

ONE IS 160 YEARS OLD

SOME ARE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY LAND GRANTS.

All of Them in Excellent State of Preservation — One Contains Signatures of Presidents Jefferson and Madison.

Delving in old documents is always interesting work and it is doubly so when the contents refer to the doings of those who were the great grandfathers and grandmothers of friends and neighbors and who lived and died in the same place as ourselves. Alvin E. Hoagland, of West Front street, has a number of documents of this nature, one of them 160 years old and all in a remarkable state of preservation and valuable evidence of the ways in which our fathers lived. Although the papers are worn and yellow with age, the writing is as clear as though done yesterday. The letters are round and distinctly formed.

The documents, all of a legal nature, were handed down to Mr. Hoagland by his grandmother, Mary, wife of Andrew Cadmus, who died in 1900 at the age of ninety-three.

The most valuable document is one containing the signatures of Thomas Jefferson and James Madison. It is a grant of twenty-three acres of land, situated along the road from Scotch Plains to New Brunswick, at the corner of what were Edward Vermeule's lands and running back to Green brook. The grant was made to Andrew Cadmus, Mr. Hoagland's great grandfather, and is dated April 30, 1802, in the twenty-sixth year of the independence of the United States. It is stamped with the great seal of the United States and commercial revenue stamps to the value of four dollars, and is signed by Thomas Jefferson, president, and James Madison, secretary of State. It is inscribed on vellum paper.

Mr. Hoagland states that the Andrew Cadmus referred to was one of the three brothers who owned all the land from the top of the mountain, to the line where East Seventh street now runs, a strip about as wide as from Clinton avenue to Grant avenue. The original, old, settler's home of one of the brothers, Frederick, still stands between the residences of William J. Buttfield and former Mayor William L. Saunders on Rockview avenue, North Plainfield. The house owned by another of the brothers on Greenbrook road was occupied until ten years ago by Rutgers Cadmus, a lineal descendant.

Another interesting document in Mr. Hoagland's possession reveals minutely careful methods of indicating the boundaries separating farms. This is an indenture dated April 14, 1773, in the thirteen year of the reign of George III. The articles refer to a sale of land to Luke Covert by Elijah and Mary Dunham. The land, in the words of the document, is situated in the "borough of Elizabethtown, in the county of Essex, in the Province of East New Jersey, beginning at the black oak sapling, marked on four sides, standing in the road that leads from Quiveltown (probably what is now Clinton avenue) to Scotch Plains, running to a stake standing in a bog meadow along Cornelius Vermeule's land, to a stake in the northwest corner of a twenty-five acre lot belonging to Reuben FitzRandolph, to a white oak tree, marked on four sides, to a black oak sapling, marked on four sides, to a hickory bush standing in Benjamin Molleson's, to the middle of the road, to a button wood tree in the line of Frederick Vermeule's land, to a white oak tree, marked on four sides." The whole contained forty-six and a quarter acres and was sold for 175 pounds "current money of New Jersey."

The Luke Covert mentioned in this paper was the one whose burial place and epitaph were mentioned in a recent article in The Daily Press describing the old burying ground on Rock avenue.

Still another paper, of date November 3, 1794, states that Luke Covert sold to David Killey, Abraham Statts, Jonathan Ford Morris, Jacob Van Deventer, Isaac van Tuyl, James van Duyn, trustees of the church and congregation of Bound Brook twenty-

WAS BAND MONEY TAKEN FROM BOXES?

Benj. LaVere, Leader of the Band, Authority for the Statement.

MONEY BOXES BROKEN

ONLY NINE DOLLARS RETURNED FROM COLLECTION AT THE CONCERT.

Should Have Been Forty—Prospects for a Continuation of the Season's Concerts—What Member of Council Says.

It has been reported that the boxes circulated among those who attended the concert in the City Park Thursday evening, were robbed and that when they were opened there was only $9 in the eight boxes sent out. It is said that the bottom of the boxes were ripped open and only a few pennies left inside.

Benjamin LaVere, the director and promoter of the concerts in this city, when asked last night about the truth of the report, verified it. One boy, he said, handed in $5 returns, but all the rest evidently opened the boxes and removed the contents except for a few pennies. Mr. LaVere believed that the contribution should have reached something like $40 but instead, all that was received from the tampered boxes was a few cents over $9.

In speaking of the success of the concert Mr. LaVere said: "An active canvass of the city has been made for funds with which to give seven free public concerts in this city during the warm weather. I have received enough money to run three but have not been able to awaken sufficient interest in the matter to warrant me in arranging for others.

"I have placed the matter before the Common Council. In my opinion the City Fathers should appropriate enough money for public concerts during the summer. One of our Councilmen, when I asked him to see what he could do towards pushing the matter said to me that in his opinion the time is not far distant when money will have to be appropriated regularly by the Council for public concerts and that the practice might as well be started now as at any other time. He said that he would do what he could in the matter.

"I have funds on hand which will defray the expense of three more concerts. If no money is appropriated by the Council I will not give any more. I have done my share of the work and it is now time for the Council to act in the matter.

"The fact that the people braved the heat and the mosquitos to attend the concert three thousand strong shows conclusively that public concerts are as much a need in this city as they are in other cities of this size and even larger."

Next week the two popular airs, "Solambo" and "The Same Old Crowd" will be sung and cornet solos will be rendered by musicians from Edison's Phonograph Company Band.

LIMIT TO EXPENSES OF BUILDING LOAN

A New Law Now in Effect Regulating Associations in Running Expenses.

TO PREVENT FRAUDS

ALLEGED OPERATING EXPENSES EAT UP PROFITS.

Was Passed on Recommendation of the Banking and Insurance Department — Its Provisions.

On the first of July, a very salutary law went into effect in New Jersey. It is intended to limit the amount of expenses which a building loan association can carry. The limit fixed for officers and clerical assistants in these institutions is one per cent. of their receipts. This law was passed at the recommendation of the Banking and Insurance department, which now has supervision of the building loan associations of the State.

It was found that there was a certain class of associations professing to do a building loan and practically a savings bank and insurance business which as the law stood could use up any amount of their deposits that they pleased in "expenses" and some of them were found to be virtually maintained for the purpose of furnishing a fat job in the way of salaries to a few men who were on the inside. The banking department had no power to interfere in this matter. The new law will cure this, and hereafter a building loan association that cannot make one per cent. of its receipts pay its working expenses will have to go out of business.

If this law had been in force several years ago it would have saved many thousands of dollars to depositors of humble means in Paterson and other cities who have by the temptation of high interest rates been deluded into putting their money into so-called "National" provident associations, and who, when these concerns, which every man that knows anything about business was sure had promised more than they could ever possibly perform, had to be wound up, found that even with those that were nearest solvency a large share of their deposits had been eaten up in operating "expenses," of which the management had full control and of which nobody outside knew anything.

FORGOT DIFFERENCES.

Methodists Silently Offered Prayer for the Recovery of the Dying Pontiff.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Ocean Grove, July 11—Charles H. Yatman, the evangelist, offered up prayers yesterday for Pope Leo in a meeting of the Methodist Young People's Society. He said: "At this hour the Sovereign Pontiff of the great Catholic Church, Leo XIII., is hovering between life and death, and will soon, like all mortals, pass into the presence of Almigthy God. It is fitting that we should bow our heads in prayer and ask the Almighty to receive the spirit of Leo and all others who are about to pass into eternity." Then followed a moment of silent prayer.

Contract for Public Stable.

It is quite likely that the Common Council at its next regular meeting will award the contract for the erection of a stable on the plot of ground in the rear of police headquarters, where the police patrol wagon and the horse will be kept. The members decided recently to get bids for the work of building the stable before attempting to put it up, and, besides, it is the desire of the Council that the lease between the city and the owners of the property, J. B. Coward and J. W. Murray, be signed before any work is started.

WANT PRESIDENT AT SEA GIRT CAMP

Governor Murphy to Extend Invitation to President Roosevelt.

THE GUEST TO SET DATE

SECRETARY OF WAR ROOT ALSO TO BE INVITED.

It is Probable That Distinguished Guests Will be at Camp During Week of July 20—Senator John Kean to Bear Invitation.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Camp Murphy, Sea Girt, July 11—President Roosevelt is to be asked to repeat his visit to the State encampment this year. Plans for conveying Governor Murphy's invitation to the President have been made and it is hoped that he may be prevailed upon to spend a day in camp during the week of July 20, when the First Regiment and First Troop, of Newark, will be occupying the tents and parade ground. Efforts are to be made to obtain the presence of the Secretary of War in camp on the same day.

United States Senator John Kean, who was instrumenal in bringing about the President's visit last year, was in telephonic communication with the Governor Wednesday and it was arranged that he should call the President on the telephone and make an appointment for the reception of the representatives of the Governor some day this week or next. The Senator and two or three members of the Governor's staff will in all probability convey the Governor's compliments and invitation to Oyster Bay and urge the Executive to again pay an officials visit to New Jersey.

The invitation to Secretary Root will be taken to Washington and his reply brought back by General George E. P. Howard, of South Orange, judge advocate-general on the First Brigade staff, who was formerly a law partner of the Secretary. George Howard is to come to camp today or tomorrow to receive the commission and the Governor's instructions. It is probable that Colonel Mills, the commandant at West Point, will be asked to visit Sea Girt the day the other distinguished visitors are entertained.

No date will be set by the Governor for the visit of either the President or Secretary, and they will be asked to fix any day during the week that may be most convenient for their trip. As a resident of Newark, Governor Murphy takes a special pride in the First Regiment and First Troop, and it was this pride that influenced the plan to issue the invitation to the President for some day during the third and last week of the encampment, when those organizations will be in camp.

JERSEY OVERLOOKED.

All-American Rifle Team Contains Four New Yorkers—Capt. Martin in Fine Form.

That no Jerseyman was selected to shoot as a member of the All-American rifle team which will shoot for the Palma trophy at Bisley, England, today, has caused no end of surprise among New Jersey National Guardsmen. Gen. Spencer, the president of the National Rifle Association, cabled to Lieut. Albert S. Jones, secretary of the team, asking what was the trouble. He received a reply stating that Capt. Leslie C. Bruce, of New York had selected the team and that a protest had been of no avail. He also stated that Capt. William B. Martin was in fine form. The team as it is made up has four New Yorkers on it.

Death of Infant.

Mildred E. Debele, daughter of William G., and Ida E. Debele, of Somerset street, died yesterday at the age of two years. The child had been an invalid nearly all her life and the excessive heat yesterday hastened the end. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the Trinity Reformed Church, will officiate. The funeral and interment in Hillside Cemetery will be private.

Democratic Outing.

The Englewood Democrats are to have a field day on Saturday, July 25, in Foresters' grove. One of the features will be a baseball contest, the Hackensack Democrats having accepted a challenge from their brethren of the only city and promised to send over a good nine.

CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES HAVE BEEN MADE

Seven Men on Rush Line and Only Four to be Back of Ball.

A CHECKRBOARD FIELD

QUARTER BACK MAY BE ALLOWED TO RUN WITH BALL.

He Must Not Run Right Through the Line—Methods to be Used to Compel Observance of This Rule.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Haven, July 11—Two important changes in the football playing rules have been made for the coming season. It has been agreed that seven men shall be played in the rush line by the attacking team. Consequently there will be four men back of the ball. But this rule only applies when the ball is outside the twenty-five-yard lines. When it is within the twenty-five-yard lines the games will be played as heretofore at the discretion of the team having the ball.

If other changes as suggested by the football rules' committee are made the playing field will no longer be a "gridiron," but a "checker-board," for the field will be marked into squares of five yards. This will be done to allow the quarterback to run with the ball, as the committee has decided upon. Now it has been legislated for seven men to play in the line.

When a team is within its own twenty-five-yard line it may play as heretofore, and also when it is fighting for a touchdown within the twenty-five-yard mark of its opponent. But, between the lines, that is, in the large territory in centre field, seven men must be employed in the rush line. This change, it is believed, will lessen the severity of the mass plays over which there has been a great howl. Having only four men back of the line it will not be possible it is argued, for a team to concentrate so much energy and force at a given point. Thus it is believed that there will be less chance of injury. The old style and what has been termed deadly mass plays can be used within the twenty-five-yard lines, when naturally both sides are fighting desperately and when injuries are most likely to occur.

Another change that will be suggested by the committee was made with the idea of making the game more open; it is allowing the quarterback to run with the ball. It has been decided that the quarterback must run at least five yards to one side or the other of the centre. In other words, he will not be allowed to receive the ball from the snapback and plunge right through the centre of the line. He must run out five yards.

In order that the officials may be sure that the man does run out the required five yards the field is to be marked off like a checkerboard, the five-yard lines will run the length of the field as well as across it.

"Holding" will be dealt with by inflicting a penalty of twenty yards' loss to the team offering. It will not lose the ball as last year, but will lose ground.

MERCHANTS TO MEET.

Local Dealers Will Attend Annual Session at Asbury Park.

Local merchants have received notice of the annual convention of the Retail Merchants' Association of New Jersey to be held next Wednesday in Asbury Park. The business session will begin that day at the Fenimore Hotel at half past ten, adjourning from twelve to half-past one o'clock for the annual banquet. The afternoon session will last until six o'clock.

VISITORS DELIGHTED WITH BABIES' CAMP

Youngsters Have Excellent Accommodations at Home on the Mountain.

IS OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

EIGHT BABIES ALREADY BENEFITTED AT THE CAMP.

Details of Accommodations—Many People Have Given the King's Daughters Generous Assistance in Their Work.

Despite the intense heat of yesterday a goodly number of interested persons visited the City Union, King's Daughters' baby camp on the mountain, which was opened to the public. The camp was put in readiness early in the week for the reception of babies and everything was in "apple pie order" yesterday for visitors. Since the opening there have been eight babies at the camp. These, with the possible exception of one who is ill, will return to their homes tonight to spend Sunday.

The camp is comfortable and commodious. Everything about is clean and the furnishings permit of good work. There are six rooms in all, one for the matron, another for the nurse, a living room, a dining room and kitchen, also a dormitory for the babies. The kitchen is well supplied with utensils and through the generosity of the Standard Oil Company, a barrel of oil has been placed at the disposal of those in charge. There are eight cots, two cribs and one cradle, ample accommodations for the present.

In the absence of Mrs. S. St. John McCutchen, chairman of the camp committee, Mrs. Charles A. Reed, president of the City Union, King's Daughters, acted in her place yesterday. The other members of the committee who had full charge of the opening and who are attending to every detail at the camp, include Mrs. Frank W. Jones, Mrs. Howard Runyon and Mrs. W. L. C. Glenney. These women were at the camp all day yesterday. During the afternoon lemonade and wafers were served.

Those in charge feel grateful for the generous assistance given by Plainfielders, and also express gratitude to Dr. Albert Love, who has offered his services to the camp for the summer. There are several applications now on file from persons desiring to take their babies to the camp and they will be filed in the order in which they arrive.

The camp will now be open all the time, day and night, and all persons interested are cordially invited to visit it and become better acquainted with the work that is being done.

HOT ON THE TRACK OF THE WILY "DR." WOODS

Police Have Learned That Former Plainfielder Was in Atlantic City Monday.

OTHER CLUES FOLLOWED

THE "DOCTOR" AND HIS WIFE CHECKED TRUNKS TO PHILADELPHIA.

Rechecked Them for Bethlehem Where They Had Expressed Intention of Going—Record of Hotel Register.

Police officials have learned that Dr. John D. Woods and his wife, in whose home in San Rafael, Cal., Col. William J. Best died mysteriously, went from Atlantic City to Philadelphia last Monday. Woods had three trunks and wanted the baggagemaster to check them to Pittsburg. As his tickets were only to Philadelphia the request was denied. The trunks were then rechecked at Philadelphia for Bethlehem, Pa. It is supposed that Woods has gone there, as Bethlehem is only a few miles from Allentown, to which town the Doctor, in a recent letter to Col. Best's son, stated he intended to go soon.

Regarding the removal of the organs from the body of Col. Best before it was shipped from California, Dr. E. T. Higgins, physician to Coroner Goldenkranz, of New York, expresses the greatest surprise and says that it was a most unusual proceeding. He says that the body is sure to be in better condition with the organs intact.

It was learned from Atlantic City yesterday that the Woods were at the Aldine Hotel there in August 1902. This hotel recently changed proprietors. The new manager in looking over an old register saw the name of Dr. Woods and wife and when he mentioned this to Dr. Woods, the latter said: "Oh, no; that was not me." A few days later it was discovered that the page in the register bearing that name had been torn out.

California detectives with the warrants and extradition papers will soon be here. Descriptions of Woods and his wife have been sent out to the large cities.

STRUCK THE SCRAPER.

Mulford Darling Met With Painful Accident While Playing Baseball on Duer Street.

Mulford Darling, the nine-year-old grandson of W. V. Mundy, of 161 Duer street, collided with a street scraper last evening while playing baseball, and is today detained at his home by somewhat serious injuries resulting. A scraper being used on Duer street in the work of macadamizing that avenue, was left on a short street above Linden avenue. While the boys were playing, the ball went in the direction of the scraper.

Young Darling ran for the ball and as he did so collided with the scraper, striking his head on a sharp corner. A cut, an inch and a half long, was inflicted in the forehead; the left ear cut and the left leg injured. The lad was taken to his home nearby and Dr. Hughes was called. The injuries were properly dressed. The lad will be detained for a few days.

Didn't Fill Contract.

Rosell, proprietor of Hotel Rosell, by Hetfield & Hetfield, Atty's for Rogers & Co., of New York, who formerly conducted the fish business on West Second street now owned by Fred Ivany. The case is returnable on Thursday, July 16 at 2 p. m.

A DISASTROUS FIRE

Scandinavian-American Pier Destroyed.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT HALF A MILLION

Flames Started In Storeroom, and There Were Three Explosions From Inflammable Material.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The new pier of the Scandinavian-American line at the foot of Seventeenth street, Hoboken, was destroyed by fire, and for the second time in three years the line is temporarily without a pier. It is believed the loss will amount to almost $500,000. The dock alone cost $200,000 to build.

The fire started in the storeroom of the pier, which was on the outer end, and when the flames were first discovered they had a firm foothold. There was no ship of the line in port. The steamship Island was expected, but did not arrive. On the pier was a large part of the cargo destined for Europe which was to be shipped on the Island, and this was destroyed. Comparatively few men were at work on the pier at the time.

When the first fire engines arrived fully 300 feet of the pier was blazing from the water's edge to the top. Tugs of all sorts and sizes threw water into the fire, but this seemed to have little effect. The city firemen were badly hampered in reaching the place.

The flames spread as rapidly as when the North German Lloyd and Scandinavian piers burned three years ago.

There were three explosions, apparently caused by barrels of some inflammable material. After each the flames spread over more area in a very few seconds.

The heat was intense, and the firemen worked under great difficulties. Many of them dropped into the river for relief.

The slight wind carried the flames toward the Tietjen and Lang dry docks, containing a score of vessels. Those which could be got out were towed away. A near by bath house was crowded with women, girls and children, who fled without waiting to dress. Two children were slightly hurt in the crush.

West of the bulkhead were moored the United States training ship Portsmouth and the Ward liner Manhattan. These were in peril for a time, but the wind shifted, carrying the flames out over the river. The naval reserve on the Portsmouth ran out her fire hose and did good work in keeping the fire from the bulkheading.

Within three-quarters of an hour after the fire started it was under control and the dock ruined.

No list of the stuff destroyed on the pier can be obtained yet, but it is said 6,000 barrels of cement and 500 bicycles, with large quantities of other freight, were burned. The most conservative estimate places the value at $300,000.

None of the workmen on the pier was injured. When the fire broke out several of them, remembering the fire of three years ago, leaped into the river and swam to the tugs which swarmed up.

Tried to Stop Betting at Race Track.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Efforts to stop betting on races at Washington park were futile. Twenty constables appeared at the track with a batch of warrants for bookmakers and others. They were not allowed to enter the inclosure until after the races were over. The gates were all guarded, and the constables made no show of force. When the constables did come in they got into a brief fight with Pinkerton men, but the disturbance attracted little attention. The warrants were served quietly, and bonds were furnished at once. The cases were set for July 17 by Justice Branwell, who was at the track. No warrants were served on officials of the track.

Big Wreck Reported.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 11.—The government steamer Lady Laurier, now at Sweet island, is expected back shortly with a definite report regarding the big wreck reported by a Gloucester fishing schooner. The captain of the Laurier has orders to anchor off the wreck if the wind allows it and get the name of the vessel and particulars regarding her.

Brown Again Indicted.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Andrew Brown, a burglar, whose sentence of four years was raised to six and finally to nine years by Judge Aspinall of Brooklyn because the judge objected to remarks made by the prisoner, was indicted for a burglary alleged to have been committed prior to his other offense.

Courtesy of North German Lloyd.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Through the courtesy of the North German Lloyd Steamship company the steamer Island of the Scandinavian-American line will dock at the Bremen line pier in Hoboken on her arrival here. The pier of the Scandinavian-American line has been destroyed by fire.

Short of Harvest Hands.

BELVIDERE, N. J., July 11.—The farmers of Warren and Sussex counties are unusually busy gathering their big harvests. They find hands very scarce and are willing to pay almost any price for ablebodied men. As it is, they have been employing men, women and children.

Strike For Nine Hour Scale.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 11.—Over 100 men, carpenters and helpers, at work on the new soldiers' home at Johnson City, went on strike, demanding a nine hour scale.

LEO'S LIFE EBBING

The Vatican Physicians Have No Hope of His Recovery.

PONTIFF FULL OF SUBLIME COURAGE

Urges the Doctors to Allow Him to See the Cardinals, as They Had Shown Irritation at Being Denied Entrance to Sick Room.

ROME, July 11.—On awakening this morning the pontiff was somewhat restless, and a dose of choral was administered.

The following bulletin shows the present condition of his holiness:

"The pope has had hours of rest without suffering. His pulse maintains its frequency and force. After the second operation his pulsation was 92, his respiration 28 and his temperature 38 centigrade. The kidneys continue functionally deficient. His general state is stationary."

Professor Rossoni, assisted by three other doctors, analyzed the serum extracted at the second operation. The doctors explained that the purpose of the analysis was to determine whether the case originated from tuberculous process or a tumor in the throat. The analysis showed that the disease was merely due to simple pleurisy.

Pope Leo has manifested great interest in the intended visit of King Victor Emmanuel to Paris. He has made many inquiries regarding the plans for the trip.

A semiofficial organ of the government says: "In view of the condition of the pope, which occasions deep suspense throughout the Catholic world, the visit of King Victor Emmanuel to France has been postponed by a common accord between the French and Italian governments."

A general feeling of tranquillity marked the day in Rome, due to the widespread belief that, though the pope's days are numbered, his hour has not yet come. The sublime self confidence of the patient permeates the people, especially the simpler folk, who go about their day's work, postponing signs of sorrow and mourning until from the sick bed itself they hear that the unusual struggle is nearing its end. There is foretold almost apathetically a repetition during the next few days of that exceptional medical history of recoveries and relapses which have so astonished the world this week. That no doctor will lend the weight of his opinion to uphold this popular impression in no way affects the prevailing idea of the Romans. Nothing is more wonderful than the pope himself, they say; hence miracles are not out of the question.

The news of the second operation sent cardinals and ambassadors driving hurriedly to the Vatican. The somber black carriages and horses of the former, relieved only by glimpses of the scarlet robes worn by the pale faced occupants, contrasted strangely with the brilliant equipages of the ambassadors. Outside St. Peter's the ordinary visitors hurried past the Swiss guards and ascended the staircase leading to the inner court of the Vatican.

The sun beat fiercely on the plain, white shutters which shelter the pope's room, and all eyes were turned toward them. Compared with the magnificence below, with the bewildering colors of the papal courts and the rich attire of the guards, the shuttered windows are peasant-like in their simplicity. Another window caught the eye. This was open, and the sun streamed in on Raphael's priceless frescoes and lit up the great marble portico. "Within there," said a papal attendant, "the rooms are all ready for Oreglia, the cardinal dean who will reign during the interregnum."

The same grim preparation is apparent on all sides. Count Pecci, a nephew of the dying pope, wearing a straw hat and flannels, sat in the fire engine house, opposite the private entrance to the Vatican, chatting with the firemen. Carriage after carriage drove into the court. The French, German and other ambassadors descended to make inquiries. Prince Massino, looking almost as venerable as the pope himself, the head of one of the most ancient families in Rome; all the cardinals and countless bishops and priests came to await the bulletins.

A small crowd of men, women and children of all descriptions besieged the door where the news was to be given out. From the Castle of St. Angelo came the boom of the midday gun, and then the Palatine guard gave the signal for the anxious crowd to be admitted. Passing through the corridor each received a slip of white paper on which the bulletin was already printed. Intently reading these papers, the crowd filed out through another door past the armed guard and into the quiet streets. During the remainder of the day but few of the public sought the Vatican. Then came the night bulletin, and far larger crowds than had gathered during the day wandered to the Vatican in the cool of the evening. The Swiss guards had received instructions only to admit a small portion of the inquirers prior to the printing of the bulletin, and even this restricted number almost filled the court of the Vatican, while many waited in suspense on the steps of St. Peter's.

For once the doctors have succeeded in overruling Pope Leo's iron will. He had firmly decided to receive three cardinals. This decision followed his conclusion to daily receive one of each rank of cardinals—namely, cardinal bishops, cardinal deacons and cardinal priests. The last named body had shown considerable irritation at not seeing the pontiff and at being compelled to get news of his condition through devious outside channels. Therefore, following Cardinal Rampolla's visit, the pope decided to receive one of each of these classes of cardinals. After the second operation he requested the doctors to leave the room, saying he wished to see the cardinals. The doctors gently but firmly protested, declaring that he was still too weak. "But I shall not be fatigued, as I feel much better this morning," argued the pope. But the doctors insisted, urging that it was for his own good, and Pope Leo finally yielded, although expressing the hope that he might see some of the cardinals later.

ADVICES FROM PEKING.

Revival of Russian-Japanese War Talk—Three Christians Murdered.

PEKING, July 11.—Advices from Newchwang regarding the recent cleavage in the relations between Russia and Japan have caused a revival of the war talk, greater than at any time for three years. The recent sale of the British company to Russia has been taken to indicate a loss of confidence by the foreign residents in the ability of the powers to resist Russia's absorption of the port industries.

Since the departure of the Russian minister, M. Lessar, for the Port Arthur conference it has been learned that the Chinese foreign office intended to have a representative at that meeting and was only deterred from accepting the invitation by the fear of alarming the other powers.

Japan's demand regarding the deficiency in the indemnity payments is taken as an indication that she is adopting a policy independent of her British alliance.

The Chinese foreign office is exerting its utmost to exterminate the antidynastic societies in the Yangtse provinces. Five leaders of the movement are now on trial for sedition in the foreign concession at Shanghai. The government considers that this propaganda is a grave menace to the throne.

Three native Christians have been murdered at Pinglihsien, in the Shansi province. The Catholic priests have been escorted to Chengkou under military protection. The foreign office declares that the murders are not anti-Christian, but have their motive in robbery.

PRESIDENT'S VACATION.

Roosevelt Visits Burroughs In the Woods of Ulster County.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 11.—President Roosevelt was yesterday the guest of his guide and friend, John Burroughs, the poet-naturalist, at West Park, Ulster county, N. Y. Accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, the president boarded the naval yacht Sylph and started for West Park. So carefully guarded were the plans for the trip that not even the officers of the secret service were informed. None of the officers accompanied the president.

Mr. Burroughs accompanied the president on his tour of the Yellowstone park last spring, and for some time it has been the president's desire to visit his friend quietly in his own home, which is in the heart of the woods.

His majesty King Edward of England, after proposing the health of President Roosevelt at the banquet in Buckingham palace which he gave to Admiral Cotton and the officers of the American squadron now at Portsmouth, indited, while sitting at the banquet board, a message of friendship to the president. The cablegram as received here is as follows:

"I have the great pleasure in entertaining Admiral Cotton and the captains of his squadron and have just proposed your health with every feeling of cordiality and friendship."

Secretary of War Root is expected to arrive here tomorrow. He will remain with the president at Sagamore Hill until Monday afternoon. The secretary will discuss with the president the proposed war department investigation, the Alaskan boundary question and some important departmental matters.

A magnificent banner of Japanese design will be presented to this society by President Clarke.

LONDON HONORS HIM

Cotton and His Captains Feast at Mansion House.

FOR AMITY, FRIENDSHIP AND PEACE

Lord Mayor Said He Was Thankful That the United States Had Not Hesitated to Condemn the Kishineff Massacres.

LONDON, July 11.—The lord mayor of London gave a luncheon at the Mansion House here in honor of Rear Admiral Cotton and the other officers of the United States European squadron now at anchor in Portsmouth harbor.

The luncheon was a brilliant affair, accompanied by all the picturesque City ceremonies. The beautiful hall, hung with banners and containing a wonderful display of the Mansion house plate, delighted the American officers, while the speeches which followed were made the occasion for an Anglo-American love feast.

Incidentally the lord mayor made a striking reference to the Kishineff massacres. He said he was thankful that the United States was not bound by diplomatic rules and etiquette and had not hesitated to raise its voice in protest against the barbarities of the world wherever they occurred.

Mrs. Choate, wife of the United States ambassador, sat on the lord mayor's right and Admiral Cotton was seated between the lady mayoress and Prince Louis of Battenberg. The others present included Ambassador Choate, Senator Gorman, James Bryce, M. P.; Lord Rothschild, Admiral Sir Henry Keppel, Captain Stockton, the United States naval attache; the entire staff of the American embassy, Senator Depew and Sir Henry Irving.

After the toasts to King Edward and President Roosevelt had been received with enthusiasm, the lord mayor proposed the health of "Admiral Cotton, his officers and the entire American navy."

A great outburst of cheering followed.

Admiral Cotton was accorded an enthusiastic reception when he rose to reply. He made a graceful acknowledgment of the kindly welcome that the Americans had received from the British fleet and people and added:

"The squadron is here by direct order of the president of the United States and as a messenger of peace and good will. I am sure I speak for the peoples of both countries when I say I hope and believe that the cross of St. George and the stars and stripes will never be waved but in amity and friendship and for the peace of the world."

The king gave a public exhibition of his interest in the American officers by shaking hands with Rear Admiral Cotton and bowing to each of the American captains during his inspection of the Honorable Artillery company.

Ambassador Choate gave a dinner in honor of the American navel men, inviting to meet them a number of distinguished officials.

The breakfast given to the Prince of Wales by Admiral Cotton will take place on the Kearsarge at 10 o'clock on Monday morning. His royal highness will subsequently inspect the war ships.

Plainfield, N. J., July 11, 1903.

Foolish is the man who works like a steam engine these hot days.

"Independence in a newspaper may be defined as the inflexible purpose and the ability always to stand for the right."

No, Mary Jane, Henry W. Longfellow did not write the words and music of that catchy selection which has become so popular of late.

Notwithstanding the press muzzler in Quaysylvania, fearless newspapers in that State continue to cartoon the politicians. Arn't they mean?

"Good advertising will create business. The duller the times the more need there is to advertise. Bright advertising is a sure cure for dull times."

The Boston people are wrought up in great state over the mosquito scourge in that city. They don't mind the bites but complain that it is bad form for one to be scratching the ankle.

King Peter of Servia has relatives in Hoboken. This is not strange. If they are going to live in this country at all we imagine there would be no more congenial place for them than that city.

A Jersey City girl ran away and got married the other day and then explained to friends that her husband had captured her heart by the way he danced. A woman like that deserves to be "led a dance."

The municipality in New Jersey which is not agitating a sewage system is so small that it has been overlooked. If it keeps up at this rate it will require a civil engineer to fill the place "behind the desk" in an up-to-date newspaper office.

One Plainfield boy has lost his life by playing with a toy pistol. This form of celebrating the Fourth is responsible for the death of hundreds of people annually and it is to be regretted that there appears no way of keeping such things from children.

"Woman of Plainfield, N. J., is reported as having mysteriously vanished. These cases are getting too common. For a change, somebody will oblige by dropping the mysterious business and disappearing in plain view of a lot of others."—New York Evening Telegram.

Any woman wishing to drown herself will please notify the Evening Telegram. Reporters will be furnished to watch the "disappearance in plain view."

eight and three quarters acres of land for fifty pounds "lawful money of the State of New Jersey." A document of June 18, 1778, in dividing an estate among heirs, makes ample provision for the maintenance of the widowed mother of the legatees and devisees, upon whom it was enjoined to procure a house for their mother and also provide her with enough money "in finding sufficiency of fire wood, the supporting of two cows both summer and winter for her use and to be their proportionate share in rendering to her the sum of ten pounds per year during her widowhood."

The wages of farm laborers in this vicinity in 1841 were not greatly lower than at present, as witness a few items selected from a bill rendered May 19 of that year. "Two days' planting corn, $2; mending dam, $3; day's thrashing, $.87½; one and one half days' plowing corn, $1.87½; 7 days' work in hay, $8.75; husking corn, $1 a day.

Mr. Hoagland has several other documents of the same nature. The oldest is a deed dated 1748 and refers in its conditions to another deed dated 1680.

MAY DELAY COURTHOUSE

CONTRACTOR FOR STONE WORK HAS FAILED IN BUSINESS.

Only One-Thirtieth of the Granite Has Been Delivered So Far.

There is some danger that the delivery of granite for the new Union County Court House in Elizabeth may be delayed or stopped by the failure of the large boot and shoe manufacturing firm of Ara Cushman & Company, of Boston, and Auburn, Me. The firm, according to a Boston despatch, has liabilities estimated at nearly half a million and their assignment is attributed to their inability to secure sufficient bank accommodation.

Ara Cushman, the head of the concern and principal stock owner, is also president of the National Shoe and Leather Bank of Auburn and is practically sole owner of the Main and New Hampshire Granite Company. It is this fact that alarms parties who have unfulfilled contracts with the concern.

The granite for the new court house is being supplied by the Main and New Hampshire Company at a contract price of $180,000, and less than one-thirtieth of it has been received although all of it has been quarried. The Board of Freeholders fear a delay, inasmuch as Mr. Cushman is involved in other failures. The county officials have refused to advance Mr. Cushman any money on account.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:—

Your little paragraph in the editorial column of yesterday's Press on "The Legislature's appropriation for the maintenance of keepers and employes of prisons" is certainly interesting reading as far as it goes. Now please continue the sentence or add another and tell us what it costs to maintain the convicts; and then we can tell you better "what we think of it." At present we can only say that our Legislators are truly generous souls—so long as the State "foots the bill." T.

Former Mayor Alex. Gilbert, of West Eighth street, is spending a portion of the summer on Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Yates, of Kensington avenue, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Holman at Pittsfield, Mass. They will return home next week.

The Clinton Democrat of this week has this to say regarding some Plainfielders who are spending the Summer at Lebanon: "One of the nicest displays of fireworks ever had in this vicinity was given last Saturday evening. Messrs. W. F. Arnold and Randolph brought out a large stock. Geo. Odiorne assisted in the display, which consisted of floral designs, stars, fire-wheels, Roman candles, skyrockets, etc. A large company gathered to witness the display."

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

Two cows afforded a good deal of amusement yesterday afternoon to spectators on North avenue in front of the postoffice. The animals, which belonged to L. L. Block and Mr. Badum, broke loose from their pasture near the roundhouse and made a wild dash down the street. Mr. Block "cut off" his bovine in true wild West style. The other went on, however, and proceeded to walk down the trolley track. A car came along just then but the animal refused to get out of the way. The motorman finally ran into him lightly with the fender and the obstruction was removed.

Last year several interseting games of ball were played between the locals and the Clinton Avenue team. Today the two will play their first game of the season and a good contest can be looked for.

On account of the extreme heat a large number of people in town are planning to spend Sunday away. The seashore will receive the largest delegation.

It has been proposed to get up a benefit ball game for Chas. Hill, who recently broke his arm.

The local ball team intends to return home today with the scalp of the Mt. Pleasant team at its belt.

Friendship Circle will hold its next meeting, Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. William Dunham.

George Coriell has been entertaining out-of-town friends during the past week.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The petition being circulated among the residents of the lower end of the township for a new school house, is meeting with encouraging success. Nearly all the residents are desirous of having better school accommodations, and are attaching their names to the petition which will be presented shortly to the Board of Education.

The second of the series of games between the locals and Westfield will be played at Westfield Saturday afternoon of next week. The experience of several weeks ago when Umpire Traphagen began sending Westfield batters to first base on three strikes has not been forgotten by the local rooters.

The young women of the Baptist Church have organized a sewing circle which meets at "The Manse" once a week, for the purpose of sewing for the Netherwood Fresh Air Home.

Henry Guerrier has purchased three building lots on Stanbery avenue. This end of the town is enjoying a real estate boom. Abram Wade purchased several lots lately and J. D. Loizeaux, of Plainfield, twenty last week.

Services at the Baptist Church tomorrow will be: Sunday-school, 9:30; morning preaching, 10:45; B. Y. P. U. meeting, 7; evening sermon in the parlors of the church, 7:45.

Jhon Callahan, who was committed to the county jail by Judge Clark two weeks ago in default of $10 fine, was released Thursday, the fine being paid.

Constable Guerrier is hustling the delinquent taxpayers. The longer you wait the more it costs, so it is a case of pay up and avoid trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McDonough and family, who have been residing in town for the past two years, removed to Plainfield on Thursday.

LITERARY.

Collier's Weekly is conducting a very novel and interesting competition for its readers each month. To enter the contest all one has to do is to review the issues of Collier's for the current month and answer the two or three questions which are printed in each issue, giving such opinion and such suggestions as will aid in improving the paper. Collier's aim in this way to secure the assistance of every one of its readers in making the paper more to their liking. Every reader, in fact, becomes one of the editors, and has his voice in building the greatest illustrated journal of the age.

Mrs. Bowers Buried.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Caroline Bowers took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from her late residence on West Second street. The services were conducted by Rev. The Congregational Church Bulletin will discontinue publication during July and August.

The pulpit at the First Baptist Church will be occupied tomorrow by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of East Orange.

Owing to the repairs now being made at the Church of the Holy Cross, tomorrow's services will be held in the Parish House.

Miss Florence Serrell and Miss Edith Cairns, delegates from the First Baptist Church Sunday-school, will return home Monday from Asbury Park, where they have been attending the School of Methods.

The members of the Sunday-school of the Church of the Holy Cross are requested to meet in the Sunday-school room tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, to receive their tickets for the excursion on Thursday, July 16.

It is not believed that the deficit from the First Baptist Sunday-school excursion will be over $100. It would not be as much as this had not so many members been carried free, which the committee decided it was best to do.

The Paterson Morning Call, in speaking of Rev. Hervey Wood who will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon says: "Mr. Wood has always been one of the strongest exponents of temperance among the denominational preachers in Paterson."

Special services will be held at the Whosoever Mission, Whitehood avenue opposite Regent street, tomorrow evening. To these services all are invited. Special services will be held Tuesday evening and the regular prayer meeting will be held Thursday evening.

RIVER TRADING BOATS.

Ante-Bellum Commercial Enterprise Is Said to Be Coming Into Vogue Again.

Queer-looking flatboats, varying in size and capable of carrying many tons of freight, having on board a rude home for the owner, are again beginning to ply up and down the broad expanse of the Ohio river and its tributaries. One in particular has attracted the attention of the farmers through whose lands it occasionally wends its way. It has been fittingly named "The American Trader," in that it is a veritable floating store and junkhouse.

According to river men, the life of the water trader is far more pleasant than that of the average peddler, whose vocation necessitates the frequent cleaning and continual looking after a horse. Then, again, there are enough residents along the larger rivers to make an inland trip altogether unnecessary.

RIVER TRADING BOAT.
(Old-Time System of Commerce Again Coming Into Vogue.)

The trading boats are supplied with groceries and provisions of all kinds, and take in exchange such articles as butter, eggs, iron, wool and bones. When laden it puts off to some town and there sells its accumulation of stock.

It is said that long before the war the flatboat was used to take produce down the rivers, but that with its passing came the modern barge, now almost a novelty, yet often a useful one. As a general rule, these "traders" keep to the smaller streams, like the Wabash and White rivers, that are not so easy of navigation by the larger steamers.

JOSEPH B. FORAKER.

Junior Senator from Ohio Who Stands Very Close to the Roosevelt Administration.

One of the most prominent men in Ohio to-day is J. B. Foraker, and he is a self-made man.

Joseph Benson Foraker was born on a farm near Rainsboro, Highland county, O., July 5, 1846. He is said to have been a strong boy, being a leader in all fishing and swimming expeditions. He took an active part in the civil war, having enlisted at the age of 15 with the Eighty-ninth Ohio volunteer infantry, as a private, and serving clear to the end of the war. In that war he gave some intimation of his future success by his rapid promotion—he was a brevet captain when peace was again declared.

JOSEPH B. FORAKER.
(Ohio Senator Who Is a Power in the Affairs of the Nation.)

Mr. Foraker graduated from Cornell in 1869, and was admitted to the bar and began practice in Cincinnati during the same year. He was judge of the superior court in Cincinnati from 1879 to 1882, but resigned on account of ill health. He was the republican candidate for governor of Ohio, but was defeated at the election of 1883, to be elected in 1885 and 1887, and again defeated in 1889. He has been a United States senator since 1897.

Bird Which Bites a Hook.

Notable among the denizens of the Balkan mountains is a bird, called by the natives the waspeater. As its name indicates, it is the enemy of the hive, and the scourge of honey-bees, but it has a decided preference for wasps. It pursues its prey with remarkable agility, catching an immense number of insects in its flight through the air in an incredibly short space of time. Strange to say, this bird is caught by means of a line, like a common gudgeon. The children stick a crooked pin through the body of a live wasp, fastening it to a long stout piece of thread. The insect soars aloft, and is presently gobbled up by the bird of prey. It is a humiliating spectacle to see the miserable waspeater struggling at the end of the line like a young carp, while it is being drawn down to earth.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

BRIGHTER TINTS WORN.

Yellows, Scarlets and Pinks Modish. The Useful Cape Collars.

The wide collar is a boon to amateur dressmakers, for it covers up a multitude of sins.

Challies in quaint pompadour designs make up charmingly and are very useful for cool evenings.

The parasol of the moment is most attractive, with its long handle a la Pompadour, very often incrusted with gems and its chine silk inserted with medallions of lace. The simplest parasol of all has a plain silk cover with rows of ribbon woven in black on a light ground in graduated widths and a long, plain colored handle.

Foulard, the old fashioned fabric, has given way to voiles and a still softer make of silk. For dull days cloths trimmed with taffeta as well as a firmer make of canvas and spotted voile are greatly to the fore.

There is a growing tendency toward brighter tints, especially in a soft make of cloth. Scarlet still carries the day, and yellows, pinks and brilliant blues are all tremendously in request.

A wrinkle now resorted to by all the leading blouse specialists is a chiffon veiling to silk underslips, not the costly and hot taffetas of heretofore, but good washing quality, the chiffon lending a soft appearance to any lace that may be inset, while it enhances to an immense extent the value of a muslin blouse.

The picture shows a walking costume of gray. The hat is of white with a scarlet feather.

MILLINERY MODES.

The Indispensable French Sailor. Some Dressy Hats.

The French sailor is indispensable to the smart woman's wardrobe. The prettiest this year is of rough yellow straw trimmed simply with a wreath of foliage or velvet balls.

Hats of ecru straw are often simply trimmed with an application of coarse lace with ends hanging on one side.

The new tailor made hat tilts up in front and fits closely at the back and sides. It is trimmed only with loops and knots of ribbon.

For dressy wear nothing can equal a hat of white tulle trimmed with a single ostrich plume, although rough straw also looks well for the same purpose.

The ever useful toque of black straw is relieved by the pompon or aigret of black and white and black rough straw. French sailors are tastefully trimmed with blackberries and their shaded foliage.

The transparent hat of lace is not seen so much this year, and the stiff shapes of straw seem to have the preference over millinery made of more fancy materials.

The advent of colored hosiery cannot fail to have been remarked, several shades of dark blue and some amazingly pretty reds, spotted and clocked with black, predominating. There is a rumor that these will be worn with white shoes. White shoes at best are a doubtful acquisition, their one saving grace being found in white silk or lace hosiery. The colored fancy, though, is reasonable with the walking skirt, provided they are privileged to find completion in neat black French kid or patent leather shoes. Nor is the notion at all unpleasing of colored hosiery worn with white frocks, these perchance repeating the tone of some pretty skirt and hat.

The chic sailor shape in the illustration is trimmed with two shades of mull and pink roses.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1902, by The Robert Company.

All this was told as he eagerly pushed his way along the board walk; soldiers' wives hanging on his words and almost on him; officers' wives and daughters calling from the galleries or running to the gates, and Dade heard the hubbub almost as quickly as did Esther, who hurried to the door. By the light of the hall lamp the commander read the pencilled superscription of the gummed envelope and the word "Immediate" at the corner. The same light fell on a dozen anxious, pleading faces beyond the steps. His hand shook in spite of himself, and he knew he could not open and read it in their presence. "One moment," he said, his heart going out to them in sympathy as well as dread. "You shall hear in one moment," and turned aside into the little army parlor.

But he could not turn from his wife and child. They followed and stood studying his pale face as he read the fateful words that told so little, yet so much:—

"Reached Ray just in time. Sharp affair. Dr. Waller will have to come at once as Tracy goes on with us to rescue stage people at Dry Fork. Better send infantry escort and all hospital attendants that can be possibly spared; also chaplain. Sergeants Burroughs and Wing, Corporal Foot and Troopers Denny, Flood, Kerrigan and Preusser killed. Many wounded—Lieut. Field seriously. "WEBB."

CHAPTER X.

A sharp affair indeed was that of this September day!—a fight long talked of on the frontier if soon forgotten in "the states." Obedient to his orders to push to the relief of the imperiled party on Dry Fork, Ray had made good time to Moccasin Ridge, even though saving horses and men for the test of the later hours. Well he knew his march would be watched by some of Stabber's band, but little did he dream at starting that Indian strategy would take the unusual form of dropping what promised to be a sure thing, leaving the people at the stage station to the guardianship of less than a dozen braves, and launching out with a big band to aid a little one in attack on one lone detachment that might not come at all. But Lame Wolf reasoned that the people penned at the stage station were in no condition to attempt to escape. They were safe whenever he chose to return to them, and Lame Wolf knew this of Stabber—that he had long been a hanger-on about the military reservations, that he had made a study of the methods of the white chiefs, that he was able to almost accurately predict what their course would be in such event as this, and that Stabber had recently received accessions whose boast it was that they had information at first hand of the white chiefs' plans and intentions. Stabber had sent swift runners to Lame Wolf, urging him to bring his warriors to aid him in surrounding the first troops sent forth from Frayne. Stabber had noted, year after year, that it was the almost invariable policy of our leaders to order a small force at the start, and then, when that was crushed, to follow it with the big one that should have been sent in the first place. Kennedy's successful coming was known to Stabber quite as soon as it was to Webb. It may be said that Stabber let him through, feeling confident what the result would be, and then, despite a certain jealousy, not confined entirely to savage tribal leaders, Lame Wolf had confidence in Stabbers' judgment. Ray had expected long range flank fire, and possibly occasional resistance in front; but, assured of Stabber's paucity in numbers, and believing Lame Wolf too busy to send Stabber substantial aid, he thought a sharp lesson or two would clear his front of such Indians as sought to check him, and so rode serenely forward, rejoicing in his mission and in his game and devoted little command.

"Something beyond that second ridge," he had said to Field, in sending him forward with the bulk of the platoon, and Field, who had been silent and brooding, woke at the summons and, all animation at the scent of danger, spurred swiftly ahead to join the advance and see for himself what manner of hindrance awaited them, leaving the baker's dozen of his platoon to trot steadily on under the lead of its sergeant, while Ray, with his trumpeter, followed midway between his advance and Clayton's platoon, intact, moving quietly at the walk and held in reserve.

Ordinarily Ray himself would have ridden to the far front and personally investigated the conditions, but he was anxious that Field should understand he held the full confidence of his temporary commander. He wished Field to realize that now he had opportunity for honorable distinction, and a chance to show what was in him, and, having sent him forward, Ray meant to rely on his reports and be ready to back, if possible, his dispositions. Nothing so quickly demolishes prejudice in garrison as prowess in the field. Not infrequently has an officer gone forth under a cloud and returned under a crown. It is so much easier to be a hero in a single fight than a model soldier throughout an entire season—at least so it was in the old days.

But the moment Mr. Field dismounted and, leaving his horse with the others along the slope, had gone crouching to the crest, he leveled his glasses for one look, then turned excitedly and began rapid signals to his followers. Presently a young trooper came charging down, making straight for Ray. "The lieutenant's compliments," said he, "but there's a dozen Sioux in sight, and he wishes to know shall he charge."

A dozen Sioux in sight! That was unusual. Ordinarily the Indians kept in hiding, lurking behind sheltering crests and ridges in open country, or the trees and underbrush where such cover is possible. A dozen in sight!

"How far ahead, Murray?" asked the captain, as he shook free his rein and started forward at the gallop. "Did you see them yourself?"

"Yes, sir. Most of 'em were bunched by the roadside, jabbing with their lances at something or other. Two or three were closer in. They must ha' been watching us, for they only quit the ridge just before we came up. Then they skedaddled." The vernacular of the civil war days, long since forgotten except about the few veteran soldiers' homes in the east, was still in use at times in regiments like the —th, which had served the four years through with the Army of the Potomac. Old sergeants give the tone to younger soldiers in all the customs of the service. The captain and the two men now with him had caught up with Field's swift-trotting support by this time, and the eyes of the men kindled instantly at sight of their leader speeding easily by, cool, confident and as thoroughly at home as though it were the most ordinary skirmish drill. Those who have never tried it do not quite realize what it means to ride in closed ranks and compact column, silent and unswerving, straight forward over open fields toward some equally silent crest, that gives no sign of hostile occupancy, and yet may suddenly blaze with vengeful fires and spit its hissing lead into the faces of the advancing force. Even here where the ridge was already gained by two or three of the advance, proving, therefore, that the enemy could not be in possession, men saw by the excitement manifest in the signals of the lieutenant, and indeed of Sergeant Scott, who had spent 15 years in the ranks, that Indians must be close at hand. The crest was barely 500 yards in front of the section, and they were still "bunched," a splendid mark if the foe saw fit by sudden dash to regain the ridge and pour in rapid fire from their magazine rifles.

Even as he went loping by, Ray had half turned, with something like a smile in his dark eyes and a nod of his curly head to the sergeant commanding, and a gesture of the gauntleted hand—a horizontal sweep to right and left, twice repeated—had given the veteran his cue, and with another moment Winser had the dozen in line at open, yet narrow, intervals, with carbines advanced and ready for business. They saw their captian ride swiftly up the gentle slope until close to the crest, then off he sprang, tossed his reins to the trumpeter and went hurrying afoot to join the lieutenant. They saw him kneeling as though to level his glasses and look fixedly forward; saw Field run back to his horse and mount in a twinkling; saw him whirl about as though coming to place himself at their head, yet rein in at once—his charger's fore feet ploughing the turf at some word from their leader. Field was eager to charge, but Ray had seen for himself and for his men, and Ray said no. Another moment, and all were at the front again in saddle—Field back with the advance, Ray coolly seated astride his pet sorrel—scouting a second ridge, far to the north, with his glasses, and, sending, as before, Scott and his three troopers straight on to the front, and signaling to the flankers to continue the move. Ten seconds' study of the position in the long, wide, shallow depression before him had fathomed the scheme of the savage. The little knot of Indians, jabbering, yelping, prodding and circling about some unseen object on the turf, feigning ignorance of the soldiers' coming, was at the old-time trick to get the foremost troopers to charge and chase, to draw them on in the dash and excitement of the moment, far ahead—three miles, perhaps—of the main body, and so enable the lurking band behind that second curtain, the farther ridge, to come swooping down to surround, overwhelm and butcher the luckless few, then be off to safe distance long before the mass of the troop could possibly reach the scene.

"No you don't, Stabber!" laughed Ray, as Field, not a little chagrined, and the dozen at his back, came trotting within hearing distance. "That dodge was bald-headed when I was a baby. Look, Field," he continued. "They were jabbing at nothing there on the prairie. That was a fake captive they were stabbing to death. See them all scooting away now. They'll rally beyond that next ridge, and we'll go a little fooling of our own."

THE HACKNEY HORSE.

A Type in Equine Flesh That Brings Top Prices.

Build and Action of the Genuine—How to Distinguish the Good and Bad in This Class of Horse.

Many a man admires a horse, and yet cannot tell anything exact about the style and conformation which pleases him. What is it that makes one horse worth $1,500 and another worth $100, though they are all the same age, size and weight? The horseman explains the situation in the words "conformation" and "action."

The most pleasing "action" to watch is the Hackney type. Fig. 1 shows two poor actions. "Short in Action" illustrates a horse with moderate style and speed. "A Daisy Cutter" (Fig. 2) is a horse without either of these qualities in any degree, one that shoves his feet along the ground instead of lifting them daintily like the wild deer of the forest.

In Figs. 3 and 4 the artist has depicted the free movements now characteristic of stylish Hackneys. The front leg moves out straight from the shoulder, while the foot turns up easily until it nearly reaches the inside of the shoulder at the finish of each stride. For rear action the truest type is that shown in Fig. 4. The angles are graceful in motion, free and easy, and the propulsive power great. It is this action which makes the typical and true Hackney, and makes of such horses the ready sellers which they are in every market where stylish horseflesh is appreciated.

As a general rule there are more animals defective in the hock than in their fore action, and many a promising youngster has been relegated to the wrong side of the post just because it has failed in this, the primary feature of a harness horse. The reason why so much importance has been attached to good action, on the part of the breeder, is that good-looking horses with no action are a drug on the market, while a mean horse with no showy qualities beyond his action can always find a purchaser at a good price. It is action that sells. A hunting man, of course, regards true Hackney action as a thing to be avoided, but then the characteristics and the purpose of the two types of animals are so much at variance that his views have been moulded in a different school.

In Fig. 5 two defective styles are shown. One of the commonest defects of Hackney action is that of going wide. Apart altogether from its unsightliness, it is evident that the animal which does not keep its hocks close together has neither the propulsive power, nor are his legs calculated to stand the wear and tear of ordinary work for a lengthened period. Where this weakness is very pronounced, it is frequently the result of internal trouble. Another defect which is sometimes seen is what is known as the cow hock (Fig. 6); it is most unsightly when the animal is in a standing position. It is not, however, such a serious defect as the open hock, yet it very materially lowers the animal's chances in good company. The artist has sketched one or two other positions, and by a simple diagram shows how the correct angle of the hind legs (Fig. 7) may be ascertained.

The conformation of the horse has a great deal to do with the perfection or otherwise of its movements, and the horse, which is narrow in front and turns its toes (Fig. 6) in, can never be expected to make a perfect display with such imperfect formation. Many a notable animal, which has figured prominently in prize lists, has suffered from this physical defect, which has just been sufficiently apparent to prevent entry into the first flight in the show ring. Conversely the animal which turns its toes out is invariably open at the knees in his action, and that is a very ungainly and reprehensible characteristic.

The Hackney is a beautiful animal, and is rapidly gaining ground as a show animal. Besides, a perfect Hackney will do excellent road work in spite of his flourishes, since there must be range as well as height in the action in order to satisfy modern ideals.

Y. M. C. A. MUSICIANS PERFORM

GIVE EXCELLENT CONCERT FOR BENEFIT OF FRANK MANCHESTER.

Miss Florence Bennett, Soprano Soloist, Assisted and Won Much Applause—The Programme.

Y. M. C. A. students of the art of Orpheus made an offering last evening in the shape of a testimonial concert in the association hall, for the benefit of Frank Manchester, a member of the association and drum major of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps, who has been sick for several weeks. The Young Men's Christian Association orchestra led by Martin A. Korff were assisted by Miss Florence Bennett, soprano soloist, and by the Independent Fife and Drum Corps.

The programme pleased an audience that filled the hall comfortably. Miss Bennett's solos were the most popular numbers. Her voice is sweet, clear and expressive and won for her applause that lasted several minutes after each selection. The work of the orchestra was most acceptable. The excellence of the entertainment is evidenced by the fact that all of the following numbers were played through with skill and finish:

March, "Dixie Land," Haines; overture, "Merrymakers," DeWitt; valse, [symphia, Holzman; soprano solo, "Dear Homeland," Walter Slaughter, Miss Florence Bennett; Trois Temps Rosedale, Wellesley; intermezzo, "Hiawatha," Moret; march, "The Stroller," Chasseur; characteristic, "An Aftermath, Keiser; idyl, "My Angel," Haack; soprano solo, "Sweet Vale of Avoca," Gordon Temple, Miss Florence Bennett; chorus, two step, "A Frangesa," Costa; march, "The Midnight Flyer," Hager.

TROPHY FOR MARKSMANSHIP

SENATOR DRYDEN OFFERS A PRIZE BRONZE BANNER.

To be Competed for Annually by State Military Organization Teams.

Jerseymen are greatly interested in the announcement that United States Senator John F. Dryden has offered a bronze banner costing $3,000 to be contested for annually by teams from State military organizations, the trophy to go to the team making the best record for marksmanship.

Senator Dryden, of New Jersey, by his official and personal acts has furnished the country two of the most valuable trophies ever contested for on the rifle range. It was through Mr. Dryden's personal and persistent efforts that the military committees of Congress last year agreed to insert a clause in the army appropriation bill authorizing for the first time "a national trophy, medals and other prizes to be provided for and contested for annually * * * by the army and National Guard or organized militia of the several States and territories and of the District of Columbia."

In addition to the trophy, Senator Dryden has arranged to give each year $250 as first and second money, to be divided between the members of the second and third teams in the annual contest for the possession of the prize.

The Dryden trophy, the design of which has just been completed by William Hayes, of Newark, who is also making the one for the federal government, is to be shot for on the range at Sea Girt, under the auspices of the New Jersey State Rifle Association.

It is to be of bronze, 5 feet 7 inches high, mounted on an ebony base 18 inches high, making a total height of about 7 feet.

DECLINES CALL.

Rev. L. R. Howard Decides to Remain as Pastor of Hope Memorial Chapel.

It was learned yesterday at Hope Chapel that the pastor, Rev. L. R. Howard, had received a call to engage in mission work in New Mexico, to engage in the work given up by a relative who has gone to another field. The call, which comes from the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, has been declined. Mr. Howard stated yesterday that he would remain in Plainfield, believing that his work is here for the present.

Mr. Howard's uncle, Gen. O. O. Howard, recently made an extended tour through New Mexico, visiting all the mission fields and afterward he wrote a series of articles for The Christian Herald, giving an interesting description of his trip. For some time past Mr. Howard's relatives have been interested in mission work in New Mexico. His congregation at Hope Chapel is pleased over his decision to remain in Plainfield.

BOROUGH CHARACTERS ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Harry Hayes and Henry Watson in the Trio Which Broke Out at Somerville.

OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE

METHOD USED IN MAKING THE JAIL DELIVERY.

Authorities Have Found No Trace of the Missing Men—The Records of the Escaped Prisoners.

Three prisoners broke out of the Somerset County jail Saturday night. They were Harry Hayes, of North Plainfield, held for the Grand Jury on a charge of stealing chickens; Henry Watson, also of the borough, held on a charge of incest, and Daniel Cobb, serving a short sentence for disorderly conduct.

The men made their escape between 12 and 1 o'clock, having, it is believed, assistance from outside the walls. The lock of the inside jail door was picked and the outside door was opened by a long stick used to push back the bolt. County Detective James Totten and Patrolman Koch discovered that the men were gone on their return from raiding a Somerville house, probably about half an hour after they had escaped. There were three other prisoners in the same section, none of whom was awakened.

Sheriff McMurtry and Deputy Sheriff Anderson are of the opinion that the prisoners boarded a freight train bound for Philadelphia, although they have not yet found any satisfactory clue. It is believed that clothing was supplied by the friends of the prisoners who aided them in escaping.

The cells in the prison are located on the ground floor, facing a corridor leading to the court yard. Every cell is locked and inspected at night by the deputy sheriff. There are no guards at the jail after 9 o'clock.

The men are considered desperate characters. Hayes has a bad record with the police.

Watson is the father of the little Theresa Watson, who, last May, was shot by her little playmate, Willie James, while in the woods between this city and Mt. Bethel. After the funeral of the child, on Friday afternoon, May 29, Watson was placed under arrest by Detective James Totten on serious charges preferred by his sister, a domestic employed in the residence of a respectable family on Fairview avenue.

Several efforts have been made to secure his release but all attempts, through the natural course of the law, were unavailing.

It is said that Watson has been corresponding with a man in this city and that since the jail breaking the latter has not been seen. The police are looking for him. His name is withheld.

Guests of Former Plainfielder.

John A. O'Keefe, J. R. Knowlton, A. E. Kenney, W. J. O'Keefe, Charles Ward, M. J. Whalen J. J. Kenney, M. J. Cashin, Joseph O'Keefe and D. J. Carney, all of this city, were guests yesterday of John H. Hillman, formerly of this city, but now of Hillman's Cherry Grove, Flatbush, L. I. The guests were given a good time, the host making every effort to see that they suffered as little as possible from the heat. As souvenirs of the first annual outing, Mr. Hillman presented each guest with a card, suitably inscribed and to which was attached a minature bucket of coal.

Discontinue Service.

On and after Wednesday, the rapid transit trains, known as Royal Blue trains, between St. George, Staten Island and this city, will be discontinued because of lack of patronage. These trains have been in operation for the past nine months serving as a connecting link between New Jersey and the Island.

FOUND DEAD AT HIS POST

FIREMAN EDWARD SANDERS FOUND WITH SKULL CRUSHED.

Body Discovered in Tender of Westbound Freight, Near Greenbrook Tanks.

When engine No. 471, drawing a westbound mixed train, reached the Greenbrook tanks about 11:40 o'clock, Saturday night, the engineer discovered his fireman, Edward Sanders, dead on the tender of the engine. His skull was crushed and life was extinct. The matter was reported to the railroad officials at once and it was investigated.

It was the general opinion that Sanders had been struck by an overhead bridge at Terrill road, between Fanwood and this city.

There was some suspicion that Sanders might have been murdered by some tramp, who may have been trying to steal a ride on the engine, but investigation did not warrant this belief.

The dead man's home was at Greenville and an undertaker from that place went to Dunellen yesterday and secured the remains at the undertaking parlors of Walter G. Runyon. The remains were taken to Greenville yesterday, where the funeral will be held.

Sanders was twenty-two years of age and was married the first of July. His fatal trip was the first one he had made over the New Jersey Central, although he had been a fireman previous to that time. It was learned today that something was wrong with the brakes on the train and that Sanders in climbing over the tender to fix them, collided with an overhead bridge.

HENRY W. CARPENTER DEAD

FORMER PLAINFIELDER A VICTIM OF THE HOT SPELL.

Found Dead in Bed Shortly After Midnight Sunday Morning—Funeral This Afternoon.

Many Plainfielders will recognize among the recent victims of the heat the name of Henry W. Carpenter, who was found dead in his bed at his hotel in New York City shortly after midnight Sunday morning. Mr. Carpenter came to Plainfield about 1880 and resided here until 1891, when he changed his residence to New York City.

When a young man Mr. Carpenter became identified with the business of insurance and was for about thirty years with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. A few years ago he was forced by ill health to resign his position as cashier of the ordinary department, and since then has spent much of his time in Ramsey, N. J. Death is supposed to have occurred from heart trouble, which had threatened for some years, made suddenly acute by the intense heat.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the residence of his surviving son, Raymond V. Carpenter, of 33 Manning avenue. The dead man was fifty-seven years of age, and was a member of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church.

America First.

The American rifle team, competing against teams representative of Great Britain, Canada, Natal, Norway, France and Australia, won the International match for the Palma trophy at Bisley, England, on Saturday. The Americans' aggregate score, out of a possible 1,800 over the 800, 900 and 1,000 yard ranges, was 1,570. That of the British team, which finished second, was 1,555.

Captured Horned Owl.

Several small boys brought to the fire headquarters yesterday afternoon a large horned owl which they killed along Green brook near Hyde's pond. The bird measured four feet four inches from tip to tip and is said to be the largest captured in this locality in a long while. It was taken to Frank Hedden's stables and will be stuffed.

Children Made Happy.

Dolls and toys received by Miss Curry from two local merchants for distribution among the children at the Netherwood Fresh Air Camp were given to the youngsters today.

ALIS VICTORIOUS IN ELEVENTH INNING

Defeats Scotch Plains on the Latter's Grounds After a Hard Tussle.

ST. MARY'S VICTORIOUS

WESTFIELD'S AGGREGATION DEFEATS THE SUMMIT BALL TOSSERS.

Alis Wins by Score of 5 to 3 and St. Mary's Defeats New Brunswick Sixth Warders 8 to 2—Other Games.

It took Alis and Scotch Plains eleven heart-breaking innings to decide their fourth game of a series at Scotch Plains Saturday afternoon, Alis finally making good, 5 to 3. Considering the fact that the elements were against the game, it was one of the fastest ever played on the local diamond. For some time it looked as though the fans were to be disappointed on account of a wet diamond and outfield, but as the crowd began to arrive about 3 o'clock, it was decided to play ball. Every one expected to see a loose game, which usually accompanies such conditions, but after the first inning, when Brogan threw the slippery sphere wild to third base, allowing two men to cross the plate, there were few mistakes. It was really a pitchers' battle, "Warry" MacLaughlin for Alis and Davis for the locals, dividing honors — Davis striking out out seven men to MacLaughlin's five, while Alis touched Davis for eleven hits and Scotch Plains found MacLaughlin for four hits. One of these was a two-base hit by Flannery in the second innings, when a pass to first together with three base hits, netted three runs.

Alis tied the score in their half of the sixth innings. Davis and Burt each made a safe hit and MacLaughlin followed with a hit to second base. Enright in fielding the ball to catch Davis at the plate threw low, and the score was tied. After that all effort to score was futile until Alis' half of the eleventh inning. Davis came up and fanned. Burt was given a free pass to first and MacLaughlin followed with a hot line fly to Enright, taking Burt to third base. Lederer hit to third base, Williams threw low to Allen, who lost the ball around the bag, and Burt scored. Dupee sent a nice one to centre field and MacLaughlin scored. Kavanaugh flied out to Enright. Henriques struck out and the suspense was over. The locals tried hard to make good in their half of the eleventh, but failed, and Alis won out by a score of 5 to 3. This game makes the teams two to two in the series. The summary:

Westfield won from Summit, 16 to 6, Saturday afternoon, in a poor exhibition of baseball. Westfield's pitcher failed to appear, and the left-fielder, Beck, was substituted in the box. Reeve, the Summit pitcher, was hit freely, and with the aid of many errors, Westfield scored 16 runs. The lineup:

ST. MARY'S, 8; SIXTH WARD, 2.

Those who took chances on the weather and went to St. Mary's ball field, Saturday afternoon, saw as dull a game has been played in this city this season. The teams battled for nine innings on a sloppy field and Doyle's men got the game by 8 runs to 2 from the famous Sixth Ward baseball team, of New Brunswick. Pitcher Groom, imported from Brooklyn, managed to hold the Sixth Warders down to three hits. Worthley, who formerly played with Alis, covered third base for St. Mary's and showed up in great style, accepting every chance that offered. Many braved the storm to see the game, as a compliment to the old-time favorites, John Harkins and the Francis brothers. The summary:

CORRAL TRAMPS.

Councilman Lee Heads Police in Raiding Hoboes Camp in Borough.

Councilman Lee, of the Common Council, assisted by marshals and citizens made a rain on a hobo camp in North Plainfield last evening. Only three of twenty hobos were captured. The other tramps were tipped off by someone before the officers arrived and made good their escape.

A telephone message to the residence of Councilman Lee from a citizen living near Stony brook, called his attention to the fact that the tramps, located in the woods for the night, had committed petty thefts. Mr. Lee, Chief Marshal Campbell, Walter Smalley, Patrick Regan and several other citizens composed a posse which made a descent upon the camp which they found deserted save for three men who were lying on the ground intoxicated. They were brought to town and placed in the lockup.

Edison in This City.

Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, passed through Plainfield this morning on an automobile trip from his home in Orange to Stewartsville, N. J. His big red touring car was stopped for repairs for about ten minutes in front of the Hotel Kensington, and the "Wizard," who seldom sleeps, was soon the center of an admiring crowd, as he sat puffing a cigar. From a nearby music store came the sounds of a phonographic selection, one of the "Wizard's" inventions.

ITALIANS SLASH A FELLOW COUNTRYMAN

Dormaco O. Drada in Muhlenberg Hospital As Result of Mad Attack Upon Him.

THE LEADERS CAPTURED

RAZORS FREELY USED BY FOREIGNERS IN THE ENCOUNTER.

Assailants to be Given a Hearing This Afternoon—The Gamewell System Was Used for the First Time.

A quarrel between Italians on Lake street in the West End last night resulted seriously for Dormaco O. Drada who is undergoing treatment at the hospital for several severe though probably not fatal cuts inflicted by razors wielded by three of his companions. Salvatore and Domenico Merola, brothers, and Alesandro Strepitos were his assailants. Salvatore Merola and Strepitos are in the city jail awaiting a hearing today before Justice Huff. Domenico Merola made good his escape.

The fight happened at about 10:30 o'clock last night. Bad blood has existed for some time between Drada and the others and it was not long last night before hot words were followed by flying razors.

Police headquarters was not notified of the affray until 1 o'clock this morning, when the Italians became frightened at Drada's condition and asked the police to send a doctor. Six minutes after the report was received, Patrolman Flynn, Saunders and Meyers, together with Dr. W. K. Browning were on the scene, the promptness attesting the value of the new Gamewell system. Drada was found in the house of Nicholas Martone on Lake street, bleeding freely and surrounded by nine excited and much frightened fellow Italians. Merola and Strepitos were at once placed under arrest, and Drada was taken to the Muhlenberg Hospital.

CLAIMS BIG ESTATE.

Hoboken Woman Commences Proceedings to Recover Property.

Mrs. Bertha Hardy, of 1023 Willow avenue, Hoboken, has begun proceedings to recover property in Trenton and Washington, D. C., that is estimated to be worth more than $4,000,000.

Mrs. Hardy is a granddaughter of Charles Olden, once Governor of New Jersey, who disinherited her mother. She is the only surviving direct descendant of Gov. Olden and bases her action on the claim that the original will left by him has been stolen from the Trenton Hall of Records. This will, she says, provided for the apportionment of the Governor's big estate among the children of his daughter, and the only existing copy of it is now in possession of persons who have an object in concealing its contents.

Foundry for Somerville.
(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, July 13—A committee of the Somerville Board of Trade is hustling to raise the necessary funds to assure the town another factory. The proprietor of the Weissport Stove Foundry has made concessions in regard to a bonus for the establishment of his factory here and his modest demand for three thousand dollars for an industry that guarantees to pay out $25,999 in salaries has already been the means of inducing the people to subscribe almost the amount required. Now there is no doubt whatever but that this industry will come to this place. The new hardware factory recently started here is running at full blast and big orders are being filled daily.

AMUSEMENTS.

Fred Stone, who plays the Scarecrow in "The Wizard of Oz," has to stand motionless for eighteen minutes at a stretch, perched upon a pole in a cornfield, while a scene is taking place in the foreground. The eyes of the audience are constantly upon him and he must not move a muscle of his face or body or the illusion would be destroyed. His outstretched arms are supported by a cross piece nailed to the pole, and during the first performance of "The Wizard of Oz" both of Stone's arms went to sleep and when Dorothy came to take him from the pole he really needed her support until he could restore the circulation.

Shows come and shows go, but "The Runaways" is going to fill out the time originally set for that magnificent production at the Casino, and, from present indications, with flying colors. Charles Dox, the elongated comedian of long experience and many hits, has replaced John D. Gilbert in the eccentric role of Dr. Fleecem and adds considerably to the fun and smoothness of the performances. He is a most able assistant to Messrs. Arthur Dunn, Alexander Clark, William Gould and the other popular fun makers of "The Runaways." Miss Templeton continues to sing "Yet I'm the Same Little Girl," and "My Hindoo Belle" to the most enthusiastic applause and her striking imitations of Miss Lillian Russell and Mrs. Leslie Carter are the most talked about things in town. Van Rensselaer Wheeler and Miss Amelia Stone have a new duet in the first act, which the famous "Hiawatha" song in the second act, gives these capable singers two of the musical gems of the play.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by L. W. Randolph.

ALLEGED DEFAULTER.

Joseph W. Cummin Charged With Shortage of $50,000.

NEWBURG, N. Y., July 13.—Joseph W. Cummin is in jail here on the charge of grand larceny. He was secretary, treasurer and cashier of the Cornwall bank and is alleged to be a defaulter to the extent of about $50,000, wrecking the bank. The state bank examiner appeared at the bank, and before the examination of the books Cummin took him aside and confessed that he was short in his accounts between $40,000 and $50,000. He added that he would render the examiner all assistance possible and point out the falsified accounts. A meeting of the board of directors was called, and Cummin was placed under arrest. Justice of the Peace H. W. Chadeayne of Cornwall held him for examination.

Cummin is twenty-nine years old and has a wife and two children. He was president of the board of trade, vice president of the Cornwall Realty company and president of the board of school trustees. The capital of the Cornwall bank is $25,000. Cummin at once voluntarily turned over to the bank all his personal and real property and insurance, which amounts to between $15,000 and $20,000. It is said that he speculated with the bank's funds. Bail will be fixed in his case today. He was formerly an assistant paymaster on the Long Island railroad.

ROOT AT SAGAMORE HILL.

To Confer With the President Before Sailing For England.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 13.—Secretary of War Elihu Root is the guest of President Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill. At the station he was met by the president's little daughter Ethel and driven to the president's summer home.

Secretary Root said that his purpose in visiting the president at this time was to discuss with him some departmental matters which required the president's attention. While he declined to indicate what the matters were, it is known that the pending investigation of army contracts, the Alaskan boundary question and some problems relating to the Philippines will be considered.

This probably will be the last conference the president and the secretary of war will have before the latter sails for England to begin the work of the Alaskan boundary commission. The American case has been made up, and it is known that the president desires to consult with Mr. Root regarding the work of the commission.

Prince of Wales Inspects Kearsarge.

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 13.—The Prince of Wales has visited and inspected Rear Admiral Cotton's flagship Kearsarge. Ambassador Choate and Secretaries White and Carter of the American embassy came with the prince from London. Admiral Sir Charles F. Hotham received them at the station, and the whole party drove to the Admiralty House as the admiral's guests, the Prince of Wales, Ambassador Choate and Admiral Hotham occupying the first carriage. H. O. Arnold-Forster, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, and other departmental officials also came from London for the inspection. Among the guests at the dinner given by Admiral Hotham in honor of the Prince of Wales were the officers of the American squadron.

Bear Killed In the Catskills.

CATSKILL, N. Y., July 13.—A black bear ambled out of the woods near Glen Mary, half a mile from here. Several visiting New Yorkers gave chase. The bear crossed the highway to the summer place of Clarence Howland, where several shots were fired, but without effect. On the Samuel C. Hopkins place, adjoining, the bear was treed by two dogs, and a shot fired by James Hallenbeck brought him down. The bear weighed 170 pounds. The place where he was killed is nine miles from the mountains.

Turks and Bulgarians Fight.

PARIS, July 13.—According to a dispatch from Constantinople, engagements have taken place between Turkish and Bulgarian troops on the frontier, which the Turks accuse the Bulgarians of crossing. On the other hand, the Bulgarians assert that the Turks tried to occupy the neutral zone. The dispatch adds that a ministerial council was hurriedly summoned at Yildiz kiosk, and more troops have been called to the colors.

Train Kills or Injures Five.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 13.—A train on the belt railway near here struck five people who were walking a trestle. Florence James was instantly killed, her head being severed from her body; Lizzie McPherson had both legs cut off, Lizzie Morton was seriously and probably fatally injured, and another woman and a man named George Morton were knocked off the trestle and sustained severe injuries.

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—A tornado which swept over Carbondale did great damage. City Clerk Caldwell was badly injured. The second story of his residence was wrecked. Several other residences were unroofed, and some were moved from their foundations. Barns and outhouses along the path of the tornado in the country were blown down.

PALMA TROPHY OURS

American Rifle Team at Bisley Comes Out on Top.

GOOD, STRAIGHT SHOOTING WON.

After a Hard Fought Contest With the British Team In a Close Finish a Victory Is Gained by Fifteen Points.

LONDON, July 13.—The American rifle team has won the match for the Palma trophy at Bisley, near London. The victory of the American riflemen was celebrated by a Palma trophy banquet given by the International Rifle association at the Trocadero, London. Among those present were the members of the contesting teams and a number of distinguished British officials.

The Duke of Cambridge, president of the Rifle association, presided at the function, and he and Captain Merrillon of the French team congratulated the Americans upon their success. Major Fremantle, captain of the British team, proposed the health of the winners, saying the best team had won. Colonel Leslie C. Bruce, captain of the American team, responded, in the course of his remarks stating that the conditions of the day's match were favorable for his men and inviting the other teams to visit Sea Girt next year.

A cablegram was sent to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay by Lieutenant Albert S. Jones, secretary of the National Rifle Association of America, telling of another international trophy secured for the United States.

Founded in 1875 by the National Rifle Association of the United States for the long range rifle championship of the world, this trophy after lying, "the world forgetting and by the world forgot," for more than a score of years at Washington was brought out in 1901 and won by a Canadian team, who in 1902 were beaten by a British team. Now a United States team has come over to old England and, as is the habit of Americans when they set their minds to anything, they will return with the shield in their baggage.

It was good shooting that won the day. The grand total of the American team was 1,570 out of a possible 1,800.

Last year the victorious British eight scored 1,559 points, and the present record was eleven points better than the previous best in the contest.

At the outset the British had the advantage. When the firing in the first round at 800 yards was over the home team was leading by three points.

At the next range, 900 yards, the Americans turned the tables and finished eight points to the good.

At the next and longest range the Americans added to their lead by seven points, winning the trophy by fifteen points.

Funds have been subscribed or are promised already to enable a British team to go to the United States in 1904 to endeavor to recapture the Palma trophy. British riflemen are delighted at this prompt action. It is stated that the Norwegians will also send a team to the United States for next year's match.

Baltimore Has Severe Storm.

BALTIMORE, July 13. — A severe wind and rain storm occurred here, which was particularly violent in a limited section of northeast Baltimore, where within a radius of about four blocks fifty houses were unroofed, walls demolished and trees uprooted. For several squares the streets were thickly strewn with the debris of wrecked roofs, bricks and splintered limbs of trees. Three hundred people were rendered homeless for the time being and were compelled to find shelter in neighboring houses. The damage to houses and household goods is estimated at $100,000. Twenty persons were injured, one seriously, but none killed.

Lightning Explodes Oil Tank.

CHESTER, Pa., July 13.—During a severe electrical storm lightning struck the United Oil company's 30,000 gallon tank at Marcus Hook, near here, causing an explosion which shattered the roof of the tank into hundreds of pieces. The force of the explosion shook the houses in Marcus Hook and vicinity and did much damage.

LIGHTNING'S HAVOC.

Heavy Storm at the Capital, With Fatal Results.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—During a terrific thunderstorm which passed over the city lightning struck a boathouse near the Potomac river in which about a dozen men had taken refuge on their way home from the bathing beach. One man was killed outright, another so badly injured he may die and still another is in the hospital suffering severely from the effects of the bolt.

Every one of the men who had taken refuge in the boathouse felt the effects of the thunderbolt. Ten feet of the flagpole over the house was wrenched off, and the structure itself was wrecked. C. H. Bannigan, the policeman on duty at the beach, while hurrying to the Emergency hospital for assistance after the accident, was twice rendered temporarily unconscious from the effect of the lightning striking trees near him. Physicians from the hospital succeeded in restoring most of those who had been hurt to consciousness, and the remainder were taken to the hospital. Here it was found that C. X. Laughter, a colored man, was so badly shocked and burned that he may die. He is still unconscious and delirious from the accident. William Lyons was also badly burned, but he will recover.

In another part of the city Nora Shipley, a colored girl, who was sitting at a window, was badly stunned by a lightning bolt.

TO AVERT RACE WAR.

Negro Leaders Will Get Rid of Worthless Citizens.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 13.—Negro leaders in Indianapolis are taking steps to avert a race war. The Evansville riots and conflicts between the rioters have made them apprehensive of a similar outbreak here. An organization that is known as the Negro Business league has just been formed to rid the city of what the better element of the race calls the "Jim Crow" negro. The prime movers of this league are J. H. Lott, Dr. B. J. Morgan and A. E. Manning. Gurley Brewer, editor of the World, the negro organ, who is supporting the movement, said:

"It is very easy to determine who the shiftless, worthless negroes are. Agents of the Negro Business league will make inquiry concerning them, and those who will not work will be reported to the authorities with a request that they be driven out of town. This scheme of ridding the city of worthless negroes is both practical and sensible."

Death Quickly Followed Crime.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 13.—A special to the Register from Bluefield says: "The little town of Devon, Mingo county, was the scene of the assaulting of a little fourteen-year-old girl by a negro, followed by his subsequent lynching by an enraged mob numbering over 200 men. The child's absence from her home was noticed by the neighbors, who immediately formed themselves into a searching party. She was found in an almost dying condition, but was able to tell to the searchers her story. Wild were the cries for vengeance when the little girl's story was heard, but after a consultation it was decided to lay in wait for the fiend. In a short time he appeared, and the entire mob of concealed searchers emerged and made for him. He was then lynched and his body burned."

WAR CLOUD IN EAST

Russian Officials Gather at Port Arthur.

GARRISONED BY FORTY-SIX THOUSAND

Fleet and Army Are Displaying Unusual Activity In Preparing For What May Come to Manchuria.

PORT ARTHUR, July 13.—All the prominent Russian officials in China, Manchuria and Korea are now visiting this place on a strictly business basis. The local officials had arranged an elaborate programme, covering the week, for the entertainment of the visitors, but after a review of 15,000 troops on the race track General Kuropatkin, Russian minister of war, announced that the remainder of the visit must be devoted to work. General Kuropatkin presides daily over long conferences.

The presence of a British squadron at Weihaiwei and of American war ships at Chefu is a subject of great interest to the Russian officers, who ask many questions regarding the mission and movements of the British and American war vessels. At Port Arthur there are twelve Russian battle ships and cruisers, four of which are regularly stationed there, and at Vladivostok are forty-five smaller craft, most of them torpedo boats or torpedo boat destroyers.

The number of troops at Port Arthur and in its environs is, according to the best information, 30,000, and the railway company is preparing to bring 16,000 more. The fleet and army are displaying the most unusual activity in the drilling of the men.

An organization has been formed called the Russian Mining and Lumber Production Company of the Far East. Nominally it is a commercial company, but practically a government institution. Its president is Baron Gunsburg, Russia's political agent in Korea, and a majority of the directors are officials, among whom are a number of army officers. The company controls timber concessions on the Yalu and proposes to construct tramways and electric lighting systems in Newchwang, Mukden and elsewhere. It has asked Port Arthur contractors to submit proposals for these works and has engaged engineers to make investigations regarding the Manchurian coal mines. It has also purchased four large steam lighters to convey lumber from the Yalu to adjacent ports.

Nahant's Celebration.

NAHANT, Mass., July 13.—Religious services preliminary to the more strenuous observance of Nahant's semicentennial were held in the various churches here. The presence in the harbor of the vessels of the north Atlantic squadron under Rear Admiral Sands was sufficient to attract large crowds of sightseers. The training ship Hartford and the torpedo boat destroyers Dale, Barry, Chauncey and Bainbridge, the flagship Texas and the Indiana compose the fleet. To-day will be given to sports, including races between twelve oared cutters from the war ships and a life savers' drill, followed in the evening by a general illumination of the town and fleet and a ball at the Nahant club.

Three Killed In Train Wreck.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 13.—Missouri Pacific fast mail No. 7 for Kansas City crashed into an excursion train, south bound, from Kansas City that had become stalled between Little Blue and Lees Summit. Three persons were killed outright, two of them tramps, the other being an unknown man. Fifty people were injured, all except one or two of the crew on the fast mail being on the excursion train. Most of them were negroes from Kansas City, and their injuries, with one or two exceptions, consisted of cuts and bruises. None of the passengers on the fast mail was hurt. One engine, a baggage car and a mail car on the fast mail left the track.

Plainfield, N. J., July 13, 1903.

There's too much "open door" about that Somerset County jail.

"General advertising is a force that carries many a dealer to success."

Rev. Dr. William Byron Forbush told his audience at the School of Methods in Asbury Park yesterday "there is a reason for reading dime novels" and that Sunday-school teachers might get some good points from the cheap literature.—This news has not been classified under incidents of the heated spell.

No one can blame the patriotic American for being boastful since the crack shots of this country won the event at Bisley, England, on Saturday. In England and on the Continent there is a good deal of fun poked at the Yankee on account of his boastful spirit but as the years roll on and American success in almost everything continues the world can not help but see that we are excusable for this little failing. Jerseymen as a rule are disappointed to some extent. Its sole representative, Captain William B. Martin, was not selected as a member of the All-American team. What difference this made is immaterial. America won. That's enough.

Religious animosities due to the difference in creeds are rapidly disappearing in this enlightened age. The hared which existed in days of old is no longer found in these advanced times. People are getting to be broader in their views of life and consequently more charitable in their opinions. An incident at Ocean Grove the other day illustrates the happy change. Prayers were offered by the Methodists that the Pope's life might be spared. It was a spontaneous appeal to the God of all Christendom. Throughout the world petitions have been sent heavenward by Protestants asking for the same favor. The tributes of prelates in the Episcopal Church are additional proof of thelessening of the gap which was brought about by what is known as the Reformation. The Pontiff is no longer anti-Christ in the Presbyterian creed. A new era has dawned in the Christian world.

PRICES FOR JERSEY PRODUCE

RATES AT WHICH LOCAL DEALERS ARE SELLING.

Qualities Said to be Excellent and Prices Right—Fruit, Fish and Vegetables.

A fine collection of Jersey produce was offered in the local markets Saturday when, for the first time this season, small fruits grown in this State was on sale. The quality is said to be excellent and the prices reasonable.

Red raspberries, Jersey grown, are selling for 9 and 10 cents a quart, while other varieties sell for 7 cents up. Huckleberries bring 15 cents a quart for the best, and there are some to be had for 12 cents. Jersey tomatoes, of fine appearance, and said to be of extra quality, sell for 15 cents a quart, other kinds bringing 10 cents.

The first good peaches are in this week. They come from Georgia, and are of the large yellow vareity. They are said to be of exceptional flavor, and the prices is 25 cents a quart. Other peaches, not as good, bring 20 cents a quart.

Blackberries sell from 12 to 14 cents a quart, currants from 12 to 16 cents and plums from 10 to 30 cents a quart. The latter are just beginning to come in and are from California. The peach plums are the cheaper ones, while those costing 30 cents are the large blue ones.

While there is nothing new in the vegetable market, the quality of all produce continues to improve. There is a large supply, and prices are normal. Asparagus is rather scarce. The price is from 30 to 50 cents a bunch. Green peas sell for 40 and 50 cents a half-peck. String beans bring 8 to 10 cents a quart. Squash sells for 5 to 10 cents each, and egg plants are from 15 to 25 cents each. Cucumbers are getting better in quality and a little lower in price. They bring 5 and 7 cents each now. About 65 cents is the average price for watermelons.

There is plenty of fish in the market, though because of the strike among the crews of the smacks that go after bluefish there is liable to be a scarcity of that fish soon. The price is still from 15 to 18 cents a pound, however. Soft shell crabs have gone up in price, $1.50 a dozen now being asked. Butterfish sells for 10 cents a pound, as does weakfish and porgies. Sea bass is 15 cents, halibut 20, codfish 12, flounders 8, sturgeon 15 and eels 12 and 15 cents a pound.

S. C. Ryder and wife, of Brooklyn, spent Sunday at the home of his son, Edward B. Ryder, of Central avenue. "Uncle Steve" looks and acts as young as he did many years ago, when he was foreman of Gazelle Engine Company, during the reign of the volunteer fire department.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN.

The Watchung Ball Club re-enforced by a number of the Dunellen A. C. defeated the New Market Y. M. A. team in a very exciting game on Saturday on the local grounds. Ettlinger and Brown were the battery for the Watchungs, while Squiers and Nelson were on the points for New Market. Ettlinger was not in good form and barely managed to win his game by a score of 5 to 4. The game lasted only seven innings but was replete with startling plays. Both pitchers were equally effective and were given good support.

The Silver Leaves played a ten-inning game with a junior team from Bound Brook, Saturday morning without either side winning. The score was 6 to 6.

James Craig, Hazelwood and Howard Craig spent Saturday fishing at Perth Amboy. They caught seventeen weakfish and other smaller fish.

The ball game between the Dunellen A. C. and the Clinton Avenue A. C. was not played on Saturday owing to wet grounds.

Herbert Richardson, of Stamford, Conn., has taken up his residence at the home of James Craig for a few weeks.

A new tennis club has lately been formed with a somewhat different personal of members from the old one.

Charles D. Boice, of Washington avenue, is at present located with an auditing company in Massachusetts.

For a few weeks services will not be held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening.

Frank Rinehart returned home last week after spending his vacation at Newport.

At present Sunday-school is being held mornings in the Presbyterian Church.

Rev. N. J. Sproul is away on his annual vacation.

NEW MARKET.

While the Y. M. A. ball team was defeated on Saturday it made a good showing against a nine which was partly composed of Dunellen A. C. players. "Al" Squiers, who pitched for the locals, will play with them through the season. Just at present he is pitching great ball and will give any team lots of trouble.

A large number of pleasure seekers spent yesterday on the lake and Rogers' fleet of boats was out nearly all day.

There is still one vacancy in the teaching staff at the local school that will have to be filled before fall.

Dr. W. J. Nelson entertained out-of-town friends yesterday.

Rev. L. E. Livermore visited Plainfield yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

A snorting, puffing motor cycle, came near causing a serious accident on Front street, Sunday afternoon. A stranger, with two small children, were driving on that thoroughfare in a two wheeled gig when the cycle went by loudly puffing. The horse, a spirited animal, began prancing around and attempted to run away. One of the children was thown out directly under the horses heels, and bystanders thought for a moment that the child was seriously injured or killed. Fortunately the horse's hoofs as well as the wheels of the gig had missed the child's head by about an inch, the imprint of both being on its clothing.

A base hit at several critical stages of the game on Saturday afternoon would have won the game with Alis but there seemed to be a Jonah somewhere. Maybe it was the absence of Manager Johnston and Capt. Crusius. The services of the latter were missed in the infield. Bosterli played well at short, but changing positions does not help a team, especially at critical stages, when team work counts. "Chick" was unable to play on account of illness.

A mosquito tale, but nevertheless true: Eighteen happy summer boarders from New York arrived at a well-known summer boarding house located near Washington Valley on Thursday and Friday of last week. On Saturday morning eighteen trunks and as many boarders were borne slowly to the Fanwood station where the train was taken for New York again. There is a house to rent in the valley.

The trolley service for Saturday's ball game was as usual very poor, cars were run on 10 minutes headway, but at the close of the game several hundred patrons were crowded into the one regular car.

"What the Holy Spirit Can Do For Me," was the topic of the weekly meeting of the B. Y. P. U. held Sunday evening in the parlors of the Baptist Church.

A number of local and Plainfield players met the Rahway team Sunday afternoon at Buffalo, near Rahway. Many attended from town.

LOST AMONG SAVAGES.

White Man Who Lived Among Them For Seventeen Years and Almost Forgot His Native Tongue.

In 1846 the bark Peruvian was wrecked off the coast of Queensland. The story of the one survivor, James Murrell, as told in Marcus Clarke's "Australia of the Past," is as strange as the adventures of "Robinson Crusoe." For 17 years Murrell lived among the savages, and all but forgot his own language, his name and the memory of his native land.

At last one day a vessel came to the shore while Murrell was absent, and the sailors gave shirts to the natives. Murrell told the natives that if ever another ship came and he was not on the spot, they should find him. Another ship did come, and the savages, remembering the wishes of their companion, tried to attract the crew. But the Englishmen, not understanding their wild shouts, fired at them and drove them away. Murrell despaired of ever seeing home again.

Not long after, a white man with two horses came upon some natives lamenting the death of an old man. Possibly he mistook the ceremonies for signs of hostility. At any rate, he shot the old man's son, and for this was murdered by the tribe, who became so suspicious of whites that Murrell had less chance than before of coming face to face with his countrymen.

He told the natives that the white men fired at them because they did not understand the language, and said that the next time he would go himself and explain. They consented, and Murrell went exploring with the natives, until he came to a white man's hut, many miles down the coast.

Getting clear of the shrub, the exile saw the smoke of a chimney and sheep feeding on the grass. The sight of these strange animals frightened the native, and he ran back alone.

Murrell went into a water-hole, where he washed himself as white as he could, and then, standing on the fence, where the dogs could not bite him, he hailed the hut. There were two men living there. One came out and cried, "Bill, there's a yellow man standing on the rails, naked. He's not black. Bring the gun."

Murrell cried, "Don't shoot! I am a British object,"—for he had so far forgotten his language that he confused "object" and "subject,"—"a shipwrecked sailor."

The two men received him kindly, and heard his story. They asked him if he knew what date it was. He did not.

"The twenty-fifth of January, 1863. You have been lost 17 years."

He tried to eat bread, but it choked him, and he had lost his relish for sugar and tea.

His white rescuers took him to the newly made town of Bowen, where a subscription was raised for him. Later he was baptized, married, and appointed to a small place as keeper of bonded stores in the government house.

POPE LEO RALLIES.

Participates In the Celebration of Holy Mass.

LAPPONI SAYS, "YES, HE IS BETTER."

Pontiff Receives a Visit From Many of the Cardinals and Speaks as If the Conclave Was a Most Remote Possibility.

ROME, July 13.—Pope Leo has lived to see another sunrise. Dr. Lapponi made the following important statement in answer to the question if he believed that the improvement in the pope's condition could continue:

"I believe that if the improvement lasts we may not perhaps achieve an absolute cure, but we will secure such a general state of health in the patient as will allay our anxiety."

The pontiff participated in the celebration of mass. The ceremony was held in the chapel adjoining the sick chamber, Mgr. Marzoni being the celebrant. The door connecting the sick room with the chapel was opened so that his holiness might follow the service. He insisted that Dr. Lapponi and his valet Centra should leave his side and enter the chapel in order to better hear the mass. Later the doctor gave the cheering tidings that the pontiff's condition has manifestly improved. The pulse, which went down yesterday to 82, had risen to 86, while the temperature and respiration showed no abnormal characteristics.

Dr. Lapponi said to some of the dignitaries: "Yes, the pope is better, but I beg you not to exaggerate in optimism in order to avoid a disillusion later." Dr. Mazzoni was also absent, which in itself gave the clearest evidence that the doctors themselves were relieved of immediate apprehension.

The pope felt strong enough to get up. He rose, dressed himself alone in white and went to sit in his usual armchair, where he remained for some time. Then the windows were opened for a change of air, the sun streaming in, together with a light, refreshing breeze from the Mediterranean. He received Cardinals Mathieu, Steinhuber, Agliardi and Casali. The pope showed his usual brightness and lucidity of mind and spoke to each without showing any perceptible fatigue.

To Cardinal Mathieu his holiness said, "I have not ceased for one moment to pray God to protect France and have the men now governing her repent and stop the persecution of the church."

He asked Cardinal Agliardi how he liked the position of vice chancellor of the church and how the cardinal enjoyed his new residence, the beautiful and historic Palace of the Chancellery. Hearing that the cardinal had not yet moved there, Pope Leo said, "You must settle yourself before leaving for the country," as though the conclave was a most remote possibility.

He thanked Cardinal Casali for the warm interest he had taken in his illness and then gave all the cardinals his hand to shake. As the king of Spain had telegraphed to inquire about the pope's health and had asked for the papal benediction, his holiness directed Cardinal Rampolla to telegraph back granting the request.

St. Peter's was surrounded by the usual steady lines of inquirers, and the Vatican courtyard, where the bulletins are issued, was crowded. One notable instance of Vatican sternness was the arrest of Captain Smith, commanding the Swiss guard, for having given information to the press.

There was a striking scene within St. Peter's. In the midst of the vespers the German students, all in scarlet cassocks, entered the cathedral. Behind them came German friars in rough, haircloth cassocks and then German nuns in conventual black and white. These formed a procession and, kneeling first at one altar and then at another, prayed aloud and in silence for Pope Leo. The congregation joined in the procession until the basilica was half circled by a moving mass of color, and when St. Peter's tomb was reached many hundreds followed the picture of the Saviour held aloft by a statuesque monk.

On one side of the brass rails which guard the entrance to the tomb knelt the nuns. Opposite, three deep, were the shorn heads of the friars, while in the center knelt the young students, their scarlet cassocks making a blaze of color which stretched far down the dimly lighted nave. For nearly an hour no move or sound came from these supplicants for divine interposition save every few seconds the hoarse, monotonous cry "Ora pro nobis." The dirge-like cadence of the guttural German voices quite drowned the Italian choir, which still sang the vespers from a neighboring altar.

The sick room of his holiness is large, bright and airy. The walls are hung with pale green and gold silk damask. Entering it, with the sun pouring through the ample window, is like a taste of spring. A large curtain divides the room and is generally drawn open, showing on the right the modest, narrow brass bed covered with a red damask coverlet.

Even in his desperate condition Pope Leo shows great daintiness with regard to his person, performing a full toilet whenever possible and changing daily his fine white batiste nightshirt. At the head of the bed is a good picture of the Madonna beside a holy water font, while in the middle of the adjacent wall is an immense crucifix reaching from floor to ceiling, with an ivory figure of Christ.

At the foot of the bed stands a very simple walnut writing desk, at which the pope has written the best of his Latin poems. On the other side of the curtain stands the now famous armchair, which is most comfortable, a small table, a few shelves with the pope's preferred books and nothing more. The chamber gives the idea of extreme simplicity, all luxuries being rigorously banished.

Now and then the pope suspects that something is being concealed from him, so after the visit of the doctors when a copy of the medical bulletin was brought in he read it attentively and then rang. To Centra, who appeared in response to the bell, he said abruptly, "Bring me another copy of the bulletin," emphasizing the word "another" and evidently thinking that the first one had been doctored for his benefit, as had been done before. But Centra was able triumphantly to bring another.

It is wonderful what different impressions people receive of the pope's condition, according to their different temperaments. When Cardinals Farrata, Segna and Cretoni left the sick room together Cardinal Farrata, rubbing his hands together, said: "The holy father is almost convalescent. We shall soon see him in the Vatican gardens again." Cardinal Segna, making the sign of the cross, sighed, "Our beloved pontiff is lost," while Cardinal Cretoni, shaking his head in doubt, exclaimed: "Who knows? He may die; still, he may get better."

The pope has been resting easily. For the first time he does not feel any ill effects from his reclining position, and the doctors construe this to mean that there is no renewal of the pleuric secretion, which previously when the patient was reclining pressed against his lungs.

Dr. Lapponi has made one injection of camphor and one of caffeine. The use of oxygen has been entirely abandoned, as the respiration of his holiness has improved.

SAILORS GET PRAISE.

Illinois Naval Militia's Good Work For Flood Sufferers.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—In commendation of the good work of the naval militia of Illinois during the recent flood Secretary Moody has written this letter to the adjutant general of Illinois:

"I take pleasure in acquainting you of the receipt by the department of a highly commendatory account of the efficient service rendered by the Alton division of the Illinois naval militia during the recent flood. The behavior of the officers and men is reported as uniformly good, and the small loss of life in East St. Louis is attributed largely to their aid. I shall be gratified if you will convey to the organization the department's congratulations upon their excellent work.

"Their thorough discipline on this occasion is especially noted, reflecting great credit upon them, for it shows not only a proper appreciation of the importance of discipline in a military organization, but also their ability and determination to make theirs of a high order."

Negro Convention at Springfield, Mo.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 13.—Leon H. Jordan, president of the Negro Republican League of Missouri, in the call for the annual state convention to be held at Springfield says: "Questions affecting the moral and material welfare of the race will occupy the major portion of the time of the convention. At no time during all the years of his natural life has the negro been confronted with so many different problems as now stand athwart his pathway—problems that he must meet and settle now or leave them as a heritage for the determination of future generations." Invitations have been extended to United States Senator Burton of Kansas and others to address the convention.

Invasion of Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., July 13.—This is to be one of the greatest convention weeks in the history of Detroit, and it is expected that the city will be crowded to its capacity with strangers. Three large conventions will be held—the sixth international convention of the Epworth league, when 20,000 delegates are expected; the reunion of the Society of Santiago de Cuba and the Fifth army corps and the annual convention of the American Electrical association.

Murder and Suicide.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Jacob Mueller, a huckster, shot and killed Mrs. Margaret Weiss at her home here and then killed himself. The couple had lived together for some time and had frequently quarreled. While they were engaged in an altercation on the second floor of the house Mueller shot the woman twice and then sent two bullets into his own head. Both died shortly afterward.

Vanderbilt Horse Wins at Paris.

PARIS, July 13.—W. K. Vanderbilt's Alpha, ridden by the American jockey "Nash" Turner, won the Prix de la Republique, the principal event at yesterday's race meeting at Maisons-Lafitte, worth $6,400. His Marigold ran in the same race, but was unplaced. The French president and Mme. Loubet, accompanied by their suit, witnessed the race.

Morocco Rebels Defeated.

TANGIER, Morocco, July 13.—The war minister, El Menebhi, has entered Taza, the stronghold of the pretender, Bu Hamara, after seven days' fighting, which resulted in a complete defeat of the rebellious tribes.

Morgan and Hanna's Cruise.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 13.—The steam yachts Corsair, with J. Pierpont Morgan and party on board, and the Alvina, with Senator M. A. Hanna and party, have arrived here.

W. E. Henley, Poet, Is Dead.

LONDON, July 13.—William Ernest Henley, the poet and collaborator in several plays with Robert Louis Stevenson, is dead at the age of fifty-four years.

LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot-owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR WARM DAYS.

Hats of Rough Straw—Pretty Linen Costumes.

Cherries and currants are quite popular on the rough outing hats, and hats in burnt or champagne straw are decorated with a little coarse lace and clusters of foliage.

Linen canvas makes up charmingly with touches of ingrain embroidery and smart strappings. The pale pastel blue looks well with dark blue and yellow embroidery on a white background. Biscuit canvas is charming with red embroidery. Little tasseled motifs are shown in cotton for wash gowns, and the pale biscuit and beige tints accord well with the coarse lace used on such costumes.

Although the blue gown trimmed with green is no longer modish, yet a pale green lawn or batiste gown is charming with a blue hat, and the prettiest blue hat is of rough straw, with plenty of light grass green foliage and blue silk cornflowers. A gown of pale blue green cambric is also effective with a deep willow green straw trimmed with pale blue forgetmenots and a deep purple iris or two.

The ruffle is no more, but last season's cape ruffle with longer ends is the fashionable "stole" of the present season. Three or four frills headed with lace or a flat collar put on to form a heading is sufficiently deep to widen the shoulders in the accepted style, and with long ends decorated with frills, ruchings or ribbon, and sometimes with all three, the stole is complete. Some of the newest stoles have capes with numerous frills, and these are already copied in common lace and will have but a brief reign. Flat stoles of ostrich and marabou feathers are very handsome. These have many tails and are altogether fussy and becoming.

The illustration shows a sailor of beige colored straw trimmed with cherries.

GRASS LAWN AND ALPACA.

The Former Makes Smart Dresses and the Latter Model Coats.

An unlined coat of white alpaca is pretty for sailing or seashore wear.

Motoring coats are very smart in pale biscuit or ivory shades, with a chic little collar of velvet, white moire or white kid.

The craze for red is growing in favor. There is a good deal of distinction to it, and its wearing qualities are good. The deeper shades are the most fashionable and also combine best with the ecru tints in straw which are the fad this year.

A good many Parisian dressmakers are turning out skirts of plaited grass lawn with blouse bodices and large collars, adding at the neck and waist a touch of grass green or old rose. These are sure to have a fair share of popularity, owing to the rage for biscuit and fawn shades.

Grass lawn can look very charming for a simple frock, combined with entre-deux of coarse lace around the hem of the skirt and a wide lace collar.

Panne or plush ribbon, fancy and brocaded, is accounted a novelty and is quite a host in itself for trimming purposes. A belt of it worn the other day was in a rich shade of green, with a delicate gray cloth costume, fastening in front through an immense square buckle of plain dull gold. These buckles, by the way, large, massive and severely plain, carry the mind back to the Stuart period. They are details accounted smart in Paris and seem to fit in with peculiar aptness to the style of the gathered skirt and waist bodice. Black belts with these great dull gold buckles are immensely chic and are to be worn with all manner of toilets, silk alike with cloth.

The picture shows a simple waist of blue and white foulard trimmed with embroidery.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1903, by The Robert Company.

...ing so, with occasional peep at feathered warriors on the far left flank, and frequent hoverings of small parties on the distant front, Ray's nervy half-hundred pushed steadily on. Two experiments had satisfied the Sioux that the captain himself was in command, and they had long since recognized the sorrels. They knew old Ray was not to be caught by time-worn tricks. They had failed to pick off the advance, or the officers, as the troop approached the second ridge. Lame Wolf's big band was coming fast, but only a dozen of his warriors sent lashing forward, had as yet reached Stabber. The latter was too weak in numbers to think of fighting on even terms, and as Ray seemed determined to come ahead, why not let him? Word was sent to Wolf not to risk south of the Elk Tooth spur. There in the breaks and ravines would be a famous place to lie in ambush, leaving to Stabber the duty of drawing the soldiers into the net. So there in the breaks they waited while Ray's long skirmish line easily manfeuvered the red sharpshooters out of their lair on the middle divide. Then, reforming the column, the little company bore straight away for the Elk.

But all these diversions took time. Twenty miles to the north of Frayne stretched the bold divide between the Elk Fork, dry as a dead tooth much of the year, and the sandy bottom of the Box Elder. Here and there along the ridge were sudden, mound-like upheavals that gave it a picturesque, castellated effect, for, unlike the general run of the country, the Elk Tooth seemed to have a backbone of rock that shot forth southeastward from the southern limit of the beautiful Big Horn range; and, in two or three places, during some prehistoric convulsion of nature, it had crushed itself out of shape and forced upward a mass of gleaming rock that even in the course of centuries had not been overgrown with grass. "Elk teeth" the Indians had called these odd projections, and one of them, the middle one of the three most prominent, was a landmark seen many a mile except to the south and west. Eagle Butte was the only point south of the Big Horn and in the valley of the Platte from which it could be seen, and famous were these two points in the old days of the frontier for the beacon fires that burned or the mirror signals that flashed on their summits when the war parties of the Sioux were afield.

It was the sight of the puffs of smoke sailing skyward from the crest of the middle tooth that caught Ray's attention the moment he reached the second ridge. A moment more had been devoted to recalling some of his eager men who, from the extreme right of the swinging skirmish line, had broken away in pursuit of certain intentional laggards. Then a dozen of the Indians, finding themselves no longer followed, gathered at comparatively safe distance across the prairie, and, while in eager consultation, found time for taunting, challenging and occasionally firing at the distant and angering troopers, whom Sergeant Scott had sharply ordered back, and Ray, after calm survey of these fellows through his glass, had then leveled it at the trio of buttes along the distant ridge, and turned to Field, sitting silent and disappointed by his side.

"There, Field," said the captain. "Take this glass and look at those signal smokes—Stabber has more men now at his call than he had when he started, and more yet are coming. They were just praying that you would charge with a handful of men. They would have let you through, then closed around and cut you off. Do you see, boy?"

Field touched his hat brim. "You know them best, sir," was the brief answer. "What I wanted was a chance at those fellows hanging about our front and calling us ...es."

...ou'll get it, I'm thinking, before ...e an hour older. They know ...her we're bound and mean to ...lay us all they can. Ah, Clayton," he added, as the junior lieutenant rode up to join them, while his platoon dismounted to reset saddles behind the screen of the skirmish line. "Men look full of fight, don't they? There, if anywhere, is where we'll get it. I've just been showing Field those signal smokes. Mount and follow when we're half way down to that clump of cottonwoods yonder. We must reach those people at the stage station to-night, and I may have to give these beggars a lesson first. Watch for my signal and come ahead lively if I turn toward you and swing my hat. All ready, Field. Shove ahead."

And this was the last conference between the three officers that eventful morning. As once again the advance guard pushed cautiously forward toward the banks of the arroyo in the bottom, Ray turned to Field. "Skirmish work suits you better than office duty, Field. You look far livelier than you did yesterday. Don't you begin to see that the major was right in sending you out with us?"

And the dark eyes of the trained and experienced soldier shone kindly into the face of the younger man.

"I'm glad to be with you, Capt. Ray," was the prompt answer. "It isn't—my being sent, but the way I was sent, or the—cause for which I was sent that stings me. I thought then, and I think now, that if you had been post commander it wouldn't have been done. I don't know yet what charge has been laid at my door——"

"There was no time to talk of reasons, Field," interrupted Ray, though his keen eyes were fixed on the distant ridge ahead, beyond which the last of the Indians had now disappeared. The outermost troopers, with Sergeant Scott, were within a few hundred yards of the little clump of cottonwoods that marked the site of a water hole. To the right and left of it curved and twisted the dry water course between its low, jagged, precipitous banks. Behind the advance, full 400 yards, rode the skirmish line from the first platoon, a dozen strong. Far out to the east and west the flankers moved steadily northward, keenly watching the slopes beyond them, and scanning the crooked line of arroyo ahead. Not a sign at the moment could be seen of the painted foe, yet every man in the troop well knew they swarmed by dozens behind the buttes and ridges ahead. Ray and Field, riding easily along in the rear of the line, with only the trumpeter in earshot, relaxed in no measure the vigilance demanded by the situation, yet each was deeply concerned in the subject of the talk.

But before Ray could interpose again there came sudden and stirring interruption. From a point far down the "swale" from behind the low bank of the stream bed, three rifle shots rang out on the crisp morning air. The horse of the leading flanker, away out to the right reared and plunged violently, the rider seeming vainly to strive to check him. Almost instantly three mounted warriors were seen tearing madly away northeastward out of the gully, their feathers streaming in the wind. Field spurred away to join his men. Ray whirled about in saddle and swung his broad-brimmed scouting hat high above his head, in signal to Clayton; then shouted to Field. "Forward to the cottonwoods. Gallop!" he cried. "We need them first of all!"

VAST SULPHUR MINE.

It Lies in the Crater of Popocatepetl in Mexico.

The Deposits Are of a Higher Commercial Value Than Any Others That Are Known and Are Almost Inexhaustible.

A mine on a mountain top. A climb of over three miles up, up, up, through the heavy timber to the snow line, and then on, and on, until the rugged edges of the crater of Popocatepetl are scaled, and below us in the vast bowl of the extinct crater lies our mine. Sulphur of the purest quality and in inexhaustible quantities, waiting for intrepid, ingenious, enterprising man to carry it forth to the markets of the world. The sulphur found here is of higher commercial value than that which is secured from Mount Etna, being free from both iron and arsenic.

Popocatepetl rears its snow-capped head to the southeast of the City of Mexico. A journey of 45 miles by rail brings us to Amecameca, where horses are secured for the ride up the mountainside to the halfway house. With guides, which are easy to obtain, the long climb to the top is now begun. On the summit of the volcano are two peaks, the highest of which is practically inaccessible; the other is known by the name of "Espinazo del Diablo," Spine of the Devil, a name which may have been given because of the fear of the ancient Aztecs, who believe the crater to be the abode of the wicked spirits of departed rulers. For this reason, the natives could never be induced to climb the mountain, and soldiers under the Spanish general, Cortes, were the first to reach the summit and secure sulphur, of which the adventurers stood in need for the making of gunpowder. The trip was a perilous one, and the soldiers drew lots to see who should be lowered into the crater to secure the coveted article.

The deposits at the present time are worked on a very small scale by Indians, but modern engineering methods and plenty of American capital are soon to waken the old mountain to twentieth century energy. Capt. Charles Holt, representative of a snydicate, has been looking over the ground, and recently a New York capitalist, Mr. Samuel Gren, spent a night in the crater. The first plan probably will be the building of an aerial cable train to the summit over the rim and down into the crater. At present this line would only run to the level of the floor of the crater, and a tunnel constructed through the side of the mountain. This will cost about $50,000. Then in connection with this line, at the summit of the mountain, a railroad has been projected to run from Tlamacas, at the base of the mountain, to Amecameca, which, with the necessary refineries, will take half a million dollars.

Gen. Sanchez Ochoa, chief of the department of military engineers of Mexico, is the owner of Popocatepetl. Besides the value of the sulphur deposits, there are almost inexhaustible forests and numerous waterfalls, from which may be developed great electrical energy. Gen. Ochoa acquired title to the mountain by "denouncing" the summit as a mineral prospect and by purchase of lands comprising the sides and base. He is a popular and enterprising Mexican, about 65 years of age. His home is in Mexico City, where he has lived for the past 35 years. Yankee thrift and capital have attracted the general, and the Yankee dollar is soon to transform his lofty possessions into a paying possession.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The folks of Middlesex County are not quite satisfied with the way that their county government is conducted and they want an investigation by a commission appointed by Supreme Court Justice Fort. On the general principles it wouldn't hurt to have such an inquiry in every county of the State.—Truth.

It is stated that the State Board of Health is hesitating about prosecuting dealers in milk who have been discovered doctoring their product with formalde-hyde, the excuse for inactivity being lack of funds. There was never an emergency that the State Health Board failed to meet that it didn't have an explanation to give to the public for its inefficiency. That body has no such shortage of excuses as it has of funds.—Newark Evening News.

One of the most curious tables in the recently published census summary in England is that which gives the respective ages of all married couples in the kingdom. From this we ascertain that there is at any rate one husband of ninety-five years who has a wife of twenty-one, while three husbands ranging in age from eighty-five to ninety-five have secured wives at twenty-five. Elderly wives and youthful husbands are rare, and the greatest disparity in this direction is between a wife of sixty-five years and her husband of twenty. The oldest couple in the list are aged one hundred and ninety-five years respectively, while the youngest pair only numbered sixteen and fifteen summers respectivly.—Hackensack Evening Record.

The Fourth passed off with so few great calamities that what may be called minor casualties rise into prominence by reason of their peculiar character. One of these occurred in Brooklyn, where a woman in the prime of life and health, succumbed to the noise of the exploding cannon crackers. She had a dread of explosives, and at every report her nervous system was shocked into spasmodic action. She tried in vain to overcome her nervousness, but by noon had given out completely, and at midnight she died. The fate of the Brooklyn woman is by no means the only one. The torture suffered on the Fourth of July by the aged, the weak, the nervous and the ill can never be appreciated by the small boy or the man all patriotism and with no nerves.—Newark Evening News.

The summer bathing season here and elsewhere along the Jersey coast will probably be attended with fewer fatalities if persons afflicted with weakness of the heart exercise reasonable precautions when enjoying a plunge in the ocean. This statement is not intended to alarm but warn, and the sole purpose is to advise caution on the part of the bather rather than a determination not to indulge in a sport that can have only benificent results if the indulgence is rational.

Physicians of the highest standing frankly express the belief that weakness of the heart is responsible for more bathing accidents than any other cause. The shock coming to a person with a weak heart when he subjects himself to unnecessary exertion upsets the whole system. The condition of the bather may be made worse by going into the surf immediately after eating or when in a flurry of excitement.—Atlantic City Review.

Scientists in the Bay State have discovered that certain strains of music will destroy mosquitoes. "These musical vibrations," they say, "will cause the mosquito to become suddenly and completely paralyzed. The sounds also cause the mosquito to plunge toward the spot whence the music starts."

The men of science seem to take it for granted that the music must come from a point lower down than the mosquito, and say nothing as to what would take place if the musician occupied a place high above the festive insect. Would the mosquitoes on the floors beneath the one occupied by the musician plunge upward after receiving the stroke of paralysis from the mosquito music, or would they be contented with the paralysis and skip the plunge? But that is a matter of small detail, and one as to which little thought should be wasted except by the scientist who studies the question in all its forms. For the layman it is sufficient to know that mosquitoes can be killed by music, and for him the main object is to learn the tune.—New York Tribune.

The report of the United States Census Department for 1900 reveals the alarming fact that there are in New Jersey 2,069 children between the ages of ten and fourteen years who are unable to read and write. This number is larger than that of the illiterate children in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana or Massachusetts—States much larger than New Jersey.

If we arrange the States in the order of the number of their illiterate children, putting at the top the State that has the fewest, we shall find New Jersey the thirty-first State from the top and not far from the Southern States that occupy the lowest places in the list.

If we should measure the States by the percentage of their illiterate children between the ages of ten and fourteen years, the rank of New Jersey would be somewhat better. Our State would then be the twenty-first. This is a lower position than it occupied in the census of 1890. Then it was the fifteenth in the list of States.

All the great manufacturing States haves lower ranking in 1900 than they did in 1890, showing a condition of increasing illiteracy among them. The six States whose manufactures have the greatest value are, in the order of their value: New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts, Ohio, and New Jersey. Ohio is in one position lower now than it was ten years ago; Massachusetts, seven positions; New York, six positions; Pennsylvania, four positions; Illinois, nine position; New Jersey, six positions. New Jersey occupies the position of dishonor, for her per cent. of illiterate children is greater even than that of Pennsylvania. Ten years ago Pennsylvania was the lowest in the scale of the manufacturing States. Now we have fallen below her.—Newark Evening News.

Jersey justice is proverbially swift and unflinching, but why the administration of the law should be markedly different in New Jersey from the processes in adjoining and generally similar communities is not easy to explain. Possibly the habits and traditions governing the conduct of cases in court have much to do with the directness of the course of justice.

It will be observed that there is but little wrangling of lawyers in Jersey courts, particularly over technicalities and non-essentials. The courts evidently have no patience with pettifogging and no tolerance for verbal quibbling. Attorneys are kept to the point and obliged to deal with the substantial merits of their cases. This saves times, prevents the muddling of jurors' minds with irrelevant matter and lawyers' sophistries, and makes for sanity and plain common sense.

In the Phares trial, for instance, the examination of witnesses proceeded without interruption, and but one or two exceptions were noted. In a Pennsylvania court the trial of such a case would have been a disorderly jumble of objections, exceptions and lawyers' quarrels from the start, and the main issue would have been obscured by interminable argument over points of procedure and trivial technicalities.

Perhaps the reason why Jersey courts make short work of plain cases and get justice done in an orderly way is that they will not permit lawyers to waste time in laying purely technical foundations for appeals and arguing matters that are not pertinent to the vital issue.—Philadelphia North American.

The New Jersey Bureau of Statistics has just issued a pamphlet on the labor laws of the State. The work was undertaken under the direction of William Stainsby, former chief of the bureau, and was complied by Franklin W. Fort, a student of the law and son of Justice J. Franklin Fort, of the New Jersey Supreme Court. Some amendments to the law enacted at the last session of the Legislature have been incorporated since the completion of the work, so that the pamphlet is up to date in every respect.

The various acts relating to labor and industry, which are grouped in the general statutes under the title Operatives, Labor and Mechanics' Lien, are brought together, and to these are added the statutes on the same subjects found in the annual session laws from 1897 to 1903—both years included. Such parts of the original acts as have been amended or repealed by subsequently enacted supplements, are omitted.

In the part of the work devoted to the mechanics' lien law and the law governing the relations of master and servant, there is accurate statement in clear, concise English, stripped, so far as possible, of legal or technical phrases, including only those parts of interest to laymen as distinguished from lawyers.

In the mechanics' alien law, all those sections which relate to the procedure in court or to similarly technical matters have been omitted. Only those sections have been included which are of direct interest to a mechanic, a materialman, a contractor, a builder of a mortgagee, and suggestions are given in regard only to those steps which a man may safely take without legal advice.

The underlying idea of the whole work is to inform men of their rights and to point out how these rights may be secured. The work is exceptionally well done and shows painstaking care in its preparation. Copies of the pamphlet may be obtained of the department at Trenton.—Newark Sunday Call.

Unmusical Wolves.

An incident just reported from Sivas, Turkey, seems to prove that the feeling which music awakens in wolves is fright. Two musicians—a drummer and a piper—returning to their village from a wedding party were overtaken by a snowstorm and sought refuge in a deserted mill. They lit a fire with some wood they found in the place and were warming themselves when they saw a wolf emerge from a dark corner of the building. They jumped up on a shelf and, to their dismay, saw several more wolves join the first. The animals rushed in their direction, and the drummer, at a loss for a mode of defense, set to beating his drum, whereupon his companion instinctively played his pipe. The effect was marvelous. The music so terrified the wolves that they attempted to run away, and, as the door was closed, they began fighting and several of them were torn to pieces, the survivors eventually escaping through a hole in the wall. This incident is vouched for by the government Gazette of Sivas.—London Mail.

Bees and Colored Flowers.

The evolution of color in flowers, which has long been thought to depend upon the necessity of attracting the honey-consuming insects in order that the flowers might be fertilized, is now shown to have no such influence by Plateau, the Belgian professor. Using a species of poppy, he clipped the petals from 30 out of a group of 100 flowers without touching them. The poppy flowers thus carefully prepared were watched and the number and kinds of insects visiting them noted. At the same time the intact flowers were similarly watched. Taking the average each of the 30 petalless flowers received 4.5 visits, each of the 70 normal flowers received 2.4 visits. So great, indeed, appeared to be the attraction of these petalless flowers that on many occasions Professor Plateau has seen more than one bee in a single flower. —Science.

Human Cud Chewers.

Rumination, or cud chewing, in human beings seems to have been known since 1618, and it is thought that considerably more than 100 cases are now on record. A German physician recently reported three cases in one family —a father and his two sons. The father, always a rapid eater, began the act at the age of six and continued it until death, at 50, rumination being commenced 15 or 20 minutes after the meal and lasting half an hour to an hour. Food was returned to the mouth at intervals of three or four minutes, when it was masticated and reswallowed. The substances had their natural taste, without the acidity they would have had if digestion had begun, and meals were only enjoyed during and after this process. This case was typical, except that after death the stomach was found to have a very unusual hour-glass form.—Knowledge.

Missouri's Big Mule.

It is believed that the largest mule in the world is owned in Callaway county, Mo. The animal is the property of "Mike" Murray, of Hereford, and it stands 18 hands high and weighs 1841 pounds. The mule is barely three years of age, and its owner expects to have the phenomenon weigh upward of 2,000 pounds by the end of the year. Mr. Murray is not working the mule, but is feeding it for exhibition at the St. Louis world's fair in 1904.—Boston Budget.

THE HEALTH OFFICER MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

Facts and Figures Pertaining to Public Health During the Past Year.

TWO GREATEST NEEDS

SANITARY SURVEY AND MUNICIPAL CONTROL OF GARBAGE COLLECTION.

Births, Marriages and Deaths Recorded — Plumbing Requirements — The Milk Supply—Ice—Other Work.

The annual report of the Plainfield Board of Health for 1902 just issued indicates a healthy condition for the year. Included are the reports of Charles J. Fisk, president of the board, Fred. W. Dunn, the treasurer, and L. R. Thurlow, health officer.

Mr. Thurlow, in his report states that the two greatest needs of Plainfield at the present time are a thorough sanitary survey of the city and a municipal control of the collection and disposal of the garbage. Mr. Fisk announces that the total cost to the city for the care of the sick and the prevention of disease was $4,862.31. Of this sum, the hospital used $905.37; the care of the sick cost $3,246.53; and free vaccination involved a cost of $710.41.

In the vital statistics given by Mr. Thurlow, the death rate for the year is estimated at 16.06 per thousand of the population of 16,000. This is about the usual rate, a slight decrease form the rate of 16.24 for the preceding year. There were 257 deaths during the year, forty-five of infants, forty of persons from one to twenty years of age, fifty from twenty to forty years, forty-eight from forty to sixty, and seventy-four over sixty.

The total number of births reported during the year was 311, of which 271 were white, and forty colored. The birth rate per thousand of the population is 19.44, an excess of 3.38 over the death rate. Twenty-three still births were recorded, ten of males and thirteen of females, giving the low rate per thousand of 1.44.

The marriages for the year numbered 134, 115 of whites and 19 of colored people, a rate of 8.37 per thousand. 193 cases of communicable diseases were reported with 57 deaths resulting. There were fourteen cases of small pox. Mr. Thurlow reported very strongly of the favorable results of vaccination.

In the matter of plumbing, Mr. Thurlow announces that in future all master and foremen plumbers will be held under a bond of $200 and required to provide a smoke test on completed plumbing systems as well as a water test as at present.

During the year there were 229 complaints of nuisances of which 195 were abated. The ice supply, Mr. Thurlow states, proved most satisfactory. It comes from four sources, Watchung Lake, South Plainfield Pond, which is to be abandoned as an ice pond, Lake Hopatcong and the Hygeia or artificial ice. Of milk, there are about 6,000 quarts sold daily by sixty-one retailers supplied in turn by eight-eight dairies. A thorough system of inspection has been insisted upon. The city water is of a most excellent quality. The revision of the sanitary code was an important feature of the year's work, among the improvements not already mentioned being a regulation governing tenement houses and the requiring of all milk dealers to take out permits.

The pamphlet is illustrated by halftones showing conditions at the time of examinations. The Plainfield Isolation Hospital, rubber suits used when handling small pox patients, bacteria in milk and dairy barns are the subjects pictured. The report is now ready for distribution.

All From Seminary.

The pulpit supply at the Crescent Avenue Church, Sunday, will be Rev. Dr. Francis Brown, of the Union Theological Seminary. He will also preach at both services on Sunday, July 26. Since Rev. Dr. Richards left the church four of the pulpit supplies have come from the Union Theological Seminary. The first was Rev. Thomas C. Hall and later Rev. Dr. Frame. The supply for August will be Rev. Dr. George Williams from the same seminary.

Germans' Outing.

The German Benevolent Society held its annual outing at Veiland's farm on Rahway road Sunday There were seventy people at the place. The day was spent in bowling, fishing, and in various other pastimes.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Quaas, widow of John Quaas, who died Saturday, were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 at her late residence, 415 West Second street. Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor-emeritus of the First Baptist Church, officiated. "Home Land" and "Some Time We'll Understand" were the hymns sung. The burial was at Hillside Cemetery. Moses Quaas, Henry Nischwitz, Frederick Todd, Nathan Pennington and Patrick Lynch were the bearers.

PROPERTY DEAL IN THE PARK

PURCHASE OF TRACT TO BE DIVIDED INTO BUILDING LOTS.

Piece of Ground on West End and Rockview Avenues, Making a Total of Sixteen Acres.

Percival S. Brown and Carlos C. Gallup have purchased sixteen one-half acres of desirable property lying along West End and Rockview avenues in the borough, from the DeKlyne state and will divide it into 50 foot building lots.

This property is intended to answer the requirements of those who desire to own their own homes, at moderate cost, within easy access of their business, yet do not care to be located in the vicinity of the factories with the attending inconveniences.

The elevation is high, giving a view of the mountains, a full sweep of the breeze from the West, and insuring drainage. The handsome nearby homes, exclusively residential character of the neighborhood and fredom from nuisances of all description, together with the close proximity to Grant Avenue station and the varied business interests of Plainfield's West End, are among the features of the tract. The man of modest means to obtain an ideal home, at a moderate price, in a section of the borough which has hitherto been considered accessible only to the well-to-do.

Maple and Willow avenues are to be extended through the tract and an avenue sixty feet in width, running parallel with West End avenue, has been dedicated along the western boundary of the land.

UNION MEN LEAVE.

Trouble in Plumbing Establishment Due to Employment of Non-Union Men.

There is trouble in the plumbing and tinning shop of George Leland in Central avenue, where two Union plumbers have been called out on account of the employment of non-Union tinners. As yet the Journeymen Plumbers' Association has taken no official action in the matter, but it is expected that this will be done very soon, unless Mr. Leland complies with the rules of the Union.

NEW SUPERINTENDENTS.

Six to be Chosen by State Board of Education in October.

The quarterly meeting of the State Board of Education will be held at Trenton in October. At that time the Board will elect county superintendents for Bergen, Essex, Monmouth, Morris, Passaic and Salem counties. The Board's committee on education will meet in September to examine applicants for superintendents in the counties named.

Under a recent interpretation of the school law the Board has decided that the application for a superintendent need not necessarily be made by nor be given to the resident of the county, but that the applicant may be a resident of any other county. The essential qualification of the applicant under the new interpretation is that he be the holder of a New Jersey teacher's certificate.

A Fire Horse Improving.

The fire horse which was injured in the accident on Park avenue two months ago, and which has since been under Dr. Pocock's care, is now well enough to do fire duty again. He will be kept as an emergency horse for several weeks and will then, in all probability, be put back in the harness. He is the mate to the one recently sold by the department.

Approaching Marriage.

The wedding of Miss Sadie Blimm, of Somerset street, and Edward O. Clark, of Jackson avenue, takes place Monday evening, August 10.

PARASITE DISCOVERED TO KILL MOSQUITO

Agamomermis Culicis is the Name of the Pesky Creature's Destroyer.

SMITH FINDS SPECIMENS

EXAMINED BY DR. STILES OF U. S. HEALTH AND MARINE SERVICE.

Destroyer Will be Used in Marshy Districts as Soon as it Can be Propagated Inexpensively—Service Already Done.

Dr. Charles Wardell Stiles, of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, discoverer of the parasite Uncinaria Americana, generally known as the hook worm, or "germ of laziness," has called attention to another discovery in the parasite world, which is considered by government savants as of the greatest importance.

This is the discovery and isolation of what Dr. Stiles has named the Agamomermis culicis, otherwise known as "the mosquito destroyer," a parasite which kills millions of mosquitoes each year and which, it is believed, under artificial propagation, will prove far superior to any means now known of ridding infested communities of these pests.

The experiments by Dr. Stiles have resulted in entire success. The parasite has been discovered and isolated. The right of the parasite to its common title of "mosquito destroyer" has been established. All that now remains to be done by Dr. Stiles and his associates is to discover a rapid and inexpensive manner of propagating the parasites in sufficient number for general use in marshes, ponds and localities infested with the insects. The "mosquito destroyer" will do the rest.

Certain forms of intestinal parasites had previously been found in mosquito larvae in India, Italy and Spain, but none had been discovered in American mosquitoes until Professor John B. Smith, of Rutgers College, who is State entomologist of New Jersey, forwarded to Dr. Stiles for examination two worms taken from the abdominal cavity of New Jersey mosquitoes. One specimen was hardly in a condition to be of use for study, but Dr. Stiles determined that both specimens were larval round worms, belonging to mermis or paramermis. Dr. Stiles christened the parasite "agamomermis culicis."

From what has already been learned, it is apparent that, were it not for this natural enemy of the mosquito, the pests would breed unchecked in such numbers as to make certain sections of the country almost uninhabitable in certain periods of the year.

It is admitted by Dr. Stiles and other government scientists that considerably more difficulty will be experienced in propagating the "mosquito destoryer" in sufficient numbers for general use than was involved in distributing the parasite of "the grasshopper plague" throughout the farming sections of the West. When the researches with regard to the newly discovered parasite have proceeded as far, and the expense of propagating the "mosquito destroyer" has been reduced to the minimum, it is considered very possible that the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service will take an active part in practically exterminating mosquitoes in the United States.

CHURCH DECORATION.

Holy Cross Edifice Being Improved —Services Are Now Held in the Parish House.

Owing to the extensive repairs to the interior of the Church of the Holy Cross of North Plainfield, it has become necessary to hold all services in the parish house. It has been discovered that the entire ceiling of the church was so weakened as to make a new one necessary. At the completion of this work some redecorating will be done.

The work will probably consume several weeks and services in the church building will probably not be resumed until after the first of the month.

SON SEES THE ACCIDENT

A WIFE, THREE SONS AND THREE DAUGHTERS SURVIVE HIM.

Dentz's Occupation That of a Mason —Fifty-Three Years of Age and is Well-Known in the Community.

While at work on a building at Stirling this morning John A. Denz, of Summit avenue, North Plainfield, fell from a ladder and was killed. His son, Frank, who was at work near him, rushed to the assistance of his father but in spite of all efforts to revive him he did not regain consciousness and died in an hour.

The man was at work on the De Pew building at Stirling and was mounting the ladder with some tools in his hand. When near the top of the building his son saw him waver and then drop his tools. He seemed to make a frantic effort to keep his hold on the ladder but instead, plunged headlong to the ground below. He struck on his head, fracturing his skull, and died without regaining consciousness.

Frank, the eldest son, came to this city at once on his wheel and notified the family with the exception of the man's wife who is ill with nervous prostration at the home of her mother on Westervelt avenue. The remains will be brought to this city this afternoon.

The dead man is survived by his wife and three sons and three daughter. They are: Franklin, Robert and Howard and Carrie, Lulu and Lottie. He was 53 years of age.

MAY OUST DEPUTY SHERIFF

SOMERSET COUNTY BOARD INDIGNANT OVER ANDERSON'S ACTIONS.

Likely That Board Will Request Sheriff to Remove Him Because of His Alleged Negligence.

Charges of gross negligence will be made in all liklihood against Deputy Sheriff Anderson, when the Somerset County Board of Freeholders meet at Somerville this afternoon. He is said to be responsible for Saturday night's jail delivery. A few of the Freeholders met yesterday afternoon at Somerville and talked over the matter and the majority of the Board, it is said, are in favor of asking Sheriff McMurtry to replace the present deputy with another man.

Among other charges made against the deputy is that he was in the habit of leaving the keys of the jail with "trusted prisoners" and that on the night Watson, Cobbs and Hayes made their escape the keys of the jail were not in his possession.

A reporter for The Daily Press interviewed Deputy Sheriff Anderson this morning over the telephone. He said:

"It would not be a difficult matter to locate the men if they were wanted badly. They are North Plainfield men and if the authorities wanted to place their hands on them they could do so easily. The crimes for which they were put in jail were not important enough to bring in an indictment and, I believe, all concerned are glad that they have gone."

CORNERSTONE LAYING JULY 30

THE CEREMONIES AT UNION COUNTY'S FINE NEW BUILDING.

Most Worshipful Master Apgar and Former Governor Voorhees to Participate.

The laying of the cornerstone of the new court house at Elizabeth will take place Thursday morning, July 30, at 11 o'clock. The various preliminaries are being arranged as speedily as possible. The programme includes an escort of the Grand Lodge of Free Masons from the Kean building to the court house, headed by a band of music. The cornerstone will be laid by Most Worshipful Grand Master W. Holt Apgar, of Trenton, and former Governor Voorhees will deliver the oration.

Work on the building is slowly progressing. The granite was of the basement facing Rahway avenue is up, and the heavy steel girders for the flooring on that side are being raised to position.

The work of laying the big granite blocks is being pushed as rapidly as circumstances will permit. Not a block of stone has as yet been laid on the northerly side or front, and from what can be ascertained it will be some days yet before there will be any laid.

The cornerstone will be laid on the southeast corner of the front. The stone, so far as can be learned, is not as yet on the ground, but will be when needed.

Stone is slowly arriving, though not in any great quantity. Whether there will be any stoppage in its delivery owing to the contractor having failed, as recently stated in The Daily Press, it is as yet impossible to say.

"DR." WOODS KEEPS POLICE ON THE ALERT

Generally Believed That Fugitive Former Plainfielder is in Canada.

POSSIBLY IN BUFFALO

COL. BEST'S BODY EMBALMED WHEN SEEN BY SON.

Detectives From California on Way With Warrants and Extradition Papers—Mrs. Wood's Conflicting Stories.

It is believed by relatives of the dead man that Dr. John D Woods and his wife, for whom the police of several cities are hunting to answer a charge of stealing property belonging to Colonel William J. Best, who died suddenly in their home, in San Rafael, California, are now in Canada.

This is due to the fact that a letter written to the editor of a newspaper in Easton, Pa., by Mrs. Woods, was mailed in Buffalo on Friday. It was written on the paper of a hotel in Niagara Falls.

One of Colonel Best's sons, Alfred M. Best, yesterday telegraphed to the Chief of Police of Buffalo that a detective from San Rafael was expected here daily with the warrants and with extradition papers. Woods was arrested in Olean thirteen years ago on a charge of bigamy, preferred against him by the woman who is now with him.

Alfred M. Best denies that any autopsy had been ordered by his brother William, and added that when his brother reached San Rafael from Seattle his father's body had been embalmed and was in the casket.

According to Mr. Best, Mrs. Woods' statement that Colonel Best had given the bag which she and her husband are accused of stealing to their daughter is the third version she has given of this matter. Mrs. Woods' letter was written on paper of the Imperial Hotel, at Niagara Falls. But the register of that hotel shows that if Dr. Woods and his wife stopped there they must have given an assumed name.

George Morton, of West Front street, has resigned his position with the Westinghouse Motor Company at Pittsburg. Mr. Morton states that Pittsburg's drinking water and smoky atmospher were two strong factors, urging him to return to Plainfield.

The Mott Iron Works, of Mott Haven, are preparing to remove to Trenton; a large bridge-building plant, of Easton, Pa., is erecting a factory at Phillipsburg; the Brooklyn section of the Worthington Pump Works, will soon remove to Harrison; the Cheseborough Manufacturing Company, of Brooklyn, have taken a ten-year lease on a large factory at Perth Amboy; and the Chrome Steel Works have purchased a large plot at Carteret.

SO SOOTHING.

Its Influence Has Been Felt by So Many Plainfield Readers.

The soothing influence of relief.
After suffering from Itching Piles,
From Eczema, or any itchiness of the skin,
Makes one feel grateful to the remedy.
Doan's Ointment has soothed hundreds.

Here's what one Plainfield citizen says:

Mr. A. H. Woodruff, of Vailsburg, N. J., says: "For the benefit of those similarly afflicted as I was with hemorrhoids or piles I want every reader of this paper to know that I suffered with attacks of this tormenting nuisance for over fifteen years. During that time I spent a lot of money trying 'sure cures' and exhausted all my knowledge about salves and ointments, and also the advice of my friends. One day while reading an advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills I concluded to make one more effort and I commenced the treatment. Greatly to my suprise the area of itching gradually contracted until it completely dried up. What is of considerable more importance to me, there is no indication of a recurrence."

Just such emphatic endorsement can be had here in Plainfield. Drop into L. W. Randolph's drug store and ask what his customers report. Doan's Ointment for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Farley, the turfman who was ruled off at Detroit, to serve warrants on officials and bookmakers at the Washington park race track. Only one constable was admitted to the track. He served the warrants quietly. The men arrested were Lawrence Young, president of the club; Secretary James Howard and nine bookmakers. The bookmakers had all been arrested in the previous raids on the track. Those arrested at once gave bonds, and the racing went on as usual.

Chicago Racing.

CHICAGO, July 14.—John A. Drake's Runnels, a horse that has hitherto shown marked sprinting ability, was defeated at Washington park by Elsie L. The race was at six and a half furlongs. Jockey Gray kept Runnels so far back in the early part of the race that he could not quite get up and was beaten a head. His price was 3 to 5. Bad News won the mile race for three-year-olds handily from Bondage and Postmaster Wright. Mary Glenn was prominent early in the race, but died away when the pinch came. Bad News and Silkmaid were the only winning favorites.

The Shooting at Bisley.

BISLEY, England, July 14.—In the Waldegrave competition, which was won by Major Oxley with an aggregate of 99 points, the American G. E. Cook was third, with 97 points. Cook used the Krag-Jorgensen service rifle, while his opponents were armed with the finest match rifles. At the first range of 800 yards he made the highest possible, and his shooting is admitted to rank with the finest on record and held to prove the superiority of the Krag-Jorgensen over all other service rifles.

Muddy Track at Brighton.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The races at Brighton Beach were run over a muddy track. Three favorites won. Possession, an added starter in the Distaff stakes for two-year-old fillies, won driving by half a length from Monsoon, the favorite. Memoriam made the pace to the stretch, where Monsoon and Possession moved out, and in a drive the latter gained the decision, with Monsoon second and Semitic third.

Bas d'Or Won at Delmar.

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—Bas d'Or won the feature event of Delmar's card. Only three started in the event. Bas d'Or and Maud Gonne, the odds on favorite, raced as a team for seven furlongs, when the latter quit, finishing third, behind Taby Tosa.

Japanese Crisis Settled.

YOKOHAMA, July 14.—The political crisis resulting from the resignation of Premier Katsura has been settled, and the premier has resumed office. Marquis Ito, who is was thought would be called to succeed Katsura, has closed his connection with the opposition political party of the Siyukai (Constitutional Political association) and has accepted the presidency of the privy council. It is understood that Premier Katsura's threatened retirement was a protest against the interference of the irresponsible elder statesmen in the government policy.

Fourth of July Injuries Fatal.

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 14.—John Lawrence, ten years old, and Ledg Kaman, nine years old, are dead at East Kingston as the result of being injured on the Fourth of July. Both boys were shot in the hand with toy pistols, receiving apparently slight injuries. Lockjaw developed and caused their death.

Lipton Will Visit Boston.

BOSTON, July 14.—M. P. Curran, secretary to Mayor Collins, who went to New York to extend to Sir Thomas Lipton an invitation to visit Boston, has returned and says that Sir Thomas expects to come to this city after the races are over. He will be the guest of Mayor Collins.

POWDER EXPLOSION

Three Mill Hands Killed at Laflin Works.

CONCUSSION SHOOK THE TOWN.

Dead Hurled Two Hundred Feet. Three Buildings Totally Wrecked. Theory Is That Accident Was Caused by Friction.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 14.—Three men killed and two seriously hurt, together with three buildings destroyed, is the result of an explosion at the Laflin Powder works at Laflin. The force of the explosion shook every house in town. The people knew what had happened at once, and the paths leading to the scene were soon lined with excited throngs hurrying to the mill.

The dead are Alexander Moore, forty-five, died from burns; Joseph Gray, fifty, blown to pieces, and Arthur Gray, twenty-three.

The injured are Thomas Haines, hurt by flying timbers, and Josiah Twist, fifty-five, arms and legs hurt by being blown against flying debris.

The explosion occurred in what is called the press. There were three buildings, about 100 feet apart—the press, in which the powder was compressed into a solid mass; the barrel mill, in which the powder was mixed, and the corning mill, in which the powder was ground into grains ready for market.

The men killed were in the press mill at the time of the explosion, and no one can tell what caused it, though there is a theory that it was caused by friction from some of the machinery. The three buildings were totally demolished, and the engine and boiler room, situated a long distance away from the scene of the explosion, were also wrecked.

The bodies of Moore and Arthur Gray were found buried under the debris and were badly burned. Joseph Gray was found 200 feet from the mill. His body was literally blown to pieces and scattered here and there.

Taken by Government Forces.

SOLEDAD, Venezuela, July 14.—Soledad, which is a strategic position opposite Ciudad Bolivar, on the Orinoco river, has been taken by government troops. Many civilians came overland with the government forces from Maturin and witnessed the shelling of the strong trenches constructed along the river front before Ciudad Bolivar by the revolutionists. It is believed that the government troops will make a landing on that side of the river upon the arrival of General Gomez, the government commander in chief, who is expected hourly with a fleet which will co-operate in a general attack on the city. It is learned through deserters that General Gomez before entering the valley of the Orinoco defeated the revolutionists under General Antonio Paredes, who surrendered Puerto Cabello in 1899 and who was subsequently captured by the Liberals near Irapa. General Gomez thus secured the safety of his rear guard. Notwithstanding local public opinion to the contrary, in government circles it is not believed that General Rolando, who holds Ciudad Bolivar, will be able to resist the government's attack.

Fishing Schooner Lost.

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 14.—News of the loss of the fishing schooner Emilie Lyons was brought here by five survivors of the crew. While off the East Pass bar the vessel was struck by a squall and in fifteen minutes toppled over. James W. Ward of Mobile, Ala., a passenger, and John McPhail and Augustus Reine of the crew were drowned. The five survivors succeeded in getting into a small dory, which was washed up on Santa Rosa island about three hours afterward. They were powerless to rescue their drowning comrade. Reine, the cook, was asleep in his bunk, and it is supposed did not awake before the vessel turned over. The crew after being washed upon the island carried their dory across and rowed up the pass, where they found a tug and were brought to port.

Sad Death From Tetanus.

ITHACA, N. Y., July 14.—Harry H. Bishop, thirteen years of age, died here of lockjaw, caused by a slight injury sustained by him on the Fourth of July. On that day the boy was toying with a revolver when a blank cartridge in it prematurely exploded, wounding him on the tip of one of his fingers, but so slight was the injury that no physician was summoned to attend him. The first symptoms of tetanus appeared in a week's time, and from that until his death terrible convulsions followed one another in rapid succession. The doctors pronounced it the worst case of tetanus they had ever seen.

Evansville Murderer Is Nervous.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 14.—John Tinsley, alias Lee Brown, the negro who killed Policeman Louis Massey at Evansville, is giving the Jeffersonville reformatory officials a great deal of trouble. He arouses the guards at midnight and pretends to be dying. Dr. Sharp has to be called and sedatives administered. Brown, or Tinsley, fears to be taken back to Evansville. In spite of his nervous fears he is improving and soon will be well.

New Assistant Secretary of War.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 14.—At a conference between President Roosevelt and Secretary Root it was decided to appoint Robert Shaw Oliver of Albany to be assistant secretary of war, vice William Cary Sanger, resigned. Mr. Sanger has decided to retire on account of the ill health of his wife.

Tent of Christian Endeavor Convention Blown Over.

EIGHT THOUSAND UNDER CANVAS.

Injured Numbered Nearly a Score, Mainly Caused by Panic of Frightened Women—Assembly Was in Session at the Time.

DENVER, July 14.—The big tent Endeavor, where the Christian Endeavor convention has been held for the past four days, was blown over at a late hour yesterday, more than 8,000 people being in the tent at the time.

The injured numbered nearly a score, but fortunately none of them was seriously hurt. Mrs. Jessie M. Thornburgh of Denver was the most seriously injured. Her nose was badly gashed, and she suffered several scalp wounds.

Mrs. Winifred Sleep of Denver, who was in charge of St. Mark's hospital tent, seeing the accident at the big tent, close by, telegraphed to the electric light company to shut off the current. This prevented any damage from the live wires that had fallen with the tent poles.

A feature that showed the religious nature of the participants was seen when the majority were extricated from the canvas folds. Led by an eastern delegate, all gathered round in the open air, and an impromptu praise service was held.

The convention was in full progress at the time of the accident, and, although there were signs of rain and some wind was blowing, no trouble was anticipated by the management. The sides of the tent had been raised to admit air, and this enabled the wind to lift up the big canvas as if it were a balloon. The gust that turned the tent over came so suddenly that no preparation could be made to forestall the consequences, and when the wind swept under the tent the top puffed out like an immense sail, the smaller guy ropes were pulled from their places, and in a moment more the big poles were drawn from the ground.

Immediately the 8,000 occupants of the tent were in a panic, heightened by the screams of hundreds of women. Mr. Ramsey sprang to a chair and called loudly on the men to hold up the canvas and catch the large supporting poles as they fell. Hundreds of men sprang to their feet and successfully carried out the Chicago man's suggestion and thus averted serious consequences from the accident. More than 1,000 people who had been seated near the walls of the tent escaped the folds, and these immediately formed themselves into a rescue corps. Those who had fainted and those suffering from slight injuries were quickly removed to the hospital tent.

State of Siege Proclaimed.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, July 14.—The conflict between President Nord and the chambers continues. A state of siege has been proclaimed, and the national guard has been summoned to arms.

The conflict between the Haitian president and the chambers is apparently the outcome of the discovery some months ago of alleged extensive frauds in the issue of Haitian government securities. The amount involved is about $2,000,000, and it was alleged that securities were fraudulently issued with the complicity of the National Bank of Haiti. The president appointed a committee to probe the matter, and the minister of finance, who was opposed to the investigation, resigned. In an address to the soldiers of the guard President Nord vigorously denounced the attitude of the chambers and the National bank as being hostile to the government.

Singular Accident Proved Fatal.

NEWBURG, N. Y., July 14.—James Martin, aged twelve, was killed here in a singular accident. Some linemen were running a heavy wire along poles, and the boy was swinging on the wire when it was suddenly pulled taut. He was jerked to the top of the pole before he let go. He fell on his head, sustaining fatal injuries.

Brooklyn Woman's Body Found.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., July 14.—The body of a woman found on a lonely mountain road near Cuddebackville has been identified as that of Kate Mullen of 293 Wallabout street, Brooklyn. The identification was made by her brother-in-law, Ulysses G. Freude, who refuses further information.

Ex-Assemblyman Dead.

UTICA, N. Y., July 14.—J. Harry Kent, former member of assembly from the First Oneida district, ex-meat inspector for the board of health and a prominent member of the G. A. R., died at Faxton hospital after an operation for cancer of the stomach.

Four More Deaths From Lockjaw.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 14.—Four deaths from tetanus of boys ranging in age from eight to sixteen years occurred in this city yesterday, resulting from slight wounds inflicted on the Fourth of July from toy pistols.

IS RAPIDLY SINKING

Pope Leo XIII. Now Lies Unconscious.

HE SAID, "I WILL DIE THURSDAY."

It Developed That the Patient's Kidneys Were Not Performing Their Functions, and There Are Signs of Approaching Dissolution.

ROME, July 14.—The pope is rapidly sinking. All his relatives have been summoned. He has relapsed into a state of unconsciousness—half asleep, half coma. The heat of the body is high for the patient's organism and appears to be feverish.

It has developed, as the result of a careful medical examination, that the condition of the pope's kidneys is worse. The doctors feared that his system was gradually approaching a state of dissolution. No traces of albumen were found, indicating that, although the kidneys were not performing their functions properly, they were not themselves organically diseased.

The pope is reported to have said, "If I am destined to die from this illness I feel I shall expire on Thursday, the feast day of the Carmelite Madonna, whom I specially worship."

The night was a rather sleepless one, particularly during the early morning hours. The official bulletin spoke of agitated periods during the night and said that the general condition of the patient was more depressed. The depression was marked and continued throughout the forenoon, at one time assuming an alarming aspect, when the pope became dizzy and seemed to lose his grasp on tangible surroundings.

Outside of the passing periods of depression the general conditions of mental alertness continue. When Drs. Mazzoni and Lapponi made their call the pope inquired about Dr. Rossoni, asking, "Why doesn't he come to see me?"

Being told that Dr. Rossoni was ill, he said, "Tell him he must take care of himself."

At both the Vatican and the house of Dr. Lapponi the arrivals of patent medicines, surgical instruments and medical apparatus of all kinds continue, each accompanied by assurances that the pope would recover if it were used according to directions. From Vienna have come machines for producing artificial respiration and for making oxygen. The pope, however, has not required the administration of oxygen for the last three days. "What I need," said Pope Leo, "is air—fresh air. Besides, I should be allowed to rise. An old man of ninety-four should not be kept in bed when without fever."

Mgr. O'Connell, rector of the Catholic university at Washington, has arrived here, accompanied by Father Cornelius G. O'Keefe of Highland Falls, N. Y., and William J. Onahan of Chicago. Mgr. O'Connell's object in coming here was to submit to the pope's consideration the condition of the university. In view of the illness of the pope, however, he laid his report before Cardinal Satolli, under whose jurisdiction the university comes. Mgr. O'Connell will take a trip through Italy and return to Rome later.

No Foreigner to Be Pope.

LONDON, July 14.—The Daily Telegraph correspondent at Rome telegraphs: "I am authorized to state on the authority of two cardinals, one of whom is himself a candidate, that neither Cardinal Gibbons nor any other foreign member of the sacred college possesses the remotest chance of succeeding Pope Leo."

Orange and Green Riot.

BELFAST, Ireland, July 14.—Orangemen engaged in their annual celebration in the customary way. About 10,000 men marched in the procession. The entire police force was on duty, and the troops were confined to barracks so as to be ready in case of emergency. At Rostrevor, County Down, there are 1,700 police and soldiers in the town and vicinity, which gives the place the appearance of being in a state of siege. The procession on returning from the demonstration here was attacked by Nationalists, and a serious riot ensued. There was an exchange of missiles, many windows were broken, and a number of policemen and civilians were injured. Strong re-enforcements of police restored order.

Negro Kills Negro at Mount Vernon.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., July 14.—Eli Brown, a negro coachman employed by M. C. Kellogg, former president of the Bank of Mount Vernon, was shot and killed by Terry Griggin, also a negro coachman, in front of the city hall. A large crowd gathered quickly, and the murderer was captured at once. He was taken to police headquarters surrounded by a guard of six policemen, as the crowd had become excited, and it was feared it might possibly attempt lynching.

Russian Officials Leave Port Arthur.

CHEFU, China, July 14.—General Kuropatkin, the Russian war minister, and his staff, who have been present at the important conference at Port Arthur of the Russian minister to China, M. Lessar, and all the high Russian officials in north China and Manchuria, at which the Russian position in the far east was discussed, have left Port Arthur on their return to St. Petersburg.

Catskill Farmer Hangs Himself.

CATSKILL, N. Y., July 14.—John B. Richards, aged forty years, proprietor of the Cherry Grove farm at Purling, a suburb of Cairo, in a fit of despondency hanged himself from a rafter in the barn.

Plainfield, N. J., July 14, 1903.

"A growing business should be nourished with plenty of good advertising."

In rejoicing over the victory scored at Bisley, the Newark Advertiser declares that "We still shoot straight." Yes, we do, even if we are continually drunk with enthusiasm.

The Newark pastor who declared that the negro problem is the Nation's problem has struck the key note in the solution of that question. It is submitted that the Nation will soon have to deal with this important question soberly and wisely.

A railroad company the other day received $1,000 from a grateful mother for sending her child on a special train from the Adirondacks to New York. The youngster swallowed a safety pin, which opened in its throat, and quick surgical treatment was deemed vital. Would is be out of place to term that reward "pin money?"

America has lifted the Palma cup and that trophy will be brought to our shores. The America's cup is still here notwithstanding the many attempts of our English cousins to retrieve its lost laurels in yachting. Here's hoping that the two may stay until that New Zealander makes his gaze from London bridge.

Following the example of the burgess of Westchester, Pa., the police authorities at Burlington, N. J., propose to file a complete list of all habitual drunkards with the saloon keepers in that place. The liquor men will be held accountable for selling anything to such men. The idea is an excellent one and may be copied with good effect.

If what he says be true, the statement of a New Brunswick minister that the votes of 2,500 out of the 5,500 in the community can be purchased for $5 or less on election day largely accounts for the present condition of that city. New Brunswick people are continually groaning about the backwardness of that community. There is small reason to wonder when one considers the calibre of its citizens.

The trolley service between Scotch Plains and Plainfield last Saturday after the baseball game was wretched. At a time when the crowd wanted to return to Plainfield there was only one car to serve that purpose. That car was overcrowded, yet one whole seat in the front of the car, back of the motorman, could not be used because "it was against the rules." At such a time there should be no rule against the use of a seat, the occupying of which would not interfere with the motorman's duties. What is a seat placed there for, if not for use? When will we have decent trolley service?

For many years it has been a recognized custom in this country as well as in England and other civilized regions to have corner-stones of public buildings laid with Masonic ceremonies. The enlightened public has agreed to this by common consent. The ceremony is dignified and impressive and moreover is stripped of any features which could cause offense to anyone of a particluar creed. Hence it ill becomes so reputable a newspaper as the Elizabeth Evening Times to make a play to the gallery of ignorance by questioning the propriety of having the corner-stone of our new court house laid with the beautiful ceremony of Free Masonry. We doubt the statement of this contemporary which declares that "every fair minded citizen will appreciate that there exists reasons for complaint and unfavorable criticism." The apology of this same newspaper in the past for Sunday baseball is on par with its present attitude on this matter.

More than ordinary consideration should be given Health Officer Thurlow's suggestion that there should be municipal control of the collection and disposal of garbage. Plainfield justly boasts that it is up-to-date. Few cities of its size in this country can claim to have more improvements. Visitors marvel at the fire, police, health and street departments. These combine to make Plainfield desirable as a place of residence. We were a little slow in not placing street sprinkling under the control of the municipal governments but it is there now. The sewerage disposal plant and the street storm sewer system enhance the value of local property and serve to make the city more healthy. But as to garbage collection we are a little behind the times. Just complaint is made at the manner in which the refuse from kitchens is collected and made way with. It is an unhealthy condition. True it is that the municipal control of such work would entail considerable expense and there is reason to state that its adoption at this time would be an unnecessary burden. But just as soon as the Common Council finds itself in a position to accomplish the end without greatly increasing the tax rate this improvement should be made.

IT IS MURDER.

Justice Brewer So Characterized Negro Lynching.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 14.—"Every man who participates in the lynching or the burning of a negro is a murderer pure and simple."

This opinion was given by Associate Justice David G. Brewer of the supreme court of the United States.

"Of course," explained Judge Brewer, "there may be extenuation which might vary the degree of the crime, but the principal participants in the crime can be held by any court in the land for murder in the same degree as if the crime were committed by an individual.

"There is going to be a reaction against the atrocious crimes with which the papers have been filled. The fact that the people are now interesting themselves in the discussion of this problem makes manifest the fact that there is a tendency toward a change. I expect that it will come soon. I cannot say what form it will take, but there will be an uprising of popular feeling against lynchings that will result in legislation or a remedy of some other form."

The United States consul has received a report from the American consulate at Chefu that an American vessel was recently attacked by pirates, who are now active off the coast of Kinchow, in Chinking. Viceroy Yuan in compliance with the United States minister's request has sent two Chinese war ships on an expedition against the pirates.

The Tartar general at Moukden has telegraphically applied to the Chinese foreign office for permission to organize an army of 1,000 troops to provide against the outbreak of an insurrection after the withdrawal of the Russians from Newchwang. The Peking office has replied that the application will be granted if the general government can pay the wages of the troops.

DESPERADO ARRESTED.

After a Month's Chase Rufus Young Is Captured.

RUTLAND, Vt., July 14.—Word has been received here of the capture at Arlington of Rufus Young, said by the police to be the most notorious horse thief in New England, and of the fact also that Young, during the shooting incident to his capture, received a wound which may cause his death.

For over a month deputy sheriffs and constables have been scouring the woods within a radius of 100 miles of Rutland, seeking some trace of Young. He had been arrested and placed in a lockup, but he broke jail one night and escaped.

Definite information was received that Young was in the woods at Arlington. Sheriff H. S. Wilson, with a posse, cornered the man. There was an exchange of shots, and the officers went into the brush and overpowered Young. It is supposed that it was then that Young was wounded.

CAR RUNS DOWN HILL.

Schenectady Railway Scene of a Remarkable Wreck.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., July 14.—A car on the Albany division of the Schenectady railway ran away while ascending the State street hill in this city, the emergency and air brakes refusing to work. The car returned down the hill at a speed approximating seventy-five miles an hour and just grazed a train at the railroad crossing. The car left the tracks at the Washington avenue curve and crashed into a residence in that aristocratic thoroughfare, carrying a telegraph pole with it.

The water pipes were smashed, a flood of water being added to the damage caused by the wreck. The car was completely telescoped in the house. The two occupants of the car were held down on the floor by the conductor, thus doubtless saving their lives.

Silesia Has a Flood.

BERLIN, July 14.—The highest floods known in the region for many years are reported from Silesia. Nearly the whole town of Troppau was under water for many hours. The crops of the entire district have been destroyed, and traffic at several points on the Scheenbrenn-Troppau railway is interrupted owing to the destruction of bridges and embankments. In the Sudeten valley all the villages were flooded so rapidly that thirty of the inhabitants were unable to escape in time and perished. Fifty houses were destroyed. Even the town of Breslau is reported to be in danger, and the firemen have been called out to repair the dikes protecting the city from the overflowing river Oder. The surrounding country has become one large lake.

To Probe Fishing Troubles.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 14.—The cruisers Lavoisier and Charybdis, the flagships of the French and British squadrons respectively in these waters, have sailed for the treaty shore of Newfoundland to investigate an alleged attack by French fishermen on a colonial customs officer, which is causing serious friction. Admiral Douglas, with the British cruisers Ariadne, Retribution and Tribune, will come here for a three days' visit, meeting the British and French squadrons in these waters.

Smallpox Reported at Hyde Park.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 14.—Three men are reported sick with smallpox on the country place of Colonel Archibald Rogers at Hyde Park, and the place has been quarantined by the authorities of the town.

PRINCE VISITS COTTON.

Kearsarge Receives Wales With the British Flags Flying.

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 14.—The Prince of Wales visited the United States European squadron and breakfasted with Rear Admiral Cotton on the flagship Kearsarge.

The deck of the Kearsarge presented a striking scene at the time of the prince's arrival, with the men, in white uniforms and with arms linked, lining the turrets, bridges and rails. The British union jack was flying at the mainmast, and the whole ship was dressed in rainbow fashion.

The Prince of Wales asked numerous questions regarding the superposed turrets, particularly inquiring how rapidly the guns could be loaded. Midshipman Belknap, in charge of the forward turret, ordered a round of ammunition from the magazine to the 13 inch gun. The operation was rapidly performed, to the apparent gratification of his royal highness. "The prince is a naval officer and knows what he is talking about," said Captain Hemphill.

The British officers gave a ball in the naval barracks in honor of the American visitors. Five hundred persons were present, including the majority of the American officers, Consul General Evans, the Misses Evans and Mrs. McCrea, wife of Commander McCrea of the Machias.

The chairman of the town council of Kingstown, Ireland, has telegraphed a cordial invitation to the American squadron to visit Kingstown during King Edward's visit to Ireland. Admiral Cotton replied expressing his warm appreciation of the invitation and his deep regret at being unable to accept it, as the squadron will sail for Lisbon on Thursday next.

UNIONIST LEAGUE FORMED.

Free Traders Form an Organization to Educate Public Mind.

LONDON, July 14.—The Unionist free traders held another meeting under the chairmanship of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, former chancellor of the exchequer, in a committee room of the house of commons. A Unionist Free Food league was formally organized, and it was announced that a large campaign fund was accumulating. The league will immediately start an educational crusade. An appeal will be made to Premier Balfour to set an early day for a full fiscal debate.

A white paper has been issued by the foreign office giving the correspondence between Great Britain and Germany in connection with the German-Canadian tariff discussion. The general tone of the correspondence indicates a greater willingness on the part of Germany to discuss the question in a friendly way after Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's public advocacy of a retaliatory tariff policy.

Germany has suggested an interchange of ideas with a view to a friendly settlement. This suggestion was accepted by Lord Lansdowne, although the British foreign secretary in closing his note reiterated Great Britain's refusal to admit Germany's right to treat Canada or any other colony granting special tariff concessions to the mother country as a separate customs territory, to be made to suffer by retaliation for privileges granted to the United Kingdom.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

ON MARRIAGES

They Are Too Frequently Matters of Convenience

"IF there is one thing that excites my scorn," remarked the woman with definite ideas, "it is the girl who looks upon marriage in the light of a bargain counter sale and tries to get the most she can for her money, or, worse still, the girl who is frantic to marry before she begins to fade. To hear some girls talk you would think they were vegetables in a market—anything, in fact, except human beings with pride and feelings."

"You evidently agree," put in her friend the bachelor, "with the remark the college professor made to his class: 'Marry, my dear boys, just as soon as you possibly can, but don't marry until you just have to.' It is apparently contradictory, but in reality full of sense."

"Well, yes, I would like a little more of that sort of feeling, or indeed of any feeling at all. Marriage nowadays seems to be all a matter of bargain and cleverness on the woman's part. If there is anything despicable on this earth I think it is marrying a man you do not love; worse still, marrying one man for his money and position while you are in love with another. Marrying just for the sake of being supported has no longer the vestige of an excuse now that women can make their own way and amount to something on their own account in the world. Why speak of woman's progress while this sort of thing continues?"

"What do you consider the right sort of marriage, might we ask?" queried the bachelor.

"The only sort of marriage which stands any chance of being happy is the marriage where there is trust on both sides, the love which comes from a perfect understanding and similar tastes and sympathies. The size of the income has nothing to do with it. Things are bound to prosper if the home is blessed with a love like that, and if the man has a wife who not only appreciates him, but makes his interests her own. It is the greatest mistake in the world for the husband to shut his wife out from his interests and make of her only a baby and a toy. It is the greatest mistake in the world for a husband and a wife not to share each other's amusements also as well as worries. Marriage which admits of no chumship would better never be at all."

"I don't suppose you believe in taking a man and making him over to suit?"

"I certainly do not. Sooner or later he will return to his natural condition, although he may depart from it for a time to please the girl he is trying to win. If a girl is wise she will wait for the man whose temperament and tastes naturally fit in with her own. She will wait years—forever if necessary. But the trouble with the average girl is that she is so afraid she won't get married that she won't be patient."

"I see you believe in affinities?"

"One affinity for each woman? No. I believe a woman can love sincerely more than once, but there is a certain kind of man she can love, and only that one particular kind combining certain qualities. If for material reasons she marries a man not of that class misery is sure to follow."

"Marriage is a 'canny' game," murmured the bachelor. "That is why I have never tried it."

"You never met the right girl," retorted the woman, "and, being more honest than many of my sex, you refused to console yourself with any other."

A twinkle appeared in his eyes. "Eh? Well, perhaps you're right!" she heard him say.

MAUD ROBINSON.

Monte Carlo Coats.

Some very short Monte Carlo coats are made for the young. They are jaunty and pretty, made short in the back, with the fronts reaching a little below the waist line. Such coats are almost universally laid in folds, the upper portion only being fastened. White lace in a hundred different ways of application decorate them, and one may use all sorts of medallions or other shapes of trimming.

There is a real cult for tatted deep collars to wear over the shoulders, and hand crocheted lace is also prominent. Indeed there is a great demand for the latter, and it is used on skirts, waists and coats. Many new patterns of this durable lace are now designed, so that it does not resemble the old fashioned kind.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1902, by The Robert Company.

CHAPTER XI.

The noonday sun was staring hotly down, an hour later, on a stirring picture of frontier warfare, with that clump of cottonwoods as the central feature. Well for Ray's half hundred, that brilliant autumn morning, that their leader had had so many a year of Indian campaigning! He now seemed to know by instinct every scheme of his savage foe and to act accordingly. Ever since the command had come in sight of the Elk Tooth the conviction had been growing on Ray that Stabber must have received many accessions and was counting on the speedy coming of others. The signal smokes across the wide valley; the frequent essays to tempt his advance guard to charge and chase; the boldness with which the Indians showed on front and flank; the daring pertinacity with which they clung to the stream bed for the sake of a few shots at the foremost troopers, relying, evidently, on the array of their comrades beyond the ridge to overwhelm any force that gave close pursuit; the fact that other Indians opened on the advance guard and the left flankers, and that a dozen, at least, tore away out of the sandy arroyo the moment they saw the line start at the gallop—all these had tended to convince the captain that now, at last, when he was miles from home and succor, the Sioux stood ready in abundant force to give him desperate battle.

To dart on in chase of the three warriors would simply result in the scattering of his own people and their being individually cut off and stricken down by circling swarms of their red foes. To gather his men and attempt to force the passage of the Elk Tooth ridge meant certain destruction of the whole command. The Sioux would be only too glad to scurry away from their front and let them through, and then in big circle whirl all about him, pouring in a concentric fire that would be sure to hit some, at least, exposed as they would be on the open prairie, while their return shots, radiating wildly at the swift-darting warriors, would be almost as sure to miss. He would soon be weighted down with wounded, refusing to leave them to be butchered; unable, therefore, to move in any direction, and so compelled to keep up a shelterless, hopeless fight until one by one, he and his gallant fellows fell, pierced by Indian lead, and sacrificed to the scalping knife as were Custer's 300 a decade before.

No, Ray knew too much of frontier strategy to be so caught. There stood the little grove of dingy green, a prairie fortress, if one knew how to use it. There in the sand of the stream bed, by digging, were they sure to find water for the wounded, if wounded there had to be. There by the aid of a few hastily thrown intrenchments he could have a little plains fort and be ready to repel even an attack in force. Horses could be herded in the depths of the sandy shallows. Men could be distributed in big circle through the trees and along the bank; and, with abundant rations in their haversacks and water to be had for the digging, they could hold out like heroes until relief should come from the south.

Obviously, therefore, the cottonwood grove was the place, and thither at thundering charge Field led the foremost line, while Ray waved on the second, all hands cheering with glee at sight of the Sioux darting wildly away up the northward slope. Ten men in line, far extended, were sent right forward half way across the flats, ordered to drive the Indians, from the bottom and cripple as many as possible; but, if menaced by superior numbers, to fall back at the gallop, keeping well away from the front of the grove, so that the fire of its garrison might not be "masked." The ten had darted after the scurrying warriors, full half way to the beginning of the slope, and then, just as Ray had predicted, down came a cloud of brilliant foemen, seeking to swallow the little ten alive. Instantly their sergeant leader whirled them about and, pointing the way, led them in wide circle, horses well in hand, back to the dry wash, then down into its sandy depths. Here every trooper sprang from saddle, and with the rein looped on the left arm, and from the shelter of the straight, stiff banks, opened sharp fire on their pursuers, just as Clayton's platoon, dismounting at the grove, sprang to the nearest cover and joined in the fierce clamor of carbines. Racing down the slope at top speed as were the Sioux, they could not all at once check the way of their nimble mounts, and the ardor of the chase had carried them far down to the flats before the fierce crackle began. Then it was thrilling to watch them, veering, circling, sweeping to right or left, ever at furious gallop, throwing their lithe, painted bodies behind their chargers' necks, clinging with one leg and arm, barely showing so much as an eyelid, yet yelping and screeching like so many coyotes, not one of their number coming within 400 yards of the slender fighting line in the stream bed; some of them [illegible] deed, disdaining to stoop, riding defiantly along the front, firing wildly as they rode, yet surely and gradually guiding their ponies back to the higher ground, back out of harm's way; and, in five minutes from the time they had flashed into view, coming charging over the mile away ridge, not a red warrior was left on the low ground—only three or four luckless ponies, kicking in their last struggles or stiffening on the turf, while their riders, wounded or unhurt, had been picked up and spirited away with the marvelous skill only known to these warriors of the plains.

Then Ray and his men had time to breathe and shout laughing comment and congratulation. Not one, as yet, was hit or hurt. They were secure for the time in a strong position, and had signally whipped off the first assault of the Sioux.

Loudly, excitedly, angrily these latter were now conferring again far up the slope to the north. At least 100 in one concourse, they were having hot discussion over the untoward result of the dash. Others, obedient to orders from the chief were circling far out to east and west and crossing the valley above and below the position of the defense. Others, still, were galloping back to the ridge, where, against the sky line, strong bodies of warriors could be plainly seen, moving excitedly to and fro. Two little groups slowly making their way to the crest gave no little comfort to the boys in blue. Some, at least, of the charging force had been made to feel the bite of the cavalry weapon and were being borne to the rear.

Do You Wish To Borrow Money?

In order to accommodate all classes of borrowers (those who cannot borrow at a bank, as well as those who can), the Mutual Loan and Investment Company, of 118 Market street, Newark, N. J., has a department for handling quickly and confidentially loans ranging from $10 to $500 on furniture, pianos, storage receipts, etc.

The security is not removed from your possession or in any way disturbed. The honest, careful and conservative borrower will try and decide two points before borrowing. First, where he can get the best terms. Second, where he can get fair and square treatment.

This company is in a position to give you by far the most satisfactory terms ever offered by any concern or individual negotiating this class of loans.

With this company you are assured of getting the lowest rates, easiest payments and longest time for repayment. The whole transaction from the time the application is made until loan is paid is entirely confidential. We give you another advantage in case you take the loan out for six months or a year, and wish to settle the same before the time expires: we charge you only for the time you have had the money. We also take up loans from other companies and advance more money.

Kindly call and let us explain our simple and up-to-date methods. If not entirely convenient for you to call, please write and our representative will call and give you any desired information. Remember it costs nothing to make application. Loans promptly made in Elizabeth, Plainfield, Westfield, Roselle, Rahway, Perth Amboy and all suburban towns.

YOUNG MEN OF TODAY

No Reason Why They Should Not Make Make Life a Success.

Marshall Field, Chicago's Great Merchant, Declares Every Man May Acquire Qualities to Make Him Truly Great.

Marshall Field, prince of successes, has written a letter to the American young man telling him how to succeed.

His advice is based upon the principles by which he when a young man lived and worked, and through which, he firmly believes, he won his way upward to the place where he stands today.

He places no great stress on "the commercial spirit," "the money-making instinct" or "the genius for success." Instead, he insists upon the earnest spirit, the honorable instinct and the genius for hard work.

In his letter Mr. Field mentions as essential to success only such qualities as may be acquired. In other words, Mr. Field throws open the delectable fields of success to all those who are willing to work to reach them.

The letter was written to Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis in response to certain questions propounded to Mr. Field by Dr. Hillis. It opens with the statement that, above all, a young man should first choose an occupation for which he feels himself to be fitted. The writer says in so many words that a great fortune is of less importance to a man in the world than a character, which will enable him to win the respect and honor of all with whom he shall come in contact. The letter is in part as follows:

Economy is one of the most essential elements of success, yet most wretchedly disregarded. The old adage, "Willful waste makes woeful want," never was more fully exemplified than in these days when much of the want that now prevails would not exist had care been taken in time of prosperity to lay up something for a "rainy day."

(Wealth Alone, He Says, Is Not a Sure Sign of Success.)

The average young man of to-day, when he begins to earn, is soon inclined to habits of extravagance and wastefulness; gets, somehow, imbued with the idea that, irrespective of what he earns, he must indulge in habits corresponding to those of some other young man.

The five, ten or fifteen cents a day that are squandered, while a mere trifle apparently, if saved would in a few years amount to thousands of dollars and go far toward establishing the foundation of a future career.

Too few realize that in order to acquire the dollars one must take care of the nickels. Careful saving and careful spending invariably promote success.

It has been well said that "it is not what a man earns, but what he saves, that makes him rich."

John Jacob Astor said that the saving of the first thousand dollars cost him the hardest struggle.

As a rule people do not know how to save. I deem it of the highest importance, therefore, to impress upon every young man the duty of beginning to save from the moment he commences to earn, be it ever so little.

A young man should aim to be manly and self-reliant; make good use of all the spare moments; read only wholesome books; study to advance his own interests as well as those of his employer in every possible way. As a rule, the young man of high principles and fair ability, who saves his money and keeps his habits good, becomes valuable in any concern; but as volumes have been written upon this subject it is not possible in a letter to cover it all.

By following out these suggestions, however, aiming constantly to prepare himself for a higher place, instead of waiting for something to turn up, every young man will succeed to a more or less degree.

I would not have them believe, however, that success consists solely in the acquisition of wealth. Far from it, as that idea is much too prevalent already.

The haste to become rich at the expense of character prevails to an alarming extent and cannot be too severely denounced.

What is needed to-day more than anything else is to instill in the minds of our young the desire above all to build up a character that will win the respect of all with whom they may come in contact, and which is vastly more important than a great fortune.

Merchants who keep their business well in hand, sell for cash and pay for goods at short time, taking advantage of all cash discounts, keep good habits and give strict attention to business very rarely fail.

The game will be played on Hope Common and will be called at 3:30 o'clock. The Lyceums have beaten a number of the best teams in and around New York this season.

A baseball team to be known as St. Mary's Juniors has been organized in the West End. George Meyer, of the Potter Press Company, has been elected manager, and desires to hear from teams with an average age of eighteen years. The team is composed as follows: O'Keefe, p; Cotter, c; Donnelly, 1b; Muldowney, 2b; Martin, ss; Kieley, 3b; Caveler, rf; Dotty, cf; McCarthy, lf.

The Plainfield fans were much pleased with "Warry" MacLaughlin's pitching in Saturday's game betwee Alis and Scotch Plains. He played the game with snap and plenty of ginger and the best part of it he did not waste his effort. In one inning he only pitched three balls and in another he tossed four balls, in retiring the side. He had his opponents at his mercy, allowing them only four hits.

EXHIBITING RARE TIMEPIECE

GENUINE VERGE WATCH OWNED BY H. A. POPE.

Quaint Timekeeper at Least One Hundred Years Old in Doane's Window.

J. Hervey Doane, of Park avenue, has on exhibition in one of his jewelry store windows a rare old-fashioned watch. The time-piece was made in England fully a hundred and fifty years ago and is one of the few Verge models of watch now existing.

The works of the time-piece are of an intricate handmade design and are beautifully chased. They are enclosed in a plain case of heavy gold which shows marks of having been hammered into shape by hand work. This case is again enclosed in a second outer case of German silver, covered with plates of thin tortoise shell, hand carved and burned in an intricate design.

The outer case is studded with small large headed brads of silver. The dial and hands are of quaint old fashioned workmanship. The owner of the watch, Howard A. Pope, of East Fifth street has made inquiries of several jewelers regarding the valbe of the watch and holds it at a high valuation.

HIS LEG TORN BY MECHANISM

YOUNG CHARLES POST RECEIVES SERIOUS INJURY.

Playing on Circular Railway When Accident Happens—Leg Caught in Cross-Rail.

While riding on the circular railway in the lot on Watchung avenue, opposite Third street, yesterday afternoon, thirteen-year-old Charles Post, of East Third street, caught his left leg in a cross rail of the mechanism and it was badly torn and lacerated by the cogs of the moving machinery before the engine, which runs the machine, could be stopped.

Young Post, together with about twenty-five other young people of the neighborhood was riding on the unfinished cars of the small railway which is being built by Charles F. Felmer and Winslow Carson for Edward Johnson, who plans to take the thing to the St. Louis Exposition when completed. The car trucks have recently been completed and the perpetual train of cars was in operation yesterday afternoon. The lad had his left leg hanging from the frame of one of the cars when it approached the cogged incline and that member became caught in the machinery. Winslow Carson, who was running the machine, heard the child's shriek and quickly stopped the machinery. Post retaind his consciousness throughout, thougt it was necessary to unbolt the machinery and derail the car before the leg could be extricated.

The ambulance was immediately telephoned for and Dr. W. Kempton Browning was summoned. The lad was taken to Muhlenberg Hopsital where an examination showed that the leg was not broken, although the muscles and legaments were terribly lacerated.

The lad was later removed to his home where he will be confined to his bed for several weeks.

He will make his apologies to the City Judge, this evening.

NO UNDUE INFLUENCE BY SPIRITUALIST

The Will of Joseph H. Olcott Making Big Bequests to Daughter to Stand.

DISMISSES THE APPEAL

END OF REMARKABLE CASE ATTRACTING UNUSUAL ATTENTION.

Brothers Claim That Mrs. Josephine Korff Played on Father's Superstitions Not Substantiated—Testament Admitted to Probate.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, July 15—The opinion of Judge Schenck in the celebrated Joseph H. Olcott will case filed with Surrogate William J. DeMond here yesterday, permits the filing of the will for probate. This case, which was tried several months ago, was the most remarkable of its kind in Somerset County because of investigations in spiritualism disclosed.

Frank and Sands Olcott, brothers, claimed that their sister, Mrs. Josephine Korff, was a medium, and through her investigations with the ouija board, receiving messages purporting to be from relatives long since ded, unduly influenced their father, who left the most of his money to her. They asserted that she influenced the old man to such an extent that he would not do anything without her advise.

In his opinion yesterday, Judge Schenck dismissed the appeal and the order of the Surrogate, admitting the will to probate, was affirmed.

VIOLATING THE LIQUOR LAWS

EVIDENCE THAT FRUIT DEALERS IN BOROUGH SELL RUM.

Councilmen on Their Trail for Dispensing "Hard Cider."

Evidence that certain fruit dealers in North Plainfield are doing a rushing Sunday business in the sale of liquor is in the hands of members of the North Plainfield Council. These Councilmen propose to do what they can to stop the illegal traffic.

The work of gathering the evidence has been in progress for nearly two months, but the names of the offenders have not been made public. The names of twenty-two men who have been in the habit of patronizing the places are in the hands of proper officials and these, it is said, will be called as witnesses.

All the places are located on Somerset street from the brook to Manning avenue. There is one store near Chatham street which has been watched but there is not sufficient evidence against the place as yet. The dealers, it is claimed, purchase the liquor on this side of the brook Saturday evenings. It is kept in beer bottles. This is what is known as "proof rum" which is diluted and sold to patrons in bottles labeled "hard cider." According to the evidence secured so far a stranger cannot purchase a drink at any of the stores. Only regular patrons, sworn to secrecy, can obtain the stuff.

A merchant, whose store is on Somerset street, was brought last evening before the Borough Recorder and severely reprimanded for being intoxicated. The man secured the drink in a nearby "joint" masquerading under the name of a fruit store.

Trimming Trees.

Under the direction of Street Commissioner Gavett many trees in West Front street, Liberty street and Washington avenue are being trimmed. They are large shade trees and for the benefit of health in general it has been deemed wise to remove some of the heaviest branches. The work will be continued in other parts of the city.

VITAL STATISTICS FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE

Ten Marriages, Thirty-Seven Births and Fourteen Deaths Reported to Board of Health.

CONDITIONS HEALTHY

SIX CASES OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASE HAD SOURCE OUTSIDE CITY.

Board of Health Met Yesterday Afterday Afternoon—Sources of Ice Investigated—Milk Permits Issued and Dairies Inspected.

Ten marriage certificates,, thirty-seven birth certificates, two still birth certificates and fourteen death certificates were received by the Board of Health during the month of June, indicating a healthy excess of births over deaths. The Board of Health met yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in an adjourned meeting, with the members all present excepting Charles J. Fisk, the president, and Dr. B. VanD. Hedges. Report was made of the regular yearly investigation of the city ice supply.

Six cases of contagious disease were reported during the past month, having their source in each case, outside of the city. From the 23d to the 27th of June, Plainfield was entirely free from contagion—not a single house being under quarantine; something that has happened only twice in six years.

It was stated that the present ice supply of Plainfield comes from three sources, Watchung Lake, Seeley's Pond and Hygeia or artificial ice. Watchung lake is an artificial lake, situated in Washington Valley. Its watershed is very lightly populated. The ice is sold in Plainfield by the Natural Ice Company, which is a consolidation of the independent ice companies selling natural ice last year, and by one independent dealer—John Morton.

Some ice is cut from Crystal Lake, a small lake about ½ mile from Watchung Lake in the same valley, but this ice is supplied to the two beef houses for refrigerating purposes and is in no wise used for domestic purposes.

Seeley's Pond is situated about a mile beyond Scotch Plains in what is known as the Scotch Plains Notch. It is fed by three streams, two of which come from only a short distance in the mountain, having their origin in springs, while the third has its origin somewhere in the vicinity of Summit, N. J., flowing through the valley to the pond, a distance of about 8 to 10 miles. The water shed of this stream is faily heavily populated. The ice from this pond is sold by David Dunn, of Scotch Plains, principally in Netherwood.

Hygeia ice is made exactly as it was last year, the same water and same methods for breezing being used.

Samples of the above three ices were taken during the month and subjected to a complete chemical analysis and it was found that they were of fairly good quality and perfectly safe for domestic use. Permits were granted to the above named companies for the sale of their ice.

It was announced that the milk permits have all been issued and the Board of now prepared to prosecute any one selling milk without a permit. Three of the dairymen who were refused permits to sell milk in Plainfield because of the filthy conditions of their dairies, have put their cow stables, cattle and milk rooms in such a condition as to comply with the rules and regulations of the Board of Health, and have renewed their applications for permits. The other two have ceased to sell milk.

Mrs. Newmiller Ill.

Mrs. Peter Newmiller, whose husband died a short time ago following the demise of her son by a few days, is in a serious condition. She is suffering from a cancer. Mrs. Newmiller was taken from her home in Mt. Bethel last evening to Muhlenberg Hospital where an operation will be performed.

Held for Grand Jury.

James Burke, who stole a plow from Mel Meeker and sold it for fifty cents to a junk man named John Hasker, spending the proceeds for "booze," was this morning held for the Grand Jury by Justice Huff.

Troubles Ended.

The landlord and tenant case of James Shea against Israel Kadish was adjusted amicably this morning in Justice Hand's court. Harry C. Runyon represented the plaintiff.

WANTED—ABLE MINISTERS

THE LOCAL BAPTIST CHURCHES STILL WITHOUT PASTORS.

Committees Find It Hard to Make Selections From Candidates for the Offices.

The committee from the First Baptist Church having in charge the matter of selecting a pastor to succeed Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, has reached no decision as yet. From time to time various divines are heard in widely different parts of the country, but the members of the committee have thus far been unable to agree on any one man. It is quite likely that the rest of the summer will be spent in hearing other ministers, and that an effort will be made to decide the question in the early fall. It is understood that the committee is anxious to secure a comparatively young minister.

A successor to Rev. J. W. Richardson at the Park Avenue Baptist Church has not yet been found by the committee appointed from that church to secure one. Several ministers have been heard at various times, but the committee is acting with due deliberation before making a choice. It is expected that this church will have a minister by the time the fall work begins.

A COW WITH TWO HEADS

ZOOLOGICAL FREAK OWNED BY WILLIAM C. FERGUSON.

Fortunately the Animal Only Feeds Through One of Its Mouths—Healthy Beast.

William C. Ferguson, a farmer living between Coontown and Mt. Bethel, is the possessor of a three-weeks-old calf which has two heads. Few like freaks of nature have been recorded. Barnum exhibited one in his "greatest show on earth," but, outside of that, not more than one or two such instances have been known to zoology.

Mr. Ferguson is raising the young cow with the idea of disposing of it eventually to a museum. As such phenomenon seldom live long, particular care has to be exercised in raising them. Thus far, Mr. Ferguson's specimen has done well, and seems entirely healthy and normal with the exception of its two heads attached to one neck. The animal has taken all of its food through one mouth only, allowing the other to fall into complete disuse.

When the story of the monstrosity reached The Daily Press, the office poet was inspired to sing this ballad:

"Thus doth the merry bovine gambol
On nature's fertile sod
And look both ways for Sunday
For she hath two heads to nod."

The police of surrounding towns have been notified but the poet is still at large. His early apprehension in expected.

Renovating Property.

The interiors and exteriors of several houses in this city have been renovated during the past month. Some of those who have been having their dwellings redecorated are O. T. Waring, of Park avenue; H. C. Squires, of Watchung avenue; Charles Clark, of Park place; Mrs. E. Baldwin, of Park avenue, and George C. Squires, of Park avenue. The New York Painting and Decorating Company had charge of the work in each instance.

Poisoning Dogs.

Some dog poisoner has been working overtime. Yesterday morning when the people residing in the neighborhood of East Front street and Watchung avenue woke up they saw three large dogs lying in the street dead. One was a St. Bernard, another a great Newfoundland and the third was a large shaggy dog that appeared to be a mongrel.

Compelled to Close.

The Ideal Cash Register Company, of Bound Brook, has been forced to close down temporarily on account of a suit which crippled the concern. It is said that the factory will soon be open for business again and in the meantime repairs to the machinery will be made.

Inspecting Plant.

C. Layton Ford, of West Sixth street, vice president of the Celadon Roofing Tile Company, leaves this week with his family for Alfred, N. Y., where he will spend a month at the factory of the company.

NO NOTICE TAKEN OF JAIL DELIVERY

Somerset County Board of Freeholders Take No Action on Escape of Prisoners.

OPINION OF MEMBERS

DEPUTY SHERIFF THINKS THE ESCAPE IS MATTER FOR CONGRATULATION.

Board Considers Affair is None of Its Business—Lax Discipline at County Jail—Whereabouts of Escaped Prisoners.

No official notice of the recent jail delivery at Somerville was taken by the Somerset County Board of Freeholders at the regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon. This is a matter within their jurisdiction but although three characters made their escape through the negligence, it is said, of the deputy sheriff, the Board judged from a statement made by one of the Freeholders to a reporter of The Daily Press last evening, took no action "because the deputy sheriff is appointed by the sheriff and not by the Board."

It is known to the Board that on the night of the jail delivery the deputy sheriff was not on duty and that it has been his custom to give all the inmates of the jail the freedom of the corridors at night. Freeholder Demler was seen a Washingtonville last evening, and to inquiries made by a reporter said that he did not hear of any talk among the members of the Board about the jail delivery and did not know of there being any talk of removing the deputy sheriff. He said that the deputy is appointed by the sheriff and that the board had nothing to do with the matter.

It was reported to the Board in session that Hayes, one of the escapes had been seen in the mountains in back of North Plainfield.

Freeholder Andrew Lutkins said last evening that the Board did nothing about the matter and it was not even discussed at the meeting. He said that he was informed that Judge Schenck reprimanded the deputy sheriff and the Board was content to let the matter rest at that.

Deputy Sheriff Anderson, who has charge of the prisoners at night, said to a reporter over the telephone yesterday that the Board of Freeholders did not intend taking any action in the matter. Said he:

"I do not believe there is a person who is not glad the prisoners got away. Why, if they were wanted the authorities could place their hands on them in short order. None of them were held on charges serious enough to warrant bringing in any indictments."

It is learned on good authority that very little effort is being made by the Somerset County authorities to arrest the criminals. The sheriff has issued no reward for their capture although it was reported in the open session of the Board of Freeholders yesterday afternoon that one of them was seen near Mt. Bethel yesterday morning. It is alleged that Hayes stopped at the home of a farmer in that vicinity and requested food. It is also reported that no change has been made in the methods in vogue at the jail since the men escaped.

LETTER-CARRIERS' OFF.

Vacations for Men Who Carry the Mail for Uncle Sam.

Four letter-carriers of the local force who are now on their fifteen-day vacations will return to work again Thursday morning. The men now away are Frank Clarkson, whose place is being taken by Dan Shea; Charles Stephens, whom Frank Bailey is "subbing" for; John Hines, whose route George Apgar now has; and Philip Giese, whose place is now taken by James Bailey.

With the return of these men on the sixteenth four others will take vacations.

Fxit the Fish.

Clarence L. Thorn, of Park avenue, and a party of friends, left the city yesterday for a fishing trip to Perth Amboy. They expect to bring home a big catch of weak fish. Mr. Thorn and a couple of friends caught twenty-six pickerel in Green brook, near Sebring's mill, Monday.

Case in Contract.

Justice R. P. F. VonMindsn, of New Market, will hear the case tomorrow morning of Rosina Jahn, executrix, against Ira Horton, on contract. The trial will probably be by jury. F. J. Blatz represents the plaintiff and S. S. Swackhamer the defendant.

Mr. Caleen will be deprived of the use of his member for a few weeks.

LEO RALLIES AGAIN

Another Remarkable Change In Condition of Pope.

NO WORSE THAN ON MONDAY NIGHT

Patient's State Is Opposed to Every Medical Theory—Supposed to Be Dying, He Greets Cardinals With "Please Be Seated."

ROME, July 15.—Another remarkable rally in Pope Leo's condition has occurred after a long depression, in the course of which his holiness suffered spells of delirium, and at times his strength sank to the lowest ebb, and he now lies in no worse condition than he was on Monday evening, except for the steady diminution of his strength. Mgr. Bisleti, master of the chamber, visited the sick room and on emerging stated that the pontiff's condition was unchanged. A little later the pope fell into a sleep, which it has just been announced is fairly tranquil, although the patient's respiration is troublesome.

The rally was characteristically opposed to every medical theory and consisted in getting out of bed, on which two hours previously the pope himself had made all preparations for death. Unsatisfied with this exhibition of vitality, he transacted private business and received four cardinals, with whom he talked in an animated way. In fact, Pope Leo's record, little of which appeared in the official bulletin, would be incredible if it were not confirmed by the doctors and cardinals present in the sick chamber. None seem more perplexed than the doctors themselves. Dr. Lapponi said frankly, "I cannot imagine how the pope manages to keep alive."

According to the physicians, the pontiff may die at any moment, even in the midst of one of those extraordinary intervals when his mind and body present a comparatively sound appearance. All those around the patient have long ceased to hold definite opinions regarding the duration of the pontiff's existence. The slow but progressive diminution of the strength of the august patient foretells the approaching end of the struggle with death, but the doctors will not venture to predict how near the end is. Constant relapses, they say, such as created alarm yesterday, are gradually wearing down the pope's constitution, which seems immune from any specific disease. Most persons are inclined to the idea that Pope Leo may go through perhaps two or three repetitions of the ups and downs till, as Dr. Rossoni puts it, "his pulse stops forever."

Three causes may accelerate the end—viz, continued inability to take nourishment, sudden heart failure or th progression of the pleuric disease. The latter is thought the least probable. As day succeeds day it becomes pathologically clear that it is a case of a very old man dying because he has lived his allotted time.

The pope himself ordered the four cardinals to be admitted and received them standing, he who is supposed to be at the point of death saying, "Please be seated." He recounted the impressive ceremony of the morning when he received the benediction of the Franciscan order. The cardinals informed him of the worldwide prayers for his life. Pope Leo answered that he was much gratified, but that he was ready for his final departure, concluding by saying, "God's will be done."

Even more striking was the pope's interview with his secretary, Mgr. Angeli. His holiness sent for him, saying he wished to see certain papers, which the secretary brought. Then after a short explanation Mgr. Angeli wished to get the pope's decision on the matter, but Pope Leo said: "Well, well, not today. We will do that some other time."

A curious controversy is proceeding between the Vatican medical body, composed of ten doctors of lesser importance than Dr. Lapponi and several foreign physicians, over the embalming of Pope Leo's body. Several foreigners having offered processes of embalming, each more wonderful than the other, the papal doctors unearthed pontifical bulls giving the right to embalm the pope solely to the Vatican medical body.

The Cake Walk In Paris.

PARIS, July 15.—The French national holiday was enthusiastically celebrated in brilliant weather. The main feature was the review of the garrison of Paris by President Loubet. The streets were thronged with merry crowds dancing to the music furnished by bands stationed at most of the crossways. A feature of these open air balls was the popularity of the cake walk. The government, municipal and many private buildings were brilliantly illuminated, and great displays of fireworks were given at prominent points in the city. British flags are exceptionally numerous in the decorations.

Burglar Captured.

JOLIET, Ill., July 15.—A stranger giving the name of William Warren has been captured at Mokena, near here, after a desperate battle with police and citizens. Warren's arrest followed a burglary in the village. In his possession were several skeleton keys, a revolver and a bottle containing sufficient nitroglycerin to have destroyed several buildings. The police are investigating the man's record.

A MOST COMFORTABLE PLACE TO SHOP.

The blazing sun has no terror for those who do their shopping here. Even on these hot, sweltering days you'll find this the coolest and most comfortable place in town—cooler in fact than many homes.

Our grand court, nearly two hundred feet long, is open clear to the roof, giving perfect ventilation to all floors. The broad, spacious aisles afford plenty of elbow room—no jostling or crowding, even on the busiest days.

A superior stock of merchandise, bright, new and up-to-date. Prompt and attentive salespeople to anticipate your every want. These and our policy of honest values at profit-sharing prices are but a few of the many attractions which make this a most profitable as well as comfortable place to shop.

THE LIBERAL manner in which the public are purchasing, during the day time, presents a strong argument in favor of early closing—and we wish to thank our many friends for their generous patronage and hearty support.

A NINETY MILE RIDE

General Nelson A. Miles Made It In Nine Hours.

RIDER SHOWED NO SIGNS OF FATIGUE

Trip Was Taken to Show That Army Commander Is Still a Sturdy Soldier—Reviews Troops on Arrival at Fort Reno.

EL RENO, Okla., July 15.—Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles completed a horseback ride from Fort Sill, I. T., to Fort Reno, Okla., a distance of ninety miles, in nine hours and ten minutes. The first thirty-five miles was made in record time, the distance being covered in two hours and twenty-five minutes. Upon completing the trip General Miles showed no signs of fatigue and forty minutes after his arrival at Fort Reno reviewed the troops stationed at that post. The ride was taken, it is stated, to demonstrate that General Miles at the age of retirement is still a sturdy man.

General Miles spent Monday morning inspecting Fort Sill, resting in the afternoon preparatory to taking his long ride. There was a large crowd at the fort when General Miles came from the commandant's house shortly after 4 o'clock to make the start. He was booted and spurred and wore a campaign military suit. As the general started off at 5:10 a. m. he was cheered lustily. He was accompanied by Captain Sayre of the Eighth cavalry.

The weather was cool at the start, but became intensely hot. Anadarko, Okla., thirty-five miles distant from Fort Sill, was reached in two hours and twenty-five minutes. The ride was made in ten mile relays, soldiers stationed along the line furnishing fresh horses. Lunch consumed twenty minutes, and it is estimated that fifty minutes were spent in changing mounts and in other small delays. This made the actual time spent in the saddle eight hours.

A salute was fired as General Miles entered Fort Reno at 2:20 p. m. He showed no signs of weariness as he dismounted and said, "I enjoyed every moment of the trip, and there was one time that I felt particularly good; that was when I came up to the men who had charge of the pack teams just south of the Canadian river. They had lunch ready, and I enjoyed it with them. It made me feel extra good."

Immediately after reviewing the troops at Fort Reno General Miles, accompanied by Colonel Maus, drove to El Reno and caught the train for Fort Riley, Kan.

Striking Stone Masons Violent.

CLINTON, Mass., July 15.—A body of striking stone masons who had been employed on the Wachusett dam of the metropolitan water system, armed with revolvers, marched among the other workmen and with threats compelled 450 to stop work. One man who hesitated in obeying the strikers' order was thrown into the Nashua river, but was rescued promptly by his associates. The police force, numbering a few men, was inadequate to check the strikers. An attempt was made to arrest one of them, but he eluded the police after a chase in which he dropped his revolver. The contractors apparently are now waiting for developments. They say they will not grant the demands of the strikers for an increase in wages to 35 cents an hour, which caused the trouble. It is understood that an effort will be made to resume operations today, and extra police will be on hand if this is done.

Attorney on Trial For Bribery.

BUTTE, Mont., July 15.—The disbarment of A. J. Shores, chief attorney for the Amalgamated Copper company, charged with attempting to bribe Judge Harney with $250,000 in connection with the Minnie Healy mine decision, was reached today after six months' delay. F. A. Heinze and John McGinnis of the Montana Ore Purchasing company, to whom the mine was awarded, have been subpoenaed by the defense, which alleges a business and political conspiracy on the part of the opponents of the Amalgamated Copper company through Shores. An affidavit of Charles W. Clark, son of United States Senator Clark, was read admitting that he offered Judge Harney the money with the approval of Mr. Shores and other Amalgamated attorneys.

Charged With Starting Forest Fires.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., July 15.—Sam Pasco was arraigned in the Warren county court at Lake George, charged with setting no less than twenty forest fires. These are alleged to have been started during the conflagrations of early June. Pasco is also charged with stealing timber, with assault in the first degree and with burglary in the third degree. Pasco is a man of enormous physical strength and is over six feet in height, a dead shot and a typical mountaineer. He pleaded not guilty and asked that counsel be assigned to defend him.

Plainfield, N. J., July 15, 1903.

Have you ever noticed the prompt and satisfactory returns that come from those little want ads in these columns?

Good work is being done by Mr. Keely, who was awarded the contract for street sprinkling. Citizens in general notice a marked improvement in the condition of the thoroughfares on windy days.

We are glad to learn from State Entomologist Smith that there are 8,537 species of bugs in this State, having always supposed that there were but 8,536 assuming that the mosquito is an animal.

Richmond P. Hobson, who's a whole lot more popular with the girls than the mosquito, celebrated his birthday today. His chief claim to fame is that he once delivered a lecture in New Brunswick.

In the course of a libel suit it has devolved that John Alexander Dowie, who sacrilegiously styles himself Elijah II, is worth several millions of dollars. It seems incredible that sane people should have any confidence in this impostor. His followers are fit subjects for an institution for the feeble minded.

The law enacted by the last Congress barring out anarchists has now gone into effect. In the future the State Department will reject all certificates of naturalization issued after July 3 last which do not set forth that the person naturalized is not opposed to organized government and that he does not oppose the unlawful assaulting of officers of the Government. This is a salutary measure, which should have gone into effect years ago.

No encouragement should be given "Mother Jones" who keeps herself in notoriety by leading a band of striking textile workers in a vain march. It was generally supposed that Coxey's Army was the first and last troop to figure in such a foolish venture. Nothing can be gained by such absurd tactics and it is the duty of the public to use all means to suppress them. There is plenty of work and consequently no sympathy can be extended skilled men who waste their time in this fashion.

Now, St. Swithin, don't play us a mean trick. This is your time to get in your work, but please, please, don't let it rain today. We've had enough already to supply all the temperance fountains. Remember this is Tom Platt's birthday. He's seventy years old and has spent most of his time reigning. The Herald says it's likely to be windy today, but then we haven't any flat-iron building. All the wind we get comes from the trolley company in the shape of promises for better service.

These are the headliners of articles in this morning's World telling of negro outrages: "Greene county farmers bound to lynch negro," "Negro choked girl who lay asleep," and "Throttled girl and tried to rob her." It's no small wonder that the mobs do not resort to drawing and quartering the scoundrels instead of merely lynching them. The matter of their race has nothing to do with the crime. White or black summary punishment should be dealt out to those guilty of so heiness an offense, but the punishment should be inflicted by the duly constituted authorities.

There is nothing truer than P. T. Barnum's saying that the public likes to be fooled. This fact is illustrated in various instances in which people get an illusion that they are heirs to vast estates in England. There is no limit apparently to the number of these imaginary estates and neither does there appear to be to the amount of money foolishly spent by deluded mortals in chasing riches in rainbows. Harvey E. Worman is a machinist in Singer's factory and he believes that he should receive a share in an alleged estate in London which he values at four hundred million dollars. Mr. Worman should spend a few idle moments in familiarizing himself with "past performances" of others in this connection. He may profit by it.

Judge George Gray, who formerly dignified a seat in the United States Senate, is favorably mentioned as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. His record in public life is such that any party would honor itself by making him its standard bearer. Former Secretary of State Richard B. Olney and Former President Grover Cleveland are also occupying public attention as possible candidates for the same honor. On the Republican side the present distinguished incumbent, Theodore Roosevelt, appears to be without formidable antagonism for a renomination. Some mention, however, has been made of Secretary of War Elihu Root, Secretary of State John Hay and Former United States Senator William B. Allison in this connection. With such a galaxy of statesman to draw from who dares say that the timber selected for the Presidential office is not of the very best?

Statistics are not usually considered interesting reading, but vital satistics of one's own city take on a personal note, as in the case of the report of the city health officer from which extracts were made in yesterday's columns, that makes them worth remembering and useful as indicating health conditions. Plainfield's birth, marriage and death rates as given by Mr. Thurlow are about normal.

The first comparison that suggests itself in considering vital statistics is that of the birth and death rates. Where the birth rate exceeds the death rate, a healthy and growing community is usually indicated. Plainfield has no cause to worry in this regard with an excess of birth rate over death rate last year of 3.38 per thousand of population. The birth rate is much below the average of large cities and nations, and so too is the death rate. The marriage rate of 8.37 is above the average which is between seven and eight. Altogether a good record, with no apparent indications of "race suicide" to worry over.

How low Plainfield's death rate is can be indicated to a certain extent by comparison. The death rates in Europe in one year, 1890, ranged from 33.7 in Hungary to 16.9 in Norway. Plainfield's death rate is 16.06. It is, of course, unfair to compare a small city with an entire nation—the advantage is almost inevitably in favor of the small city. Then, too, statistics are notoriously dangerous things to quote by way of comparison—there are so many constantly varying elements entering into their make-up. But the comparison made at least suggests that Plainfielders are not dying off more rapidly than they normally should.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secret mucin, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. AFTER THE TROLLEY COMPANY

FREEHOLDERS STOP CARS ON THE M. AND S. TRACTION CO. LINE.

Temporary Injunction Has Been Obtained—A Fight Over Bridge Repairs.

The Freeholders of Middlesex County threaten to tie up the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company, which operates trolley lines in and around New Brunswick, and Willard P. Voorhees, the company's counsel, applied to Vice Chancellor Stevens Monday for an order restraining them from doing so. In making his application Mr. Voorhees read a bill and affidavits, which represented that the Freeholders, some years ago, granted the company the right to run its cars over the bridge which spans the canal and Raritan river at Albany street, New Brunswick, on condition that the company should keep the planking of the brdge and the asphalt approaches in repair.

The company and the Freeholders have split on the question of repair. Mr. Voorhees showed that on June 27 the Freeholders tied the company up for several hours by turning the draw a few inches so that the tracks were disconnected in such a way that the cars could not use them, while pedestrians and vehicles could pass over the bridge without any inconvenience, and said that the Freeholders threatened to do the same thing tomorrow.

The Vice Chancellor gave Mr. Voorhees an order requiring the Freeholders to show cause why they should not be permanently restrained from stopping the cars. The order is returnable July 28 and in the mean time the Freeholders are enjoyed from taking the threatened action.

Astarita Won at Brighton.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Astarita, with Hicks up, won the Glen Cove handicap for three-year-olds at Brighton Beach. The Bathampton filly was at the good price of 5 to 1 and was well handled by the colored jockey, Hicks. Sir Voorhies was second and Gravina third. The favorite, Eugenia Burch, was off badly and was never dangerous. Minotaur and Astarita raced out in front for half a mile, where Hicks sent Astarita to the front and won easily by two lengths. The time, 1:13 3-5, was good, considering the condition of the track.

Lonsdale Wins at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 15.—The Edgewater stakes at Washington park was won by Lonsdale, a two-year-old colt owned by Clay Bros. of Kentucky. The result was a surprise, Lonsdale being 10 to 1 in the betting and not backed. Fred Cook's two, English Lad and Fred Leppert, were the favorites. English Lad would probably have won with a stronger ride than H. Philips seemed able to give him. As it was, Lonsdale beat English Lad only a head. Bondage was first in the mile and an eighth handicap.

Claude Added Another Derby.

BUFFALO, July 15.—M. J. Daly's Claude added another Derby to his string of victories by capturing the sixth renewal of the Canadian Derby at Fort Erie. Reservation fought him gamely head and head through the stretch. Sir Gallant made the running for a mile, leading by four lengths, but the other two went by him in the stretch, and he was six lengths back at the finish.

Wainscot H. Won.

DETROIT, Mich., July 15.—The feature at the Windsor Driving Park association's meeting was the impressive fashion in which Wainscot H., an entry in the Merchants and Manufacturers' $10,000 stake at Detroit next week, won the 2:25 trot and defeated Hie Boy and Bonnie Russell, also named in the historic stake.

Japan Suspicious of Russia.

PEKING, July 15.—United States Minister Conger has arrived at Newchwang, where he will make a personal investigation of the situation. M. Lessar, the Russian minister to China, has returned to Peking. The Russian legation is without information regarding the result of the conference of high Russian officials at Port Arthur. Dispatches from Japan on the situation are optimistic, but on account of the continuing reports of Russian activity on the Yalu river and also the statement made by the Korean legation here that China will not consent and the Koreans themselves are unable to open Atiami to trade because of Russian objections the opinion here is gloomy. Unless the evacuation of Manchuria occurs soon the belief obtains here that the acts of belligerent Russians on the Yalu will precipitate a conflict, as it is understood that Japan will regard the continuation of Russian encroachment on the territory bordering the Yalu as a casus belli.

Kishineff Murderer Found.

KISHINEFF, Russia, July 15.—The murderer of the boy Doubassary, whose death was charged to the Jews and which was the immediate cause of the massacre, has been discovered. He is a gardener and has confessed that he and the boy's uncle committed the crime. The new governor of Kishineff, Prince Urusoff, has exchanged visits with the leadings Jews of this city.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL, PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

PUNISHING THE CHILD.

It Should Be Done In a Calm, Patient Frame of Mind.

Use a little logic in correcting your child.

It is unjust to ignore a child's faults and only occasionally punish them—probably with undue harshness—when they have occurred at an annoying time or when you were in a bad temper. Never give way to temper in correcting a child. Wait until your feelings are calm.

Give the child as few commands as possible, but insist that these be rigidly obeyed. Do not enforce obedience by idle threats, for as the child's intelligence grows it will see that these cannot be kept and will be unmoved by them. The minute the child discovers that the mother does not mean what she says respect and discipline vanish.

If a threat is necessary let it be one which can be carried out immediately. Let punishment follow as closely as possible the offense. It is unwise and unkind to prolong the unhappiness caused by a small fault by suggesting a punishment which must of necessity be deferred. Don't deprive the child of a promised good time next week because of what he has done today. Let him begin next week with a calm mind and a clear conscience.

All punishment should be logical and the reason for things should be explained to a child as soon as it is old enough to understand.

Always expect a child to be good and show great surprise and disappointment if he fails.

It is very unwise to suggest naughtiness by such remarks as "She is not going to leave her things around again in disorder, is she?" "He won't be a bad boy and slap his little sister again, will he?"

And, above all, remember this: let the punishment be as light as possible and always make the children feel that you are their friend and good adviser instead of their tyrant.

EMPIRE RECEPTION ROOM.

A Simple but Rich Effect With Light Furniture.

Simplicity is the keynote of success in interior decoration. This is particularly noticeable in those rooms which are used for visitors, in which no household paraphernalia is allowed to be in evidence. Such rooms have an air of effect while they are at the same time cheerful.

In the picture we have an empire reception room which is tastefully decorated in white and pale yellow. The ornate ceiling and the woodwork are white. Panels of yellow silk decorate the wall, and the lights are in the form of gilt candelabra shaded with pale yellow flowers.

WHITE AND PALE YELLOW ROOM.

The furniture is mahogany covered in yellow and pale old rose. Even the piano stool accentuates the empire idea.

A room of this description could be easily carried out in some of the inexpensive linen empire cretonnes now in vogue instead of the expensive damask or silk.

R. DE LA BAUME.

A Daughter of the Sioux

By GEN. CHARLES KING.

Copyright, 1903, by The Robert Company.

But no time was to be wasted. Already from far up the stream bed two or three Indians were hazarding long-range shots at the grove, and Ray ordered all horses into a bend of the "wash," where the side lines were whipped from the blanket straps and the excited sorrels securely hoppled. Then, here, there and in a score of places along the bank and again at the edge of the cottonwoods, men had been assigned their stations and bidden to find cover for themselves without delay. Many burrowed in the soft and yielding soil, throwing the earth forward in front of them. Others utilized fallen trees or branches. Some two or three piled saddles and blanket rolls into a low barricade, and all, while crouching about their work, watched the feathered warriors as they steadily completed their big circle far out on the prairie. Bullets came whistling now fast and frequently, nipping off leaves and twigs and causing many a fellow to duck instinctively and to look about him, ashamed of his dodge, yet sure of the fact that time had been in the days of the most hardened veteran of the troop when he, too, knew what it was to shrink from the whistle of hostile lead. It would be but a moment or two, they all understood, before the foe would decide on the next move; then every man would be needed.

Meantime, having stationed Field on the north front, with orders to note every movement of the Sioux, and having assigned Clayton to the minor duty of watching the south front and the flanks, Ray was moving cheerily among his men, speeding from cover to cover, suggesting here, helping there, alert, even joyous in manner. "We couldn't have a better roost, lads," he said. "We can stand off double their number easy. We can hold out a week if need be, but you bet the major will be reaching out after us before we're two days older. Don't waste your shots. Coax them close in. Don't fire at a galloping Indian beyond 300 yards. It's waste of powder and lead."

Cheerily, joyously they answered him, these his comrades, his soldier children, men who had fought with him, many of their number, in a dozen fields, and men who would stand by him, their dark-eyed little captain, to the last. Even the youngest trooper of the 50 seemed inspired by the easy, laughing confidence of the lighter hearts among their number, of the grim, matter of fact pugnacity of the older campaigners. It was significant, too, that the Indians seemed so divided in mind as to the next move. There was loud wrangling and much disputation going on in that savage council to the north. Stabber's braves and Lame Wolf's followers seemed bitterly at odds, for old hands in the fast-growing rifle pits pointed out on one side as many as half a dozen of the former's warriors whom they recognized and knew by sight, while Ray, studying the shifting concourse through his glasses, could easily see Stabber himself raging among them in violent altercation with a tall, superbly built and bedizened young brave, a sub-chief, apparently, who for his part, seemed giving Stabber as good as he got. Lame Wolf was not in sight at all. He might still be far from the scene, and this tall warrior be acting as his representative. But whoever or whatever he was he had hearty following. More than three-fourths of the wrangling warriors in the group seemed backing him. Ray, after a few words to Sergt. Winsor, crawled over beside his silent and absorbed young second in command, and, bringing his glasses to bear, gazed across a low parapet of sand long and fixedly at the turbulent throng 1,000 yards away.

"It's easy to make out Stabber," he presently spoke. "One can almost hear that foghorn voice of his. But who the mischief is that red villain opposing him? I've seen every one of their chiefs in the last five years. All are men of 40 or more. This fellow can't be a big chief. He looks long years younger than most of 'em, old Lame Wolf, for instance, yet he's cheeking Stabber as if he owned the whole outfit." Another long stare, then again: "Who the mischief can he be?"

No answer at his side, and Ray, with the lenses still at his eyes, took no note for the moment that Field remained so silent. Out at the front the excitement increased. Out through the veil of surging warriors, the loud-voiced, impetuous brave twice burst his way, and seemed at one and the same time, in his superb poise and gesturings, to be urging the entire body to join him in instant assault on the troops, and hurling taunt and anathema on the besieged. Whoever he was, he was in a veritable fury. As many as half of the Indians seemed utterly carried away by his fiery words, and with much shouting and gesticulation and brandishing of gun and lance, were yelling approbation of his views and urging Stabber's people to join them. More furious language followed and much dashing about of excited ponies.

"Have you ever seen that fellow before," demanded Ray, of brown-eyed Sergt. Winsor, who had spent a lifetime on the plains, but Winsor was plainly puzzled.

"I can't say for the life of me, sir," was the answer. "I don't know him at all—and yet—"

"Whoever he is, by Jove," said Ray, "he's a bigger man this day than Stabber, for he's winning the fight. Now, if he only leads the dash as he does the debate, we can pick him off. Who are our best shots on this front?" and eagerly he scanned the few faces near him. "Webber's tip-top and good for anything under 500 yards when he isn't excited, and Stoltz, he's a keen, cool one. No! not you, Hogan," laughed the commander, as a freckled faced veteran popped his head up over a nearby parapet of sand, and grinned his desire to be included. "I've never seen the time you could hit what you aimed at. Slip out of that hole and find Webber and tell him to come here—and you take his burrow." Whereupon Hogan, grinning rueful acquiescence in his commander's criticism, slid backwards into the stream bed and, followed by the chaff of the three or four comrades near enough to catch the words, went crouching from post to post in search of the desired marksman.

"You used to be pretty sure with the carbine in the Tonto Basin when we were after Apaches, sergeant," continued Ray, again peering through the glasses. "I'm mistaken in this fellow if he doesn't ride well within range, and we must make an example of him. I want four first-class shots to single him out."

"The lieutenant can beat the best I ever did, sir," said Winsor, with a jiff of the hand toward the hat brim as though in apology, for Field, silent throughout the brief conference, had half risen on his hands and knees and was edging over to the left, apparently seeking to reach the shelter of a little hummock close to the bank.

"Why, surely, Field," was the quick reply, as Ray turned toward his junior. "That will make it complete."

But a frantic burst of yells and war whoops out at the front put sudden stop to the words. The throng of warriors that had pressed so close about Stabber and the opposing orator seemed all in an instant to split asunder, and with trailing war bonnet and followed by only two or three of his braves, the former lashed his way westward and swept angrily out of the ruck and went circling away toward the crest, while, with loud acclamation, brandishing shield and lance and rifle in superb barbaric tableau, the warriors lined up in front of the victorious young leader who, sitting high in his stirrups, with one magnificent red arm uplifted, began shouting in the sonorous tongue of the Sioux some urgent instructions. Down from the distant crest came other braves as though to meet and ask Stabber explanation of his strange quitting the field. Down came a dozen others, young braves mad for battle, eager to join the ranks of this new leader, and Ray, who had turned on Field once more, fixed his glasses on that stalwart, nearly stark naked brilliantly painted form, foremost of the Indian array and now at last in full and unimpeded view.

GOODBY TO ENGLAND

Rear Admiral Cotton Says Reception Was Cordial.

SQUADRON WILL GO TO LISBON.

Kearsarge Will Make a Speed Trial to Frenchman's Bay, Me., and Steam 2,852 Miles at Full Speed.

PORTSMOUTH, England, July 15.—With the reception given on board Rear Admiral Cotton's flagship Kearsarge the official visit of the American squadron to England terminated. The royal yacht Victoria and Albert will leave Portsmouth harbor today and receive the salutes of the war ships as she steams out. When outside Spithead Admiral Cotton will transfer his flag to the Chicago and proceed with the San Francisco and Machias to Lisbon, while the Kearsarge will begin her speed trial across the Atlantic.

"Our reception in England has been most cordial and enthusiastic," said Rear Admiral Cotton. "Nothing could exceed the courtesy extended to us on all sides, from the king and Prince of Wales, the officials of the government and officers of the army and navy to the people of London and Portsmouth. I have no doubt that the result of the visit of the American squadron will prove beneficial in the extreme and that it will tend to strengthen the cordial relations which have long existed between the two countries."

Admiral Cotton was highly gratified at the receipt of a photograph from the Prince of Wales bearing the inscription "George, Portsmouth, July 13, 1903."

Admiral Cotton and the other American officers give Captain Hemphill all the honor for the part played by the Kearsarge, whose presence contributed in such a remarkable degree to the success of the visit. "We have been killed with kindness," said Captain Hemphill. "Our reception could not have been better in any shape or form. I had the pleasure of meeting people in the English service whom I have not seen for many years, among others that charming officer Captain Bayly, whom I met before when in England through the order of the late Queen Victoria in doing honor to America in assigning one of her best ironclads to convey the remains of the philanthropist George Peabody to Portland. It is impossible to express our appreciation of the courtesies toward us, and we are deeply indebted, especially to Admiral Sir Charles F. Hotham, commander in chief at Portsmouth; Captain Arbuthnot and Captain Sir Archibald Milne."

In order to provide a satisfactory buoy for the Kearsarge the royal yacht was moved to another position, her place being accupied by Admiral Cotton's flagship. Captain Hemphill of the Kearsarge has received instructions to clean the war ship's propellers, fill her bunkers with the best coal and go at the highest speed, with natural draft, to Frenchman's bay, Maine. This is the first occasion in time of peace that an American battle ship has been subjected to such a severe test. It recalls a similar voyage of the battle ship Oregon during the war with Spain.

Divers have commenced work on cleaning the propellers, and 1,500 tons of coal will be delivered at once. Captain Hemphill will follow the Great Circle route, leaving Portsmouth at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

By the route that Captain Hemphill has selected for the speed trial the Kearsarge must steam 2,852 miles. On her way to Southampton she made 3,245 miles. She is thus expected to take less time on her impending voyage. Captain Hemphill commanded the Buffalo, which established the record of thirty-nine days on the run from New York to Manila, and the officers of the Kearsarge are satisfied that, with the excellent coal supplied and the vessel's moderately clean bottom, the record for a battle ship run will be broken.

Woonsocket Strikers Back to Work.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 15.—The strike of the mule spinners in the employ of the Manville company's mills at Woonsocket and Manville is practically settled, and the employees, who have been out of work for eighteen weeks, are seemingly none the better off. A conference was held between committees of both sides, when it was agreed that the company would allow the employees of the spinning department who were out to return to work at their former rate of wages without any discrimination being shown against those who went out on strike. It was also agreed that if in the future conditions warrant an advance in wages the company would be willing to consider the question.

Sanger's Resignation Regretted.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Assistant Secretary Sanger of the war department, who has resigned and is to be succeeded by Robert Shaw Oliver of Albany, N. Y., intends to relinquish his position as soon as possible, and it is probable that he will depart before Mr. Oliver comes to Washington. Colonel Sanger has been a very popular assistant secretary, especially with the high officers and heads of bureaus in the department.

To Extinguish Burning Mine.

HANNA, Wyo., July 15.—Fifty expert miners have arrived here from Rock Springs and others are en route from Diamondville, Cumberland and Spring Valley. These men have had years of experience in fighting mine fires, and they will make a last effort to extinguish the flames and reach the bodies of the victims of the Union Pacific mine disaster.

SPORTING NEWS.

WITH THE PLAYERS.

A complete series of games has been arranged with the Brooklyn Giants baseball nine by Manager Walters of the Cuban Giants.

Davis, the new centre fielder for Alis, was formerly on the New Jersey A. C. team. He has taken up his residence in this city for the summer and will play on the team. Saturday he had four put outs and got two hits.

Arrangements have been made between the Hope Y. M. A. and St. Mary's baseball nine for games to be played on the 1st, 15th and 29th of August. A game will be played between the two teams Labor Day morning and on September 26.

Flynn, the second baseman for Alis, has again left the team. This time he has gone to the New York State League, much to the regret of his admirers in this city. Manager MacLaughlin expects to have a good man in his place next Saturday.

Notable changes have been made on the Cuban Giants team during the past few weeks. Davis and Anderson are the pitchers now and Simmons has been put in the catcher's box from shortstop. Nelson has been made substitute catcher for Davis and Perkins is now located at first base.

With one win in Westfield's favor, the second of the three-game series with Scotch Plains will be played at Westfield Saturday. Westfield announces that "Red" Waller, who pitched in the two last Consolidated games last fall, will be in the box for them in this game and regularly throughout the balance of the season.

The Aeolian A. A. will cross bats with the crack Bronx baseball club of New York, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. This team has defeated the fast Murray Hills, as well as the Spalding Emeralds. The Emeralds defeated the Philadelphia Giants an July 12. A good game is expected. The grounds are on North avenue, between Cranford and Garwood.

Kavanaugh, who played short stop for Alis last Saturday, put up an exceptional game. He formerly played with the Madison A. C., and is not only a fast fielder, but is also a strong hitter. He will make a strong combination with Henriques at third, Richardson at first and a player of equal strength at second. Although not used to the position, Geo. Dupee covered second on Saturday in great shape.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The North Plainfield Athletic Club and the Lotus Club are to be consolidated under the name of the Lotus Club. The team will be considerably strengthened by the addition of new players. The Lotus Club will also have basketball and hockey teams. They will secure club rooms on Front street. H. S. Brose is manager of the football team. A few open dates are left. A well-known football player has been secured as coach. The Lotus Club will run a small excursion to Highland Beach with the T. A. B. Association, Wednesday, August 19.

TENNIS.

The semi-final tennis match, scheduled for yesterday, between W. S. Tyler and Owen H. Fleming in the men's singles at the Hillside Golf and Tennis Club, was postponed for a few days on account of the rain.

RAINY?—TO BE OR NOT TO BE

THAT IS THE QUESTION AND ST. SWITHIN MUST DECIDE.

If it Rains Today, the Performance Will Continue for Forty More.

This is St. Swithin's day, and, according to the legend, if rain falls, it will continue wet weather for forty days to come. Judging from the conditions up to 2 o'clock today there is no need to fear a deluge.

According to writ, St. Swithin was the bishop of Winchester (England) from 852 to 862. The legend is that he performed many miraculous cures during his lifetime. He was very pious and much beloved. He died in 861, and on July 15, 971, his body was taken from the ground and removed to another grave. For forty days following the digging up of the remains the country was flooded.

The following doggerel is usually repeated with reference to the legend: "St. Swithin's day, if thus dost rain
For forty days it will remain;
St. Swithin's day if thou be fair
For forty days 'twill rain no mair."

The lad was sitting on one of the cars when his foot slipped down between the vehicle and the cogged track. The boy's trousers were torn from his limbs and he received severe bruises.

RECORDS OF CONTESTANTS IN BOWLING

Averages Attained by Participants in The Daily Press League.

WESTFIELD IS WINNER

THAT CLUB GETS THE TROPHY AS WELL AS INDIVIDUAL PRIZES.

The Prospects for Next Season—Roselle's Team Much Alive—Park and Cranford Are Both in It.

There was more than the usual interest attached to the finish of The Daily Press Bowling League last winter. Clever bowling by the team from the Westfield Club gave that club its second consecutive victory. Westfield and the Roselle Casino have scored two wins each and so the coming season will prove of unusual importance as the trophy, offered by The Daily Press, becomes the permanent possession of the club winning it three times.

There was much interest taken in the individual contests for highest average score and highest average number of spares per game. Owing to delay in sending in the detailed scores on the part of some of the teams, it was impossible to figure out the winners until months after the competition closed. They are now formally announced by Charles B. Morse, secretary of the league.

Everything goes to Westfield this year. Besides winning the trophy, both of the individual prizes are captured by that club. H. R. Forster, captain of the Westfield Club team, set an excellent example for his clubmates and rolled eighteen games with an average of 175.3. That gives him first prize for the highest average score. His most dangerous rivals for the honor came from the Roselle Casino. Howe, of that club, was second with an average score of 172.3, and D. W. Mulford, honorman in 1901 and winner of the spare prize in 1902, was third with 171.1. Mulford captured Roselle last winter. Fred M. Hegeman was second among Westfield's bowlers with 170.0. Littell led the Cranford aggregation with 164.2. Sharp was not up to his usual game and only averaged 153.3. Of the Parks, William R. Faber, captain, was highest with 153.4. Had F. O. Ball bowled the requisite number of games to qualify, he might have been high up in the list.

For the "spare" honor, the contest was a very close one. Fred M. Hegeman, of Westfield, was first, averaging 5.16 spares per game. Close behind was Howe, of Roselle, whose average was 5.11. Fred M. Condit, of Westfield, was 4.8, and Captain Forster, of the same club, 4.7. Neither Cranford nor Parks figured in this contest.

Prospects are very bright for an interesting season next year. The bowlers at Westfield and Roselle are keen for the contest and the unusually strong showing made by both the Park Club and Cranford at the close of last season has encouraged the members of those teams to hope for a more even fight the coming season.

Luncheon at Hillside.

A very tempting luncheon was arranged at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club yesterday by the managers of the Women's Exchange, for the benefit of that organization, whose headquarters are at Fifth street and Watchung avenue. Covers were laid for seventy.

Vocalist at Band Concert.

Mr. Murray, of New York, whose solo work at the last band concert in the City Park won popular favor, will sing at the concert to be given tomorrow evening by LaVere's Concert Band.
